ld

nanda

агалсе

Stella hter of nshire.

out her

a Cha-alk the

Caren

from

Chanel

manda

al logos rinkled

s, belts

he bra

e Moss

stones

it have

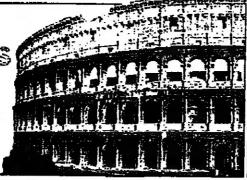

Robert D Ballard on a new exploration of the deep

PLUS: Orlando Figes on Russia's imperial past

The best deals of the week

PAGE 36

THE

Success of a softly, softly start to boarding PAGE 15

MES

VANTED ☐ Director___80K ☐ Secretary__70K □ Buyer____45K ☐ Graduate__27K

It's fiesta time as Commons lives high on the Hogg ven if it bans hunting. let us hope the next Government keeps what has become a Commons tradition: the weekly Hoggfight. The Westminster fiesta is similar to a modern Spanish bullfight. There is excitement, great deal of action in the ring and much noise from the onlookers, but the buil (or, in this case, Hogg) survives.

For the ritual, Agriculture Minister Douglas Hogg is dragged to the Chamber, where he snorts and stamps his feet. The Hogg is then forced to read out an incomprebensible statement about hygiene in slaughterhouses. Then Miss Boothroyd allows Opposition frontbenchers to be matadors, and backbenchers picadors, infuriating the beast by waving brightly-col-oured distractions and spearing him with spikey enquiries. They insult the Hogg, call him incompetent and stupid, and ask complicated technical questions about E. coli viruses

Whatever the Hogg replies, MPs declare themselves totally dissatisfied with it. Whatever MPs declare, the Hogg maintains an air of jaunty and bellicose confidence, charging around the ring, bellowing and butting people

Chief matador during this season has been Labour's Agriculture Spokesman, Gavexcelled for energy but disappointed those who look for nimbleness, stealth or grace. Racing back and forth, roaring abuse, pulling the Hogg's tail and enraging the beast, Strang's performance has astonished the crowd but never quite floored the quarry, whom his barbs often miss. Mr Strang trips himself up frequently, and keeps bumping into things.
After more than an hour of

Matthew Partis

Political Sketch this sport the irrepressible

Hogg, much fought but alive and kicking, departs. The irrepressible Strang, breathless but unhurt, departs too. The Labour picadors depart. The press depart. And everybody begins preparing for next week's Hogg-

Perhaps to get herself into the mood of flesta. farming herself delicately after with nothing more ornamer tal than her Order Paper

Given the three bewigged clerks, the morning-suited attendant beside her and the sword-bearing Serjeant-atarms at the door, none of them. with any obvious function, you might think these gentlemen could take it in turns to fan her, punkah-wallah-style, on her canopied throne; but they

*Could you retune it so that I never have to watch Douglas Hogg

Use of 'reasonable force' approved Judge orders anorexic girl to be detained

By Frances Gibb and Jeremy Laurence

AN ANOREXIC teenager whose fasting could kill her within days is to be detained against her will - with force if necessary – under a High Court order requiring her to undergo feeding treatment. In what is thought to be the first common law order forcibly restricting a child's liberty for medical reasons, Mr Justice Wall agreed that the 16year-old girl could be detained at a special treatment clinic and that she could be brought back if she ran away.

The girl, who cannot be named so is known only as C. has said that she would accept treatment voluntarily at the clinic, which is run "on boarding school lines", but doctors have refused to treat her without a court order because of her history of absconding. C, who is one of five children and has suffered long-termsexual abuse by a brother, has had anorexia for two years. At one stage her weight dropped below six and a half stone less than 70 per cent of the average weight for her height. Her history of eating problems includes vomiting, laxafrom clinics. She has threatened suicide and was recently restrained from throwing herself to her death from a balcony. Doctors say that she has the ability to stop eating and drinking very suddenly, putting herself at risk of collapse and death within three to seven days. Last November she was admitted to hospital as an emergency when it was discovered that she had eaten only a few slices of cucumber in the previous

C instructed lawyers to oppose the court order sought by her local authority, acting with the backing of her parents. But Mr Justice Wall said that it was in her best interests for him to grant the order until next month. "I have no doubt that I have the power not only to direct that she reside in the clinic, but also to authorise the use of reasonable force (if necessary) to detain her in the clinic," he

Courts have ordered medical treatment against a pa-tient's wishes in the past. But they have not approved the detention of a child without using the Mental Health Act. or unless the child was in need of secure accommodation or a

Mr Justice Wall said that there was no doubt that the court had power to order a minor to undergo medical treatment against her will that had been done before with anorexic children. The question was whether it could under common law, rather than under the Mental Health

That was not appropriate. he said, because the clinic was not a mental hospital and its philosophy was inimical to the compulsory admission of children under the Act, he said. Nor did it constitute secure accommodation, nor was there any question of care

He concluded that detention was an essential component of C's treatment, and he therefore granted the order under section 100 of the Children Act 1989, which preserved the courts' common law powers to

The decision was made after a private hearing in the High Court family division last Wednesday and the judge has now given permission for it to be reported because of the important principles involved.

Lawyers immediately ex-ressed concern that the ruling marked a disturbing departure in the controversy over courts' powers to intervene in the treatment of patients against their wishes. The barrister Barbara

Hewson, who has protested in recent cases where women were obliged to undergo Caesarean section births, said: "It seems as if courts are now people for treatment without Parliamentary authority. This is arbitrary and runs contrary to the European Convention on Human Rights, which the right to tor of the Eating Disorders Association, said that anorexic natients detained in hospital against their will under the Mental Health Act were often grateful when they had recovered. "A survey we conducted found that over half those who had been detained realised with hindsight that it had saved their lives. This can doctors think it is a worthwhile course of action in certain circumstances."

Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother arrives at Cheltenham yesterday for the Queen Mother Champion Chase, which was won by Martha's Son. Reports, pages 38 and 39

Berisha faces new coalition

A general has begun to form the first serious coalition to challenge President Berisha from the south of Albania. General Agim Gozhita. who was named as head of the new Committee for Natonal Political Salvation, is said to have been co-ordinating uprisings in the southern ert of the country. End to carnival, page II

Voucher scheme for care of old

Ederly people with assets up to £10,000 will be offered puchers for residential care which they can spend on the mursing home of their choice, the Government said.

The measures announced by the Health Secretary include the selling of old people's homes Page 10

Buying The Times oversess Anstria Sch 40: Belgirum B Frs 80:
Canada $3.50; Canaries Pb 325:
Cyprus Cij 20; Denmark Dkr 18.00:
Firiland Frik 17.00: France F 14.00:
Germany DM 4.50; Gibraitus 900;
Greece Dr 500; Netherlands FI 4.50;
Italy I 4.500; Luxembourg I 60;
Morecco Dr 500; Netherlands FI 4.50;
Italy I 4.500; Luxembourg I 60;
Morecco Dir 27.00; Norwey Kr 20.00;
Portugal con Esc 350; Spain Pis 325;
Sweden Skr 19.50; Switzerland S Frs
4.00; Tunisla Din 2.200; USA $3.50.

The Times on the Internet http://www.the-times.co.uk

Thatcher denies backing Portillo for leadership

BY PHILIP WEBSTER, POLITICAL EDITOR

BARONESS THATCHER moved yesterday to quash talk of an imminent Tory leader-ship battle by issuing a denial of claims that she was secretly helping a campaign launched by supporters of Michael Portillo.

Lady Thatcher lodged a protest to the Press Complaints Commission over a report suggesting that her staff had circulated a dossier on Conservative MPs and parliamentary candidates to help the Defence Secretary canvass support.

She described the claim in The Express as "malicious nonsense and entirely without foundation". She said that no such dossier, if it exists, was prepared either by her staff or with her authority.

An equally vehement denial was issued by John Whittingdale, Conservative MP for Colchester South and Maldon. Lady Thatcher's former parliamentary private secretary, who was reported to be the link between the unofficial Portillo campaign and the former prime minister. He also complained to the PCC.

The force of Lady Thatcher's reaction sprang from her horror at a report which she feared could have a destabilising effect on her successor as he prepares to call a general election. With Labour so far ahead in the polls, the Tory leadership is a popular topic of private conversation among Tory MPs. But Lady Thatcher wants to do nothing to fuel such talk.

John Major's announcement of the May I date is not now expected this week, although there are clear signs that the Government is preparing to wind up Commons business over the next fortnight. It is probable that the Commons will not return after the Easter recess although the formal dissolution date is expected to be April 8. Mr Major will be launching his six-week campaign against Tony Blair in his speech to the Conservative Central Council in Bath on Saturday, and is likely to call the election sometime next week, probably on Tuesday or Thursday. The Covernment and Opposition chief whips have met informally to discuss the winding up of remaining Commons business.

LETTERS 19, 27

OBITUARIES21

WILLIAM REES-MOGG. 18

Lady Thatcher has already promised Brian Mawhinney, the Conservative chairman, and Mr Major that she will do Continued on page 2. col 4 | fire so quickly.

Four schoolgirls die in crash blaze

BY STAFF REPORTERS

FOUR grammar school sixthform girls died when their car crashed and hurst into flames on a narrow country lane

Two of the students, who were aged 17 or 18, were thrown from the car when it careered off the road, crossed a ditch and crashed into a tree at high speed. No other vehicle is believed to have been involved in the incident, which happened during the girls' school lunch break. A passing motorist alerted the rescue services.

Last night Kevin McAleese. their headmaster, paid tribute to the four who were, he said, "among the brightest and best of our students". Accident investigators were examining the wreckage of the Peugeot 106 in an attempt to explain how it left the road and caught

It is understood the vehicle belonged to one of the girls, all of whom were preparing to take A levels this year at Harrogate Grammar School in North Yorkshire. The crash happened near the village of Beckwithshaw, about miles from the school. The students were entitled to leave the premises during the break. Mr McAleese said: "We are all deeply saddened. They were among the brightest and the best of our students; four people who contributed a lot to the sixth form." This morning he will talk to the sixth form at a special assembly.

Dean Whitehouse, bursar of the 1,600-pupil school, said: "They were well known and popular throughout the school. It is a tragic loss, both staff and pupils have been shocked and saddened by what has happened."

Drivers could pay penalty for sneaky parking meter

TECHNOLOGY CORRESPONDENT

A PARKING meter that telephones wardens to tell them when a car goes into penalty time has been developed

When the warning is activated, the warden can see the location of the car on a hand-held electronic map. But any motorist hoping to take revenge on the sneak meter should approach with caution. It can send out a distress central security office if it is vandalised.

The meter, details of which are disclosed in New Scientist magazine today, uses a radar beam to scan the parking space and detect if a car is parked. If it runs out of money and the car is still there, the device dials a warden. The technology, which can be bolted on to existing meters, was revealed at the Twelfth Annual Cellular Telecommunications Industry Association meeting in San Francisco. The developers are MeterVision, a Canadian company, which expects the system to speed up the rate at which tickets are issued. It hopes to sell spy meters worldwide and to install them in American cities this

But British experts, leaving a seminar of the British Parking Association in London yesterday, reacted with caution. David Millett. of Metric Parking in Circnester, the world's equipment, said: "It sounds like overkill to me - just for twenty five cents or whatever." He said the spy meter might also intensify the bad blood between motorists and wardens. "They have a hard enough time."

ARTS31-33

CHESS & BRIDGE.....41

COURT & SOCIAL......20

Jim Richard, the president of MeterVision, denied the equipment smacked of Big Brother. He said the good news was that the devices took credit cards - so ending the frustration of fumbling for change.

SPORT38-42, 44 BODY & MIND16 LAW REPORT 28

WINGS AUTOMATIC

AVAILABLE FROM SELECTED JEWELLERS THROUGHOUT GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND FOR YOUR NEAREST STOCKEST TELEPHONE 0171 637 5167

cludes

nsight

Minister concedes there is room for improvement in abattoir standards

Hogg forced back to dispatch box to defend record

By Polly Newton, political reporter

DOUGLAS HOGG survived the latest attack on the Government's handling of food safety yesterday, insisting in a were going up but conceding there was "scope for further improvement".

However, he faces renewed criticism after it emerged last night that in the two years since the Meat Hygiene Service was set up, no abattoir has been prosecuted for breaching hygiene rules associated with the spread of E. coli, the bacterium found in animal faeces which recently claimed 20 lives in Scotland.

The Agriculture Minister was forced to come to the disparch box for the second time in a week after Labour released letters from trading standards officers at Northumberland County Council saying that they did not have the resources to implement measures aimed at preventing the spread of BSE. None of the letters, sent on June 17, July 22 and December 12, received

Mr Hogg was boosted by an expression of confidence in him from Downing Street just minutes before he rose to his feet, although the Prime Minister has asked for a full report from the Ministry of Agriculture into the measures taken to drive up standards in abattoirs and meat hygiene services in general. Mr Hogg told MPs: "This Government has done a great deal to enforce and bring about higher standards in abattoirs." He said that in order to raise standards, the Meat Hygiene Service (MHS) had been set formal targets to improve poorly performing abattoirs. "In the first year, the MHS was set a target of increasing by ten points the scores of those plants which were below 65 on a scale of 0 to 100. This target was met in

*For 1996-97, they were required to ensure that at least two-thirds of the plants exceeded 65. It seems likely that this target will be met."

Setting out the steps taken and those planned by the Government, he said: "I have told the chief executive off the MHS] that in appropriate cases, infringement of the rules should result in prosecution." Licences could be

A spokesman for the Ministry of Agriculture admitted afterwards that no prosecutions had been brought so far against abattoirs for allowing in animals contaminated with

Strang: statement has

faeces, although there have been cases against those which fail to take proper precautions against the spread of BSE.

He said the hygiene service had concentrated on ensuring that inspectors monitoring abattoirs were competent three inspectors had been dismissed and disciplinary action had been taken against 45. He added that he had asked the chief executive of the hygiene service, Johnston McNeil, to prepare a state-ment on meat hygiene for Professor Hugh Pennington. who is leading the inquiry into the Scottish E. coli outbreak.

Responding to Mr Hogg, Gavin Strang, Shadow Agriculture Minister, said the statement had "utterly failed" to address the issues raised by the Opposition. There is no confidence in you, nor your Government, as far as food safety is concerned."

He said the number of state vets, with a crucial role to play in abattoir inspections, had been cut from nearly 600 in 1979 to less than 300 today.

Michael Heseltine, the Deputy Prime Minister, also acknowledged yesterday that abattoir hygiene standards needed to be improved. Speaking at the launch of the annual review of government agen-cies, Mr Heseltine said: "It is exactly because of this that the Government took the issue seriously and the targets are available for you to examine. It will be driven higher next

Leading article, page 19

Hogg yesterday: "Government has done a great deal to enforce standards"

Fiesta time at the Commons

Continued from page I never do. And it soon became plain that something beyond the heat was displeasing Miss

Boothroyd. She rose with a Statement, pursuant to Tuesday's fuss after a Labour MP read his point of order from a paging device. Most MPs (while de-ploring it) think this has all been rather a hoot. They were ready for more knockabout. misjudged Madam

"I have no objection," she (after censuring "to instruments bleepers), which merely vibrate...

I regret to report that there was laughter. Miss Boothroyd was not amused. She adopted an air of dignified affront, like a Sunday School teacher whose little charges have giggled at the mention of the bosom of Abraham.
"He appeared," she said

(describing Tuesday's atrocity)

a small screen, relayed to him from outside the Chamber". Her tone was shocked.

"I strongly deprecate" such practices. MPs should not receive instructions. And that "earpieces" went for Earpieces too? Are the new Labour backbenchers to suffocate, then? Off come all those headsets relaying commands from Peter Mandelson: "Breathe in Breathe out. Breathe in. . .

NEWS IN BRIEF

Trials of electronic tagging expanded

Electronic tagging of offenders, from the age of ten upwards, is to be extended rapidly in preparation for a nationwide scheme. Ministers are to extend three pilot schemes for 12 months and expand the area the schemes cover. The Government believes that tagging may help to reduce the rise in the prison population.

The number of tagging orders made between July 1995 and March 1997 was 325, with 86 currently being supervised. Harry Fletcher, of the National Association of Probation Officers, said that each curfew order was costing about £5,000. He estimated that the Home Office would need 20,000 orders in operation to make tagging economical

Floating jail arrives

A floating prison, obtained to ease overcrowding, is expected to moor off the Dorset coast today after sailing from New York. The £3.5 million vessel has been renamed HM Prison Weare. Residents and councillors have objected to the "floating detention facility" being moored in Portland harbour, but the Prison Service is confident that the first of the 500 inmates will be admitted next month.

Combat 18 racists jailed

Three members of Combat 18 were jailed yesterday. The men, who cannot be named because two face committal proceedings on a more serious charge, pleaded guilty at the Old Bailey to possessing threatening and abusive material with the intention of distributing it to stir up racial unrest. The two men were each jailed for 17 months. The third, who will be a witness at the new trial, was given 12 months.

Ship body identified

A body recovered from the sunken wreckage of the Arbroath trawler Westhaven was identified last night as George Pattison, 38, its skipper. Aberdeen Police said the three other: crew members were still missing, feared drowned. The search for a canoeist missing off the Scottish island of lona was called off last night. Coastguards yesterday found a waterproof jacket belonging to Gail Webster. 33.

Courts martial battle

The Ministry of Defence is facing another 44 cases in which sacked Service personnel claim their courts martial violated the European Convention on Human Rights. MoD officials told the Commons Defence Committee that, although the ministry did not accept last month's ruling by the European Court of Human Rights that the system was unfair, reforms had been implemented in response to earlier criticism.

Purse saved for nation

The British Museum has bought the 1590s velvet purse which held the Great Seal of Queen Elizabeth 1, rediscovered a few months ago in a private mews house. It paid between £40,000 and £50,000 24 hours ahead of an auction, which would almost certainly have ended with the purse, right, going to America. Kerry Taylor, the Sotheby's textile specialist who discovered it, said: activity to save it for Britain after The Times covered it." The British Museum, which will display the purse later this month, was a natural home: it boasts the national collection of seal dies and official Seals.

The purchase was made possible by a grant of £28,200 from the Heritage Lottery Fund and £10,000 from the National Art Collections Fund, the leading art charity. Mrs. Taylor said: "There will be a lot of disappointed Americans."

Call for free-parking tax

A tax on free parking at out-of-town shopping centres was demanded yesterday by an all-party group of MPs who said measures were needed to improve the fortunes of the high street. The levy would reflect the higher environmental costs of out-of-town shopping, such as increased road congestion and air pollution from cars, the Environment Select Committee said.

Runaway student found

A student who lost his place at university a year ago was found suffering from hypothermia after running away from home and sleeping rough. Christopher Leeming, 20, of Nottingham, could not bring himself to tell his parents he was no longer at the city's university, but they found out after he vanished. Police, who said the pressure appeared to have become too much for him, feared he would not be found alive.

St Hilda's students oppose male dons

EDUCATION CORRESPONDENT

THE women of St Hilda's College, Oxford, are preparing to defend its status as the college. They voted by 2-i yesterday to oppose college plans to accept male dons because of a shortage of female fellows in such key subjects as engineering and St Hilda's cannot afford the El million to create more of its own fellowships, which it is allowed to fill with female academics under exemption from equal opportunities laws. The college is proposing month to share the cost with the university and to accept the university's appointments. four fifths of whom are

dents' president, said they feared that the break with the college's 104-year-old all-female tradition would be a short step away from admitting male students. "Going mixed will not help promote women academics and it will not solve the problem that there are not enough women academics in Oxford," she

Secret funding of Labour offices to be restricted

BY ARTHUR LEATHLEY, POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT

trusts" under which Tony Blair and other senior Labour figures have received office funding of several hundred thousand pounds.

NEW curbs are to be intro- the running of the offices of However, Sir Gordon said duced on the use of "blind several senior frontbenchers, that the disciplinary commit-

The move to amend guidelines on secret donations coincides with a Commons decision yesterday to reject a complaint against Mr Blair for running his office with money from donors whose names are withheld from the

Labour has not declared the Letters, page 19 | source of donations towards ration of financial interests.

on Standards and Privileges is to draft new regulations on the donations but it emerged yesterday that any rule changes introduced after the general election will not be retrospective, allowing blind trusts already approved in principle by the Commons standards watchdog to continue, formal complaints by David Shaw, Tory MP for Dover, who claimed that the Labour leader had breached the rules that call for MPs to declare outside financial interests.

Sir Gordon Downey, the Parliamentary Commissioner for Standards, decided yesterday that there was "no case to answer" on the allegations, unless Mr Shaw provided direct evidence that Mr Blair

all she can to secure the re-election of the Tories, including campaigning, and she was said to be upset at a report that could only harm his prospects.

Lady Thatcher has long been a supporter of Mr

Portillo - he appealed to her to stay on and fight a second ballot when all looked lost in the leadership contest of 1990

- but in recent months she has also appeared sympathetic to the other rightwing candidates, John Redwood and Michael Howard. Her endorsement remains a vital

Mr Portillo was also furious over the story, because any suggestions of secret plotting are damaging to his cause, which is seen to have improved in recent months. He said: "The only campaign in erroneous reports.

PLUG-IN TIME CONTROLLERS:

USAGE ADVICE Advice for anyone who has purchased a 24 hour or 7 day segment timer or day digital timer with one of the following model numbers on the back: KLT890/15FMD, KLT890/15FMW, KLT890W, KLT890D or CP-88PR and the distributor shown as Pact International Ltd ithough there is no fault with these timers, please follow this usage retruction: Do not use the timer with washing machines, dishwashers, tumble dryers or any other appliance with a high powered motor and a total load of 3000 watts. If in doubt consult a qualified electrician.

For further advice please ring our helpline on 01733 405611. Pact International Eld. PO Box 50, Peterborough PE2 7/F factor for the candidates.

Senior MPs on the committee say that rule changes are donors to the funds are kept secret so that the frontbenchers concerned cannot be was aware of donors' names. accused of being influenced.

Thatcher denies backing Portillo

Warning

because of rival national inter-Chief of Defence Procurement. to his French and Italian counterparts warns of "dead-come into service next century, replacing the Royal Navy's Type 42 destroyers. Britain plans to buy 12 of the frigates. However, in the letter leaked to the International Defence Newsletter, Sir Robert warned that the programme needed to be shaken up.

EN ONLY EVEREST WINDOWS EXCEED BSI SECURITY STANDARDS BY 50%

Our new PVC-U casement windows have been rigorously tested to meet the BSI security standard and each and every design and size not only does so, but exceeds it by 50%! So when you choose Everest - no matter how big your windows are, or how many openings you want - you know you're buying

Special Introductory Offer

And our new windows come with a special introductory offer - 30%* off. So now you can fit the most secure PVC-U windows available and save make great

7412/PAS 011

Call Free 0800 010123 I'd like to save 30% off Everest's list price. Please arrange for a free, no obligation quotation.

provoking Tory claims that way round rules on the decla-

The Commons Committee

The funding for Mr Blair's office has been the subject of tee planned to investigate the use of blind trusts. It had been agreed that "rules governing contributions to the administrative expenses of government and opposition spokesmen need to be codified".

inevitable, but there is crossparty division over how guidelines can be made effective. Tory MPs also fear that, if Labour wins the general election and therefore have a majority on the committee, the rule changes will be minimal. Mr Shaw has also made a formal complaint to the committee over office funding for John Prescott, Labour's deputy leader, Gordon Brown, Shadow Chancellor, Margaret Beckett, Shatlow Trade President, and Robin Cook, Shadow Foreign Secretary.

Labour has insisted that porting John Major and the Conservative Party in the gen-

Mr Whittingdale said: This story is a total fabrication and utterly without foundation. It is clearly designed to cause damage to Lady Thatcher,

Michael Portillo and to the Conservative Party." Potential candidates are wary of being seen to be vying for the crown. Sources close to Gillian Shephard, the Education and Employment Secre-

reports that she had ruled herself out of any future contest for the leadership.

Supporters of William Hague.

the Welsh Secretary and emerging centre-right candidate, were blamed by some

MPs for being behind the eral election."

over frigate 'deadlock'

AN £8 billion warship programme signed by Britain, France and Italy is in trouble Admiral Sir Robert Walmsley, lock" over a range of issues.

The warship is the Horizonclass frigate which is due to Differences have arisen over the air defence missile system. torpedo defences and even accommodation arrangements. The next milestone is the start of the design and construction of the first ship for each of the three partners. planned for mid-1998.

But there is still no contract. A spokesman for the Ministry of Defence said Britain remained committed to the collaborative project.

You don't want to know how much home insurance costs

You want to know how little

£15,000 contents cover from amont £20,000 contents cover from £8.00 a month £30,000 contents cover from £12.00 You may be eligible for further savings of up to 25%.

This example is provided for illustration purposes only and is based on a normal risk in Solihuil. Insurance Premium Tax has been included. The premiums are calculated using rates current at the time of printing For instant cover, call 0800 300 800

For your benefit calls may be recorded or monitored. If you would prefer not to receive information on other

Girl. 9. three

Tory dinner guests air prejudices on TV

AND ADRIAN LEE

A TELEVISION programme that purports to show that bigotry is alive and well in Tory middle-class Britain will be screened on Channel 4 in

In the fly-on-the-wall documentary, eight friends, described by the makers as "dyed in the wool" Tories, will be shown at a dinner party verbally attacking black people, homosexuals and the

Last night Paul Watson, the programme maker, said the subjects were not Tory activists but ordinary middle-class voters with strong beliefs. They live in East Anglia and were recruited through an advertisment in The Daily Telegraph. Filmed as they tucked into prawn St Jacques. pork in caramelised apple, and triple chocolate pudding. washed down with liberal amounts of wine, the diners may live to regret their

Henry, one of the guests, suggests that homosexuals in the Armed Forces should be chemically castrated. Catherine shuns the idea of equality in society. "An equal society is not one that I think I would love to see in my lifetime," she

The Dinner Party, made "somewhere in East Anglia", was filmed three weeks ago at the home of two of the participants, Judith, 34, a cook, and Bill, 41, an unemployed businessman. Their friends, Richard, George, Bridget, Henry.

6 An equal society is not one that I would love to see in my lifetime?

6 We have to stop people coming in just because they have a British passport 9

Catherine and Jon, range from a Lloyd's insurance broker to a petrol pump

Mr Watson, who made the Sylvania Waters documentary about a family living in Sydney, Australia, and was accused by the subjects of the eight were not set up. "I do not set people up," he said.

"We said to these people time and time again, 'Say what you mean and mean what you say because you won't get another chance.' Every quote is uncut and as said.

"I may give people rope and make a cat's cradle."

Most of the guests have voted Conservative in the past and agree they will do so again. At least two say they have considered voting Labour but fear Tony Blair will be overtaken by leftwingers if he wins the election.

One of the favourite topics of conversation is black people. One of the guests saus: "I am not keen on black Rastafarian Africans and, yes, I find the Asian community delightful. The Africans always have their hands out. We have to stop people coming in just. because they have a British passport."

Snippets of conversation from the dinner table include Richard's views on homosexuals: "We don't want queers in the Army." Bridget on the poor: "As Jesus is reported to have said, the poor will always be with us. I am afraid the unemployed will be too." On money, Bill says: "If people want to be greedy, they are entitled to be greedy." Catherine ventures: "I don't believe everyone should have the ability to earn the same."

Mr Watson, whose programme will be screened on March 24, said he ended up feeling sorry for his subjects who, he says, have a "poverty

He added: "I felt that I was looking at a group of people whose time had gone. They dream of Thatcher. They dream of times past when we kicked people around Europe. And when you see your power

Lady Harlech is escorted on the Chanel catwalk by Karl Lagerfeld yesterday

Shipping

forecast in uncharted

waters

Lagerfeld parades Chanel's new muse

By GRACE BRADBERRY

KARL LAGERFELD, Chanel's chief designer, yesterday showed off his new muse the inspirational Amanda Harlech - as well as his new Lady Harlech, the 36-year-old wife of Lord Harlech, who went to work with Lagerfeld in December after Christian Dior failed to include her in its contract with the British designer John Galliano. made a reluctant appearance on the Chanel catwalk at the close of yesterday's autumn winter shows in Paris.

But as one aristocrat arrives, another goes. Stella Tennant, a granddaughter of the Duchess of Devonshire. appeared in the show, but her year-long contract with Chanel has ended. Lagerfeld sent out first on to the catwalk the new face of Chanel: Karen Elson, aged 19, from Manchester, with no aristocratic connections.

This was the first Chanel collection in which Amanda Harlech's influence as the designer's assistant and adviser might be detected. Gone were most of the Chanel logos that used to be sprinkled liberally across jackets, belts and handbags. Even the bra worn by the model Kate Moss featured semi-precious stones in place of interlocked Cs.

Gone too were the sequing and gold buttons that have sometimes added sparkle but not necessarily good taste. Instead, intricate wool embroidery in a mix of blues, greens and reds covered entire coats and decorated traditionally boxy Chanel jackets.

Girl, 9, threw baby over garden hedge

By KATHRYN KNIGHT

A BABY was recovering in hospital last night after a nine-year-old girl took him from his pram and threw him over a Six-week-old Brandon Ford disappeared from outside his grandmother's home in Fegg Hayes, Stoke on Trent, and was found head down covered in soil in a nearby garden nearly an hour later. His mother Sharon Ford, 27, was at his bedside at North Staffordshire Hospital last night as he recovered form a head injury. Brandon was reported missing by his grandmother Kathleen, who was looking after him for the day and had placed his pram outside.

Police began a major search with dogs and a helicopter as dozens of locals joined in Brandon was only found an hour later face down in the garden of a local pensioner when she went to remove what she thought was a doil.

Lee Vincent, 20, Brandon's father, said: "The way he was found lying face down and covered in soil it seems he was thrown over a 5ft hedge. We're just glad he wasn't badly hurt but he did have a bump on his head.

A police spokesman said that a nineyear-old girl had admitted to police she had taken the baby but had only taken him for a walk when he started to cry. Soon afterwards, she heard the screaming of the baby's family and the commotion she had caused and was too scared to take the baby back," he said. He said the girl would not be charged.

Now that Compaq have introduced the ProSignia 200 range, what's the point?

Yorkshire Ripper loses sight in one eye

PETER SUTCLIFFE, the Yorkshire Ripper, has been blinded in one eye after he was stabbed with a pen.

was taken to hospital yesterday for an examination of his damaged eyes but doctors have already given up hope of saving the sight in one. It is likely that he will have seri-ously impaired vision in the other eye. Sutcliffe was attacked in Broadmoor Hospital on Monpatient, with a felt-tip pen.

Sutcliffe was taken to Frimley Park Hospital in Camberley, Surrey, for treat-ment immediately after the attack and returned there yesterday to be looked at by a learn of specialists. He was taken under guard from the medical block at Broadmoor and was heavily bandaged.

Thames Valley Police have launched an investigation into the attack, and will question patients. A Broadmoor source suggested that Kay had probably been trying to establish his reputation among his fellow patients. John Suicliffe, the killer's father, said he had heard nothing from the hospital about his son's condition. "All I have heard about him being blind is through the media, which annoys me - I would much prefer to hear from the hospital myself," he said.

Police inspector accused of assault on receptionist

By KATHRYN KNIGHT

A POLICE receptionist told a court yesterday that she was left "numb with anger" after a senior officer gyrated his hips against her as he squeezed past her in a doorway. The 25-year-old woman said Inspector Raymond Hansen, 53, had thrust against her repeatedly as he compliment-ed her on her tea-making abilities at the East London station where they worked.

Four other police officers had seen the incident, the woman told Southwark Crown Court. It is a busy area where people need to push past each other, but this was very different," she said. The alleged assault happened at about 6am on August 18, 1995, the jury was told. Miss X, who cannot be Hansen: he denies chatting to four police constable colleagues. "Inspector Hansen was behind me. He moved round so he was facing me. He was too close," she said. "He then started moving the lower part of his body against my hip area. He was moving in and out and from side to side. I can't recall how many times he did this but it was a good few times," she

She told the jury that, as he assaulted her, "he said in my ear that I made him a much better cup of tea yesterday than the one he had today". She discussed what had happened with the four police constables and made a formal complaint to the chief superin-

Mr Hansen, from Buck-

hurst Hill, Essex, denies indecent assault. In a statement given to the investigating officer, he pointed out that he did not have a good working relationship with some of the officers working that particu-lar shift, and believed that the

Philippa McAtasney, for the defence, suggested to the woman that she had blown the incident out of proportion. "I suggest that it was him moving around you and using his belly as a pivot, a sort of

The case continues.

allegation was malicious.

tendent a few days later.

By KATHRYN KNIGHT identified, was in the doorway

THE shipping forecast is to be presented by a mystery guest tomorrow, departing from a 71-year tradition. Listeners have been asked to nominate a personality to read the forecast for the nation's seafarers at lunchtime on Friday in aid-of Comic Relief.

It will be the first time that the roll-call of Dogger, North Utsire, South Utsire and German Bight has not been read by a BBC announcer since the forecast started on January 26, 1926.

Listeners have until 10am tomorrow to make their nominations on a special telephone line. Each call costs El, of which 60p goes to Comic Relief. The winner will be invited to to record the forecast in advance. Radio 4's chief announcer, Peter Donaldson, will stand by in case of

A Radio 4 spokeswoman said the forecast was "a complicated bit of radio" and it was easy to get tongue-tied. She said the station was anticipating a flood of nominations. "It is a part of Radio 4 that is enormously popular with all sorts of listeners, not just seafarers. Many people say the late-night forecast is like listening to a soothing bit of poetry."
The number to call is 0897

Compag server from

Introducing the new Compaq ProSignia 200 server range. A range that not only starts at an incredible £995 plus VAT but also includes performance and reliability features like

Pre-Failure Warranty; Automatic Server Recovery; Insight Manager; SmartStart system integration tool; and Intel Pentium processor 166-MHz, to name but a few.

So, to recap - that's a new server range, with unique features, from under £1,000, and all from Compag - the No.1 in servers. Sounds good to us. For your free brochure pack please phone:

Prices are UK Typical Buying Prices and exclusive of VAT at 17.5%.

Chatty cabbies get commercial break

By ALAN HAMILTON

"TRAFFIC'S terrible, guv. Not my fault if you're gonna be late to meet the old lady. What you want is a mobile phone. Try one of them Siemens jobs. What did you think of West Ham last night, then? ...

Those who dread being held captive with a chatty taxi driver face a new peril: sponsored conversation. From Monday, 100 cabbies will be paid to slip the topic of mobile telephones into their discourse.

An advertising agency acting for Siemens, the German telecommunications company, has schooled the London cabbies in how to include three key selling points of the firm's mobile phone in what sounds like a normal conversaundisclosed sum and a free telephone.

A spokesman for the agency. Impact FCA. said confidently yesterday: "Cabbies are great talkers, and everyone loves a natter with their taxi driver." He added that the drivers were trained to back off if their passenger showed signs of resistance to advertising on the move.

'Taxi drivers' representatives gave the idea a qualified welcome. Richard Bassett, of the Licensed Taxi Drivers' Association, said: "Anything that means drivers getting more money is welcome. But if I were a passenger I don't think I would be too happy about this." The Public Carriage Office, which regulates London taxis, said that sponsored cabbies, as distinct from vehicles painted with advertising, could be against the rules. Ann Keoghan, spokeswoman for the office, said the law was clear that cabbies should not act as agents. "How can you tell what is normal conversation and what is an advert? Cabbies will often tell you they have bought such-and-such a washing machine and bow marvellous it is, without anyone paying them to do it. But being paid to advertise mobile telephones sounds like completely unacceptable behaviour," Ms Keoghan said. It is likely to become unacceptable to the drivers, too, if they find that most passengers regard their sponsorship fee as an adequate substitute for a tip.

SATURDAY

IN THE TIMES

FATHERLOVE

Janine di Giovanni celebrates the first man in every woman's life

Weekend

TURNING TABLES Where do food fads come from?

in the Directory plus

The Magazine, Weekend Money, 1015 for young readers and Car 97

Director criticises burial of Globe site

BY DALYA ALBERGE ARTS CORRESPONDENT

THE artistic director of the reconstructed Globe Theatre attacked English Heritage esterday over its decision to hury the original site of Shakespeare's "Wooden O". Mark Rylance said that archaeologists and historians would be denied the chance to find out more about the historic theatre, 200 yards from the recreated Globe. Scholars do not have answers to even the most basic questions: the size of the original theatre, which way the stage pointed. its width and where the pillars stood. The actress Zoë Wanamaker, whose late father. Sam, was inspirational in the Globe's reconstruction, said that English Heritage "should feel embarrassed"

Ellen Barnes. English Heritage's inspector of ancient monuments for Greater London, said: "It's not a general right to excavate fully all the archaeological remains. We have to leave something for future

Zoë Wanamaker, who said that English Heritage should feel embarrassed

Head of Channel 5 admits 18,000 have cause to complain

By ALEXANDRA FREAN MEDIA CORRESPONDENT

CHANNEL 5 admitted yesterday that it had given 18,000 television viewers "serious cause for complaint" in its race to retune their video equipment before it goes on air on March 30. Grievances centred on retuners who failed to turn up for appointments or who broke video recorders and television sets but failed to replace or repair them.

David Elstein, the channel's chief executive, said the company had paid out between E20,000 and E30,000 to 525 complainants so far to recompense them for the stress and nconvenience caused by botched retuning jobs. "There are people who are unhappy with missed appointments, damaged equipment and - in their view - our niggardly offers of compensation," Mr

Elstein said yesterday. He added that every week he personally sent out "scores" of letters to viewers about their complaints. Speaking at The Television Show conference in London. Mr Elstein said that the people who had experi-enced problems with retuning represented 0.0068 per cent of the nine million or so homes that may require retuning. Even though it is just a tiny proportion, we do take these complaints very seriously.

Elstein: has written to dissatisfied viewers

Mr Elstein accused The Times of evaggerating the scale of the problem caused by botched retuners. "What The Times has not understood is what March 30 is all about. The notion that somehow our phone lines will be flooded with thousands of people complaining about interference is bananas, he said.

He admitted, however, that although "only" 18,000 of the nine million or so households that the Channel 5 retuners aimed to visit had "serious cause for complaint", the individuals concerned had every right to feel aggrieved.

Channel 5 is obliged by law to ensure that no television viewers suffer from interference from its signal. The interference occurs because its signal is close the frequency used by many video recorders. The station must eliminate interference from 90 per cent of households in its broadcast areas before it is allowed on Air Elstein said that the channel had now reached this target in all of its broadcast areas except Northern Ireland. "Whatever rumours you may have heard to the contrary, we will be launching on March 30," he said.

He said that 200,000 to 300,000 people in south London would not be able to receive Channel 5 initially because it will be using a different transmitter to that used by the other main broadcasters. Entire towns such as Slough were also affected for similar reasons. Mr Elstein also said that many occupants of blocks of flats would not be able to receive Channel 5.

He said that at £150 million. the retuning operation had cust Channel 5 three times more than it had originally estimated. "I don't believe any of the applicants for the Channel 5 licence anticipated the problems of wastage and attrition that we encountered," he

☐ The Channel 5 ombudsman. Stuart Sansom, can be reached at Channel 5 Broadcasting Limited, 22 Long Acre, London WC2E 9LY: telephone 0171-550 5555. To arrange a retuning appointment, ring 0500 555 255. For inquiries about retuning, ring 0500 355

The answer to Channel 5's advert may well be no

Advert prompts negative reaction

By Carol Midgley and Alexandra Frean

CHANNEL 5 appeared last night to have scored an own goal with its £5 million poster campaign, which used the names of celebrity couples to publicise its retuning

"Liam and Patsy, are you retuned?" asked the posters. The advertisements, devised by the Soho-based agency Mother also inquired whether John and Norma. Lenny and Dawn, Tara and Tamara and Charles and Camilla had had their television and video equipment retuned to enable them to watch Channel 5 without interference.

But yesterday agents for the celebrities involved suggested that the answer may well be

A spokesman for Tamara Beckwith, paired on the puster with fellow socialite Tara Palmer-Tomkinson, said: "Tamara has certainly not been retuned and nor was she consulted about appearing on the pasters. Channel 5 has been very careful only to use first names, so legally they don't need permission. But everyone is going to know who they mean.

A spokesman for Miss Palmer-Tomkinson said: Tara was not consulted about this poster. I am pretty sure

CORRECTION

Mrs Frances Shand-Kydd did not, as reported on March 10. receive an invitation to the confirmation of her grandson, she hasn't been retuned. In fact. I don't think she even had a television set at the time."

A spokesman for Liam Gallagher of Oasis was equally confused. "We don't know anything about this," he said. I'm not sure if they have been retuned."

Even the reference to John and Norma Major appeared muddled. Their home, in Huntingdon, Cambridgeshire, is not in the retuning area and 10 Downing Street has not yet been retuned. A spokesman said: "We have not yet made adaptations for Channel 5. If it is necessary, we will use our own engineers." Retuning is necessary to prevent the new station's signal causing interference on many video machines, which use a frequency close that occupied by Channel 5. The company aims to visit up to nine million homes within its catchment area by the time it goes on air on March 30, to see whether retuning is necessary.

COMPREHENSIVE

Mercedes Financial Adviser or ring 0800 25 25 00 for our free guide. It's a good read and it could lead to a good income. OWNERS

Quality Rewarded by Low Insurance Exclusive Schemes for Mercedes Tel: 0121 748 2211 NOW! or Phone your Nearest Branch at the Local Rate on 0345 123111 Ask for a quote on the internal: http://www.hhh.co.uk Hill House Hammond
Over 250 Branches Nationwide

PRUDENTIAL 33

THE MAN FROM THE PRU.

rates on deposit accounts. But, for a regular income on your

To find out more about Prudential's PEPs, talk to your Prudential Financial Consultant, see your Independent

savings, PEPs can be a better solution.

Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. The value of units, and the income from them may fall as well as rise and is not guaranteed, and the investor may not get back the amount they invested. Changes in rates of exchange between currencies may cause the value of the investment to diminish or increase. The above is based upon our understanding of current taxation, legislation, and Inland Revenue practice, all of which are liable to change. The levels and bases of tax reliefs from taxation can change. Their value depends on individual circumstances. With a building society account your capital is secure and readily accessible. 'Prudential' is a trading name of Prudential Unit Trusts Limited which is an authorised person whose conduct of investment business is regulated by SIB and IMRO. The company is registered in England and Wales under number 1796126. Registered Office at 142 Holborn Bars, London ECIN 2NH. For your protection calls may be recorded.

account a b

RELEION!

Prudential's PEPs have an option which give you an income on your capital. Currently, its target is to put around 75% of your investment in your pocket each year. Better still,

Of course, it's important to keep some of your funds as ready money and Prindential offers competitive interest none of it goes to the tax man.

المكدا من الأقبلية

for cures from rare animals

£2.000 fine

THE BIGGEST FOR PEOPLE, Co.

whether . for people egant 1 eliminated. Promp V Early admiss --

¥ Full cove-V Guaranteet Process Medical conde

otogapital Alba-

vhere

n the

Mey ico ISD

banned as

The poster, which features a James Bond figure wielding a banana instead, of a gun, framed by the bare legs of a student model, was sent back to Selwyn College by King's. Sharmin Selvarajah, the women's officer, told them: "It cannot be displayed due to our policy of not allowing material we consider to be degrading to women on coll-ege premises."

May Ball organisers at Selwyn accused King's of political correctness and said the design was a parody of the poster for Live and Let Die. Anna Edmundson, student president, said: "You have a woman in a dominant position and it is sending up a man with a banana instead of a gun. Everyone is wondering who the model is and wishing they had legs like

Mary Robinson to step down as Irish President

RELAND CORRESPONDENT

MARY ROBINSON announced yesterday that she will not be seeking a second term as President of Ireland. She is expected to seek the vacant pos-ition of United Nations Commissioner for Human Rights.

Her decision to step down as the seventh President of Ireland ends seven ground-breaking years in which she put the largely ceremonial post to new use, becoming heavily involved in domestic and international affairs.

The former civil liberties lawyer and mother of three told RTE radio that she had. been deliberating since Christmas but finally made up her mind to stand down two weeks ago. Her decision had been "very, very difficult". She is due to leave in the autumn. John Bruton, the Irish Prime Minister, said that Mrs Robinson had "symbolised the modernisation of Ireland".

After her election as Ireland's first woman President in 1990 Mrs Robinson declared that, through her victory, the women of Ireland instead of rocking the cradle have rocked the system". In 1992 she caught the world's attention when she became visibly upset during a visit to famine-ravaged Somalia. She returned to Africa a number of times, most recently to Rwanda earlier this month. The President told RTE radio: "I have a real commitment to the area of human rights and I would be exploring the possibilities." The position of UN Commissioner for Human-Rights fell vacant last month after the unexpected decision by José Ayala Lasso to return to Ecuador to take up the post of Foreign Minister. Mrs Robinson has often been mentioned as the perfect candidate for a UN post in human rights or refugee work.

Robinson: may become a UN commissioner

Mr Bruton said: "I think it is fair to say that the President is not only a distinguished lawyer, but also somebody who touches people and I think that she recognises that human rights are achieved not only by the passing of edicts but also by the changing of people's minds and hearts." Lobbying is expected to begin this weekend when Mr Bruton travels to Washington for St Patrick's Day celebrations in the White House. Mr Bruton said Mrs Robinson had been "the best President Ireland ever had". She had incorporated marginalised groups such as women, travellers and the disabled into the centre of Irish life. "She brought honour and pride to the people of Ireland. She symbolised the modernistaion of this country and she dissipated some of the stereotypes about this country that had existed abroad."

But the President was not without her critics. Unionists in Northern Ireland thought her interfering and were outraged when, in 1993, before any IRA ceasefire, she shook hands with Gerry Adams, the Sinn Fein leader. But, despite the criticism, she persisted and met groups from both sides of the religious and political divide. Last year, she became the first Irish leader to pay an official visit to the land facing two elections this year - a general election expected on June 5 and now the possibility of a presidential poll. Now that the path is cleared, Charles Haughey and Albert Reynolds, both former Prime Ministers, are expected to stand. They are likely to be joined by David Andrews, their younger Fianna Fail party colleague and former Foreign Minister. John Hume, the SDLP leader, is being talked of as a possible candidate. Mary O'Rourke, deputy leader of Fianna Fail, vesterday ruled herself out.

Her departure has left Ire-

Tributes to Mrs Robinson woman said she was devastated at her departure. It is like a death in the family. I am really sorry to see her co."

£2,000 fine for 'cures' from rare animals

By A STAFF REPORTER

A VIETNAMESE woman who sold remedies made from the bones of endangered spe-cies was fined £2,000 yesterday. Laryngitis pills with rhinoceros horn and sticking plasters containing ground riger and leopard bones were stocked by Bang Hue Thi, 32, at her shop in Portsmouth.

Animal welfare groups welcomed one of the first prosecutions of its kind. Bang told Portsmouth magistrates that she had bought the remedies in Hong Kong for £500 and had not realised it was illegal to sell them in Britain.

Her lawyer, Graham Parr, said: The laryngins pills are the Chinese equivalent of paracetamol." Bang, who came to Britain in 1979, admitfour charges of trading goods made from endangered

Anthony Jones, for the prosecution, said: "If we can put a stop to the selling of such goods, bones from endanspecies will not be needed so they will not be quite so endangered." Tammy Marlar, of the charity Tusk Force, said: "We hope this will be the beginning of more such prosecutions as this is more widespread than people might imagine."

Tunes help you think more easily, tests show

By NIGEL HAWKES SCIENCE EDITOR

TEACHING children music also encourages quicker and clearer reasoning, researchers have shown.

They believe that it modifies circuits in the brain, including some that have no obvious connection with music. "Music improves the hardware in the brain for thinking," said Gordon Shaw, of the University of California

He and colleagues tested the ability of 78 children between the ages of three and four to put together a simple jigsztw. New Scientist reports. One group had private piano lessons for ten minutes a day, as well as singing lessons. A second group had just the given ten minutes of private computer twition and the fourth no training at all. After six months those who had learnt piano showed a 34 per cent improvement on the speed and accuracy with which they could solve the jigsaw. The other groups showed little change.

Dr Shaw said more music teaching should be put on the curriculum. "At the worst, the child would have learnt to play an instrument."

WHY NOT GIVE YOUR HOME A FACELIFT THIS EASTER?

Coloured Emulsion Matt, Silk or Soft Sheen Choice of colours 2·5 litres

Ports of Call Wallpaper Was £7-99 Save £1 (Also available Jeff Banks co-ordinating Border Was £5-79 Now £4-99 Save £1)

POLYCELL

10 Roll

Liquid Advance

Was £4-49 Save 50p

MASKING TAPE

Was:£1-35 Save 36p

25m x 19mm

Was £11-99 Save £2

ADVANCE

CROWN Advance Emulsion Choice of colours 2.5 litres Was £14-99 Save £3

RONSEAL Clear Varnish. Matt, Gloss or Satin 500ml Was £6-59 Save 70p

FREEPHONE 0800 397 397

GAZELLE

4 Tread Step

£1 CASH BACK

£20 OFF CURTAINS

SAINSBURY'S HOUSE & GARDEN CENTRES

MONDAY-THURSDAY 8AM - 8PM . FRIDAY 8AM - 9PM . SATURDAY 8AM - 8PM . SUNDAY 10AM - 4PM* o scale. Morchandisc subject to availability Products and offers may vary in Northern freland and Eire "Stores in Scotland Open Sunday Pam-Spm. Opening times may vary. Plaase call 0545 801 800 during t

THE BIGGEST MEDICAL COMPLAINT FOR PEOPLE OVER 50 IS

HOSPITAI WAITING SAGA Hospital Care ensures you will not have to wait long for treatment

ueuing for an NHS operation, whether it is major or minor, is a dispiriting experience. But with Saga's Hospital Care plan, developed exclusively for people aged 50 and over, waiting for months (even years) for treatment is eliminated.

✔ Prompt treatment for 12 of the most commonly suffered complaints

✓ Early admission for all other operations where the NHS cannot admit you within six weeks, after seeing your specialist

✓ Full cover for private in-patient charges*†

✓ Guaranteed acceptance from age 50 with no upper age limit and no medical required

✓ Medical conditions that occurred before you join may be covered after 2 years* ✓ Automatic tax relief on premiums if you are aged 60 or over ✓ FREE luggage set when you enrol

Subject to policy conditions †Limits do apply to some out-parient treatments

SAGA Hospital Care is underwritten by Prime Health

For a free quotation and information pack, phone our dedicated Customer Care Team at Prime Health

For Dunblane massacre parents, 1996 ends today

By GILLIAN BOWDITCH, SCOTLAND CORRESPONDENT

THE father of Victoria Clydesdale knows that getting through the first anniversary of the Dunblane massacre will not be easy. Consequently, he has planned today carefully.

"I know what I'm doing," Charlie Clydesdale, 41, said. "I hope to be up at the school round about the time it happened, and I want to lay one red rose as near to there as I can. Then I'm going to go up to the cemetery.

His five-year-old daughter is buried there, alongside many of the other 15 children gunned down with their teacher by Thomas Hamilton on days and Christmas was bad enough," he said. "But coming to March was one of my main hurdles. I was wanting 1996 to end, but it does not really end until today."

His sentiments will find a place in the hearts of many other relatives of Hamilton's victims, who have asked that their deaths be remembered quietly and with dignity. They have requested that no special church or memorial services be held. Instead they have asked their friends and neighbours to place a single lighted candle in their windows at 7pm. It is a gesture that will be March 13 last year. "Getting repeated in towns across Brit-over the hurdle of the birth-ain as people demonstrate their solidarity with the citizens of the small cathedral

Dunblane Primary School will open at 10.30am to allow friends and families of the bereaved, together with injured pupils and teachers, to pay their respects. A small group will lay a wreath at the site of the gymnasium, where Hamilton opened fire on the children. The building has been knocked down and replaced by a garden.

Don Monteith, spokesman for Stirling council, said: "Families and friends will be allowed to do what they want to do at the school. It will be up to them. We will open at 10.30

Football-mad Coll refuses to be hampered by the damage to his sight and hearing, and still dreams of playing for his favourite team, Celtic.

forgets he is blind in one eye."

his father said. "There is no reason why partial blindness

in one side should limit him.

He has not allowed it to so far,

he does not see it as any encumbrance to him in the future. Coli has enough self-esteem and confidence in himself that he will not allow other people's viewpoints to get to him. They might hurt initially but he has enough inner strength and resilience."

"He says himself that he

all floral tributes and cards to be directed to the cemetery. Gordon Jeyes, director of education for the council, said:
"We want to avoid a build-up of flowers outside the school gates because we are all trying has brought out the qualities to make the day as routine as that were there but they were possible for the children." never really very evident, they were never required to be. They had never been put under pressure like that." The Dunblane Fund, which

and we will make the day as routine as we can for the children. The plan at present is to close the school at the Tributes, written and floral, have been arriving in the town. Yesterday the Pope added his blessing and prayers for the citizens. The Apos-ers for the chizens. The Apos-tolic Nuncio, Luigi Barbarito, writing to the Bishop of Dunkeld, the Right Rev Vin-cent Logan, said: "On the anniversary of the Dunblane tragedy, on behalf of the Holy Father, I extend to all those affected his affectionate blessing together with a remem-

Stirling council is asking for now stands at around £5 milbrance in his prayers."

normal time."

lion, will close in a fortnight Money has already been distributed to the families of the bereaved and injured. The Educational Institute of Scotland has asked the country's 50,000 teachers to donate £1 to the Gwen Mayor Appeal, set up in the aftermath of the tragedy. Mrs Mayor was the teacher killed as she tried to protect her class. The fund which stands at over £50,000, will promote artistic, musical sporting and cultural projects in Scottish primary schools. Contributions can be sent to the Royal Bank of Scotland, Edinburgh Castle Street Branch, sort code 83-18-14,

Eamonn McGlacken with Chance, a Jack Russell he saved from the Mersey with the aid of his digger bucket. Mr McGlacken, 22, and Scott Ward, his workmate, were repairing the seawall at New Brighton when they heard Lorraine Kay's screams as the three-year-old terrier drifted away. With Mr Ward manoeuvring the bucket, Mr McGiacken was eventually able to grab Chance by the Chance in a million collar. He said: "The water was freezing cold. There have been too many deaths of people trying to rescue dogs. so we did not want to do anything stupid. I tried to get close enough to attract her. She still ignored me and we were getting desperate. Some-one ran for a lifebelt and I threw it close to her. That did the trick and she swam towards it. When she was close enough I grabbed her." Mrs Kay had been taking Chance. her brother's dog. for a walk with her own two dogs. "I started screaming for help and the workmen came to my rescue. It was amazing. They used the digger like something out of Thunderbirds."

Health and Efficiency is back in the nudes

By DAMIAN WHITWORTH

THE bible of the naturist movement, Health & Efficiency, which outraged readers when it slid downmarket into soft porn and then into receivership, has new owners and is promising to get back to

H&E as the magazine is now known, is 98 years old and used to be known for its pictures of smiling families playing volleyball in the nude. In recent years it has become a strictly top-shell publication, but the new owners, who include a consortium of Yorkshire businessmen, insist that traditional naturists are to be welcomed back, even though the new issue includes a feature on body piercing as well as pages of naked models. Helen Ludbrook, the editor, said: "We will be trying to get away from the girliness that has featured. We are reducing the number of models hugely. compared with the previous issues, and featuring people who enjoy the naked lifestyle." At the Central Council for British Naturism there was scepticism yesterday. We do get people inquiring about us after hearing about us through H&E. It comes into the office, but I don't read it." one member of staff said. "The front cover of the new issue is better but, flicking through, it looks the same."

Ms Ludbrook, who poses nude beneath this month's editorial, is not deterred. "We are trying to avoid the term naturism because it alienates a lot of people. We prefer naked lifestyle," she said. "We missed only one issue and now we will be going back to Survivor who refuses to give up true mettle: "I think the test

COLL AUSTIN, who was among the worst injured in the Dunblane shootings, will be going to school as normal today. His father, Joe, is anxious that the day should not have too much signifi-cance for the boy who lost his sight and hearing on one side.

He said: "I don't want to make an issue of it. Kids don't mark time the way adults do. It does not hold any significance for them unless they see adults making an issue of it." Call, who is now six, was shot four times during Thomas Hamilton's rampage. He was one of the first to be hit and was lying injured when the gunman returned to him at the end of the massacre. The boy moved and Hamilton shot at close range into his back. Doctors did not expect him to survive the first night.

His father said: "On the Coll Austin: lost sight and hearing on one side whole he has come through it better than I could have expected. He still looks forward. He has got hopes, ambitions.

other young children, says the tragedy has revealed his son's

He has not given up."
Mr Austin, 31, who has two

Weather-beaten landmark will be blown up

A COASTAL landmark is to be blown up because it has become a danger to the thousands of tourists who flock to see it each year. Marsden Rock near South

BY PAUL WILKINSON

Shields was once a spectacular 100ft limestone arch carved by the sea. It has been a much-used backdrop for films set in the North East.

emsion caused the arch to collapse. Now, with the smaller of the two stacks crumbling dangerously, the National Trust, which owns it, has decided that it must come account number 0118240.

Tiffany Hunt, the trust's regional director, said: "We have been monitoring the But in February last year. and it is now apparent a coastline."

collapse is inevitable within the next 12 months." She said the demolition was also being done now to avoid disrupting the breeding season of the rock's population of kittiwakes and cormorants.

Tom Fennelly, spokesman

By NICK NETTALL

FIFTY years after the widespread flooding of 1947, scientists are claiming that the damage it caused to communities would be dwarfed by the devastation of such floods

In the postwar era, many low-lying areas have been used for housing: more than threat from flooding, the Environment Agency says. Climate have added

More homes face flood peril

In 1947, at the end of a bitterly cold winter, heavy rains swept the country at the beginning of March, triggering a sudden thaw on ground frozen solid since January. Within days the major rivers of England as far north as two million homes in the Yorkshire had burst their South East alone are under banks. Some 300,000 hectares kilometres.

of land, an area about the size of Kent, were plunged under water. Conditions were workened by 100mph winds.

Dr Geoff Mance, the Environment Agency's director of water management, vesterday announced planning guidelines to reduce development in vulnerable areas. He said the housing at risk in the flood plains of England and Wales covered about 1,000 square down for safety reasons. A demolition team will finish it off next week.

Marsden Rock before the elements destroyed the arch

for South Typeside council. said: "The larger of the two rocks will remain a very important natural feature of a stack since February last year very beautiful stretch

HL-1260e

1200 dats per inch. 2Mb/oMb models available. Network capability

Ih pages per minute. 1200 dots per inch, 4Mb/1031b models available. High volume duplex printing. Network capability

PANASONIC

LEXMARK

APPLE .

KYOCERA

→ OKI

CANON

NEC.

SHARP

we've outperformed some 'big' names to be No.2 in laser printers.

And it's not something that's happened overnight - it's a position we've held for the past two years.

There can be no denying it -

For more facts about the No.2, call the number below.

More than just features

ales@buk.brother.co.uk

3 1997

 Π

hotog-p with

from elps a as just æ he is able to vage 19

hit

S.

ademy

amid capital e Alba-en up rsenals

where

ped up break-

en the dice or

) Presi-

ipt was

COMPAQ

120MHz Pentium Processor. 16Mb EDO RAM. 1.2Gb hard disk. Six speed multimedia. Wavetable sound card and speakers. 33.6Kbps data/fax modem and speaker phone. 7 software titles. Was £1399.

MODEL: Compaq Presario 4118.

APRICOT

133MHz Pentinus Processor 16Mb RAM, 2Gb hard disk. 1Mb PCI graphics. Eight speed multimedia. 28.8K bps data/fax modern, Security device and alarm. Software includes Windows '95 and 4 games. Was £1499. MODEL: Apricot MS540 P133 Multimed

£100 LOW PRICE PROMISE

£1799

SAVE E300

PACKARD BELL NEW

2000Mis Purdim Processor, 32Mb RAM, 3,2Gb hard disk, 6Mb

PO graphics (2Mb PO & 4Mb 3D).
Solten speed multimedia. 16 bit stereo valentable sound and speakers. 33.5/dops data/fiss and speakers. 33.5/dops data/fiss and speakers. 23.5/dops data/fiss and speakers. 25.5/dops data/fiss and speakers. 25.5/do

GAD RAM 200 had did ark speed CD-ROM drive

APRICOT

·····
ACER	SAVE £100
2000Hz Pentium Precumer, Mb RAM. 810Mb hard disk.
4" Monitor, Eight speed hultimedia, Stereo Soundcard nd speakers.	£899
hs FREE SIDE worth of otherway was 1999 URBY LINGTON SUDGES.	BLY NOW FAY & MONTHS

SAVE PACKARD BELL 16Mb RAM, 1.3Gb hard disk.

modern with spesiphone.

Media select panel, remote controlled communications and and radio card. Giver 40 000 wearth of self-manel including Windows 95. Was E4795 (1559.

MODEL: Packard Bell 900SD Multimedia. COMPAQ

prompt reaction

150MHz Pentines Processes. 24Ab RAM. 2.1 Cb hard disk. 1Mb PCI graphics. 15" SVGA monitor, Sixteen speed CD-Rom drive. 16 bit stereo soundcard. 33.6/Gbps data/fax modern sy Access Buttons. Includes suite of software. MODEL: Compaq Presario 4166.

EXCLUSIVE 699

BUY NOW PAY 9 MONTHS

TEXAS 120MHz Pentium Processor. BAND EDO RAM. 810Mb hard disk. 10.4" dual scan colour display. 16 bit stereo soundcard

SAVE OW HEN speakers. Windows 95 £100 Was £1299. MODEL: Texas Entensa 600cs. LOW PRICE PROMISE

SAVE E500

SAVE £20

£179

£16

ACER

133881tz Puntium Processor. 1696 RAM. L.X.b hard disk. IMb PCI graphics

14" SVCA montor. Over $850 worth of software.

200 a 300 DPI resolution (blach) 300 x 300 DPI resolut (colour) Up to 3 pages pet manule Total Septrate Selling Price £1139.99 MODEL Age Acros P133 a Owen #170.

BUY NOW PAY 6 MONTHS

SAVE £200 TOSHIBA TOSHIBA RAND EDO RAM, S10Mb hard disk. £1399

Santitiz Position Processor. 1645 EDO RAM. 1.3Cb hard disk. 12.1" SVCA Duskson Colour display. £1999 2 x Ripe & POMOR slots.
Was £2499.
MODEL: Toshiba Satelike 500CS. (choose from Windows 3.11 or Wandows '95), Was 51899 E1549, MODEL: Toshiba Satellite 200CDS

SAVE CANON

£30 printing. Up to ... 4.5 pages per minute (black). 100 page sheet tray. Photo-real preseng capability. Was 6259 £249. LOW PRICE PROMISE MODEL: 8JC4200

OLIVETTI Colour Indiget Printer.
300 a 300 DPI resolution (colour).
Up to 3 pages per remain output.
30 resident bitmap fonts. Was E189 E188 E145 MODEL P170C MODEL IP 170C

POCHISHE TO DEG REPAIL HATTED. ALL PRICES INCLUDE VIC WINDTEN CREDIT CAUDITATIONS AND MALABLE ON REQUEST FROM DEPT MAYON, MALABES AND MALABES AND

£229 SAVE E35 Was (285) (269) MODEL: D1693x HEWLETT PACKARD SAVE Up to 12 pages per mature, 4Mb RA Has El 199. MODEL: Laserpor 5 25% OFF INKJET CARTRIDGES

DPI resolution (collour). Up to 5 pages per

WHEN YOU BUY ANY INKLET PRINTER

THE COMPUTER SUPERSTORE

NOTHING TO PAY FOR UP TO 12 MONTHS*

133MHz PENTIUM PCs NOW FROM UNDER £1000

MUCA

133MHz Pentium Processor. 16Mb RAM. 1.2Gb hard disk.

1Mb PCI graphics. 14" SVGA monitor. Over £650 worth of software[†] including Windows '95 and Works '95. Was £1149.

MODEL: Acer Acros P133 Multimedia.

BUY NOW PAY 6 MONTHS

LOW PRICE PROMISE

PC & PRINTER SAVE# £150 PACKAGES

PACKARD BELL

16Mb RAM. 1.2Gb hard disk. 14" SVGA PLUS Canon Colour Inkjet Printer. 720 x 360 DPI resolution (black and colour). Up to 4.5 pages per minute. Photo-real printing

SAVE E40

£1099

LOW PRICE PROMISE PACKARD BELL ER £150 MMXT TECHNOLOGY £2129 SOMN PAM. 2012 hard disk. IS" SUCA montox light speed multimedia. 35 St. Ups data/far modern. Media select panel. Over $1800 worth of selfcopes.² PUS Canno Colour Inhjel Printer. 720 x 360 DPT re-olymon (black & colour). Up to 4.5 pages per minute Total Separate Selling Price £2284.99, MCDEL Facture Bell 9010 & Canon BIC4210.

CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY OF THE

THE COMPUTER SUPERSTORE

FOR YOUR NEAREST STORE CALL 0990 464 464 ■ GATESHEAD ■ GLASGOW LONDON AREA

NORMICH NOTTINGHAM

LEEDS LIVERPOOL MANCHESTER MERRY HILL-DUDLEY MORTHAMPTON

BRENTFORD
CROYDON
ENFIELD WWW.PCWORLD.CO.UK

THE BEST CHOICE FOR ALL YOUR BUSINESS COMPUTING NEEDS

EXPERT ADVICE

AFTER SALES SUPPORT

7 days of purchase we will refund the difference

We won't be beaten We promise that if you find the same offer available at a lower price in any other local retail store within

MMEDIATE AVAILABILITY

DEDICATED

BUSINESS CENTRE

guaranteed providing you produce details of where you saw the offer

PERIPHERALS -SAVE # £150 OVERDRIVE

with MMX™ Technology for £379

Intel Pentium® OverDrive Processor with MMX* Technology. Take your easing 75MHz and 90MHz Pentium* up to 125MHz and 150MHz respectively with MMX* Technology.

MODEL: 150MHz OverDrive with MMX™ Technolog Ako available take your 100MHz Pentium* to 166MHz with the 166MHz OverDrive

SCANNER

Hewlett Packard Scanjet 58 The latest technology in Flatbed true colour scanning. SCSI interfaces give amazingly fast scan speeds, combined with superlative software bundles wallable in IBM and Macintosh formats.

£299

CD WRITER Creste your own multimedia titles. Fast data retreval, Was £549. MCDR - Health Burkard Superior

MULTIMEDIA

£199

SAVE £150 25% OFF GAMES SOFTWAR Peripherique SIMM Cards Buy any SIMM of 8Mb or above SAVE £50 nd receive 25% off any games £19.99

Offer applies

VOICE DICTATION SOFTWARE IBM Voice Type Simply Speaking. Turn spoken

text by simply speaking to your computer. Ideal for anyon who'd rather talk than type. Sit back and relax as you work hands and eyes free LOW PRICE PROMISE

£20

£99

£290

£99

SAVE £50

NEW

£199

FRONT PAGE 97

Monocol Floor Page 97

makes country

professional quetay web stas easy. These is no

Do more with your scanner. Scan articles, pictures, letters and more. Normally £ 199 "Cfiler applies when bought with any scanner.

Was £99. E5 £19.99

SELLER

£79 NOW

FREE CSE Naths. Juananteed Pass or £19.99

NEW

Route 65. Plan your journey

Hall #197.

*NOTHING TO PAY

FOR UP TO

Fires lens of thousands of problems, updates itself automatically and now brings you the

NEW £34.99

Microsoft Office 97. Includes Mecrosoft products only is National sered Office:

Cloning scientists round up herd of 500 cattle embryos

By Nigel Hawkes, science editor

SCIENTISTS have produced nearly 500 identical cattle embryos in the first cloning "production line". The Australian team does not yet know if the embryos will result in pregnancies, but if they did it would be possible to produce an entire herd with identical

The researchers at Monash University in Clayton, Victoria, believe that the technique may replace artificial insemination as a means of producing elite herds. The raditional method uses sperm from a high-quality bull to inseminate many cows. But the cows are likely to be of variable quality, producing a range of calves of differing standards. The Australian method should in principle enable a prize bull to lettilise a prize egg that could be multiplied to produce a herd.

Dr Alan Trounson of Monash, whose group is col-laborating with the company Genetics Australia, first produces a single embryo from sperm and egg in a test tube. The embryo is left to develop for four or five days, forming a blastocyst, a ball of cells that would normally implant into the wall of the wornb. Up to 30 cells from the blastocyst are removed and fused with unfertilised egg cells that have had their own nuclear DNA

Like the researchers at Roslin in Edinburgh, who cloned the sheep Dolly, the Australian team uses an electric current to combine the two. The identical embryos are grown and separated again by the same process. multiplying them still further. The eggs come from cow ovaries provided by abattoirs; the quality of the cow is immaterial as its DNA is

So far, the researchers have concentrated on producing the multiple embryos rather than trying to create calves. Their record has been to produce 470 embryos from a single blastocyst. Bernie Harford, of Genetics Australia, told New Scientist: "We don't know of any other group being able to

Experiments defended

The British scientist who cloned a sheep defended his experiments before Congress yesterday as a limitless source of medical research, but said that the technique should not be used on humans (Tom Rhodes writes). Ian Wilmut, the chief embryologist who created Dolly at the Roslin Institute in Scotland, told a packed committee room that the inefficiency of cloning made it "inhumane" to experiment with people. But he said the ique could lead to the treatment of many diseases. including haemophilia and Parkinson's disease, and a greater understanding of hu-produce that many healthy loned embryos." Combined with the Roslin technique, which has shown that cells from adult sheep can be cloned, the Australian method may make it possible to pro-duce many copies of animals that have proved their value.

But the team has yet to show that all the huge number of embryos it has produced will produce healthy calves, a step other scientists have found tricky. The Australians have produced six calves from the early stages of the technique, but none from the cloned

A leading French scientist says that the implications for humans of the Roslin technique are "staggering". Dr Axel Kahn, director of a French national laboratory for genetics research in Paris, says that there is no reason why human cloning should not work. The "fanatical desire of parents not simply to have children but to ensure these children carry their genes" may mean that it is used, he says in Nature. A case in which public opinion might legitimise the use of cloning would be one where the father was sterile. he suggests. Allowing cloning to circumvent sterility might lead to it being tolerated in cases where it was imposed, for example, by authorities, he argues. There is no technical barrier against this, he says. only a moral one "originating from a reflection of the basis of

Pupils at Barking Abbey, one of the specialist sports schools, practising their footballing skills yesterday

£3m for schools to specialise in sport

By JOHN GOODBODY, SPORTS NEWS CORRESPONDENT

NINE state schools were yesterday nominated as Britain's first sports and arts colleges in a national drive to raise standards and achieve international success

A £3 million-plus package. supported jointly by the Government and private sponsors, will fund the building of facilities and the employment of staff in both the arts and Cheryl Gillan, the Education Minister, said yesterday that she wanted to see the scheme extended. "I have seen what a struggle it is for pupils to get an education while trying to excel at sport or the arts. The Government wants to allow them to be able to do both."

The six sports and three arts colleges bring to 231 the number of specialist schools, which include 42 language and 180 technology colleges. Tony Maxwell, the head teacher at Barking Abbey Comprehensive in east London, one of the six new sports colleges, said: "There is a danger in the eyes of the community of being seen as promoting sport, sport, sport.

Pupils come here to learn and we do send 40 of them to university every year." The school was national under-16 football champion in 1994 and finalist in the TSB English Schools' Cups in athletics and cross-country in each of the past five years. It will now receive £360,000, £100,000 of which has been raised through personal contacts, thanks partly to the Youth Sport Trust. appointed by the Government co-ordinate the scheme. The remainder will come from the Government. Parkside Community College in Cambridge, one of the specialist arts colleges, has had £100.000 underwritten by local personality. Peter Dawe, while it searches for sponsorship. Tim Bos. the principal, said that part of the money would be spent on furnishing an arts and media centre and establishing its own internal radio system.

The other specialist arts institutions are Theale Green School in Berkshire and Latimer School in Kettering. Northamptonshire. The sports colleges are: Beacon Community College in East Sussex Burleigh Community College in Loughborough. Leicestershire; Oakbank School, Keighley, west York-shire: Siddal Moor High School. Rochdale. Manchester, and South Dartmoor Community College, Devon.

Schools Week, page 15 Bryant's Eye, page 42

St Patrick belongs to Ulster, say Orangemen

BY AUDREY MAGEE IRELAND CORRESPONDENT laun in he

Media ask memories o

Afford Health

Lifetime Health(

THE patron saint of Ireland St Patrick, has been hijacked by nationalists who have turned him into a Roman Catholic legend, according to Unionists in Ulster.

The Orange Order today publish their version of $2 Patrick's story in the hope that the Government will make tes day a national holiday in Northern Ireland. The Or angemen claim the 5th-centory saint taught the Gospel around Ulster and seldom if. ever, went into what is now the Republic, where on Monday they celebrare his feast day.

Nelson McCausland, the author of the Orange Orders pamphlet Patrick, Apostle of Ulster, says that stories such as the saint's use of the shamrock to describe the Trinity were fabrications. Mr McCausland said: *De Valera and Fianna Fail tried desperately hard to paint this vision of Ireland at the turn of this century as green, godly and Roman Catholic and their distorted image of St Patrick fined into this. Irish politicians and the Catholic Church hijacked him for their own nationalist propaganda.

Mr McCausland, an Ulster Unionist Belfast councillor and member of the St Patrick's Orange Lodge, said: "Patrick was God's man for Ulster, the Apostle of Ulster."

Charlie Doherty, a lecturer in ancient Irish history at University College, Dublin accused the Orangemen of massaging history. Their history only goes from the Battle of the Boyne onwards and what they want is a niche

Mother says nanny on murder charge is not heartless, just reserved drug dealers and roughnecks, "If it King and often went hungry. As a as unconcerned, "Louise is an

FROM QUENTIN LETTS

THE mother of Louise Woodward. the British nanny accused of murdering an American baby, yesterday attacked the "harsh" Boston prison where her daughter is being held and said that America was mistaking her old-fashioned British reserve for heartlessness.

Sue Woodward, 40, complained that her daughter was being held in was England she would be kept away from known criminals," Mrs Woodward claimed

Miss Woodward, 19, from Elton, Cheshire, has been charged with the first-degree murder last month of Matthew Eappen, the nine-monthold child she was looking after in suburban Boston. Miss Woodward faces life in prison if convicted.

Mrs Woodward said her daughter had daydreams of England, read vegetarian, she found that she could not eat much of the prison food.

Louise is a committed Christian and is going to the prison church," said Mrs Woodward, who did not endear herself to Boston television reporters yesterday by refusing to produce tears in front of their cameras. Her daughter, similarly, has surprised American audiences with her calm demeanour at court hearings. In a country where public emotional person," insisted Mrs Woodward, "as emotional as I am. but you won't see me weeping and wailing. What does that achieve, shouting and crying and not being in possession of your thoughts?"

Mrs Woodward, who is taking it in turns with her husband. Gary, to visit Boston, sees her daughter every day. Miss Woodward had been working in Boston before going to university. Her mother let children do their own thing." she said. "We consider Louise to be an adult. She's a very intelligent young woman who works things out for

"Yes, in private she gets upset but she is more a person to weep silently. I believe in Louise and in her innocence. I know she's incapable of doing anything to harm anybody." The death of a close friend five years ago had left Louise bereavement. Mrs Woodward said. but she insisted that her daughter: was grieving for Manhew.

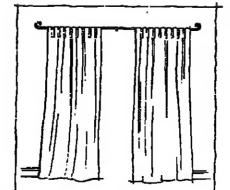

Mrs Woodward praised the people of Boston for the kindness. they had shown her. Her daughter had received many letters in prison from local people, and encouragement from home. The whole village has come out in support," Mrs Woodward said. She added that she nonetheless felt that, as a non-American, her daughter was at a

LAURA ASHLEY

Custom Made Curtains & Blinds* For 4 weeks only!

Offer ends Saturday 5th April

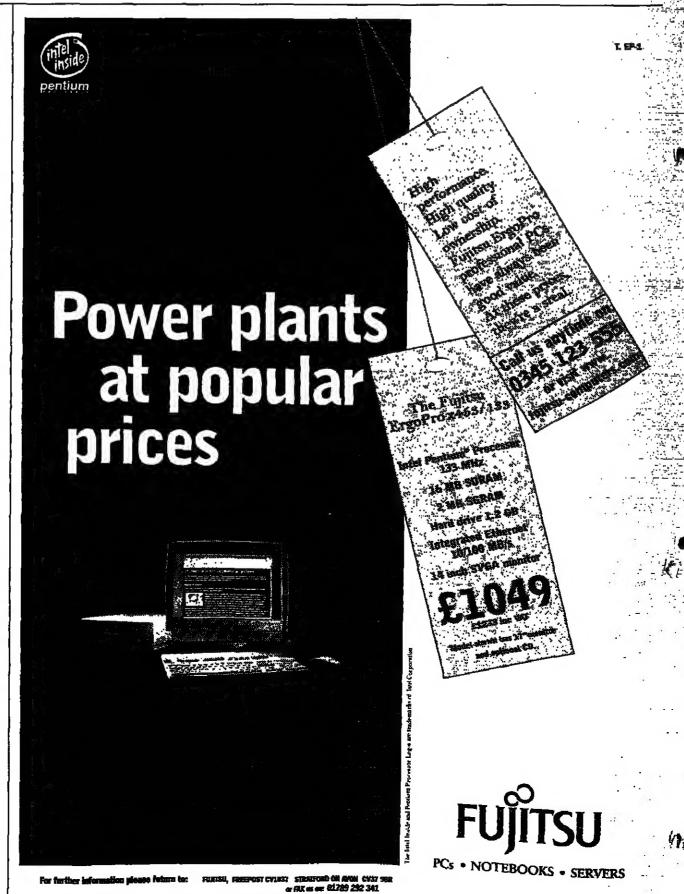

Choose from over 240 exclusive fabrics stripes, checks, plains and florals.

For your nearest Laura Ashley store and for details of opening hours telephone Customer Services on 0990 622116.

Subject to fabric availability and cannot be used in conjunction with any other offer.

Youngsters challenged to create projects that combat crime and despair

Frances Lawrence launches awards in head's memory

By RICHARD FORD, HOME CORRESPONDENT

THE widow of the murdered headmaster Philip Lawrence launched an annual award scheme in his memory yesterday. Frances Lawrence called for more action to halt violent among disaffected

She urged young people to accept the challenge offered by the awards and to work to make the world a better place. The scheme will award up to £1,000 to winners who have helped their communities with such projects as crime prevention, tackling drugs or combatting racial harassment.

Mrs Lawrence met young men and women from six areas whose work was displayed as examples of projects that could win the award next December. She said at the launch in central London: "I would like to see what more can be done to halt the growth of violent crime among the disaffected youth which reverberates throughout the whole of our society.

Michael Howard, the Home Secretary, said the scheme showed it was possible to take something meaningful and positive from the death of Mr Lawrence, who was murdered when he intervened in a fight outside his school in Maida

Vale, northwest London. He the ITV newsreader Trevor said: "The very existence of the award means that love and hope can triumph over hate and fear. We all owe it to the memory of Philip Lawrence to do what we can to help others and ourselves to live our lives in the best way we can." He said that too often society heard only about the crimes and misdemeanours of the young. "But the vast majority of people are lawabiding. Most have a strong moral sense and many already give freely their time and energy to improve the lives of others." Others sup-

Lawrence: murdered

McDonald.

Sample projects were demonstrated by youngsters from Braunton School and Community College, Devon who produced a video showing how people are affected by Youth Action Group, Norfolk, who worked on a drugs education project; and Tredegar Comprehensive School, South Wales, whose video highlighted the dangers of joyriding.

Sixthformers from Sandy Upper School and Community College, Bedfordshire, described their home-watch scheme: Newmartin Community Youth Trust in Newham, east London, told of its drop-in centre dealing with race and crime prevention; and Network Young People's Forum, Hertfordshire, said it had raised £175,000 to convert an old courthouse at Hitchin into a drop-in centre for young people.

Nominations for the award must be submitted by September 10 on forms from the Home Office, Stephen Law-rence Awards, Room 938, 50 Queen Anne's Gate, London SWIH 9AT, or on the Internet at http://homeoffice.gov.uk/

Mrs Lawrence, her son Lucien, Mr McDonald and Mr Howard at the launch

Village searches for Oates family to mark anniversary

By JOANNA BALE

where the Antarctic explorer Captain Lawrence Oates once lived are trying to trace members of his family for a remembrance service on the eighty-fifth anniversary of

ه ي العليد

It will be held at St Mary's church, Gestingthorpe, Essex on Sunday near Gestingthorpe Hall, the Georgian home of the Oates family at the beginning of the century. Captain Oates won his place in British legend on the doomed Scott expedition to the South Pole in 1912. Badly frostbitten and fearing he was slowing his colleagues down, he left their tent with the words: "I am going outside: I may be some time."

The family house was sold when Captain Oates's mother died. The last member of the family to live in the village died nearly 20 years ago. Tony Dagnall, a churchwarden and retired university physicist, said: "Captain Oates was a great hero. He was a soldier, explorer and adventurer and a truly brave man.

"His family were well-liked and respected by everyone in the village. His mother was a tough determined woman, and boys and men in the village used to doff their caps to her. The family paid for the bells to be restored in the church and they had to be RESIDENTS of a village rung until Mrs Oates had walked from her home opposite and passed through the lich-gate. No one went hungry while she lived at the hall.

"Her son was regarded as a local hero. When he got back from the Boer War there was a real welcomehome party, with bunting and a huge celebration.

"We would love to invite someone from the Oates family back to the village for the service. But we don't know how to find them."

An anonymous descendant of Captain Oates sold his Bible at Christie's for £6,000 last September. A spokeswoman for Christie's declined to help yesterday. She said: "We cannot reveal the vendor's identity or even pass on letters to him. It is able to hit

p with

elps a

S ademy amid

ped up

Oates: home sold when

MEL 200 9200

0000

1 27 B

40 5R. 67%

7700 89 9000

 0

(C) (

Media asked to jog memories of murder

POLICE have invited reporters and camera crews to the scene of a five-month-old murder in the hope of jogging the memories of potential witnesses (Paul Wilkinson writes).

The killing of Geoffrey Leeming in the garage of his bungalow as his wife watched Coronation Street is North Yorkshire Police's only unsolved murder.

Since the night Mr Leeming was stanbed with a carving knife at his home in Haxby, near York, it has been unoccupied. His widow, Jackie, and her daughter live in York.

Mr Leeming would have been 64 last Saturday. His body remains in a mortuary, available for future examination if required. Mrs Leeming said yester-day: "It wasn't fair how he died and it's not fair he has to wait so long before he can rest in peace. It is for this reason that I ask the public for help

Affordable Healthcare

Lifetime From

0500 66 99 66 Legal & General HealtbCare AVERAGE

Open an Alliance Account before 17 May 1997 and we'll add £30 to your balance.

But that's not the only feature that sets us apart from the rest.

- 24 hour telephone banking, 365 days a year
- Credit interest of up to 3.0% gross p.a.
- Low overdraft rates with no monthly fee or set up charge
- Access to cash via around 350 branches, 20,000 Post Offices and 9,000 LINK cash machines

We will also help you switch your account. To apply or for more information, just call us on the number below.

第1月15年11月1日接

Paper faces charge for contempt

The Attorney-General is seek-Whitemoor prison breakout trial. Sir Nicholas Lyell, QC, wants to sue Associated Newspapers, the Standard's publisher, and Max Hastings, Crown Court were stopped after the newspaper pub-lished an article that identithree of the defendants as convicted IRA men, in contravention of an order imposed by the judge.

Tree theft case

the trees have been recovered.

RAF technician from Ayr who was assaulted by a police officer before being wrongfully arrested, has won £5,550 in damages from Strathclyde Police at the Court of Session in Edinburgh.

Stowaways found

at Thanet Magistrates' Court and remanded in custody.

Helium death

Out with the old

0645 330645 with suggestions.

Natural support

A woman who runs an animal sanctuary in Bristol is ensuring the survival of an pipistrelle bat by keeping it inside her bra. Diana Desmond, 37, said the bat needed a "warm environment with ing leave to bring contempt proceedings against the Eve-ning Standard over an article that led to the collapse of the Proceedings at Woolwich

Obee Eastwood, of Chatham. Kent, has been charged with the theft of nearly 800 cherry trees from Lord Kingsdown, former Governor of the Bank of England and the High Sheriff of Kent. Some 350 of Police payout

Robert Downie, 38, a former

Thirteen illegal Asian immigrants were found in the luggage hold of a coach arriving at Ramsgate from Dunkirk. The driver and a issenger have been charged

Free to glow

Ponies and donkeys roaming wild in the New Forest, Hampshire, are to be fitted with reflective collars in an attempt to reduce the number of night-time accidents involving heavy traffic in the

Sergeant Peter Everett, 47, of Barry police, Vale of Glamorgan, died from a heart attack after inhaling helium gas from a balloon during a party trick on a night out. An inquest was adjourned at Taunton, Somerset

The word "pensioner" has become outdated and "fails Britain's new breed of dynamic retirees", according to the Norwich Union, which is challenging the public to think of a better name. Ring natural movement".

TWO EASY WAYS TO BUY A MOBILE

WITH EVERY CELLNET DIGITAL PHONE

It's simple! Dixons give you at least £5 of calls FREE every month for life, whichever rental option you choose.

THE DIXONS MOBILE PHONE PROMISE

We take the confusion, hassle and complication out of buying a mobile phone!

DIXONS PRICE PROMISE

Find exactly the same package cheaper locally within 7 days and we'll refund the difference.

IMPARTIAL ADVICE

SIMPLE 12 MONTHS CONTRACT

With no disconnection fee and only 30 days notice at the end of the contract.

OPTIONAL MOBILE PHONE COVER

Protect your phone against theft, accidental damage and breakdown.

6 14-DAY MONEY BACK

GUARANTEE ASK IN-STORE FOR FULL DETAILS.

CALLS FROM MINUTE -

- Improved call clarity and privacy no eavesdropping.
- Per-second billing. Caller iD. Use in over 50 countries worldwide.

LOW MONTHLY RENTAL

CELLNET OCCASIONAL CALLER PLUS TARIFF IS JUST £17.50 PER MONTH WITH £5 OF FREE CALLS INCLUDED EVERY MONTH FOR LIFE!

- Additional calls are just 12p per minute off-peak, 40p per minute peak.
- Available on any of our Cellnet Digital phones: choose from over 10 models in-store.

NOKIA

- Up to 210 minutes talktime/ 100 hours standby time. Up to 99 alphanumeric memories. Ability to send and receive text

ONE YEAR PACKAGE

CELLMET DIGITAL PHONE, WITH PRICES STARTING AT JUST £199.99 YOU GET:

PACKAGE AVAILABLE ON ANY

 Handset,
 Connection. 12 months fine rental on Cellnet

Occasional Caller Plus tariff. £5 of free calls every month included. FILUS 5% SAVING ON EVERY CALL YOU MAKE off-peak, 38p per minute peak. Panasonic 6350

MOBILE PHONE Up to 80 minutes talktime/18 hours standby time. • 90 name and number memory. Caller display – see who's calling before you answer. . Security lock function.

ent. Post per-ond relets ed in the Dorrell offers voucher scheme for elderly care

By JILL SHERMAN AND DOMINIC KENNEDY

ELDERLY people would be offered vouchers to pay for private residential care under the most radical reorganisation of social services for 25 years, Stephen Dorrell announced yesterday. The Health Secretary outlined a series of measures to expand choice, including the selling off of old people's homes - raising more than El billion - and extending the principle of nursery vouchers no residential care.

If the Tories are re-elected all elderly people with assets of less than £10,000 could be eligible for vouchers covering the full cost of nursing or residential care, after an initial assessment of their need. Those with greater assets would get a voucher to meet part of the costs on a sliding

They would then have the choice of using the voucher to buy care at one of a number of homes in their local area or to move to another area, where perhaps they had relatives.

The scheme is being piloted in Bradford and a White Paper published yesterday makes clear that the Government would remove any legal obstacles that prevent an extension of the scheme nationwide.

Elderly people would also be able to move to a more expensive home if they supplemented the local council provision with their own money.

These measures add to Mr Dorrell's announcement this week to give elderly people an incentive to insure against the costs of residential care.

Under the proposals in the White Paper, Social Services: Achievement and Challenge. more than 2,500 council-run elderly people's homes would be sold or closed, affecting 76,000 people. "This is a White Paper that seeks to set the framework for social services for the next 10 to 15 years," Mr Dorrell said.

Chris Smith, the Shadow Health Secretary, immediately condemned the scheme. This amounts to the enforced privatisation of those relativesmall parts of residential care not already carried out by the private or voluntary sector," he said. "You are making an automatic assumption that the private sector is always good and the public sector always bad. This whole White Paper represents the triumph dogma over common

Mr Dorrell wants to transform the role of local authority social services departments from providers of care to purchasers of care. He believes that allowing the private and voluntary sectors to take over many care services will improve quality and save

The local authority social services departments, which were created in 1971 by merg-

Dorrell: proposes sell-off of council-run homes

ing the former children's, health and welfare sections of town halls, would be drastically slimmed down. They would be likely to provide hands-on care only for the most difficult children, who could not be placed in foster homes.

Their main role would be to assess the needs of the elderly. disabled and handicapped, and to purchase services from private companies, charities or institutions such as housing

The Government has decided against privatising the few children's homes that remain, in the light of abuse scandals that have emerged in recent

The White Paper makes selfhelp, family loyalty and neighbourliness the bedrock of reforms that are designed to last 25 years but which will be implemented only if the Tories win the election. It says the sponsible individuals should plan to meet their own needs and that every encouragement should be given to family and friends who are willing to act as carers of those who are unable to provide for themselves".

By diverting the elderly and disabled towards voluntary carers, social services would be able to concentrate most of its spending on the hardest cases, such as the particularly frail or disabled, drug addicts and alcoholics.

Under a Social Services Reform Bill, local authorities would be forced to sell or close their elderly people's homes unless they could prove that there was no suitable private alternative in the area.

A survey commissioned by Mr Dorrell found that local authority homes were £50 per resident more expensive to run than private ones at £283 per week in 1994-95. But a recent Audit Commission study in Stockport found that people were "very well served by their

The savings released should be enough to buy an extra 10,000 places for elderly people in care homes, according to Paul Saper, a partner in the industry analysts Laing &

But Help the Aged said that there would have to be stringent safeguards. "Quality must not be sacrificed to costs in the pursuit of cheaper

Doctor put business idea into practice

BY DOMINIC KENNEDY SOCIAL AFFAIRS CORRESPONDENT

CHAI PATEL, a former hospital doctor, is one of the entrepreneurs who would like to compete for a slice of the £6.2 billion market in care for the elderly envisaged by the Government. Last year, less than a decade after he hung up his stethoscope to go into the residential care business, his company, Court Cavendish, was valued at £64 million when it merged with a rival. The new company. TC Group, provides more than 12,000 beds.

At 42, Dr Patel lives in a thatched house in Surrey and has a chauffeur-driven car. He decided to go into business after working on NHS geriatric wards. "You could see in the mid-1980s that provision for elderly people was clearly not adequate," he said.

Dr Patel's company leases elderly people's homes from local authorities, invests money to improve them and receives a weekly rate per bed. He has just won the largest such contract, a £10 million investment deal that will provide 560 beds in Bedfordshire.

American companies are wary about entering the British market because the strict inspection regime makes it hard to make big profits and the local authorities that buy much of the care often run short of money. Even with the reforms, councils are regarded as an unsafebusiness bet

Secre swift riote

The vast majority of the 23,000 elderlypeople's homes are small, family-type businesses, run by ex-nurses like Ann Barton, 53, who employs 80 staff at two homes in Chippenham. Wiltshire. Mrs Barion and her husband have invested more than El million in their business. which provides 58 beds for residents with Aizheimer's disease. "I wasn't happy with the way that people with dementia were treated in hospital," she said. "They were put in with people who had mental illness. I wanted to set up on my own and . was immediately fairly successful."

'Set and longer' temperature control
 'Zoned' cooling to all load types are at their correct temperature

SCANDINOVA 11.4 GROSS CULT LARDER FREDGE

TRICITY BENDIX BUY NOW PAY 12 MONTHS LATE 1000 SPIN WASHER DRIVER TRADEBY SAVE

BOSCH FULL SIZE DISHWASHER

12 place settings
4 programmes/Rinse aid dispersementalisation
(8 hour delay start times
Model SMS4472, was £429.59

SAVE UP TO £110 ON MICROWAVES

PROLINE FAMILY SIZED TOUCH CONTROL INCROWME OVEN

SEO WAITS ECC 9.1.0 Cut if capacity

10 power levels @ Auto cock

Auto defrost
Model ST44, was (219.99

SAVE UP TO £50

DYSON 'ANTIARCTICA SOLO' LIMETED EDITION

LIPRIGHT CLEANER

9 1300 vests suction power

Unique bagiess system © Extra long hose for easy stair cleaning

Patentes Tout Cyclonal technolog

Patentes Tout Cyclonal technolog

BUY NOW PAY 6 MONTHS LATER ELOGIO EDITION

BLOMBERG TREEZE CYLINDER CLEANER
1200 waits suction
power/Co-ordinating ELECTROLUX UPRIGHT CLEANER

179.99 £40

SAVE UP TO £300

Cast ron gridde Glass ld Analable in Racing Green, Anyal Blue or Claret Bethe and Life bettled gus
 verslore also available

If you buy any product from

COMET the same offer on sale to at a lower price, we'll willingly refund the difference, PLUS VIX OF THAT DIFFERENCE

OF PRODUCTS

spream dispila, • 40 channels PRT socket for improyed TV/Video

Long play doubles the length of your viceo

BUY NOW PAY & MONTHSLATER

INCLUDES TV/VIDEO STAND HORMALLY ETS

SAVE

EXCLUSIVE TO COMET

20" TV/VIDEO PACKAGE 20" TELETEXT TV

VIDEOPLUS+TH VIDEO

PACKAGE

 12.b wash load – large enough for 19 quanus Wash System Pius – saves

1100 SPIN AQUARIUS WASHING

Hotpoint

AND MERCURY TRADE-IN

TE LETENT TYYDEO MOXAGE

FREE SKY SATELLITE SYSTEM FULLY INSTALLED WHEN YOU BUY A TV & VIDEO TOGETHER! Simply subscribe to all Sky Premier Cuateels Offer gradiable to pass Simulation MUST END MONDAY

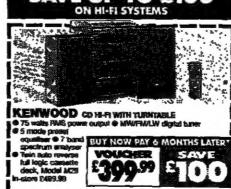

RING FREE ON 0500 425 425 FOR LOCAL STORE INFORMATION

SAVE £40

GOODMANS NICAM STEREO VIDEO

SAVE UP TO £100

1399 as E 100 NEW AIWA 2 DISC MULTIPLAY CD HERE HI-FI

c199m c50 NEW ATWA

FREE PRINTER" AST MULTIMEDIA PC

• Intel 153MHz Perillum processor

• 16Mb EDO RAM • 255Kb cache manusy • 1.2Gb hard dak drive Intel 133Mtz Pontiar
 Italy EDO RAM © 3
 Imamory © 12Gb har
 33.8 DSND vonceftax ● 8 speed CD ROM drive Model ADVANTAGE 7312

1340.99 EXCLUSIVE NEW BT CORDLESS PHONE WITH DIGITAL ANSWERING MACHINE

- IIO MARINE COLC CATAL BIOL MARINE CATAL

A single premium payment guarantees five years comprehensive cover against product breakdown. E, alter live years, you've made no daim, you can get all your warranty money back in full. Ask in store for full details.

Speaker has last word on pagers

By James Landale, political reporter

THE Speaker banned MPs resterday from using electronic pagers to jog the memory while speaking in the House of Commons. Betty Boothroyd said that it was unacceptable for MPs to be prompted by people outside the Chamber who might be watching proceedings on television.

The ruling came after a Labour MP used a message on his pager to raise a point of order on Tuesday. Brian Wilson, a deputy to Peter Mandelson in Labour's campaign team, was informed by a party researcher that a Tory MP. John Greenway, had failed to declare a financial interest when asking John Major a question.

Miss Boothroyd said that any member seen using a pager while addressing the House would be told to sit down immediately. "Yester-day, a Member used an electronic device to raise a point of order. He appeared to be small screen relating it from enforceable that is."

outside the chamber. I strongly deprecate such practice. For any Member to be prompted in this way by an outside group is totally unacceptable...

"I can have no objection to instruments which merely vibrate to attract the attention of the bearer. Provided they are silent I can have no objection to such devices and even if I had an objection I could not prevent Members from bringing them into the Chamber.

I am not, however, prepared to accept the use of such instruments as an aidemémoire by a Member who is addressing this House."

The ruling also applies to Commons committees, Mr Wilson said that he would respect and abide by it. The incident had been a one-off in which it had been necessary. for him to react swiftly to make a point of order. But he added: "[The Speaker] seems to have said that MPs can receive information but not receiving the information on a use it. I am not sure how

1

Ref: CT11303

Have your credit card to hand and Dial-a-phone now on Freephone 0800 00 00 77 DIAL-A-PHONE

Albanian rebels load themselves with firearms but a few bullets put them to flight

Secret police bring swift end to town's riotous carnival

AT NINE in the morning, the people of Elbasan begin to queue: 200 outside the offices of the collapsed pyramid operator, Giferi, and 200 outside the local military arsenal at

VIARCH 13 16/1

Those hoping for their money back should know better by now, but for anyone wanting a gun — Kalash-nikov, machinegun, pistol, whatever — the message is, hurry while stocks last.

A fresh-faced young soldier with a passing resemblance to the England cricket captain shrugs his shoulders and opens the gates. "I am not doing anything," he says.

The stampede is on. In something of a family occasion, ten-year-olds to septuagenarians grab what they can while the cream of the Albanian military stands around grinning. A child grapples in rustration with his bolt-action rifle, giving a delighted

In Albania's anarchy, even the army seems not to know which side it is on, Thomas Walker reports from Elbasan behind.

squawk as it discharges into the gnarled bark of a nearby olive tree. His older brother. all of 12. is weighed down by four Kalashnikovs. Grandad brings up the rear with two more rifles and a healthy stock of ammunition clips. The sun is out in the dusty barrack square, and Albania's surreal revolution has taken another faltering step north towards the capital.

"One — Berisha kaputi" says a black balaciava going by the name of Will, eagerly shaking our hands and jabbing at our notebooks. Twomoney back! My English not so good, I am doctor, country

He makes sure our jonings are in order, poses for a few Che Guevara-style photographs and suddenly rushes off down the hill to catch up with fleeing comrades.

But something goes awry that much is clear, as a barrage of distinctly non-celebratory automatic fire fizzes The newly arrived senior milibemused international press corps and shoves it inside the ammunition store. Pointing to the deserted barrack square. he combines a chopping motion at his throat with a wagging of the finger, semaphore, it seems, for the arrival of the Shik secret police, somewhere on the slopes

A lull in the firing, and moaning is distinguishable in some bushes 50 yards across the now highly uncertain territory of the square. Our pathologist insurgent has taken a hit. This in not logic, these are stupid youngsters," says the army commander, now angry. A soldier is helping Will across no-man's-land, but after a warning shout both are again prone in the dust.

The firing is louder, closer. Mickey, an Austrian Reuters photographer, automatically grabs for a calming cigarette. "I don't think that would be such a good idea," advises Maria, an Argentine writer. ways at boxes of ammunition

An Albanian soldier comes under secret police fire as he tries to help Will, whose short revolutionary career was ended by a bullet in the leg has torn into Will's left calf muscle; a tourniquet stems the blood and his damaged leg is propped on a wooden crate. He gulps at a jug of water, and Maria provides some painkillers. The balaclava is off and he is ashen-faced, his revolution over. After 20 tense minutes a Shik officer in tell-tale his walkie-talkie. We creep up the driveway to the gates, heads bowed, hands aloft, uncertain of who fires at whom, and why, in a society that is fast falling apart. Outside, police, military and Shik officers stand with a variety of weaponry and no obvious co-ordination. Will is bundled into a black police

Our taxi driver is nowhere to We find him 100 yards down the road, badly shaken. He has been bearen by the Shik and had two guns put to his head. How was it that he brought journalists here just at the right moment, they wanted to know. They took his keys, but fortunately he has a Mjeks without a backward look. High on the winding mountain pass overlooking Elbasan's redundant Chinese steelworks, there is a pause for coffee and reflection at a windswept café decorated with fox pelts and chewing gum adverts.

"From now on, no more trips outside Tirana," says our that is all." Mickey the photog rapher is looking puzzled. He says: "I need help with the caption. Sheltering from police fire, a soldier helps a wounded rebel who has just stolen guns from the base he is not guarding' ... but this, I think, is not understandable to arryone outside Albania."

Letters, page 19

'Avenging angel' repels looters at British-backed hospital

leather jacket struts into view

A BRITISH-FUNDED hospital was one of the buildings to be looted in the southern Albanian port of Sarande as rival gange continue to skirmish for control of the streets and armed mobs roam on looting sprees, breaking into private homes and government buildings at will.

The nearly completed 100-bed St Luke's Children's Hospital has taken five years to build, relying on. donations from Children in Distress, a British charity. On Tuesday ten armed men broke in and began to loot medical stocks and electrical appliances. The hospital's saviour seemed to have appeared straight from a film set. Responding to a call from armed watchmen inside the hospital, Ani Permati, a 6ft 4in basketball player, donned a trench coat, gathered his six-man gang, slid a heavy machinegun and Kalashnikov over his shoulder, and raced round in a van. He caught the looters off-guard, blazing away. with the machinegun like an avengdropping most of their spoils. The scene was repeated in innumerable variations elsewhere. In Gitrokaster bank staff became embroiled in a gunbattle with a gang which was after the safe; teenagers stormed an old people's home in the town, robbing patients at gunpoint; private houses were ited everywhere, there were sniping incidents on the Greek border. in Sarande five women were said to have been raped overnight by armed marauders: journalists were fired on near Delvine.

The thieves fled in disarray,

As Sarande's inhabitants woke. many began to question their support for the uprising. The daily meeting of townsfolk demanding President Berisha's resignation turned into a protest against gangs. Staff from both hospitals, joined by scores of residents, marched demanding an end to the lawlessness and seeking protection for government buildings. "Berisha is a dictator and has brought us disaster, but what is happening now is even worse," said one doctor. The unrest plays into the hands of the President, who may yet survive if he can portray the rebels as criminal gangs. Perhaps that is why Colonel Xhevat Kocin, head of Sarande's rebel committee, sought to underplay the problem at a press conference yesterday. Announcing the National Committee for the People's Salvation, comprising representatives from each town in the rebel South, he said: "Every country has its thieves. Ours happen to be armed but they will face the law tomorrow." The committee is the first cohesive political body linking the insurgents. It reiterated demands for the resignation of Mr Berisha. and requested participation with government and opposition members in talks preceeding a coalition interim Government and early parlimentary elections.

But already rebel leaders are threatening to keep their weapons until they see the nature of any new government. It seems that little short of a foreign intervention force could end southern Albania's law-

Raiders hit arsenals

TIRANA'S military academy was raided yesterday amid growing tension in the capital and clear signs that the Albanian Army has given up guarding military arsenals (Iom Walker writes).

Unlike in the South, where insurgents have snapped up weapon stockpiles, the breakin appears to have been the work of northern police or paramilitaries loyal to President Berisha. No attempt was made to stop the raiders.

space, 5 e-mail addresses and a fast reliable connection. Waste no time, connect with BT Internet today.

*Charge was £15.00 per month before 23rd January 1987. The BT internet service does not include ISDN or PSTN line provision. The minimum subscription period is an another the company of the provision of the company of the company of the provision of the company of the company of the provision o harge was £15.00 per mount before 2.20 years for customers paying annually. No refund for subscription cancellation, Call charges are additioned when as me is I internet Standard ISTN era paying on a monthly basis and one year for customers paying value for annual subscription. View or Manually basis and one year for customers paying on a monthly basis and one year for customers paying on a monthly basis and one year for customers paying annually. No refund to subscription cancellation, Call charges are additioned when as me is I internet Standard ISTN era paying on a monthly basis and one year for customers paying annually.

ers paying on a monthly basis and one year on customers paying an armond subscription. Visa or MasterCard is required for payment. The one-so billing available out request by subscription charge £11.75 including VAT and £129.25 including VAT for annual subscription. Visa or MasterCard is required for payment. The one-so billing available out request

To get your free Internet access software :

Call Freelone 0800 800 001 nou.

Extra Income PEP 7.1% p.a.* tax-free No initial charge, no exit charge", saves you up to £240 Low annual charge of only 0.75% A low-risk PEP for regular income The NatWest Extra income PEP pays a high level of tex-free income every three months. At the moment, it provides 7.1% p.a. tax-free compared with a return of 2.6% (for lower and basic-rate tax payers) from a typical high interest building society account. Also, for a limited period there is no initial charge, saving you up to £240 on the maximum investment of £6,000 per tax year. You can start your NatWest Extra Income PEP with just £1,000, and you don't need to be a NatWest customer to apply. As long as you want to see higher tax-free returns, we believe you'll find our NotWest Extra Income PEP the obvious choice. For more information and an Application Form, simply complete the coupon or call today. * The projected total yield (at 15 January 1997) is 7.1% p.a.

 And only 0.2% buying : selling price difference

Eall Direct 0800 85 45 81

Post to: NotWest, FREEPOST, 4 Easteheap, LONDON EC3B 3/L tatWest offers a wide range of services. Using the information we hold about you, we would like to tell you about them and any offers we relieve would interest you. This would be by letter or telephone. If you to not wish us to do this, please indicate below. understand that by ticking the box I will not receive info by letter by telephone

NatWest More than just a bank

Hollar Solid Gold 90 day account. INS Nan-tarpayers may be eligible to receive gross interest).

Novemal Westminster Bank Pic and Ulster Bank Limited are members of the NatWest Life and NatWest Link Trust Marketing Group, and can advise on the life assurance, pers of that Marketing Croop, National Westininster Bank Pis and Ulster Bank Limited are regulated by the Personal Investment Authority and Westininster Bank Pis and Ulster Bank Limited are regulated by the Personal Investment Authority and IMRO. See Pain Managers United Which is regulated by the Personal Investment Authority and IMRO. Issued by National Westininster Bank Pis. Registered in England No 929027, Registered Of 41 Lothbury, London ECSP 28P. Calls with NatiWest may be monitored/recorded to maintain and Improve our service.

French plan intervention force to prevent capture of Kisangani by rebels

REINFORCED by Moroccan and forces yesterday prepared to defend Kisangani against rebel insurgent attacks while French diplomats began to lay the ground for military intervention by French troops to prevent the city's fail. According to senior European diplomats in Kinshasa, French emissaries under orders from the Elysée Palace have hinted that "it might be necessary to secure Ki-sangani airport to allow aid deliv-eries to Rwandan Hutu refugees". The refugees are gathering in Ubundu, 50 miles south of Kisangani, on the River Congo. This week Xavier Emmanuelli, the French Minister of State with manitarian Action, who visited the tens of thousands of civilian refugees and the extremist Hutu militia mixed among them, insisted "security" for refugees was paramount. He did not trust Laurent Kabila. the rebel leader, to allow them safe passage back to Rwanda.

Paris claims humanitarian motives in Zaire but it continues to support President Mobutu, Sam Kiley and Ben Macintyre write

A Western intelligence source in Kinshasa, Zaire's capital, said: "There are clear signals that the their own troops [based in the nearby Central African Republic]. Their argument is that, if Kisangani's airport falls into rebel hands, it will not be possible to get aid to the refugees ... A side effect would be to block the rebel advance."

Yves Doutriaux, the French Foreign Ministry spokesman, said yesterday: "If a ceasefire does not take hold soon, then we will again have to consider sending a [military] force." France's latest attempt to elicit American backing for intervention, during talks in Brussels with George Moose, the Assistant Secretary of State for African Development, came to nothing on Tuesday. America "is not prepared right now to sign on to a multinational force," a State Department spokesman said.

According to French news reports. Paris is now considering a joint operation with French, Belgian, Dutch and Egyptian troops. President Chirac has accused the international community of "a conspiracy of silence" over the refugees' plight.

The humanitarian situation in Zaire is tragic. No one can ignore it indifferent," the President said earlier this week.

The French Government has continued to voice support for President Mobutu, Zaire's ailing Kabila as the tool of Rwanda and Uganda.

As fighting continued in Zaire, both sides said they had clashed between 20 and 50 miles from Kisangani. The Government said 35 rebels had been killed in an ambush, allegedly set by the mercenaries, on a road east of the city.

More worrying for people is that Kisangani has been ringed with mines — preventing the rebels getting in and disgruntled soldiers and civilians leaving. First victims of the mines were two peasants. One man was killed and another

So far rebels have taken almost a third of Zaire but Kisangani represents the most prized target. To try to put backbone into the Government's defences. Zaire has hired up to 200 Serb mercenaries, augmented recently with Moroccans. Leon Kengo wa Dondo, the Zairean Prime Minister, said yesterday: We will defend Kisangani because it is the central point in the war." But he admitted his army was unlikely to be up to the task and announced yesterday the forma-tion of large brigades of "citizens"

In Kisangani, people said the army was blatantly anti-government and many officers and junior ranks were openly discussing de. fecting to the rebels. "The city is quiet, but many people are complaining that the rebels are taking too much time to get here," one... Kisangani source added.

Six killed as Zulu marchers protest over massacre

nesburg yesterday and shots were fired in the city centre as thousands of Zulus marched to commemorate the third anniversary of the Shell

Police reported that, before the march began, two men had been shot dead at a hostel in Soweto where two people were also wounded in shootings and two buses were burnt. Other violent incidents, including the killing of a 15year-old boy, were reported in other townships in the Vaal Triangle as thousands of hostel dwellers headed to the city centre by bus, train and car.

At a rally in the Library Gardens in central Johannesburg a man in the massed ranks of Zulu marchers, allegedly aligned to the lnkatha Freedom Party, began firing into the air. As shots rang out. demonstrators among the estimate 18,000 crowd fled along nearby streets as policemen took up positions behind parked cars.

As screaming men and women scattered in every direction, shopkeepers pulled down shutters and office workers, observing the scene from windows above, ducked behind desks. After the brief burst of gunfire ended, police moved in, arrested two men and seized two handguns. Nine people were later treated for gunshot wounds.

Mandela: accused of cover-up over deaths

Earlier, Zulu men and women, wielding rawhide knobkerries and spears, and many in traditional dress and Inkatha colours, had converged on meeting points on the edge of the city centre before moving on to the central business district. Under close supervision by indunas (headmen), the demonstrators ululated and surged forward in mock battle formations, chanting their defiance of a ban on the carrying of traditional weapons imposed by the ANC Govern-

The marchers were com-memorating 1994's Shell House killings when African National Congress gunmen shot dead eight Inkatha supporters - marching in sup-port of the Zulu king - outside ANC's Johannesburg headquarters, while more than 50 were killed in and around the city.

To date no one has been prosecuted in connection with the massacre which has become a festering sore in rela-tions between Inaktha and the ANC. President Mandela admitted he gave the order to shoot and he has been accused of a cover-up.

With police helicopters clattering overhead, the demonstrators were flanked by hundreds of heavily armed through the city. At the front of the crowd two men carried a banner calling for Mr Mandela to be brought before the Truth and Reconciliation Commission which is investigating apartheid-era crimes. Alongside them an induna in animal skins beat his shield with a wooden club while leading the boisterous crowd in singing battle songs.

Artiving at the Library Gardens, the crowd grew more belligerent as their leaders, including Themba Khoza and Humphrey Ndlovu, firebrand regional Ikantha MPs, led them chanting anti-ANC slo-gans. Loud cheers went up when Prince Vanana Zulu called for Mr Mandela to be prosecuted. As they later dispersed shots were again heard and police said some demonstrators attempted to loot

The former ruling National Party also used the anniversary to attack the ANC over the slow pace of investigations. A party spokesman said: "It is totally unacceptable that there is no certainty as to what happened during the Shell House massacre and who was responsible." The Gauteng Attorney-General's office said yesterday that an inquest into the deaths of 19 people killed in the massacre had been set down for April 7.

News of the latest killings weakened the rand and local bonds, but markets calmed later as dealers digested the first budget by Trevor Manuel, the Finance Minister, In it he boosted crime-fighting with an increase of 20 per cent spending on police while slashing defence and health

Mr Manuel also announced the easing of the country's strict exchange control regulations. From July 1 residents will be able to invest a limited amount directly abroad or hold foreign currency deposits with South African banks. Companies will also be given increased freedom to invest overseas and will be able to raise foreign funding on the strength of their South African halance sheets.

How to get a 14" colour TV for under £30.

Spend £500 or more on electricals and a 14" Sony KV14M1, JVC 14E1EK, Panasonic 1452R or Toshiba 1450RBT colour television is yours for just £29.99. Now that's an offer worth looking at.

You won't beat our prices in a million years, but we'll give you 14 days to try. If you see the same product cheaper elsewhere within 14 days, we'll refund the difference. Available on electricals and in other selected departments.

Interest free credit available on purchases of £200 or over in selected departments including electricals. Subject to status. Written quotations available on request.

HOUSE OF FRASER

ARMY & NAVY - DAVID EVANS - BINNS - BARKERS - DHI EVANS - HOWELLS - IOLLYS - ARNOTTS CAVENDISH HOUSE - HOUSE OF FRASER - FRASERS - DINGLES - KENDALS - RACKHAMS - HAMMONDS with one of the other three models. Available while stocks last Registered whiteout linuse of Fracer (Stores) Limited, I Hornek Place, Lymbon SWIP 18H.

See how little it costs to secure your family's future.

In an ideal world you will always be there for your family. But should the worst happen, would they be able to cope your family's financial future.

Legal & General's Family

Protection Plan will ensure that those who depend on you receive a lump sum should you die or without you? You may well be surprised to learn that for monthly equivalent of 20p a day you can help safeguard

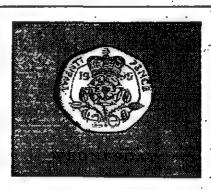

This valuable cover is easy to budget for as you only pay a premium for a fixed period of time, and the amount you pay HOW LITTLE IT COULD COST YOU > you apply, the sooner you can your family's future is secure. For a free quotation call the number below. Alternatively, contact your financial adviser.

become terminally ill during the term you select.

FOR AN INSTANT QUOTE ON LOW COST COVER CALL FREE ON:

*	e e	general de
.	¥	5 5 5
FIND	OUT	MORE	TODAY
(3WC 04	e7), Card	Iff, CF1 17
Рісляє в	end me a	personal	ductation and

Come offer, Chianti Chi
Please send me a personal information pack on Leg Family Protection Plan.	nt
Surname (Mr/Mrs/Miss/Ms)
Forename(s)
Address
Postcod
Tel No: Home
Tel No- Wark
Place of Birth	/10
Occupation	Nun-amaker L
Marriel Status
Cover required 1
Term required (min 2yrs)	yea

DAY MARCH BM

Arafat summit angers Israel

By CHRISTOPHER WALKER IN JERUSALEM

THE Israeli Prime Minister, Binyamin Netanyahu, yesterday went on the offensive against world criticism of his settlement policies and described a Palestinian conference in Gaza on Saturday to be attended by American, European and Arab diplomats as a breach of the 1993 peace process.

The decision of America to attend the meeting called by Yassir Arafat, the Palestinian President, "to protect the peace process and to face the breaching of the agreement by the Israelis" was seen as a signal of the Clinton Administration's displeasure with recent Israeli moves over the occupied West Bank and east Jerusalem.

Mr Netanyahu's outspoken attack on the Palestinians for that and other breaches of the peace deal came as the crisis between Israel and the Arab world was worsening. Shimon Peres, the opposition Labour leader, accused the right-wing Prime Minister of uniting "the entire world" against Israel.

Last night a new threat of violence came with a pledge by Avigdor Kaha-lani, Israel's Interior Security Minister, to close four Palestinian offices in Jerusalem. He said-Israel had obtained "hard evidence" that the offices were operating in breach of the peace deal.

Israel also released the text of a letter Mr Netanyahu sent to King Hussein in response to a critical missive from the

"Israel and Jordan faced worse crises in the past than the problem we are facing today," the Prime Minister concluded, "It is up to us to realise our historical mutual inter-

Hussein letter, page 18-

HOTEL RUSSELL Russell Square

SAINT GEORGES Regent Street

GROSVENOR HOUSE' Park Lane

MERIDIEN PICCADILLY Piccadilly BROWN'S HOTEL Mayfair

THE CAVENDISH Piccadilly

THE EXCELSION HEATHROW Heaths

STRAND PALACE HOTEL Covent Garden

THE CUMBERLAND HOTEL Marble Arch

THE WALDORF MERIDIEN COVER Garden

Neekend ordy - 2 night minimum. 3 nights minimum. 12 nights minimum

THE KENSINGTON CLOSE Kensington

US Army in race row as women deny rape claims

FROM TOM RHODES IN WASHINGTON

THE US Army faced accusations of racism yesterday after five female soldiers claimed they were builtied into making unfounded rape charges against their black drill in-

The five white recruits from Aberdeen Proving Grounds, the training base at the centre of a prolonged sex scandal which has plagued the US Army, said investigators coerced them into making false accusations against their black superiors. The army has denied the charge.

Since last November at least 50 women have made official complaints of sexual abuse at the training camp, including 27 claims of rape. One officer and about 20 others, mostly drill sergeants, have been implicated in an inquiry which has since spread to other bases around America.

The women—form extintion

The women — four privates and one who has been discharged — said they were compelled to make the state-ments after promises of immunity from prosecution and under the threat of retaliation from the investigators if they did not. They said that any past sexual contact with their instructors was consensual. "I agreed to tell them what they wanted to hear in order for them to leave me alone," said Private Brandi Knewson, from Dallas. I wanted to leave the post and get on with my life. They promised me I could do that if I co-operated with them.

Kathryn Leming, who has since left the army, said she had never admitted being raped, but had been told that consensual sex under military law was deemed to be rape. "They pushed me and pushed me until basically they tried to make me say rape. But I wouldn't do it. It was not the truth," she said.

Sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Coloured People (NAACP), the five women have recanted what the organisation claims were racially motivated attempts to impli care black non-commissioned officers. The NAACP also believes that class and rank may have played a part in what it has deemed a white conspiracy. Kweisi Mfume, the organisation's president, said the violations of civil liberties called into question the entire investigation.

"These statements were not even written by them," he said

Kelly Wagner, left, Darla Hornberger and Kathryn Leming, second right, yesterday. They say white investigators forced them to lie about black superiors yesterday, They were told they would be shipped to Korea, that they would not see their children if they did not sign these statements."

It is the strong accusations of racism combined with the ullegations of sexual abuse, however, that seem certain to resonate most strongly around the country and undermine military assurances that the inquiry is being conducted fairly. America is still wrestling with its treatment of black recruits in Vietnam and other conflicts.

The issue has been made more sensitive for a variety of reasons. The Pentagon is not merely the country's largest employer, but also the department which, more than any other, has used affirmative action to encourage blacks to join the armed forces.

Recent charges of sexual misconduct against Gene Mc-Kinney, the black Sergeant Major of the Army, have also resulted from the accusations of a white woman.

Lieurenant Colonel Gabriel Riesco, Chief of Staff at the Aberdeen training centre in Maryland, denied the five women had been badgered or bullied into submitting testimony. He said no rape charges had resulted from interviews with them. "Race has never been an issue in this investigation at all," he said, "It is an investigation about sin, not skin."

The group of women also included Privates Toni Moreland, Kelly Wagner and Darla Homberger, all of whom said they had been subjected to verbal abuse by investigators. Private Hornberger, 30, from Oklahoma, said she could have kept silent to protect her family and children. "I could have kept my mouth shut and this would all go over, but something really wrong has happened," she said. The Pentagon, meanwhile, announced that an eighth soldier at the training camp. Herman Gunter, a black staff sergeant, had been charged

Senate to examine both parties' funds

Republicans have given a committee wide-ranging pow-ers to investigate campaign fundralsing abuses in both political parties as well as in the White House.

In a victory for Senate Democrats and for the committee chairman, Republican Fred Thompson, the inquiry will have a much broader scope than specific claims of Illegality in President Clinton's re-election campaign. Democratic senators, who appeared stunned by their opened the way to a reform of "soft money" donations. "It's the best sign yet that we may pass some campaign finance reform" said Joseph Lieberman, Democratic Senator for Connecticut.

Most Republicans, including Trent Lott, the majority leader, wanted the Govern-Photograph, page 22 mental Affairs committee to restrict its inquiry to Mr flurry of allegations about illegal donations. The reversal came on Tuesday after a tense lunchtime meeting when Mr Thompson and seven other Republicans said they wanted the inquiry to cover improper or unsavoury activities, too.

They argued that an inquiry confined to illegal behaviour would be crippled by legal challenges from potential witnesses. Controversial coffee meetings at the White House and "sleepovers" in the Lincoin Bedroom would not be in that in the Watergate investigation the Senate looked at improper and illegal actions.

Facing defeat, Mr Lott threw his weight behind the Democrats' proposal, which was passed by 99 votes out of 100 with one abstention. The Senate then granted the investigation, which must be completed by the year's end, $4.35 million (£2.7 million).

FROM BRONWEN MADDOX IN WASHINGTON IN AN abrupt reversal, Senate Clinton's campaign, after a

OFFER 1

FREE PERSONAL HANDS-FREE KIT (WORTH £49.99) WITH THE NEW NOKIA 1611 DIGITAL PHONE

NOW ONLY

If you use your mobile phone whilst driving you could be breaking the law, but with this special offer you can talk and drive in complete safety.

NOKIA (SO) (480) (SO) Short Sales

1 200 344

4F1 5P1 6A10

7700 8 av 9400

 0 #

OFFIER 2

THE ALL-IN-ONE DIGITAL PACKAGE - JUST £199.99

12 months line rental, 180 minutes inclusive calls, Connection to YESAFSHE. Choice of phones (including NEC, Nokia, Motorola and Alcatel).

CHARGES INCURRED	VODAPONE PERSONALWORLD 15	PEOPLES PHONE DIGITAL PACKAGE
12 MONTHS LANE RENTAL	£210.00	INCLUDED
CONNECTION	£35.00	INCLUDED
GSM MOBILE PHONE	£9.99	INCLUDED
TOTAL	£254.99	£199.99

ENJOY A SPRING BREAK IN LONDON THIS EASTER BED AND FULL TRADITIONAL BREAKFAST FROM PER PERSON PER NIGHT OFFER AVAILABLE BETWEEN 21ST MARCH AND 7TH APRIL 1997 FORTE POSTHOUSE HEATHROW HEATHROW £35 restaurant and THE REGENT'S PALACE! Piccedilly FORTE POSTHOUSE HAMPSTEAD Hampstead beverage purchases £45 FORTE CREST HEATHROW Heathrow for guests staying on this promotion FORTE POSTHOUSE BLOOMSBURY Bloomsbury FORTE POSTINOUSE RECENT'S PARK Regent's Park

£45

£55

£55

£55

£55

£70

£70

To book, see your travel agent or call quoting reference P136D

tion, full traditional breakfast & VAT at 17.5% based on 2 adults sharing int charge applicable - please ask reservation agent for details. Offer ask

ility with a limited rumber of rooms available at these promot

FORTE

HOTELS

Ratings slump as Kohl shuts door on pit militants

FROM ROGER BOYES IN BONN

WINDOWS stayed firmly shut in the offices of Helmut Kohl yesterday, and the airconditioning was switched on. to block out the hoarse chanting of thousands of coalminers baying for the heads of government ministers. The latest opinion poll results on the German Chancellor's desk hardly helped to lift the sense of siege: the ruling Christian Democrats have slumped from almost 42 per cent in the general election to just over 34 per cent.

There are those already predicting the downfall of the government coalition, torn between the nervous consciencestricken Christian Democrats of the Chancellor and the taxand-subsidy cutters of the Free Democrats. Herr Kohl has survived worse crises of national confidence; he sweats them out.

However, there is no mistaking the anxiety in and around the Government. Others have barracked Bonn before. None, however, made a direct impact on policy and the political class has been able to claim, convincingly, that Bonn is not Weimar, that parliamentary power does not bend to crowd politics. Herr Kohl was probably trying to make the same point when he called off talks on Tuesday with

Paris: Senior finance officials from France and Germany, fresh from a meeting in Lyons, underlined their determination to launch the single European currency on time in January 1999. despite mounting speculation that rising unemployment could mean that the Germans fail to achieve the criteria laid down by the Maastricht treaty (Ben Macintyre writes).

miners' representatives because of the noisy protests, Yet the effect was the reverse: it showed that the German leader was seriously unsettled about the bitter miners in the street below.

The fear is that one group of workers - at the moment it seems likely to be the miners - will become the spearhead for disgruntled Germans who feel betrayed by the unravelling of the welfare state, the shedding of iobs and the many broken promises

Since January Herr Kohl's party has lost about four percentage points in national popularity — and most of the slippage is probably because of defect-ing manual workers and their families who have for 14 years been one of the quiet mainstays of the Chancellor's power. Some seem now to support the Social Democrats who, with 36.3 per cent (36.4 at the 1994 general election), are now two clear percentage points ahead of the Christian Democrats.

Other figures in today's Allensbach Opinion Survey (1994 results in brackets) show the Christian Democrats have 34.3 per cent (41.5 per cent), the Greens 12.2 (7.3) and the Free Democrats 7.6 (6.9).

The miners seemed to suspend their protest on Tuesday night after an appeal by Hans Berger, their concilia-tory union chief. Even as he spoke, hwoever, the protesting Ruhr workers were being replaced by fresh pit workers from the Saar, Herr Berger, pale, bespectacled and quite unlike his brawny members made a similar appeal for dispersal yesterday and was shouted down. "We're staying here!" they chanted. "We're not going to leave like whipped dogs," said Rainer Kessler from a Saar pit, as he warmed his hands over a brazier. Oskar Lafontaine, the Social Democrat Party chairman, was quick to scent the resistance and avoided any call for moderation. Indeed Herr injustices. The country's highest mountain, named after the English explorer James Cook who claimed the country for Britain in 1769, is to take the alternative Maori Aoraki.

meaning cloud piercer, in a settlement with the main south island tribe, Ngai Tahu.

Egmont became Mount Tara-naki in the mid-1980s and is

The north island's Mount

Oskar Lafontaine, the Social Democrat Party chairman, is hugged by a jubilant miner in Bonn yesterday

Lafontaine, cheered by his fellow Saarlanders, seemed to whip them up, saying: "They proposed tax reforms that will put £10,000 a year more in their own pockets while they toss away your jobs - how decadent this republic has become." Some miners nonetheless withdrew yesterday from Bonn to Cologne, vowing to return en masse today if another promised round of talks with Herr Kohl collapses.

Union leaders are floundering and the social consensus is beginning to buckle. Klaus Zwickel, head of the metal workers union, warned the Government that unless there subsidies a "brush fire would sweep through the economy". About 7,000 building workers drove home the point in Berlin with a third day of protests that have caused traffic to pile up in the city. The Construction Employers' Federation reckons on a loss of another $0.000 jobs over the

Diary of OJ's wife

Yesterday, one Ruhr news paper compared Herr Kohl with his arch-enemy Marga-ret Thatcher. "Everyone knows that structural change is necessary. The point is, however, that six mines should not be closed in rapid succession. Thatcherism has broken out in Bonn and this is

NEWS IN BRIEFE Radiation apology in Japan

Tokyo: Ryutaro Hashimoto, the Japanese Prime Minister. yesterday apologised for the "inadequate" handling of an accident in a nuclear repro-cessing plant that left 35 workers exposed to radiation (Robert Whymant writes).

Government leaders ex pressed shock that the operators of the nuclear reprocessing complex at Tokaimura, 100 miles northeast of Tokyo, failed to notify them at once about a fire and subsequent explosion. The fire, followed ten hours later by the blast, forced the state-run Power Reactor and Nuclear Fuel Development Corporation to shut down the Tokaimura complex.

Multiple rapist gets 15 years

Moscow: A Moscow court has jailed Oleg Kosarev, 3l, for 15 years after finding him guilty of committing 85 rapes and robberies between 1992 and 1995, although police believe he may have committed as many as 124 rapes. Kosarev. attacked women in the lifts of residential buildings in Moscow where he raped and robbed them. (AP)

Porn detentions

Paris: Police in 58 areas of France detained 111 people. including five schoolteachers, and seized more than 4,000 videos in an investigation into child pornography, investiga-tors said. (Reuter)

Chand sworn in

Kathmandu: Lokendra Bahadur Chand was sworn in as Nepal's Prime Minister by King Birendra Bam Dev Gautam, a Communist, will be his deputy — one of seven appointments. (Reuter)

Whale shot dead

Key West, Florida: A four-tonne Minke whale that beached on Big Pine Key-was found to have five bullets in it. Police believed boaters in the Florida Keys opened fired on:

Soyinka charged

Lagos: Wole Soyinka, the other dissidents have been charged with treason by Nigeria's military Government over a spate of recent bomb blasts. (Reuter)

Frigid penguins

Bergen: Penguin-keepers at the Bergen aquarium in Nor-way, perplexed that no penguins have been born in 16 years, will undergo "penguin sex counselling" courses at Edinburgh zoo. (AFP)

Long white cloud hangs over New Zealand's name

From Pattrick Smellie in wellington

MAORIS are challenging New Zealand's European name - in place for 355 years - pressing instead for their own disputed version.

One group of tribes wants the official adoption of Aotearoa, meaning Land of Long White Cloud, which now doubles as New Zealand's second name. Some local already refer to Aotearoa/New Zealand, al-

lowest

PHONE FREE 0500 333 600

z premium?

though Maori historians disagree whether precolonial tribes had a common name for the country.

Aotearoa would almost certainly be politically unpalatable the dual name would mirror the twin naming of landmarks, part of settlements between the Government and Maori tribes seeking redress for colonial

While a total switch to widely known by both names. Recently islands in Wellington's harbour called after onial governors took Maori names, too. ooking However. Maoris comprise 13 per cent of the population and the political climate may not allow further erosion of European icons. Public outrage met a court ruling upholding the Maoris' right to Torch

Leading article, page 19

Succession worry for Mother Teresa

FROM CHRISTOPHER THOMAS IN DELHI

MOTHER TERESA, 86, anxious to give up leadership of her Missionaries of Charity order, has reportedly written to the Pope for guidance after 100 nuns from around the world failed to agree on her successor during lengthy deliberations in Calcutta.

The stalemate has raised the possibility that Mother Teresa, frail and in a wheelchair, might remain nominally in charge while a panel of senior nuns take over administrative duties as a stopgap arrangement, Nuns Missionaries of Charity centres remain cloistered in Calcutta as they attempt to reach a consensus on a new leader.

Mother Teresa's personal choice is Sister Michael Josef. one of her principal aides in Calcutta. Another senior nun. catch trout without a licence. Sister Frederick, 8t, also has her blessing but she has said Equally unpopular are suggestions that they should not she feels too old for the job. have to pay for car parking or

The international standing of Mother Teresa, who founded the order 47 years ago, is a key reason why the Missionaries of Charity attracts millions of pounds in donations. There are concerns that, without her at the helm, contributions might fall.

Mother Teresa: seeks guidance on successor

Calcutta journalists reported that Mother Teresa had asked the Pope for "directions" as to whether she should continue as titular leader of the order or wait until a successor is agreed.

set to make $1m FROM GILES WHITTELL IN LOS ANGELES THE horrifying diary kept by Nicole Brown Simpson before me, grabbed me, threw me into walls. Threw all of my her murder is to become the clothes out of the window into basis of yet another book on the street three floors down." In another entry she accused him of beating her "for the O.J. Simpson saga, thanks to a deal struck by her sister, reportedly for $1 million For at least the last five years of her life, she kept a record of Mr Simpson's alleged abuse, accusing him of beating her while they had sex, attacking her car with a baseball bat and flying into a when accused of

The diary helped a jury to find Mr Simpson liable last month for the murder of his wife and her friend, Ronald Goldman, after extracts were read in his civil trial, and is the main factor behind a $1 million advance being paid to Nicole's sister, Denise, according to the New York Post.

"I found an earring in my apartment bed." wrote Nicole in one entry. "I accused O.J. of sleeping with someone named Teri. He threw a fit chased subject to appeals, he has now won. Nearly 20 books on the Simpson case have already been published. On Monday, a judge en-dorsed the civil jury's $33.5 million award against Mr Simpson and cleared the way hours". In yet another, addressed to the former American football star, she increatened to sleep with other men. "including some that you know, just to let you know how model, is said to have turned down earlier book offers for ents' battle for custody of his children - a battle which,

Denise Brown, a former

for the victims' families to begin seeking his assets. Delaying tactics are expected to put off any seizures for months or years.

Six crucial facts about the fax machine you're about to buy 1. FAXING on and value for money has increased So before you buy any old fax machine, take a good look at the new plain paper F120 from Muratec It has all the processing power your business could

Check that your 2. PC CONNECTIBLE work with your PC. The F120 has an optional PC interface" that lets you receive and send laxes directly to or from your PC and allows you to use your fax as a scanner to import images into your computer files

3. PRINTING/COPYING Make sure your PC can use your fax as a printer. The F120 can be used as a 600dpi printer* or as a high quality plain paper laser copier It makes up to 99 copies from one original with automatic or manual size reduction

Consider how much 4. MULTITASKING by waiting at the fax machine. The F120 scans outgoing faxes at the superfast speed of 35 pages per minute regardless of whether it is receiving or printing incoming messages This means you can get on with other work sooner than with ordinary fax

Look for a fax that 5. MEMORY incorporates a time and money saving memory. The F120 has a built in 78 page memory (upgradeable to 558 pages) which facilitates out of paper reception, broadcasting and delayed send transmissions, so you can send when tanffs

6. THE FAX SUPPLIER a company that specialises. Muratec only make faxes. so we have to be the best. We build fax machines with all these value added features built-in, not bolted on.

So before you rush out and buy an ordinary fax, send for details on the multifunctional, multitasking F120. We'll also send you a FREE Guide to Fax Facts which contains a lot more details about buying faxes.

Call 0345 626782

No. 1 Stake Road, Guildford, Surrey GU1 4HW Tel (01483) 302100 Fax (01483) 301900 http://www.muratec.co.uk

Civil Servants

• Town Hell Employees

 Teachers Lecturers

Post Office Staff

NHS SHAFF

Police

Nurses

Fire Service

Prison Officers

Ambulance Service

Offer also applies to spouses

It only costs a little to leave them a lot A Zurich Municipal Term Assurance Policy can provide public sector, you get a 15% discount which means you could pay a monthly premium of just £9.82*. It's easy, too - a phone call can secure immediate cover in a few minutes. Call us now to find out more. One day, your family might be very glad you did.

£100,000 for your family if you die. And if you work in the

LIFE INSURANCE 0800 14*7* 147

PLEASE QUOTE REF: LTM1303

Open: 9am-8pm Mon-Fri, 9am -1pm Sat For your security, all telephone calls on the above number will be recorded and randomly mentioned

ZURICH

MUNICIPAL Focusing on the Public Sector

Zurich Life Assurance Company Lal is registered in England, No. 070139. Registered Office Zurich House, Stanbope Road, Portamonth, Hampohire POI 1000.

Do words fail your business?

If it does you're speaking the language of your customers and you could win one of The National Languages for Export Awards.

There's no better way to improve export opportunities than by doing business in your customer's own language.

The National Languages for Export campaign rewards those companies who communicate competently in the home language of their customers and you might well be one of them.

For an award application form ring 0800 556646 quoting reference T1. Or you can fax your details on 0171 215 4856 or write to the address below quoting reference T1. The National Languages for Export Award

(reward yourself for speaking up)

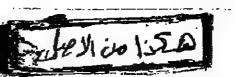

DTI, KINGSGATE HOUSE, 66-74 VICTORIA STREET, LONDON SWIE 6SW

المكر المن الرسيس

The state of the s has last pagers.

Pupils at Heath Mount can start with a single night's sleep-over to introduce them to boarding

Facing the first hurdle at three years old

ixty girls were assessed for the 32 covered places on offer at Guildford High School. They faced a daunting panel of four teachers but, in case nerves got the better of them at the first attempt, the selection was different days.

After all, the girls were only three years old.

"We try to get as broad a picture as we can of them," says Marian Shepard, head of Guildford's junior school, who sees all the young hopefuls during the spring term.

We don't expect them to read but we look at pre-reading skills and language development."

Entrance examinations are a common feature of independent schools, especially those with a reputation like Guildford's, where girls go on to gain an average three Bs at A level. But they assume a particular importance when tiny children are being sized up for their potential in public examinations 13 vears later.

More senior day schools are starting their own junior departments, or expanding them, to offer an almost guaranteed route from nursery to university on the same site. This presents parents who want an independent primary edu-cation with a choice; secure the desired senior school earlier, or take the traditional prep school

James Deadman had no doubt what would be best for his daughDavid Charter on the schools that offer a route from nursery to university

THE TIMES

ter. Holly. She was one of the Bancroft's School in Woodford chosen ones who sailed through Green, Essex, is among those who Guildlord's assessment of threeyear-olds last year.

"We felt that Holly was ready for a good, structured education," he says. "It appealed to us that she could stay with one school."

The school's excellent A-level results were also an important con-

Guildford takes half its girls at four and most of the rest from state and independent schools at 11, with room for a few more at seven. Mrs Shepard says that joining at four has obvious advantages of stability and continuity. The potential for GCSE or Alevel success is not as important in the school's assessment of threeyear-olds, she says, as "how well they will fit into the environment we offer". Settling a child early in this way means they will not have the upheaval of finding a senior school at 11 or 13, which can be a weight off believe that national curriculum testing is making competition for popular senior schools stiffer at 11.

DrPeter Scott, the headmaster of

"Young children are more used to sitting exams," he says. "Ten years ago, children in primary schools were not used to sitting down for two > hours or more. This change could, in turn, tempt some prep "cramming" their older children as parents demand success at all

"In competitive areas, parents might go for the all-round broad education at prep school or for other schools which are very focused and do a lot of exam practice," says Dr Scott. The clamour for places led Bancroft's to open a junior section for seven-year-olds, with guaranteed senior places for children who remain there. It is now oversubscribed, with three children chasing every place.

205/5.

The advent of Dr Scott's junior curious position of becoming a rival to the prep schools which traditionally provide his pupils. And the squeeze on places makes the successful prep schools hugely

Lisa Lakin, the mother of twoyear-old Edward and six-monthold twin girls, found she was too late to enrol her son at Woodford Green, one of the area's sought-after preps which sends children to Bancroft's. There is no selection process but the waiting-list system means that children have to be enrolled as soon as they are born.

"I had no idea how difficult it was," she says. "People planning a family should look at the schools in their area and register their children as soon as possible."

an Stroud, the headmaster at Woodford Green, is aware that parental expectations are high. "Partly we are here to get children into selective schools," he says. "Parents want to feel that at times children will be 'heads down', working in silence. But they also want them to experience a wide range of subjects and to have

For Mr Stroud, the prep school offers the chance for children to develop their interests and to shop around for a senior school.

You are not committing yourself at a young age," he says. "Most of our pupils will sit on three offers from different selective schools,

A sleep-over introduction to boarding

HEATH MOUNT prep has won 70 converts to them home when they were shaving." he says. a boarding school education. Yet none of them ives more than half-an-hour's drive away.

The popular school, set in 40 acres of Hertfordshire countryside, owes its startling success to the introduction of "sleep-overs combined with an evening's activities, from coaching at soccer or netball to cooking a dish of the week. The youngest children can book one sleep-over a week, rising to three or five as they get older and their enthusiasm grows.

Boarding at preparatory schools has fallen by 40 per cent in the past ten years, partly because of the recession and partly because this generation of parents want to be with their children as they grow up.

Prep schools have begun to offer weekly or

"flexi-boarding" in response to this so that children can spend weekends at home. Heath Mount took the idea one step further.

The headmaster, the Rev Harry Matthews. hit on the sleep-over strategy. "When I took over nine years ago there was a trend away from parents wanting to send their children away when they were seven and welcoming Building our pre-prep department inevitably created a local market because there was a huge demand for independent education at four."

He first offered a three-night Monday to Wednesday package with supper and sports coaching thrown in, then realised that the younger children wanted to join in.

JAMES MACFARLANE had his first sleepover last summer when he was seven and now stays two nights a week for rugby and the model railway club. Jane, his mother, is another convert. Even though she lives just five miles from school, she will pay for three nights' boarding in the summer.

"It turned out to be a wonderful idea," she says. They have all the facilities of the school, and its grounds, and as well as being with his friends he is learning to mix with 12 and 13-yearolds and gaining independence in a safe and

Georgiana Deering is so impressed with the boarding experiment for Sarah, aged ten, and Robert, nine, that she is now prepared to consider full boarding at 13. "Most of us don't want full boarding for the younger ones but it is a perfect introduction. It has made Robert very responsible and very independent.

Hopefully by 13 we will all be ready for full boarding. I am sure the children will be and hopefully so will we as parents." Mr Matthews says: "Parents are saying yes to boarding here without thinking about it because we are not marketing boarding, we are marketing activities."

His creation of the Cavern Club, a coffee bar tribute to his Liverpudlian roots where the children can socialise before lights out, may also have helped.

"I am a boarding school inspector and have visited traditional schools where all they do in the evening is clean their shoes," he says, "If you offer something worthwhile, it has got to be better than going home and watching the telly." For further information about boarding schools call the independent Schools information Service on 0171-

DAVID CHARTER

MUNN is the UK's leading award winning PC manufacturer and our systems continue to be voted 'The Best' for quality, performance and value. Our entry level midi tower system was again voted 'Best Buy' in the current issue of What PC? magazine.

"One PC stood out from the rest, though, with top-notch presentation fill you with confidence, making this the outright where for our Best Buy award... This package has everything you need to get started and it's all top quality. An excellent buy."

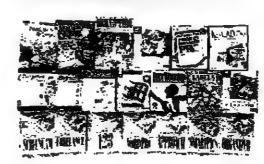

What PC? March 1997 (current) Issue

Take a closer look at our new high performance systems which provide even better value and are upgradeable to or based on Intel Pentium processors with MMD(" Technology.

MJM Offers End 14th March

Included Software

Lotus Smartsuite 96, over 10 leading CD titles plus the very best

Epson Stylus cotor 200 720 X 720 dpi miget primer £198.58 (£168+VAX)

MUN 166+

- 6x86 166+ process manulactured by IBM Upgradeable to Penburn
- 33Mb EDO RAM
- 12 speed CD-ROM drive 33.6 V34+ voice modern
- 2.1Gb hard disk 15" SVGA 0.28dp screen
- 256N proeine burst cache
- Fast 64-bit integrated graphics
- (use upto 2Mb system RAM) and premium (120w pmpo)

Intel Pentrum 166MHz r

with MMX" Technology

Upgradeable to Pentium

12 speed CD-ROM drive

33.6 V34+ vaice modern

15" SVGA 0.28dp screen

256K pipeline burst cache

Fast 64-bit integrated graphics

(use upto 2Mb system RAM)

premium (120w propu) speakers

32Mb EDO RAM

2.1Gb hard disk

MJN 200+ 6x86 200+ process menufactured by IBM

- Upgradeable to Pentium 200MHz MMX™
- 512K pipeline burst cache
- 32Mb EDO RAM 3.20b hard disk
- 33.6 V34+ voice modern 12 speed CD-ROM time
- 15" SVGA 0.28dp screen (17" optional)
- ATI Rage II 30 graphics with 4Mb SGRAM
- SoundStation 32 lumbers Navetable sound card, joystick &

MJN 200M

Full tower case

BAMID EDO PAM

3.2Gb hard disk

(17" optional)

4MID SGRAM

Intel Pentium 200MHz pro

with MMXX Technology

33.6 V34+ voice modern

12 speed CD-ROM drive

All Rage II 3D graphics with

SoundBlaster 32 hardware

Premium (120w pmpo)

Wavetable sound card, joystick &

15° SVGA 0.28dp screen

£ 1867.08

de: 7 bay midi tower case 19 bay full tower on 200M model), 3.5" floppy drive, PS/2 mouse, 105 keytocard,

Dr Thomas Stuttaford on the things we are too shy to tell our doctor or chemist; a patch to deliver hormone replacement; exotic diseases with similar names but very different symptoms; helping to catch cancer in time; why diabetics must care for their feet

Nothing for the weekend, thank you

Refusal to discuss intimate symptoms is costing lives

ntil recently there was only one remaining reminder of the historic association between barbers and medicine. As the barber brushed his client's coat, he muttered: "Anything for the weekend, sir?" The barber wasn't trying to sell the latest hair restorer, but a packet of condoms. Hairdressers had found that many people were too shy to ask for them at the chemists

An extensive survey has recently been commissioned to see if the public is now more brass-necked when shopping. Most people, it seems, are now prepared to buy condoms -

although a majority find that they are the most embarrassing pur-chases they ever make. Jokes about courage failing at the last moment. resulting in an ever-growing pile of unwanted toothbrushes in the bathroom, are based on fact. In Manchester, 15 per cent of people failed to make a trivial purchase from the chemist because they were too shy to say what they wanted.

The second most embarrassing item to buy was any preparation designed to treat bowel disorders. More than 40 per cent of shoppers would rather ask for condonis than admit to needing something for a nasty stomach upset, or for irritable bowel syndrome

Resolution was particularly apt to falter if people felt that by asking for Colpermin - or any other treatment for IBS - they would be admitting to suffering from wind, a painfully distended abdomen, intermittent diarrhoea and constipation, and a liability to make sudden rushes to the lavatory. So great is the embarrassment engendered by having a bowel disorder that Dr David Silk, a consultant who specialises in IBS, said that although one in five adults had symptoms, only 25 per cent of these people were brave enough to discuss it with

In Newcastie, 21 per cent of patients would rather suffer bowel symptoms than visit the Pharmacists seem to be even more disturbing to talk to than doctors. In London, Bristol and Manchester a majority of both men a women said that they would rather talk to a total stranger than a pharmacist about health. And throughout the country men were happier discussing their bowels with a stranger than with a chemist.

This reluctance to discuss bowel symptons costs lives. IBS is debilitating and inconvenient. But it can be confused with the first signs of a malignancy. Likewise bleeding from piles may obscure a cancer higher in the gut. Bowel symptoms should be diagnosed by the doctor, not by the patient. The survey demonstrates how very varied the British personality is and how localities after a patient's approach to health. In Birmingham, Manchester and Leeds, customers are more likely to talk over their problems with pharmacists if they are wearing white coats. Bristol people are more easily embarrassed than those from anywhere else if the chemist assistant, or the pharmacist is of the opposite sex. In general, however, most people do not find it very difficult to talk to someone of the other sex about intimate problems.

The survey did not ask: "Would you rather talk to someone of the opposite sex about your health?" In surveys with which I was involved when working in an inner city in genito-urinary medicine a surprisingly high number would. But the patient would reveal this preference only if the the questioning was anonymous. Quite different results were recorded if the patient was asked the same question with the questioner present.

Mancunians are the most likely to be shy in chemists, and Glaswegians the least. Tynesiders are most likely to feel comfortable only when discussing their health man-to-man. or woman-to-woman. Indeed, they admit to feeling badly put out if there is no one of their own sex with whom they can discuss anything

BRIGHTON is home to Britain's most unusual screening centre. Staff at the Brighton cancer prevention clinic offer a service in which the screening is combined with information on all matters of general health. Medical advice is dispensed along with recipes for a healthy diet and in every case the consultation is individually tailored to offer maximum information.

*Pree term govern tadivi depen older : Zarich regulat lendur murker Zurich Zarich

Leading-edge screening

Although a charity, there is nothing Dickensian about the centre's equipment. Dr Jan Dewinter, the medical director, has at his disposal a new mamography machine, the Mammonet 300, which is able to assess automically the nature of a women's breast tissue so as to compress them just enough to obtain a consistently high image on the X-ray film without causing unneces sary discomfort

In those cases where uitra sound examination of the breast is also indicated the clinic has a colour doppler ultrasound system which gives an exceptionally sharp

Staying power: hormone replacement therapy has helped actress Kate O'Mara to stay youthful

Now, HRT without the tears

HORMONE replacement therapy (HRT) for women who have not had a hysterectomy usually consists of oestrogen and progesterone This combination of hormones helps to support the cardiovascular system and improves bone strength, without endangering

HRT doesn't necessarily produce women with the drive of Teresa Gorman but it is well designed to preserve the youth of someone such as the actress Kate O'Mara.

With standard HRT regimes, women are required to take different tablets at different times of the menstrual cycle, or to stick on patches to deliver oestrogen. But later in the cycle they should take progesterone in tablet

Unfortunately, many wome fail to persevere with HRT because of side-effects. The worst of these, irritability and irrationality, can dwarf the symptoms of the premenstrual syndrome. The side-effects are related to the progesterone phase

Now a new product, Nouvelle TS, has been introduced in which the progesterone and oestrogen can be delivered through the skin via a combined matrix patch.

For the first 14 days the patches contain oestrogen only. For the second two weeks they contain oestrogen and

This is the first time that progesterone has been delivered in a simple patch. Nouvelle, it is claimed, causes much less skin irritation than earlier

When hormones are delivered through the skin, they enter the bloodstream before they have been metabolised in the liver, which is what happens when they are taken by mouth. As smaller doses of hormones are needed when using a patch, the lthough it is said that medical students confuse Kuru and Koro. both conditions are so bizarre that they remember them throughout their lives.

Never confuse your Kuru with your Koro

Kuru has recently become important, as it is the form of spongiform encephalopathy nearly wiped out previously cannibalistic tribes in parts of Papua New Guinea 40 or 50 years ago (cannibalism ended only in 1956).

With Kuru, as with BSE, the initial symptom is often a staggering gait, whereas in Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease the early symptoms are predominantly neuro-psychiatric, with depression and dementia prominent among them. Kuru was much more common in women and children, who

PEOPLE with diabetes are apt to suffer disease in both the nerves and blood vessels leading to their lower limbs.

Diabetic patients need to regularly check their feet before these complications become apparent. Doctors have always told patients to make certain shoes were not too

Add life

with SELENIU

35 CAPSU

N for maintaining a healthy heart and imp rell as providing vitality and vigour.

Brazil nuts are a rich natural source of regular daily intake of this important nutrient with Seven Seas One-A-Day

were fed offal, than in male warriors, who are their rivals' muscles - the lean meat. If 40 years ago the lessons of Kuru had been accepted by animal feed manufacturers and the scientists who advised them. the beef industry would not be in the trouble it is.

tion. It is the syndrome trigby acute anxiety experienced by patients when they feel, usually without justification, that their genitalia are shrinking away and in danger of disappearing. The delusion can affect both sexes but is much more common in men than in women, who may also believe that their nipples are vanishing.

Koro makes headlines whenever the anxiety spreads through a community. Only one man has to claim that his manhood is shrivelling before his eyes, and all his friends feel duty-bound to have a hasty look to see how they are faring. These friends similarly become convinced that they are not the men they were, adding to the general feeling of alarm.

Frequently the local medicine man is hunted down and sometimes lynched. At other times government officials are accused of poisoning the village or town. In 1990 there was widespread panic and violence in Nigeria during an outbreak of Koro, and during the past 12 months there have been two other outbreaks in West Africa. Previously there were problems in the Far East, where the condition was first man in Singapore became so convinced that he would die if his penis shrank into his abdomen that he decided to beat nature to it and committed suicide. In the Far East, patients take extreme measures to prevent disaster and pins through their organs, to weigh them down with heavy weights, or to attach them to doorframes or furniture.

Before British people congratulate themselves that such things do not happen here. they should remember that every week, in any busy genito-urinary clinic, there will be one or two distraught patients pathologically anxious that their penises are not only too small but getting smaller. Genitalia, male and described. A year or two ago, a female, shrink with age, a process that is accelerated by an excessive intake of alcohol. In other cases the old adage applies that if you don't use it. you lose it. Frequently the cause of men's anxiety is found to be that as they have grown older, although their genitalia they have gradually become enveloped in a "middle-aged

> The treatment, whether in Africa. Malaysia or Whitechapel, is based on reassurance. If the anxiety is obsessional and is upsetting someone's life, a drug called Seroxat will not only reduce anxiety and depression but. for complex pharmacological reasons, may even in some cases correct the perceived

> > ing inco

PLEASE HAVE YOUR CREDIT CARD AND THIS ADVENTISEMENT HANDY
WHEN YOU CALL (SORRY WE ARE UNABLE TO ACCEPT SWITCH CARDS)

Peak times are 7 00-19 JID Mon to Fr., Mandalay research billing will be charged at $1,77 inc VAT per mands they mustal distalled number on advanced and either charged will be obtained by your committed credit/charge or Delta card. Cells charge in 1 exceed units. Offer subject to status and a standard arritme creditate for each with Chilghouse Desct List. 185 Comic Relational Research appear. Figures 199 401. First written status and terms and constitues of this offer any prevailable on a Copyright. Resistance the 223-222. Other walls the 230 days from date of publication.

هدا من الربي

ه يكذا من الاعليم

On the count of three, fill the bag'

eorgina Wainwright, 33, was poised to make criminal history. But having committed the crimes, she couldn't face the time and so, on the eve of the trial at which she expected to be sentenced to 15 years, she stood her regulation prison-issue iron bedstead on its end and hanged herself, ending a sad but sensational life as the most prolific female bank robber Britain has

"The beauty that was a beast," ran the front-page banner headline in the evening paper in her home town of Newcastle when she died, "Whenever she walked into a room every head would turn," says her sister, Charmaine Kostromin, 29. "She was very chic. The way she walked, the way she dressed, she always looked immaculate. She was beautiful.

In north London, where she committed most of her 12 bank hold-ups, she was dubbed the "glamorous gunslinger" by one local newspaper. When she attempted to rob the Nationwide Building Society in Crouch End Broadway last April, she was described as "dressed up for a night at the

The report rold how "an elegant woman, aged around 30, wearing a long, black velvet coat, black hat, gloves, silver-framed glasses and carrying a small handbag" had demanded cash from a 26-year-old female bank teller. Because of her good looks, reporters repeatedly referred to her as a former model, though she only ever had one assignment - a profile in Cosmopolitan about women in

"If she had got on the right side of the law she would have made something of her life," says Charmaine. Unfortunately. Georgina was born on the wrong side of the law. Her beauty only concealed the tragedy that was her

She grew up in a South Shields slum. the unwanted stepdaughter of a petty criminal who was a grotesque bully. "A most unfortunate and disturbed background" is how her prison psychiatrist describes it.

Sitting in the waiting room at St Pancras Coroners' Court, where Georgina's inquest was held last week, Charmaine takes another drag on her roll-up and shudders at the thought of

He wreaked terror on his five children and launched Georgina, then known as Dawn (she later changed her name so as to be known as anything but Kostromin, says Charmaine), on her journey towards self-destruction. rejected her at the age of 12, revealing that he did not consider her his daughter. "One day when she called him daddy, he turned around and said 'You're not my daughter.' says Charmaine.

Georgina was soon placed in care. Her life as the ultimate outsider -- a junkie, a lesbian, a single mother, a convict and, most significantly, an armed robber — had been set in

Her contact with her mother ended many years ago when she called the police and tried to have Georgina arrested for being a "shame" on the family. Neither parent bothered to attend her inquest. Her father disappeared from her life 20 years ago, only to reappear on the news of her hanging when he sold her story to the local newspaper. According to Charmaine: "He was after his 15 seconds of fame because he was a lonely, sad old man."

Forsaken by her parents and her siblings - except Charmaine, who maintained a close and loving relation-

Cheapor car

Insurance

ADMIRAL

As 'Dyke Turpin', Britain's most notorious female armed robber, Georgina Wainwright held up banks with her son's toy pistol. The drama had a tragic ending, reports Julian Kossoff ship with her older sister until she died - and desperately in need of help, she arrived in London in the early 1980s. She made the fatal mistake of trying to escape her growing mental desperation with heroin. According to a prison psychiatrist. she also had immense problems coping with the death of an imaginary identical twin sister, which had led to "an enduring legacy of self-blame, chronic self-destructiveness and unresolved feelings of guilt". "Georgina invented the twin sister," says Charmaine. "She really believed she had a sister. But ten years ago she killed her off. She was her good side."

With her "good side" dead, Georgina turned to crime with a vengeance. From the age of 17, she had committed a series of petty crimes, including theft and handling stolen goods, to feed her heroin habit. But by 1989 she was "banging" £350 worth of heroin a week and stepped up her criminal activity to an unprecedented level.

For women to commit armed robberies is rare but in 1990 Georgina was to hit the headlines for the first time when she was sentenced at the Old Bailey to eight years for a series of hold-ups on building societies in north London, "She kept me from doing bad things, but she couldn't stop hersays Charmaine.

Before Georgina began her career as an armed robber, she and Charmaine shared flats in End and Finsbury Park. They were the last happy times for Georgina, says Charmaine, who smiles as she recalls their nights out on the town. when the two goodlooking sisters made heads turn in clubs and pubs on the north London gay Georgina was a lesbian but she occasionally had rela-Donsnips with men.

In 1983, one man was to father a son with Georgina. "He is all she ever had," says Charmaine. But she was soon to lose him as well, and in the spectacular fashion that was her trademark in life.

t was her son's toy pistol that she used to petrify cashiers into handing over £2,000 in cash in the first series of robberies. Sentencing her at the time, the Recorder, John Hugill, QC, said she had shown no contrition or remorse. Disguised with dark glasses and a snood to hide her long, brown hair, she would wait until the building society was empty before approaching the till with her fake gun in a plastic bag. She was hyped as a latter-day "Dyke" Turpin, ho was reported to have demanded:

"Your money, or your life." There was no risk to the cashiers, "but that does not hide the obvious terror of the young girls who gave evidence before this court", the judge said. Eyewitnesses said she smiled when the judge sentenced her to eight years. Psychiatric records describe her as having a borderline personality disorder, showing no remorse for her crimes and being at war with society.

While on remand, Georgina and her lover, Avril Williams, who had a string of convictions for theft, violence and drugs, hatched an elaborate hoax kidnapping of her son to get her out of prison on bail.

A new batch of headlines followed.

When the plot was revealed, and it also emerged that the son had been returned by Haringey council to the custody of Williams, who was black, the tabloids had a "loony lefty" field day. The story plunged the council into a row over whether its childcare policy was dictated by an ideological commitment to lesbian and race issues, Eventually, the boy was sent to foster parents permanently. Georgina served six years and Williams was blasted in the chest with a shotgun by a rival for Georgina's affections.

Over Christmas 1995, while Holloway prison was at the centre of a scandal over vermin, Georgina was released. After serving six years, and having spent part of her time with the most notorious woman criminal of her generation. Rosemary West, she was back on the streets of north London. where she had once lived, scored "smack" and held up banks. Within months, she was set to repeat the pattern.

However, in the brief interlude before her rearrest for two armed robberies, her life took an unusual turn. She became involved in a serious relationship with a man. "He was kind and gentle," says Charmaine. But by the spring, heroin was back in control of Georgina. On April 19 last year, Georgina

wrote herself into the record books when she held up three building societies before the close of busi-First, she walked into the Nationwide in Crouch End, pulled a gun from her handbag and demanded cash from a 26-year-old assistant. But she ran away emptyhanded when the security shutters were activated.

She then caught a bus to Kentish Town, where she walked into the Nationwide, relieving a Detrined Cashier of the contents of her till. But rather than rush round to her smack dealer. Georgina headed for the West End and another hold-up.

Pauline Henry, the singer, was standing in the queue at the Tottenham Court Road branch of the Halifax behind Georgina. According to Henry. when Georgina reached the till she pulled out a silver gun and said: "Fill the bag on the count of three." The petrified teller on the other side of the glass handed over a wad of cash. Waving the gun. Georgina demanded: "And the rest."

Henry says: "Her tone was commanding, authoritative, but she was trembling like a leaf." Indeed, as she fled the building into Tottenham Court Road, she left a trail of stolen notes in her wake. She evaded the police for a month, before resurfacing on May 14 at the Midland Bank in Stoke Newington, where she made off with £1.936.

Shortly afterwards, she was arrested, pleaded guilty at Snaresbrook Crown Court and was sent back to Holloway on remand to await sentencing. "She knew she was in for a long custodial sentence," says Detective Chief Inspector Moore of Holloway police.

But already her fertile imagination was working overtime on an escape plan. "She was a very clever, intelligent woman," says Selma Murphy, an old friend and fellow inmate. "She could dodge any situation." Georgina had decided to "try and nut herself off", as

Murphy put it. Her plan was to fake mental illness by not eating, to get herself sent to a civilian hospital from where she could escape. She refused to go to the dining hall, though her cellmates sneaked her in food, but the prison authorities were unimpressed by her starvation ruse.

On Thursday, August 29, Georgina met her solicitor, Siobhan Cullen, to discuss her sentencing the following Monday. She found her client Tobdurate and uncooperative".

Cullen told her it was unlikely that she would be detained under the Mental Health Act. "I'm not going to court on Monday," she said to Cullen. Georgina told her not to waste her journey by going to court either. "She said she'd be in an outside hospital by then," says Cullen.

As she drove away, Cullen felt uneasy. She told her secretary to fax Holloway warning the prison medics to watch Georgina over the weekend. However, there was a delay and the fax was not sent until 3,20pm on Friday.

Holloway's administrative staff obviously knock off early at the end of the week because there was no one there to receive the urgent fax. The fax finally arrived in the relevant pigeonhole on Monday morning, by which time Georgina was dead.

unday night in cell C4 and cellmates Georgina, Bernadette Whelan, Helen Buckley, Samantha Creed and Hilary Cox were chatting and joking as they prepared for bed.

When the nurse came to the door hatch to distribute the vital Valium and sleeping pills which complement the illicit drugs that swill around all of Britain's prisons. Georgina joined the queue. She was "clucking" (experiencing withdrawal from heroin). But because of her ersatz hunger strike, she was refused her medication. "Please nurse," joked Georgina, "my Dad's dead, my Mum's dead, my car's dead and my goldfish is dead."

Samantha, her girlfriend at the time, said they discussed suicide but it was a common subject among inmates and they thought nothing of it. "She lay next to me for a bit and then she kissed me on the cheek and went to her bed. I assumed she was getting changed and I fell asleep," says Samantha. Unusually, however, Georgina had not asked her to share her pills that evening.

Georgina asked the others for the "swing" - a bag tied to a makeshift rope that was lowered out of the window to pass messages to inmates in the cell below - and started to write on the back of an envelope. Drugged, all the other women ieil asiee; Helen Buckley woke in the early hours when "a cold feeling came over me". Georgina, wearing a pink sweatshirt, grey jeans and trainers. was hanging by her neck from the up-ended bedstead. She had used the rope from the illicit swing and strips of material from a skirt.

The jury at St Pancras Coroner's Court recorded that she had died as a result of misadventure. In his summing up, the Coroner, Dr Stephen Chan said: "This hanging could have been a bid to get back into hospital that tragically backfired."

Attempts by Georgina's legal representation to prove that neglect by the prison authorities might have played a part in her death were rejected by Dr Chan. However, after the suicide the prison moved the fax machine, where Cullen's urgent appeal for Georgina to be monitored lay unread over the fateful weekend, "to prevent another

In an unusual move, her suicide note written on the envelope of a letter sent by Haringey Social Services about her son and the effect that the impending prison sentence would have court by Dr Chan: "For my dear son . . . you're better off without me. I can't put you through any more. If there was any other way I'd do it. Please forgive me and stay with your foster mother. Love

This article originally appeared in

The wrong side of the law: a smiling and well-dressed Georgina on her way to prison

Is your stationery supplier stripping prices to the bare bone? We are.

Free memory. Don't forget to call.

FREE* 16MB SDRAM WORTH £100 (£117.50 INC VAT) AVAILABLE UNTIL 29TH MARCH 1997

- DELL DIMENSION P133+ BONUS BUNDLE • INTEL 133MHz PENTIUM* PROCESSOR
- 16Mb SDRAM + EXTRA 16Mb SDRAM FREE
- 512Kb CACHE

- 266 EIDE HARD DRIVE . INTEGRATED 64-BIT PCI LOCAL BUS VIDEO WITH 2Mb VIDEO MEMORY
- 15" COLOUR SYGA MONITOR (13.75" YIEWABLE AREA)
- .TWELVE SPEED CD-ROM DRIVE MID-SIZED DESKTOP CHASSIS
- . MICROSOFT WINDOWS 95 & MS OFFICE PROFESSIONAL 95

Free offer available only on Dell Dimension P133vs bonus bundle as specified above

Time is running out.

Office Professional pre-installed, making it ready to run and easy to use. Get in touch with the world's largest PC manufacturer[™] today on 01344 724895 and take advantage of our free offer.

 Source: IDC.

MICROSOFT" OFFICE 97 UPGRADES ALSO AVAILABLE. CALL FOR DETAILS

You won't forget to call will you? For a limited period only, we're offering an extra 16Mb of SDRAM memory for free on the Dell Dimension™ P133v. our value for money entry level bundle.* And remember it includes MS

> Between 8am and 8pm weekdays, 10am to 4pm Sat. http://www.dell.com/uk

Dell and the Dell logo are registered trademarks and Dell Dimension is a trademark of Dell Computer Corporation. The Intel Intel Logo and Pennium are registered trademarks and MMX is a trademark of Intel Corporation. The Intel Intel Corporation Microsoft, Windows, Office Professional 95 and the Windows logo are registered trademarks of the Microsoft Corporation.

Dell and the Dell logo are registered trademarks and Dell Dimension is a trademark of Dell Computer Corporation. The Intel Intel Corporation Microsoft, Windows, Office Professional 95 and the Windows logo are registered trademarks of the Microsoft Corporation. Dell and the Dell logo are registered trademarks and Dell Department of Intel Corporation Microsoft, Windows, Office Professional 95 and the Windows logo are registered trademarks of the Microsoft Corporation Dell Department of Intel Corporation Microsoft, Windows, Office Professional 95 and the Windows logo are registered trademarks of the Microsoft Corporation Delivery at £25 (£29.37 Incl VAT) per system. Finance is available subsect to status. Full details available on request. Prices correct at date of publication. The photographed product may not always march the specifications in this advert. Prices quoted refer to specification descriptions only. The prices issued reflect the information available of publication of the supplied with Windows 95 (£29.37 Incl VAT) per system. Finance is available subsect to change without prior notice or obligation. Offer supplied with Windows 95 Dell mouse and keyboard included. Dell Computer Corporation Ltd. Milbanke House, Western Road, Bracknell, Berkshire RG12 IRD. Offer available until 29th March 1997, in gracing the prices of the prices of the Windows of the Windows of the Microsoft Corporation and the Windows of the Windows of

Labour's liaison with Leviathan

William Waldegrave says Blair's fiscal probity is election-deep

Leviathan. We believe that government that is too big threatens individual liberty and swamps indepeninstitutions. Governments, however, have an inherent tendency to grow: they follow the laws which drive all organisations. In modern society, the natural process is egged on by pressure groups which take no responsibility for the outcome in terms of tax. So Conservatives have to lean against the wind to stop the State getting bigger, let alone to roll it back.

In this country, only the Conservative Party now has that kind of commitment (the last Liberal who had it was Jo Grimond). Our belief in keeping taxes low stems directly from our belief in liberty, and a limited, but effective State. We also believe that big government damages the efficiency of the economy. For example, a recent IMF report found that countries with large state sectors tend to have high rates of unemployment. Another IMF study found that countries which control deficits by cutting spending (rather than putting up taxes) have the more success. During the 1960s and 1970s, ments, like their

It is not safe European counterparts, took an ever to base rising share of the national income. In policy on the 1980s and 1990s that trend has consuch tinued on the contioptimism nent of Europe. But ain broke free from the pack after 1979. Taking similar points in the economic cycle, public spending in Britain has been on a clearly declining path ever since.

Conservative Brit-

Lower public spending means lower taxes. The Tory tax dividend is £2,300. That is how much extra every household in this country would now be paying if we had allowed public spending to go on rising so that it matched the average level in the European Union. This is a fair estimate (it may be rather optimistic) of the situation we would be in now if Labour had won the elections since 1979.

We plan to maintain the downward trend. Next year we will achieve our aim of reducing spending as a share of national income to below 40 per cent. We will then ensure that public expenditure, taking the trend through the economic cycle, continues to grow more slowly than the economy as a whole. That means that we will ensure that spending falls as a percentage of gross domestic product. This will maximise the chance of steady non-inflationary growth, and of the proper funding of public services which depends on that growth. For the next three years we have set tough but realistic plans which will mean that the control total grows by just 0.5 per cent a year in real terms. That is just a little less than the average growth rate over the past four years. It is attainable with the same level of discipline. It means a steady and committed campaign to strip out waste, to bear down on the cost of the public sector, and to keep the State to its proper

Control of spending will en-

Flag's dark oak stalls. There the likes of J.R.R. Tolkien, Philip

Larkin, Kingsley Amis, and even

Tony Blair would loaf around

If John's gets its way, the Lamb and Flag will be converted into tutorial rooms and student digs

when the current lease expires in September. "There are already a large number of pubs in the city and a number of new sites have opened," reads a flinty statement from the college. "It cannot be argued therefore that there is any shortage of pubs in the city centre."

pub for bores, heavy-metal fans and confused Japanese tourists, its closure has inspired a spasm of student revolt. The John's Junior

Common Room president, Fiona

Rumboll, plans a rearguard action:

"I've not spoken to a single member of college who approves of

Despite its recent reputation as a doodling on the beermats.

able us to bring public sector borrowing back towards balance over the medium term. and to make further tax cuts as the trend towards lower spending as a share of national income continues. Only if we do that will we retain one of the lowest debt burdens in

The Labour Party would like people to believe that it is now a convert to the case for small government. But Lab-our's instincts derive from the other tradition in politics that of collectivism and of its consequence, bigger govern-ment. Its commitment to fiscal probity is new, and it is skindeep. Controlling public expenditure has been difficult enough for a party that is genuinely committed to small government; it would be utterly impossible for one that has spent the years since 1979
stoking claims about the
"underfunding" of every conceivable public service.

We have carefully costed all of Labour's firm spending commitments. If they were all implemented, public expenditure would rise by £30 billion a year by the end of a Parliament, or about 312 per cent of GDP. Despite its loud claims to the contrary. Labour has not abandoned these pledges. instead its attempt to rebut our message about its £30 billion promises has consisted of a combination of insults and fantasy. For example, it claims that around £6 billion of its pledges would be paid for from "within existing resources" or by making "savings" elsewhere. But Labour leaders cannot identify the savings, or the existing re-sources that they would divert.

nother £9 billion is alleged to be "self-finan-cing" — for example, the hugely expensive pledge to reduce social security benefit tapers. Labour hopes that marginal action on incentives will produce massive savings in benefits. It is unsafe to base policy on such optimism.

Then there is the windall tax. This proposed one-off levy has the remarkable power of paying for things which will go on costing money every year. When I pointed this out to one Labour friend, he chuckled: "Didn't you know, windfalls come every year?" And that, I expect, is the truth: new taxes every year.

From now through to election day we will therefore go on demanding an answer to the question: where will the money come from? Either there would be a large bill, or Labour would betray the lobby groups it has sought to buy. In reality, I expect it would be both, as in the 1970s - both betrayal and a financial crisis.

Labour cannot match our pledge to keep down taxes and borrowing, because it is not committed to bringing down public spending as a share of national wealth. The choice before the electorate is simple: reversion to the old days, or progress to an increasingly secure future with policies for low spending, low taxes, low inflation and high growth.

The author is Chief Secretary to the Treasury.

Our meat is his poison

T like Douglas Hogg and I feel that it is time someone put in a good word for him, though I do not suppose the word I shall put in will be exactly the word he would most like. In the 1970s, when he was a young barrister, he was one of the libel readers for The Times. He was a popular lawyer with the journalists because he took a robust view of what constituted defamation, and was not easily frightened into cutting their copy. He was popular with me be-cause his intelligent and sometimes caustic conversation on life and politics enlivened the periods when I was waiting for copy or proofs in that pre-electronic age.

I had already known his father. Quintin Hogg, now Lord Hailsham, for 20 years, since the mid-1950s, and had applauded the speeches of his glory days, when he was one of the few successful post-war chairmen of the Conservative Party. In 1963, Quintin Hogg had come quite close to becoming prime minister.

There is a remarkable temperamental resemblance between father and son, though the difference is probably even more significant. Both men have the virtues of courage, intelligence and a sense of honour: both are gifted advocates. On the negative side, both have a notable irritability, both have a weak sense of the likely public response to their actions, both have an exaggerated preference for their own ideas. Hoggs are interesting people, but not always easy people to deal with: there is also a certain immaturity about their judgment. In the House of Lords, Lord Hailsham is much loved because he is still, in his 90th year, a great boisterous brilliant schoolboy.

The big difference is that the father. though much like the son, has the volume turned up higher. His virtues are closer to the scale of genius: his misjudgments can be equally earthshattering. All Hoggs seem to be eccentric, not only in their hats. Even in Texas, there was a Houston multimillionaire, probably no relation, who called his two daughters Ima Hogg and Ura Hogg; they lived to a great age as influential members of the best Houston society. If Quintin had been equally heartless, he might have named his elder son Halfa Hogg, since in Douglas the Hogg genes have been modified by those of his sensible and admirable mother. He knows himself to be only half as eccentric as his father, but may well have only have half his father's genius. It has not been easy for him.

Douglas Hogg is decent and clever, but implausible in his impossible job

Chancelior between the wars, Douglas will eventually inherit a peerage, yet the Hoggs are not an aristocratic family, but a professional one. They belong to the older English intellectual professional class. There are not as many of them as there are Butlers. Darwins or Coleridges, but they belong to the same culture and follow a similar range of professions. They do not make money; they make speeches. On the whole, their gifts do not run to administration. When Lord Hailsham was chairman of the Conservative Party, he had Oliver Poole.

a successful businessman-politician, as his deputy. Hailsham inspired the troops; Oliver Poole ran the election machine. For generations. the Ministry of Agriculture has been a been the classic example of what is known as "agency capture", the situation that arises when a ministry which represents government in relation to an interest group comes to represent that group in relation to government. Margaret Thatcher believed the Foreign Office was a "captured" agency, advocating the interests of foreigners. Certainly the Ministry of Agriculture has long had a reputation in Whitehall for subservience to farmers. Most Ministers of Agriculture have some farming connection, though I think Douglas's are relatively slight. They become eager captives; they put on their wellington boots and have themselves photographed at the local market talking to farmers about fatstock prices, and nowadays about set-aside. This has all been made much worse by Europe. The common agricultural policy is an even worse example of "agency capture" than the ministry itself. The policy exists to ensure that the European customer pays more for the food produced by European farmers than it is worth. This policy is adjusted by the 15 agriculture ministers in private meetings; they are the tied agents of an international producer cartel. The Minister of Agriculture is also a regulator; among other things he has

Because his grandfather was Lord to control the complex, quarrelsome and apparently incompetent bureaucracy of the Meat Hygiene Service. This system is subject to European regulations and covers more than 400 abattoirs, 76 of the largest of which process more than 50,000 carcasses a year each, an industrial scale of operation.

Anyone put in such a ministerial role could be expected to produce a catastrophe: even the young Winston Churchill would have created another Gallipoli. Agriculture, like the Department of Health, is a natural graveyard for political reputations.

The ideal minister would be tough. flexible, cynical, administratively effective and politically adroit. Perhaps Steve Norris would have been suitable. Douglas Hogg shares the disability nightmare department. It has always that undid Virginia Bottomley another professional person - when she was responsible for the National Health Service. He tries to make rational sense of the information his officials give him. There is nothing rational about food policy. The minister is the madame of a brothel of special interests, with branches all over Europe

> Douglas Hogg has to supervise the 400 killing factories for animals; he is responsible if children eating the hamburgers which are the endproduct catch diseases from the carcasses that are produced. When animals are herded together to be killed, they beshit themselves: there is nothing Douglas Hogg can do to prevent that; he cannot put them all into nappies. An abattoir is a very horrible place, and 400 such abattoirs, controlled by bureaucrats, are an inferno. This is not Hogg territory; it is altogether remote from the world of briefs for counsel, writs, Bills, amendments on third reading and advocates' points to which he belongs. Indeed, the House of Commons itself does not belong to the same world as this inferno of blood, death, faeces and bureaucratic

Almost certainly, the whole policy is wrong: wrong in Europe, wrong in the regulations, wrong in the minis-

my, wrong in the structure of enforcement, wrong in the organisation of the animal-killing business. There is little reason to think that the Labour Party will be any better at these nasty bits of confused administration than the Conservatives have been. Perhaps John Prescon could handle it; he is streetwise and not easily shocked. Yet I suspect that abantours are as remote from Tony Blair's life as they are from Douglas Hogg's. Someone in government will need to get a grip on the problem, because the health issues, both of E.coli and BSE, are real and serious enough. It is not only animais who are killed by badly-run

The abattoir scandal has done great political damage to the Government, particularly as the general election is so close. It touches on so many things that worry people. It touches on personal responsibility. No politician has resigned over the mismanagement of "mad cow" disease, which started long before Douglas Hogg reached the ministry: Douglas has not resigned over the abattoirs. I am sure his reputation would be higher if he had. There is also the public resentment at the growing impotence of government. Too many ministers seem to be merely frommen for their departments, rather than being the masters. Douglas Hogg never saw a key report: he was never shown a key letter. Who is the boss in the ministry? Indeed, is there a boss, or is it all a chaos of interaction between British and European bureaucrats, and between farmers and people who run abattoirs?

My sympathy for Douglas is that he is the wrong man for what is in any case an impossible job. He understands the world of the English professions: that is an honourable and useful world; the other world of the common agricultural policy and the Meat Hygiene Service is something quite different; the culture gap is as complete as though he were made to answer from the Treasury bench for the affairs of Albania. There is a mismatch between his genuine abilities and the nature of the work he has to do. But there is also a warning in this for Tony Blair. The electorate is about to hand over this mess to new Labour. That will not make things any better; a tougher minister may perform with more skill, but there will be no answers. The new Labour Minister of Agriculture is likely to be as great a disaster as Douglas.

A letter from King Hussein to Binyamin Netanyahu, the Prime Minister of Israel

ing Hussein of Jordan's letter of March 9 to the Israeli Prime Minister. Binyamin Netanyahu is one of the most eargordinary documents of recent Middle Eastern history, writes Christopher Walker. It was written after the Sandhurst-trained monarch had slammed the telephone down on Mr Netanyahu in mid-conversation. Its personal tone is the more telling because its 61-year-old author is known as the most restrained, polite and protocol-minded statesman in the region. Behind his feeling of betrayal lies a conviction that his own complex relations with Jordan's 60 per cent Palestinian majority might undermine the sta-bility of his throne. The letter reads:

Prime Minister, My distress is genuine and deep over the accumulating tragic actions which you have initiated as the head of the Government of Israel, making peace - the worthiest objective of my life - appear more and more like a distant elusive mirage. I could re-main aloof if the very lives of all Arabs and Israelis and their future were not fast sliding towards an abyss of bloodshed and disaster.

brought about by fear and despair.

I frankly cannot accept your repeated excuse of having to act the way you do under great duress and pressure. I cannot believe that the people of Israel seek bloodshed and disaster and oppose peace. Nor can I believe that the most constitutionally powerful Prime Minister in Israeli history would act on other than his total convictions. The saddest reality that has been dwning on me is that I do not find you by my side in working to fulfil God's will for the final reconciliation of all the descendants of the children of Abraham. Your course of actions seems bent on destroying all I believe in or have striven to achieve [. . .] You cannot send me assurances that you would not sanction any further construction of settlements, and tell me of your decision to construct two roads to help all concerned Israelis and Palestinians alike and then renege on your commitment. In pushing matters to the point of securing a US veto at the Security Council, you have ill served the image and interest of your major ally and benefactor and our partner in peacemaking as the honest balanced peace broker.

Mr Prime Minister, if it is your intention to manoeuvre our Palestinian brethren into inevitable violent resistance, then order your bulldozers into the proposed settlement site

. . .] order the young Israeli members of your powerful armed forces surrounding Palestinian towns to commit wanton murder and mayhem, possibly resulting in yet a fresh exodus of hapless Palestinians from their, and their ancestors'. homeland, and bury the peace process for all time.

On the question of your withdrawal from territories, you have commit-ted Israel, before the US, Jordan and the world, to complete the process by mid-1998. What good did it serve to offer such an insignificant first phase withdrawal? Why the apparent continued deliberate humiliation of your so-called Palestinian partners? Can any worthwhile relationship thrive in the absence of mutual respect and trust? [...] Finally, the Gaza airport
—all of us have addressed the subject numerous times with a view to having a legitimate Palestinian need met and to give their leaders and people their own free access to the world other sovereign territories. I had requested permission and intended to fly President Arafat myself [...] to the Palestinian airport of Gaza as I had requested earlier. during my Hebron intervention, [... accepting your refusal then only because there were far more important issues at hand.

rather than their present confinement and need to exit and return through

I anticipated your positive response this time. I believed it would have helped improve the atmosphere considerably, but alas, it was not to be. Now, suppose I had taken off nonetheless for Gaza [...] would you have ordered my fellow pilots in the Israeli Air Force [...] to prevent me forcibly from landing or worse?

You will never know how close you came to having to make a decision on the subject [...] How can I work with you as a partner and true friend in this confused and confusing atmosphere when I sense an intent to destroy all I worked to build between our peoples and states. Stubbornness over real issues is one thing, but for its own sake. I wonder. In any event, I have discovered that you have your own mindset and appear in no need for any advice from a friend. I deeply regret having to write you this personal message but it is my sense of responsibility and concern which has prompted me for posterity to do so in the face of the unknown. Sincerely, Hussein.

For his part, Mr Netanyahu fired off a strong reply on Monday, stressing the precariousness of his own domes-tic position. "Despite tremendous resistance from some of my own constituency, I have chosen the path of the Oslo process," he noted. "I have always appreciated the courage and resolve with which you have helped keep the peace process alive. I hold you in the highest esteem and I value your friendship and understanding. That is why I must confess P·H·S that I am baffled by the person level of the attacks against me." that I am baffled by the personal

Deputy Speaker and Labour MP for Pontefract and Castleford, is Keep it flying preparing to announce his retirement as soon as the election is called. Howarth could then be imposed as the candidate by Labour's National Executive, there being Lamb and Flag on St Giles', is to more housing. We will be lodging a close. After more than four hundred years. St John's College, formal objection with the council no time for the local party to shortly." go through the usual selection which owns the site, wants it back to build more accommodation. The former Tory minister is al-Since 1617, the young gowns of Shoehorned ready in the running for the New-John's have taken refuge in the port East vacancy, but may well not get it. If Sir Geoffrey goes suddenly - problem solved. Tory defector, to find a safe Labour seat. Sir Geoffrey Lofthouse, the

THERE may at last be a solution to the embarrassing failure of Alan

Howarth, MP, Tony Blair's prized

■ These are hard times at London Weekend Television, home of the likes of Melvyn Bragg. Employees have received a memo from on high telling them that when entertaining people for lunch, they should spend no more than £4.81 per head, barely half a starter in a London restaurant.

Green bile

AN extraordinary ad hominem attack on A.N. Wilson appears in this week's Catholic Herald, written by William Oddie. Reviewing Wilson's new book Paul: The Mind of the Apostle and his life of Jesus, Óddie is in wafer-snapping mode. He calls Wilson, who once trained for the Anglican ministry.

"an apostate from Christianity". His book is dismissed as a literary iunk shop", processed "through the imagination."

Wilson's assumption of the scholarly manner is an "unusually skilful pastiche, even a sustained hoax." though Oddie deems some of the passages too wild for even the serious hoazer. The gravest accusation comes in the final paragraph: "It would not surprise me at all to learn that these two books were written in green ink on lined Basildon Bond." Heavy stuff.

• Before deciding how many copies to make of its new video, the Referendum Party was ordered by Sir James Goldsmith to find out which was the highest-ever selling film on video in Britain. The Jungle Book, apparently, sold 4.3 million copies. So the order came: five million copies or bust.

Desk space

OFFICIALS working for the Interformer Yugoslavia in The Hague have been scrabbling round the Tricycle Theatre in Kilburn for courtroom furniture. Last October, the theatre staged a production of Srebrenica, a play featuring a replica of the courtroom that will be used. The new tribunal will need more desks than the court currently has, so it made financial sense to borrow a desk from Kilburn. "We wanted the same design for legal reasons," says Monsieur Shartier of the tribunal.

But there's one problem: "We need it back before September," says the Tricycle's artistic director Nicholas Kent. Thecause we're taking the play on tour to Ireland in September.

All made up GUESTS at the London Restaurant Awards on Tuesday night were kept waiting for nearly two hours for the arrival of Claudia Schiffer, model. She was putting

Schiffer, at last

Having flown in on a private jet from the Paris shows, Miss Schiffer vanished up to her suite at the Park Lane Hotel with her stylist. who had arrived from New York. Due to appear around 7.15, she finally tottered down in pink at 9. The final insult was that her lousy Fashion Café in Leicester Square won an award for Best Therne

JOHN GOOD

-1-1-1-y

27764

Maria de

د روستان د اور دستان کار

Mary My an

San Francisco

 $\min_{x\in X} f_{x}(x)$

i society

Territoriana,

ेंगानक्त्र Traver Sylven

3-3-5

a Co Jagg

- TE - 124

Paralegy and Transfer 1

etter Ita

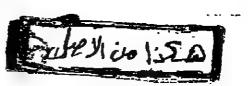

8 Hussey

Binyan

anvahu

he Minis

1g

A HOGG'S BREAKFAST

Ministers should have known more and acted earlier

Foods have not been a glorious subject for this Government. One week ago, the Agriculture Minister Douglas Hogg was obliged to defend standards in Britain's abattoirs after a highly critical report from his own Hygiene Action Team finally surfaced. On that outing he told Parliament that the failure of ministers to see the document concerned was of little consequence; that publication of this material was unnecessary; that the failure to pass his paperwork to Professor Hugh Pennington did not matter; and that the public should have confidence in present procedures.

That claim commanded little support in the House of Commons or outside. A second wave of revelations this time concerning correspondence between Peter Comrie, general secretary of the Association of Meat Inspectors, and Angela Browning, a junior minister at his department, brought Mr Hogg to the dispatch box again. Mr Comrie had warned Mrs Browning that dispatches he had received from meat inspectors suggested serious irregularities in a number of abattoirs, considerable intimidation of inspectors by those institutions, and relative indifference towards such malpractice by elements of the Meat Hygiene Service. If not quite the "potential time bomb" as described by Mr Comrie, it was obviously a disturbing picture and one which, this time, ministers could not claim ignorance of.

In his statement yesterday, Mr Hogg largely ignored the documentation that has forced him to his feet for the second time in six days. Insofar as he dealt with it at all, it was to question the competence and standing of Mr Comrie. This follows an unfortunate pattern that has all too often occurred on such occasions. Last week, the minister was swift to suggest that Bill Swann, author of the damning Health Advisory Team inquiry, did not enjoy the backing of his peers. He then implied that it had been the responsibility of Professor Pennington to acquire a copy of a report that the Ministry of Agriculture had failed to send to him.

However, as Mr Comrie's letters were based on information brought to him by his members in the field, the adverse comments on him personally cited by Mr Hogg were irrelevant. His charges can only be dismissed if he fabricated the allegations on which they were based. Unless Mr Hogg is prepared to accuse him of that, then Mr Comrie's concerns deserve a proper response. They have not received a satisfactory reaction so far.

Despite the limited attention granted to these fresh allegations. Mr Hogg tried to strike a rather different tone this week. A ministry that has previously regarded the publication of data relevant to consumers as an inconvenience now brimmed with ideas. Mr Hogg announced that an information paper would be presented to the House of Commons "within days". He expressed enthusiasm for league tables of abatoire performance. He pledged fresh information for Professor Pennington. He promised that the findings of the Meat Hygiene Service would be openly available on a regular basis". In addition, the minister outlined an eight-point action plan to ensure that standards in Britain's abattoirs continue to rise from their less-than-inspiring base.

It would appear that there is now a credible strategy emerging for enhancing food safety standards and that it will receive adequate publicity. The measures outlined by the ministers, rather belatedly, should have an additional, beneficial impact. This has happened despite the instincts of the Ministry of Agriculture. Mr Hogg has single-handedly failed to inform the public on these matters. The Meat Hygiene Service was rightly created to implement a national approach to the quality of abatoirrs. If it is to succeed then it must be detached from a failed ministry and placed under the auspices of a new independent body.

JOLLY GOOD FELLOWS

Men at High Table can help the cause of women's education

The thin end of the wedge can sometimes be a brake on the bad, rather than a portent of worse. The prospect of male fellows joining the hitherto all-female High Table at St Hilda's College, Oxford, might seem a melancholy concession to conformity and a defeat for pluralist principles. The college's undergraduate body, as our Education *Correspondent reports, appear almost to a woman opposed. They are understandably anxious to preserve St Hilda's, a single-sex foundation since 1893, as an establishment shaped to women's needs in a world very lar from equal. Admitting men to the Senior Common Room might not, however, mean welcoming a Trojan horse so much as recruiting valuable allies. The presence of male fellows need not threaten the cause of women's education.

St Hilda's has acquired an enviable reputation, educating the Education Secretary as well as grooming the Channel 4 newsreader Zeinab Badawi. It has been committed throughout its life to providing an environment where women can retreat from university life and study free of distraction, but its capacity to thrive with its current constitution is uncertain.

St Hilda's was one of five women's colleges at Oxford but now stands alone. The. success of coeducation in colleges formally all-male has made it more difficult for women's colleges to preserve their distinctiveness. Since women were held to be competing on terms of apparent equality elsewhere, the need for an exclusively single sex route to Oxford was questioned. That need is, however, greater than ever. Al-though many older colleges have exerted themselves to attract women some have been slow to embrace equality of opportunity. Women, especially from state schools, still need every encouragement to apply to Oxford but the need for St Hilda's to stay single-sex is more than a matter of entrance arithmetic, it should be a point of principle.

A distinguished tradition of women scholars, most notably the recently deceased historian Dame Veronica Wedgwood and the literary critics Helen Gardner and Elizabeth Mackenzie, have benefited from the distinctive ethos of the women's colleges. That tradition should not be allowed to fade. for the good of both female academics and the university as a whole. Oxford depends on diversity to keep its character. Coeducation appears to have increased competition for places and raised academic standards, but it has seen the fabric of the university become less colourful and, if anything, more subfuse. The more distinctive the character of each college, the more successful the entire academic community is likely to be. That need not mean St Hilda's is automatically handicapping itself in the battle to secure the best academic results. Newnham. Cambridge, is all-female and came comfortably in the top half of that university's colleges in 1995 finals rankings.

St Hilda's, however, faces a hard financial future unless it admits men to its Senior Common Room. Other colleges have their fellows part-funded from the central university chest, but that option is not open to St Hilda's because it can only offer fellowships to women and equal opportunities legislation prevents the university funding singlesex appointments. St Hilda's does not have the resources of richer colleges and funding fellowships is inevitably a strain. By accepting men to the SCR, and with them central university funding. St Hilda's would put itself on a stronger footing and be better able to preserve the special undergraduate character its current generation of students are so understandably anxious to defend.

MR PETERS CHANGES NAMES

New Zealand could benefit from a new name

Ancient Maori pioneers sailed across the South Pacific about 1,000 years ago and named their misty new homeland Aotearoa - land of the long white cloud. And so the name remained, until 1642 when Abel Tasman arrived and changed the name to New Zealand, in honour of his home in The Netherlands. But the ancient name may now return. Maori leaders are preparing a lawsuit to reassert their demand for a change first proposed in 1991. And with Winston Peters, part Maori, now Deputy Prime Minister, the Government in Wellington may well acknowledge the force of the Maori argument. There is, of course, a useful side-effect to any change: New Zealand would move 14 places up the alphabet. The Aotearoa team would be one of the first to march out in the Olympic parade. Its delegation would sit in the front row of the United Nations. It would top statistical tables and Internet menus. Children, unlikely to receive much post from Afghanistan, Albania or Algeria, would start their stamp collections with colourful sets from Aotearoa. Changing a country's name, however, is rarely popular. History is erased, geography confused. Some former colonies have returned, successfully, to earlier historic identities: Northern and Southern Rhodesia, overlooking the disadvantage of coming last in any list, have recalled the pre-colonial glories of Zambia and Zimbabwe. Few countries accept being named after foreigners, nor do they want to be a nostalgic echo of some faraway home. "New" is out of fashion. The New Hebrides and New Caledonia have gone; New Spain became Mexico; New Amsterdam decided it would remain nouveau but opt for something snappier, and New Guinea is already halfway through a metamorphosis.

Names given in ignorance are more enduring: Canada derives, according to the dictionary, "from an erroneous interpretation of the American-indian word canada or canata, 'huts, hovels', which the earliest explorers took for a place-name." Massachussetts has many apocryphal derivations. Some new names have a ring that has stuck: Burkina Faso means "Land of Upright Men", and if that is what the hardy souls of Upper Volta consider themselves, so be it. Ibn Saud called a huge desert after himself. Queen Victoria, however, was less successful in commemorating a dynasty. She reportedly tried to rename India Alberta. Her advisers urged the mourning widow to choose somewhere less momentous for her late, dear husband - a patch of Canadian wilderness, perhaps. And so she did.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

1 Pennington Street, London El 9XN Telephone 0171-782 5000

Political import of Archbishop's sermon in Jerusalem

From Sir Michael Latham

Sir, A full reading in context of the Archbishop of Canterbury's sermon on March II at St George's Cathedral, Jerusalem, where the Christian population is nearly all Palestinian, does not, in our view, justify your editorial criticisms of him (March 12), still less the headline over Christopher Walker's report ("Carey supports Palestinian state in sermon from Jerusalem pulpit").

Dr Carey very properly emphasised that both Jews and Palestinians have aspirations regarding "the Holy Land". Although he spoke of a home-land, at no point did he use the phrase "Palestinian state". He also stressed that both peoples have suffered and that their aspirations can only be met through negotiation and compromise.

He explicitly condemned inflammatory words and external funding of extremist groups. He also dealt with other troubled places of the world. His sermon was delivered in specifically Christian terms of prayer and reconciliation.

Most Christians who support the State of Israel will welcome the Archbishop's sermon, with its emphasis that lasting peace can only come from the continuation and development of the Oslo Process. While there can be proper differences about the wisdom of Israeli settlement policy, an extraordinary amount has already been achieved in bringing Israelis and Palestinians together over the last few

No one of goodwill believes that there can be any going back, and that was at the heart of the Archbishop's

Yours faithfully MICHAEL LATHAM (Joint Honorary Treasurer). The Council of Christians and Jews, Drayton House. 30 Gordon Street, WCI.

From Mr Wade Mansell

Sir, Your leader today seems rather less temperate than Archbishop Sentencing burglars

From the Chair of the ntsi onenders.

Carey's measured sermon in Jerusalem. What he said reflected the clearest possible position in international

The proposed Israeli action to build houses upon land which has been annexed is contrary to the Charter of the United Nations, which proscribes the acquisition of land through conquest. It is therefore also contrary to the laws relating to belligerent occupation to be found in the 1949 Geneva Convention, which requires an occupying power to change the exist-ing order as little as possible during the occupation.

It is also contrary to the wishes of the entire Security Council but for the United States — and even the United States expressed dismay at this latest development,

Now is not the time for discreet silence. When the abuse of international law is manifest, and both the rights and the wrongs are dear, an Anglican Archbishop is surely under an obligation to lend his support to the wronged and the oppressed. His courage in doing so is to be applauded.

Yours faithfully. WADE MANSELL Kent Law School. Eliot College, University of Kent at Canterbury, Canterbury, Kent. March 12.

From Dr Andrew Purkis

Sir. The Archbishop of Canterbury did not "offer strong support for a particular form of secular territorial outcome" as your leading article puts it. On the contrary, he asserted that the Anglican Primates did not come to Jerusalem with any ready-made answers, and that the clash of Israeli and Palestinian dreams, with both of which one could feel the deepest sympathy, could be resolved only through 'honourable compromise".

He reiterated a previous appeal by British Church leaders, similar to Pope John Paul II's on Sunday, for an end to the building and expansion of settlements because, as he put it:

We look on with anguish as new actions on either side appear to undermine the peace process. The current crisis with regard to new cettlements in East Jerusalem is just

The whole sermon was a sustained reflection on praying for the peace of Jerusalem; anything less like an "out-burst" is hard to imagine.

Yours sincerely, ANDREW PURKIS (The Archbishop of Canterbury's Secretary for Public Affairs). Lambeth Palace, SEI. March 12

From Professor Bryan Reuben

Sir. You are to be congratulated on your editorial on the Archbishop of Canterbury's ill-considered sermon in Jerusalem. The issue, however, goes deeper than you suggested.

The Arabs controlled East Jerusa-lem between 1948 and 1967 and expelled all the Jews living there. That was how it became "Arab" East Jerusalem. No access to Jewish holy places was permitted. The Jewish quarter most of the historic synagogu were destroyed. A road and a hotel were built on the Mount of Olives cemetery and tombstones used in houses and a larrine.

Christians were also harassed: according to British and Jordanian census figures which I have seen quoted, the Christian proportion of the population dropped from 48 per cent in 1946 to 18 per cent in 1961. Even Muslims suffered.

In those 19 years I do not recollect any serious pressure from the then Archbishop (or from the young George Carey, but I hope I am wrong) for religious freedom. Nor do I hear definitive promises of open access to holy places from PLO spokesmen nowadays. Israeli objections to handing over any part of Jerusalem to Arab control are not based on paranoia or intransigence: they are based on bitter experience.

are valid in their own way, Smiley's based on the "nationalist" experience, mine on the Partisan experience. Both are widely read in Albania, which shows that both traditions have wide support and that neither can be excluded from Albanian political life.

Albania is largely due to one side trying to exclude the other. Enver

Hoxha did it for some forty years.

Berisha, from a much weaker power base, has been trying to do it for five.

deserve a political framework designed to include rather than exclude. This is what they are now demanding in a rough Albanian way from President

Berisha. His refusal to concede it and his insistence on branding all those who demand it as Mandsts, communists and traitors has been leading day

by day to greater disaster.

Yours faithfully, REGINALD HIBBERT,

The severe political crisis afflicting

Yours etc. BRYAN REUBEN. 7 Clarence Avenue, SW4. March 12.

Albanian struggle

Penal Affairs Consortium Sir, Baroness Blatch claims (letter, March 10; see also letters. February 19, 24, 28) that there is "no evidence of any significant progression" in the sentencing for repeat burglars. Using figures based on a sample of convictions in 1994, the average sentence on a third or subsequent conviction is 10 months, compared with 15 months for

Averages can of course be misleading: a first conviction for a professional burglary of high value is more serious than a third offence of stealing a milk bottle through an open window. Nevertheless, these figures show a 27 per cent higher average sentence on a third conviction than on a first

While it is legitimate to sentence repeat burglars more heavily, it would be wrong to increase sentences out of all proportion to the seriousness of the current offence.

The Crime (Sentences) Bill shifts sentencing in this undesirable direction by applying a minimum threeyear sentence to third-time domestic burglary, while simultaneously requiring courts to reduce other sentences by one third to compensate for changed rules on early release. The current "starting point" of five years for a single rape without additional aggravating circumstances would be cut to just over three years, and this could be further reduced if there were mitigating circumstances.

While domestic hurglary can be a serious and very distressing offence, I believe that to equate it to rape for sentencing purposes is wholly inconsistent with any sensible scale of

Yours faithfully PAUL CAVADINO. Penal Affairs Consortium. In Clapham Road, SW4. March 10.

Devolution debate

From Mr William M. Clarke

Sir. Amid all the turmoil about a single currency for Europe and its impact on sovereignty, neither your leading article, nor The Times Guide to Election Issues: Scotland (March (0), nor any of your recent correspondents on Scottish devolution If ebruary 15, 21, 25, 28 and March of has raised the question of Scotland's currency. Yet an independent Scottish pound, supported by Scotland's own resources and finding its own currency level against sterling, would be the one thing that would bring Scotland real independence, and relieve English taxpayers of a burden they could well do without.

Just as with Europe, sowereignty is tied to currency independence, vet those in favour of independence or devolution for Scotland do not seem to emphasise enough this crucial question. True independence for Soutland means running your own fiscal and monetary affairs, not just seeking a representative parliament in Edin-

Yours sincerely. WILLIAM CLARKE. 37 Park Vista, Greenwich, SE10.

From Sir Reginald Hibbert

Sir, In his report, "British war hero backs honest Berisha" (March 7), your Defence Correspondent mentioned that Colonel Smiley's book, Albanian Assignment, had been translated into Albanian because it was seen as such an important record of the war. It can safely be assumed that it also enjoyed the imprimatur of President Berisha.

My own book about the war in Albania, Albania's National Lib eration Struggle, received no such blessing. General Copani, the new Chief of Staff, who was at that time the colonel heading the military staff in President Berisha's office, made it clear to me in 1992 that my book was politically incorrect and unwelcome. Nevertheless it was later translated into Albanian and published in a pirate edition which sold nearly 20,000 copies.

The contrast between the two books is, on a small scale, a model of the divisions which rack Albania. Both

Frondeg, Pennal, Machynlleth, Powys. March 10. Assisted places From the General Secretary of the Independent Schools Joint Council Sir. The letter from the Shadow Secretary of State for Education (March 10). reaffirming his party's policy of phas-ing out the Assisted Places Scheme, sadly demonstrates that there is to be no real meeting of minds on bridging the gap between the independent and Mr Blunkett declares that the £161 million saving would pay for a reduction in class sizes to a maximum of 30 throughout the first three years of primary school. The latest independent research, by the Institute of Public Finance, puts the cost of reducing class sizes at E490 million.

state sectors of education.

Recent research at the Londor School of Economics has shown that assisted-place pupils do better by up to three grades at A level than their contemporaries of comparable ability in other schools. It matters greatly to the independent sector that education of this quality should be open to those best equipped to take advantage of it, regardless of family circumstances. The average annual income of parents in the scheme is £10,900.

- The fundamental principle is that choice of school is a matter for parents, not politicians, and the more choice they have the better. The irony is that, as a recent MORI poll has shown, a majority of Labour voters agree and would wish to see assisted places retained.

Yours etc. ARTHUR HEARNDEN, General Secretary. Independent Schools Joint Council, 35-37 Grosvenor Gardens, SWI.

EU single market From Mr Maritz Vandenberg

Sir. Today's Times (Your own business, March II) reports that of 5,000 small and medium-sized businesses questioned in all EU countries a majority were negative about their past experience of the European single market, British firms overwhelmingly so; and that only 7 per cent of British and 6 per cent of German companies believed that economic and monetary union would have a positive impact. But on another page (Business news, later editions) you report that an assemblage of boardroom worthies have warned that Britain's best interests demand a continued commitment to the EU. The triumph of hope over experi-

Yours faithfully. M. VANDENBERG.

21a Gwendolen Avenue, SW15.

March II.

Business letters, page 27

Letters should carry a daytime telephone number. They may be faxed to 0171-782-5046

Cloning limitations

From Mr Alan Challoner

Sir, Some scientists seem to believe that because there has been a discovery of a possible intervention into the natural biological process of human kind, there should be opportunities for using it.

Also, using clones to reproduce a much-loved child, as has quite rightly been ruled out by Ruth Deech, of the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Authority (report, March 6), would be no more successful than might be expected from a child produced through normal fertilisation. A child is not just a product of its genes. Every moment of foetal life, and every moment of childhood, creates individuality that cannot be reproduced by doning.

The time has come when scientists should consider using their un-doubted abilities for preventing the gradual worsening of our physical and emotional environment, rather than interfering with natural selection and evolution.

Yours faithfully, ALAN CHALLONER, 13 The Village, Bodelwyddan, Denbighshire. March II.

Waiving cost of criminal checks

From Lord Weatherill

Sir, Former Speakers should not be involved in party politics. However, in the light of my involvement with numerous volunteering organisations, I felt impelled to seek an amendment to Part V of the Police Bill, which sets up a national Criminal Records Agency. My amendments, which were adopted by the Lords (report, December 3, 1996), waived the fees for criminal-record checks for volunteers. I understand that on Thursday the Government will seek to reverse

Both the Government and the Labour Party acknowledge the value of volunteers to society, but neither seems to recognise the immense finan-cial damage which will be done to organisations such as the Scouts, the Winged Fellowship, The Wildlife Trust, St John's Ambulance and the Scripture Union if volunteers are charged for criminal-record checks. The Scouts will face an annual new bill of £500,000.

The Government has promised to bring in an order to provide free checks for volunteers at some unspecified time, when and if a government feels it can afford it. The problem is that voluntary organisations will have to deal with this new cost from day one: the damage to services will be done in the first 12 months.

Although there is no statutory obligation for the police to check volunteers working with children and vulnerable adults, voluntary organisations know that they will be expected by parents, insurers and the public to do so. Police checks are no substitute for the good recruitment and supervision policies which most organisations already apply. The huge costs which they will incur mean that the future operations of some organisations will be threatened.

The Government's suggestion that volunteers should pay is not acceptable to voluntary organisations. They strive always to reimburse volunteers' expenses in line with government advice. Surely it would be wrong to invite those who give their time voluntarily to numerous organisations to pay for what will in effect be a certificate of innocence. The latest realistic estimate would be £8 million a year.

I would urge the Government to use my amendments to demonstrate their support for volunteering and find the money from public funds.

Yours faithfully, BERNARD WEATHERILL, House of Lords.

Adding insult to injury

From Professor John Fletcher Sir, The prisons are bursting at the seams but that has not prevented my house being burgled or led to the offender being caught. To make them think twice about paying a return visit I have installed an alarm. In today's world that seems an unavoidable impost. But with VAT levied on top I feel I am being taxed iwice. Since sending people to jail is apparently not curbing crime, would it not be both cheaper and more effective to waive VAT on my burglar alarm?

Yours sincerely, JOHN FLETCHER, University of East Anglia. School of Modern Languages and European Studies. Norwich NR4 7TJ. March II.

'Kitchen slavery'

From Miss Wendy Mullins

Sir, What a little gem Mr Zoob sounds (letters, March II and 12). One is left to speculate whether this relaxed and biddable paragon shares his idyll with junior Zoobs. Or would he be driven to groom the couscous, eat the cat, stuff the dishwasher, clean the flowers and place a tasteful laundry arrangement on the freshly-ironed

Yours sincerely WENDY MULLINS, 24 Barton Road, Cambridge. March I2.

From Mr Chris Hardy

Sir, Speaking as a long-time friend of Mr Zoob, could his exemplary behaviour be prompted by the imminent arrival of the cricket season?

Yours sincerely C. M. HARDY 57 Waldram Park Road, Forest Hill, SE23. March 12.

Stops and starts

From Mr Tony Garland

Sir, Mr Graham Ramsay need have no concern (letter, March 10) about Swindon rapidly approaching his train. It all depends on your frame of reference, as Einstein might have said, possibly after inquiring of a porter at Euston: "Excuse me, does Crewe go past this train?"

Yours faithfully. TONY GARLAND, 46 Abbots Way, North Shields, Tyne and Wear. March 10.

COURT CIRCULAR

YORK HOUSE ST JAMES'S PALACE

March II: The Duke of Kent, Colonel-in-Chief, this afternoon visited A Company, 1st Battalion. The Devonshire and Dorset Regiment, Long Kesh Barracks.

His Royal Highness later visited B Company, Thiepval Barracks. Lisburn and D Company. Listraskea Barracks, Listraske County Fermanagh, Northern Ireland

The Duchess of Kent this visited Banbridge High School, Primrose Gardens. Banbridge, County Down, Northern ireland and was met on arrival by Her Majesty's Lord-Lieutenant for County Down (Mr William BUCKINGHAM PALACE March 12: His Excellency Mr Richard Matrenza was received in audience by The Queen and pre-sented the Letters of Recall of his predecessor and his own Letters of Commission as High Commissioner for Malta in London.

Mrs Matrenza was also received by Her Majesty.
Sir John Coles (Permanent Under-Secretary of State for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs)

The Queen received Fellows participating in the Common-wealth Foundation Fellowship Scheme to promote Commonwealth Understanding Dr Humayun Khan (Director of the Commonwealth Foundation) The Duke of Edinburgh this morning left Mongolia and flew to Japan. This afternoon His Royal Highness arrived in Okinawa. The Duke of Edinburgh, President Emeritus, World Wide Fund for Nature - WWF International

this evening attended a Reception for Work Wide Fund for Nature at the Harbourview Hotel. BUCKINGHAM PALACE March 12: The Prince Edward. Trustee, The Duke of Edinburgh's Award, this evening attended

Dinner at St James's Palace. BUCKINGHAM PALACE March 12: The Princess Royal this

BIRTHS: Joseph Priestley, clergy-man and acientist, Birstall, York-shire, 1733; Charles Grey, 2nd Earl Grey, Prime Minister 1830-34, Fallodon, Northumberland, 1764; Thomas Henry Tizard, oceanographer and navigator, Weymouth. 1839; Percival Lowell, astronomer. Boston, Massachusetts, 1855; Sir Hugh Walpole, novelist. Auckland, New Zealand, 1884.

DEATHS: Richard Burbage, ac-

American President 1889-93, In-Bruhl, philosopher. Paris, 1939; Angela Brazil, writer of girls' school stories, Coventry, 1947.

the planet Uranus, 1781. The first commercial air route was established across Africa after Alan Cobham landed at Crowdor aerodrome having completed the 16,000-mile flight from Cape Town, 1926.

At a by-election in Bridgwater, Somerset, 18-year-olds were ellgible to vote for the first time in Britain, 1970.

morning departed Muscat for Nizwa and Jimah, where Her Royal Highness carried out

The Princess Royal this after noon visited the Wahiba Sands Water Project in Al Hawiya. Her Royal Highness later returned to Muscat.

The Princess Royal this evening departed Muscat for London. ST JAMES'S PALACE March 12: The Prince of Wales this morning arrived at Royal Air Force Lyncham from New York. Dr Manon Williams was in KENSINGTON PALACE

March 12 The Princess Margaret,

Countees of Snowdon, Pres The Guide Association, held a Reception at Kensington Palace this afternoon following the presentation of Brooches to those who have become Queen's Guides. YORK HOUSE

ST JAMES'S PALACE March 12: The Duke of Kent, Visitor, this evening attended the annual Court Dinner, at Cranfield University. Cranfield. Redfordshire.

The Duchess of Kent, on behalf of The Queen, held an investitute at Hillshorough Castle, County Down, Northern Ireland, this

THATCHED HOUSE LODGE RICHMOND PARK March 12: Princess Alexandra this evening attended a Gala Evening for the Museum of Scotland in the Palace of Holyroodhouse, Royal engagements

Edinburgh.

The Duke of Kent will open Caradon Terrain, Aylesford, Kent. at 11.30; will open the Kent Training and Enterprise Council's new building at King's Hill, West Malling, at 200; and, as trustee, will attend the Science Museum annual dinner, Exhibition Road, SW7. at 7.30.

Princess Alexandra, as patron, will visit the Imperial Cancer Research Fund shop at Nicolson Street. Edinburgh, at 10.30.

Today's anniversaries

tor, London, 1619; Sophia Lee, novelist and dramatist, Clifton, Gloucestershire, 1824; John Frederic Daniell, chemist, inventor of the electric cell, London, 1845; 8), assassinated St Petersburg, 1881; Benjamin Harrison, 23rd

dianapolis, 1901; Lucien Lévy-Sir William Herschell discovered

Charles de Gaulle airport in Paris was opened, 1974.

Dinners

Prime Minister The Prime Minister, on behalf of Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, was the host at a dinner held on Tuesday at the Banqueting House, Whitehall, in honour of India, Pakistan, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh.

Gardeners' Company Mr Michael Heseltine, MP, was present at the spring court dinner of the Gardeners' Company held last night at Drapers' Hall. Mr I.B. Flanagan, Master, presided, assisted by the wardens. Professor Sir Ghillean Prance, FRS, Director of the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew, and Liveryman Mrs Christine Cohen also spoke. The Master also presented the Gardeners' Company prizes to students from Kew Gardens and Capel Manor.

HM Coraces Mr Michael Portillo, Secretary of State for Defence, was the host at a dinner given by Her Majesty's Government last night at Lan-caster House to mark the forthcoming handover of Chief of the Defence Staff from Field Marshall Sir Peter Inge to General Sir Charles Guthrie. The President and the Chairman of the NATO Military Committee, Nato Chiefs of Defence Staff and the Nato Supreme Allied Commi

Europe were present. Farmers' Company

Mr Marcus Cornish, Master of the Farmers' Company, presided at a ladies' dinner held last night at Barber-Surgeons' Hall. The Master also presented the Livery Salver to Mr Jeremy Courtney for services to the company.

Institute of Wastes Managem Mrs Helen Toft, President of the Institute of Wastes Managem presided at the annual dinner held last night at the Institution of Civil Engineers. Herr Ludwig Kramer, Head of Directorate E, DGXI, the European Commission, was guest speaker. Baroness Hilton of Eggardon was presented with an honorary fellowship of the institute by the president.

Canada Club The High Commissioner for Canada presided at a dinner of the Canada Club held last night at the Savoy Hotel in honour of Mr Jacques de Larosière, President of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Dev-elopment Sir Nicholas Bayne and Sir Kit McMahon also spoke.

Corabill Club The Lord Mayor proposed the toast to The Cornhill Club at the 5th annual dinner held last night at the Mansion House. Mr John Mabberley presided and Sir Brian Pitman, Chairman of Uoyds TSB Group PLC, was the principal speaker, 230 senior representatives of major banks and City financial institutions attended. The Chartered Insurance

Mr Bryan Kellett, FCII, President The Chartered Insurance Institute, was the host at a dinner. held yesterday at Guildhall, to that led to formation of The Chartered Insurance Institute. Alderman Sir Alexander Graham and Alderman Sir Greville Spratt were the speakers. Mr Ken Davidson, LLB (Hons), ACH. ACIArb, Mr Philip Rhodes, ACII, and Dr David Bland, PhD, PCII, FSCA, FIPD, were among the Caroline Duport, 18, of the corps de ballet of English National Ballet, being fitted yesterday by Peter Farmer, production designer, for Derek Deane's new Swan Lake in-the-round at the Albert Hall. The first of 12 performances is on May 29

School news The Godolphia School,

Salisbury

The Governors of The Godolphin School are pleased to announce the following Academic Scholarships for September 1997:

for September 1997:

11 *: Katherine Barnes, Godolphin
Prep: Harriet Booker, Norman
Court: Katherine Coleman, Harnham Jurior, Elizabeth Craver, Godolphin Prep: Natasha Jones,
Prince's Mead; Jessica Meins, The Study, Verity Miller, Godolphin
Prep: Floras Reeve, St. Margaret's, Cainer, Natalia Roszkowski, Leaden
Hall: Sarah Russ, Knighton House, l I + combined Academic and Music Awards: Eleanor Beer, Leaden Hall: Georgina Wood, Godolphin Prep. 2+: Pelicity Courts Donald. Farnborough Hill.

awards): Lucy Clayton, Edmund's, Salisbury: Dion Ser

Appointment Lord Macfartane of Bearsdon, KT. has been appointed Lord High Commissioner to the 1997 General Assembly of the Church of Scotland. Lord Goold is unable to take up his

Church of Scotland | Latest wills

Ordination and induction The Rev John McNab to Unst (part

The Rev Arthur D Christie to ington. Dundee. The Rev David J Devenney to Aboyne

The Rev Norman Smith to Longside. Octionation The Rev Colin Mailer as Auxiliary to Kerse, Grangemouth. Ordination and introducti to Greenbank, Glasgow. The Rev Charles Barrington as parttime Asserbse to Balerno.

The Rev G Fraser H Macratughton to Killermont, Bearsden.
The Rev Stephen Pacitis to Culter with Libberton and Qualitysen. (atroduction

The Rev Douglas M Main as Interim tophers, Edinburgh.
The Rev Henry D M Dusch as Auxiliary Minister at Glasgow Auxiliary Cathedral

The Rev Alistoir M Horne: Invengowrie to St Andrew's West, Falkirk.

The Rev James E Hunter from

Admiral Sir Anthony Griffin President, Royal Institution of Naval Architects 1981-84, Chairman British Shipbuilders 1977-80. of Rocham, West Sussex, left estate valued at £260.532 net.

Joan Christie Gallie, of Southport, Merseyside, left estate valued at Metseyside, left estate valued in 11.108.533 net.
She left 11.000 to the Shtuck Heart Foundation and 1500 to the Estate. Sha left 11.000 to the Shtuck Heart Foundation and 1500 to the Estate to be divided between Smith Empire Decreased Generations for Essential National Sciences Science Scienc

Elleen Mary Burton, of Bridge End. Warwick, left estate valued at Site 13.475.459 net.

She left 15.000 to the RSFCA, with her residuary estate divided between the importal cancer research Fund, withinks and Rheumann Council for Research, Leukemma Research Fanct and the Cancer Research MacMillam Fund.

Patrick Joseph Duffy, of Edghasion, Birmingham, left estate valued at £1,857,265 net. He left £1,000 to the Roman Catholic Archolistop of Sirmingham and £500 in the Superior of the Oranor, Edgbaston for Masse.

Bernard Hawkins, of Great Bookham, Surrey, left estate valued at £1,151,813 net.

Birthdays today

Miss Valerie Arnos, managing director. Quality and Equality, 43: Mr Walter Annenberg, American diplomat, 89; Sir Raymond Beil. former vice-president. European Investment Bank, St; Lord Borrie. QC. 66: Mr Terence Brady, playwright, novelist and actor, 58. Sir Terence Burns, economist, 53. Lord Butterworth, 79: Sir Michael Checkland, former Director-General, BBC, 61: Miss Lesley Collier. ballerina, 50; Mr Lionel Friend, conductor. 52: Sir Graham Hart. civil servaat. 51: Sir Horace Heyman, former chairman, English Industrial Estates, 85; Mr. Howell James, political secretary to the Prime Minister, 43: Sir Robert Mark, former Commissioner, Metropolitan Police, 80; Mr James Marshall, MP, 56; Mr David Nobbs, author, 62 Dr David Peace, glass engraver, 82; Air Commodore Helen Renton, former director, WRAF, 66; Mr Neil Sedaka, singer and composer. 58: Mr Jan Slater, former chairman, Slater Walker Securities, 68 Sir Reo Stakis, hotelier, 84; Lord Thomas of Gresford, QC, 60; Mr Peter Vigners, MP, 59.

Buckingham Palace lancheon

The Queen with Prince Edward yesterday held a luncheon party at Buckingham Palace. The guests

Luncheons

HM Government Mr Malcolm Rifland, QC, Secretary of State for Foreign and Commonwealth Affairs, was the host at a huncheon given yesterday by Her Majesty's Government at I Cariton Gardens in honour of Prince Sultan Bin Abdulaziz Al Saud, Second Deputy Prime and Aviation and Inspector General of Saudi Arabia.

HM Government Mr Michael Purtillo, Secretary of State for Defence, was the host at a luncheon given yesterday by Her Mojesty's Government at Admiralty House in honour of Professor Benjamino Andreatta Italian Minister for Defence.

Receptions

Prime Minister The Prime Minister and Mrs Major were the hosts at a reception held last night at 10 Downing Street to mark the centenary of the Blue Cross.

To Archbishop Laigh Barbarito, GCVO

Archbishop Luigi Barbarito. GCVO, Apostolic Nubcio, was the guest of honour at a reception given by the Association of Papal Orders in Great Britain, the Catholic Union of Great Britain and the Friends of the Holy Father last night in Westminster Cathedral Hall. Lord Craignyle. Sir Hugh Rossi and Mr Colin Edwards were the hosts.

Forthcoming marriages

Dr J.M.W. Chipman and Lady Theresa Manners The engagement is announced between John, son of Lawrence Carroll Chipman and Maria Isabel Prados, of Montreal, Canada, and Theresa, younger daughter of the Duke and Duches of Rutland, of Belvoir Castle, Grantham. Lincolnshire. The marriage will take place on June 28, 1007.

Mr H.C. Arnold and Senorita C.M. Quesada The engagement is announced between Hugh Cholmondeley, we eldest son of Mr and Mrs Hugo Arnold, of Tarvin, Chester, and Coling Maria developer of Salar Celina Maria, daughter of Senor and Seriora Jose Quesada, of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Mr W.E. Church

and Miss A.E. Barke The engagement is announced between Edward, elder son of Mr William Church, of Headcorn, Kent, and Mrs Bryony Church, of Rolvenden. Keni, and Amanda, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs David Barke, of Nunton,

Mr E.H. Ellis and Miss K.A. Sykes The engagement is announced between Edward, younger son of Mr and Mrs Howard Ellis, of Slawston. Leicestershire, and Kate, daughter of Mr and Mrs Roger Sykes, of Great Glen, Leicestershire.

Lieutenant D.S. Garland, RN, and Miss K.J. Wheater The engagement is announced between Darren, elder son of Mr and Mrs Stephen Garland, of Cleckheaton, Yorkshire, and Katharine, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs lan Wheater, of Berkhamsted, Hertfordshire. Mr A.M. Gray and Miss C.S.S. Hodgkinson The engagement is announced between Anthony, only son of the late Dr Kenneth Gray and of

Mrs Fiona Gray, of East Harisey. North Yorkshire, and Cleo, only daughter of the late Colin and June Hodgkinson, of Worminghall, Buckinghamshire, and Dordogne, France. Mr LLA Macmillan and Miss J. Practor The engagement is announced between James, eldest son of the late Mr James Macmillan and of Mrs David Melkle, of Rothesay, Isle of Buse, and Jane, only daughter of Mr and Mrs John Proctor, of West Mailing, Kent.

Mr A.G. Rischie and Miss M.L. Twelves

The engagement is announced between Andrew, eldest son of Mr and Mrs H.S. Ritchie, of Digswell, Hertfordshire, and Merrigan, younger daughter of Mr and Mrs A.R.F. Twelves, of Ashford in the Water, Derbyshire.

New ambassador

Mr David Fall has been appointed Ambassador to Vietnam from May. He succeeds Mr Peter Williams, who will be retiring from the Diplomatic Service.

Eastern Circuit.

Legal appointment Mr John Edward Anthony Samuels, QC, to be a Circuit Judge assigned to the South

BMDS: 0171 680 6880 PRIVATE: 0171 481 4000

PERSONAL COLUMN

For I am with you to save you, mys the Lord I shall make an east of all the nations among whom I have dis-persed you, but I shall not make an end of you, jere-mish 30: 11

BIRTES

COTTON - On March Sth, to Sarah (wie Johnson) and Nicholas, a daughter, Georgia Dainy, a mister for at The Portland Hospital, to Christina (26e homes-life) and Thomas Son, Alden Thomas, their latar The Portland Hospital, to Yelena and Vitaly, a son, HOLDEN - On 10th March 1997, to Emily and Robert, a son and a daughter.

HORTON - On March 7th, to Gell (wie Hoggard) and Guy, a thughter, Elizabeth Asse.

RADLEY - On March 7th, to Harriet (née Benson) and Lawrence, a daughter, VARLEY - To jobn and Alex, a son, Saron John Mawarone, born 26th February 1997 at Spiney, Australia. Wills - On March 6th in Singapore, to Didi (née Hribai) and Patrick, a daughter, Ella Now at 253 Holland Boad, Singapore 1027.

DEATHS

BLAND - On March 9th stand on March vin suddenly in Queen Elizabeth Rospital, King's Lyan, Margaret aged 82 of Wells-next-the-Sex, Norfolk, Funeral Survice at St Richolas Church, Wells, Tuesday 18th March I pin. Family flowers only; constions to Est.

BOMKER - On March 8th peacefully Alfred Swald Committee of March 201 o Trimity Church, Northwood on Trends March 18th at 2pm followed by private cremation at Breakspear Crematorium, Ruislip, Pamily flowers only ponations please, to Macmillan Nurses clo E. Spark Lnd, 104 Pinner Bond, Northwood EA6 185, tel: (01923) 825372 formerly of Clarks Chiley formerly Enginee: Engineering, Keuilworth, suddenly in hospital in his 54th year. Dearly loved husband of Veronica, much have booked to jensite and dear uncle to jensite and at 11.20 and Family flowers only places, but it deared dearettes and places, but it deared dearettes are function of Whenford Co RL. Dearet Family libertes. 22 George Street, Leanington Spa CV31 1ET.

DEATHS

Leanington Spa CV31 LET.

CASTOLIO - Lan (See Terror) suddenly on 11th Harch at the john Redeliffe Hospital, Oxford, aged 72. Beloved wife of the late David, mother of 4. Charles (Gert), Gillian, Elchard and Charles to the law Franch at 2 pm on Friday 21st March at St Deny's Church, Stanford in the Valle, Oxon. The See See Densities to English Church or Christian Add. To God be the Glory! COOK - R. W.M. (Dick) died Directors (01923) 852899.

Challe - Suddenly on 11th
March Rev. Paul Robert S.J.
Editor of Christian Order and Formal Pinters of Carre
House, London SWI.
Requiem Mass at the Sacred Brant Cauch. Idea Hill.
Wimbledon, SWI9, on Tuesday 18th March at 10am. No flowers but domptions if desired to jesuit Missions, 11 Edge Hill.
Wimbledon, London SWI9
ANESDE - On March 11th

(01291) 02939.

(AMPORD - Joan peacefully at home aged 83, after a long illuser borne with dignity and one of the second at Ogbourne St George Cherch, was Manhattung 15th March She lowed Downer but would have welcomed donations to the Macmillan Purse.

[ACCOMMOD - Flavry Wilson

Aid. To God be the Glory!

COOK - RWM. (Dick) died peacefully at Harefield Hospital on Saturday 8th
March. Sady missed by Pat,
Carol and Jamet. Committee
11.15 am Monday 17th
March. West HerraCrematerium. Garston.
Family fluwers oraly.
Donations if desired to Cancer Research Campaign.
Enquiries to Funeral
Directors (01923) 852899.
CRAME - Suddemly on 11th

DAVISOR - On Musch 11th, mercifully following a long timess Notta Panners aged 78 years of Sedbury Park Nursing Home, Sedbury, Chepstow. Funeral Service Wednesday March 19th, 230pm at the Forest of Dean Committee To Down by request, donations if so desired for Parkinsons Disease Society may be sent to Fully Blanchy & Son, 5 Station Road, Chepstow, Monmouthshire. Tel: (01291) 624939.

HAMFORD - John percentally at ing, Kenilworth,

JACKHESOR - Harry Wilson quite suddenly on March 9th in Woodchurch, Rent. Service and exemation at Charles Crematorium on Friday 14th March at 1.20pm, Denations to ENLL wel, on Wednesday, Listowel, 12th Mar 12th March, Peacefully at home. Private functal to memorial service, as wished. Family Howers andy. Any domations to The Children's Society, Edward Rudolf House, Margery Street, London, WCLX Off.

JOHNSON - Née Blunk (ex Rowntree) Ellen Mary Monico en March 10th 1997 aged 90 years of Eversley, Believed wife of the late Thomas Parry Johnson, and the Ellenten Harrest Parish Church, Wrenham, Wednesday March 19th at 12 noon. We would be pleased to hear from any descendants of Shanley and leases Bornaman o Donnies

BARTIN - On Fox Blanch at Bangs Rouse Mundon Blanch at Bartin D.S.C., formerly of Rouse, aged 77 years, much loved husband of the late North Constance, father of Junio and Tom, grandfather of five Private creamiton followed by a Service of Thanksgiving and interment at St. Fever's Cherch, Ropley, on Treeday 18th March at 3 pm. Donations to the Peleuds of the Royal Sempadic County Hospital Winchester c/o Kemp & Service, 93 Elight

MORRIS - On March 10th, Alison Derother aged 51, peacefully at home after living courageously with cancer. Desgater of lay and the march of Joshus and Enchel Finition, sister of Diams and David, grandmother of Foppy, companion of lane. Belowed and missed by all. No flowers by request. Densitions to St Gemma's Hospics, Moortown, Leeds 1517 6QD or Christian Ali, FO Ber 100, London 581

PERIONALD - Inidi L. ce Sti. March at Biomptoni, appl 91. Femeral at Lessagemi Church Lymeroft Gardens, NW6 at 12.20 pm Thomstey 20th March. No flowers to the Call Co. Lorentons, 181 Exversions Bill, NW3 4QS.

Margaret suddenly peacefully at home on the Happing 38 years and belov parents of John, Jeremy and James. No flowers please but donations if wished to a charity of dames choice. In enquiries to AE. Bennett & Sons Funeral Directors, (01789) 267035.

WANTED BOATH - On March 1st 1997

soath - On March 1st 1997 suddenly in Florida, Doctor Stuart aged 67 years. Beloved husband of Jo, in the condition of Susah, Sam and David and grandfatter of Amy and Sophia, The Funcial Service will take place on Saturday Manch 15th et St. Matthew's Church, Commonts, Hawaite at 11.30am. Flowers or denations, if desired, for Landmenta Research may be sent clo Jan. Steel 5 Son, 163 Hursley Road, Chandlers Ford, Barra 2063 11H.

State Could prescribe a beauty in the conditions of Goodfrey and party layer property and party layer property of the conditions if wished to Katharine House Hospice, Adderbury 0217 3NL. Service of Landment, Street of Landment, Landmen Philipy March 21st at 3 pm.

SPRING - Dr. Frank Strumt, F25. The level fembrad of Mary and bather of John and Virtin, very penontally on Serurbay 1st March, aged 89. Pemeral at Goldens Green Crumatorians, HWI 1, at 11.45 am on Montay, 17th
March. Enquiries to Leverton, (0171) 387-6075.

MARI- On March 1000 mills to the loving case of the staff at Pepperalli Court, York, Major Eric William Reglyy Union Football, Eughy Union Pootball, English Eughy Union Committee Member 1968-Committee Member 19681977. (formerly of Creality of

Here if so desired may be and on a plate in cheech or sent to Peppermill Court, Huntington Reed, North SMIJANSON - John Henson Wille' Heren 10th other a short Sharet, Loved by Many. Ashtend Thursday March 20th 3 pm followed by cremation. No flowers, donations if wished to Cancer Research c/o Hawkins & Sons (01372) 377H35.

ROBERTS - Sir Bryan, A Thunk-giving Service alli-tuke place at 11.30 am on Friday 11th April in the Crypt Chapel of St Paul's Cathedral.

ing Agency. If you profes a plump 01352 715909.

TICKETS FOR SALE COATS, for costs per-d Best price paid. All restlecals See No 1734

HI AVAIL: Planton, all chestri, BAdams, P.Collins, C. Dica, Ragby ell sport 0171 480 6183 decide, sampless, ordered arti-cies, showly, textiles, costage problemy etc 0171 229 9618 Sporting events available. Tel 0171 930 3895 per 0171 930 CLEX & CARTIES wanted High task prices hald 0171 405 2072 or was 11 Park Low VI. TICKETS FOR SALE

RUGBY '97 Oly 1 485 4414 (Cby) Wales vs England Set March 15th Rest peats or Standing This or full hospitality packages smalled 0171 378 9090

"RUGBY "KYDER CUP" "TRENCE OPEN "ASCO" TICKETS & E PROUCHT & SOLD 6171 839 8323

ALL TICKETS ENGLAND & WALES Few fichels remaining Washinston '97 Royal Ascot, Cricket, Ryder Cup, Grand Prix Phantom, Salgon, Les Min UZ, P.Collins, C.Dieu HOSPIDARY ON TOTAL CHAP

ANNOUNCEMENTS

THANKSGIVING NURTECOMENG MARRIAGES AND MARRIAGES Please send Court Page unnouncements by postifics to: Mrs. J. Neeman, Court & Social Advertision, The Times, PO Bux 475, Virginia Street, London B1 7025, Advertising These is $15.25 per line in: VAT.

Whithledge 97, as supering events, Bought & Sold V171 394 8282

EL TICICITE precision Pienes Salgon, All sport & pay. Chang or in London, 0171 240 399 ALL TICKETS 5 Machine, Part Cot-Bay, C. Disser, all tender para sport & description 271 925 0005

OVERSEAS TRAVEL NAA EUREMENTA Tellor made tomer & Matte + all last lask Call 0177, 916 2223. AET/ 84069 ATOL 3101. Official & Countries all several and sever

WINTER SPORTS MEY they for any number of day the best theirs for Ed West with A Triller-mate heliday White Box Ski 0171 792 1186 LATE OFFERS, Cond chajets in Femmes, Austrie, Swim & Camada Ski Total 0181 948 6922 Abor Depart Sury des. White Rec 0171 792 1185 ATOL 3562.

Prespicate 0000 906609 A NEWSPAPER drugs very day they were been Eldewigs, Some dry despunds, 0121 728 5026. THE TIMES - 1791-1790 other titles available, Senty for presentation, - then " Sending". Instrumber titles, 0121-505 6022 or Call Free 0500 of either out of the parties concerned or a process, time and home telephone number and adjusts. Advertisements for the Court Page must be asserted to pulsing days prior to publication and are accepted subject to confirmation.

COURT & SOCIAL

Tel: 9171 782 7347. Fax 9171 782 7725

FOR SALE

stone & terratorna flegate floor tiles. Cobble sevia, trought, massury service fatternat del. Holley F 01380 850039 (Wiln.) FLATSHARE and The control of th PLATERIES London's foreness (Est. 1970) Professional III alany service, D271-589 545 71/1 000 5015 (mm)

CHARGEON Manuface 595, 1st fir Cut, CHW, famule, 685per. 1 mins tube. 0171 3704620. to We, WE, WIL, WIA, SW7. Max. COM. Tel: 0)71 5142527 W14 Carden room in 3 hed house as stopp/trabes/bases, £35pe incl. 0171 603 $015 (even). TO Opp Ease Gine. 3rd gen, and fac, 965, 2 beds, own phone 2 TV, at rube, E110ye he, 0171 937 6142 after 6ps.

SITUATIONS VACANT

FOR SALE

ACORN

Let Acom give you back the freedom you nnce enjoyed. Our safe, reliable stairlifts can transform your life. And they're a lot more affordable than you might think.

GIVE FILLS & LIET

FLIGHTS DIRECTORY

OSTCUTTING on Higher & hole to Bumppe, USA & second depairm close. Diploment Traval Survices Lef: 0121-730 220L ASTA 26703 LATA/ATOL 1365. michaely Delly low test flights and hotel accomplishes. All mission or German Travel Caute 0101 429 2500. Arra 70685 Arol. 2977 LATA

PUBLIC NOTICES CHARTY COMMONSKIN
Charley. Element Heavy Promose Bover, Speciment Schome, Barry Reproduced Schome, Beforenced PC-3080461/44886-CD(Life).
The Chirghy Commissionment Investment a Schome For the Investment stocks, at Youghan it
Charles, Schichers. 32 Date
Person Schickers. 32 Date

WOTERS in heavily given there the Sary-Seventh ANDRIAL (GOURD ANDRIAL COUNTY ANDREASE AND A SARY-SEVENT AND A SARY-SEVENT ANDRIAN AND A SARY-SEVENT AND A SA

MEANS

For your face video guide to charving a stantia, or page adventation, call feedone

0800 19 19 19

TRADE: 0171 481 1982 FAX: 0171 481 9313 LEGAL, PUBLIC, PUBLIC NOTICES COMPANY CHARTY COMMISSION
Chasiny: The National Sea Thais long Trust behaves including alternations of the objects of the Charity halternate: C-1-640-5-CD/Ldn)
The Commissioners propose to make a Schause for the charity

NOTICES TO FLASS MITTERS FOR THE SECTION PLEASE TELEPHONE 0171 680 6878 FAE: 0171 482 9315

& PARLIAMENTARY

INTERNATIONAL

PRONE CALLS

lapan

Nigeria

Ghana

USA

India :

Malaysia

Morocco

lebanon

DAL.

Sri Lanka

Mauritius

Russia"

Romania

Austria '

savings PER MINUTE - ANYTHME

28p phone calls 24 hours a day. Hong Kong 199p 67p £200 67p 60p :42 56p 10p Pakistan / \3fp it's so simple... No Extra Charges 57p

78p (1.55p 28p

Philippines 71p Emland A 25p 88p 1900 v (5) 475p 59p 57p and many many more low low rates...

Free Itemised Statements Constant Low Rates, All Day, Every Day to Over 240 countries 0800

Call Freephone 0747 000 and see how much YOU CAN SAVE

dit. er are he hair;

William 125 CT 21104 PINE ! W. .

Sim

Victory. as 😅 Week trice at the Deficiency e deciario

His 204 11 in all the ther :

Any Nation with

Notices are subject to

Arry Phone No Installation High Quality Lines and Service Per Second Charging

ALI OU KIN

in the

'e pro-

among pt that to pay

so left

where ris on elow a nd it is ry had anonap

i some

entives

rd care

re cusrequire

लंग ठाँत

wwide

e of the

EXOMP

aming

ear. The

ined its carnings

he eight-

rom Ini-

umeses

ıst year's

ស៊ីនេ by 9

ilion. As and ex-

ir Clive

ent time

ng BET, rofits of fits rose allion on igher at 17.13p, a

17. This

ment by

page 26

10年10年10年10年10日

brom

OBITUARIES

THE EARL OF LISTOWEL

The 5th Earl of Listowel. PC, GCMG, politician and former Governor-General of Ghana, died. yesterday aged 90. He was born on September

The ards

min men min men in apole in apole led manuals)

Tracing

Tracing

Tracing

5 11 (bg 1

아이 이렇

 $AP_{i}^{i} \geq r_{i}^{i} \frac{1}{2}$

TO A

-following

To office

والإفاق or the

Vity

125

31

رائي ۽

1945. Go.

::0:1

 $\kappa_{i,m,\ell}^{A_{ij},q}$

100

ne of the last figures to survive from the postwar Attlee Government, "Bil-Jy" Listowel went on to have a distinguished career as the first Governor-General of Ghana in the turbulent days of Kwame Nkrumah. It was a delicate assignment but it was carried off with grace and distinction by a man whose political career had largely been concerned with the Empire and the Commonwealth. Yet Listowel's outlook had always been a left-wing one he had played a full and active part in the Fabian Commonwealth Bureau - and he had no difficulty at all in acclimatising to the "wind of change" era in Africa starting, as it did, with independence for Ghana. William Francis Hare (as he was until he succeeded his father, the 4th Earl, in 1931) paid a substantial price for his convictions. As an undergraduate he had been removed from Balliol College, Oxford to which he had gone from Eton — by his father on the ground that he had fallen under left-wing influences. He was then sent to Magdalene College, Cambridge, but his political attitudes did not He immediately joined both the Cambridge University Labour Club and the Cambridge Union, where he frequently spoke in favour of socialist causes (on one occasion appearing on the Cambridge Union order paper in support of the miners' leader, A. J. Cook).

At this stage of his career he refused to use his courtesy title of Viscount Ennismore and it was as plain "Mr Hare" that he went to work at Toynbee Hall (as Clement Attice had done before him). There, living on E3 a week, he was very active in setting up an organis-ation called "Neighbours Ltd", the declared objective of which was to distribute the funds of the wealthy among the poor.

His way of life, though, necessarily changed when at the age of 25 he succeeded his father in both the Irish earldom of Listowel and the UK barony of Hare, under which he sat in the House of Lords. But, although he inherited his father's titles, he by no means tween married couples consid-

Lord Listowel, Governor-General of Ghana, left, and the country's leader Dr Nkrumah at a march past in 1958

came into all his fortune, a substantial part of which went to his more orthodox brothers - John Hare, later as Lord Blakenham chairman of the Conservative Party, and Alan Hare, an officer of MI6 and subsequently chairman of the Financial Times. His automatic elevation to the Lords there was no right of renunciation in those days - meant also the end of Listowel's hopes to sit in the Commons. He proved, however, a very conscientious Labour peer, at one time both before and during the first Attlee Government, serving as his party's deputy leader in the House of Lords. Initially, because there were so few Labour peers available, there was no lack of opportunity for him to display his abilities. It was not long before he was recognised as a knowledgeable and earnest contributor to debates on pretty well every subject, and in 1934 he introduced a measure of his own, known as the Summary Jurisdiction (Domestic Procedure) Bill, which was designed to enhance any chances of conciliation beering separation and divorce, and to provide opportunities for them to discuss their relationship with the help of the bench. From the start he saw in

Nazism and Fascism the chief enemies to his hopes of social reform. He became an active member of a large number of ad hoc bodies which aimed to prevent the spread of totalitarian ideas: these included the World Alliance for Combating Anti-Semitism, the Relief Committee for the Victims of Fascism and the National Joint Committee for Spanish Relief, of which he was vicechairman. In 1934 he visited Berlin to try to help some of the early inmates of the concentration camps and, later in the same year, he went with Ellen Wilkinson (later to lead the Jarrow Hunger March) to investigate the revolt in the Asturias. Although 'armed with a letter of recommendation from the Spanish Premier, they were unable to make any proper inquiries and were expelled by the

When Japan launched her attack on China, he became chairman of the Friends of the Chinese People and president of the China Campaign Committee. In 1938 he visited Spain again on behalf of the relief organisations and in particular he was associated with the work of providing homes for refugee Basque children. With the outbreak of the Second World War, having been rejected for overseas service on medical grounds, he joined the RAMC as a private. In 1941 he was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the Intelligence Corps but, when turned down once again for overseas service, he decided to devote all his energies to politics. He had been attending the House whenever his military duties allowed, and in 1942 was promoted from assistant whip to Chief Labour Whip in the Lords. Being an old sympathiser with the Congress movement, he had always made a special study of Indian questions, and this knowledge led to his appointment to the Coalition Government in 1944 as Under-Secretary to the India Office.

he believed that power should be transferred into Indian hands as rapidly as possible, and that when independence was granted its shadow should not be confused with its substance. He also acted as deputy leader of the House of Lords which meant dealing authoritatively with every aspect of governmental policy and, after Labour's victory in 1945, he continued under Lord Addison to handle general questions in addition to becoming Postmaster-General. This now defunct position was often looked upon as a mere stepping-stone to higher things but Listowel took it on as a job deserving all of his best efforts.

His first main task was the restoration of prewar postal deliveries, but from early on he began to introduce a number of improvements, which included the development of inland night air-mails to link up with the railway system. With nationalisation, the services of Cable and Wireless for the first time came under the wing of his department, and in for the installation of new telephones.

He was sworn of the Privy Council in 1946. He also represented East Lewisham on the LCC from 1937 to 1946 and was vice-chairman of its parliamentary committee. Between 1947, when he left the Post Office, and 1950 he held successively the posts of Secretary of State for India (in the transition period to independence in August 1947), for Burma (until January 1948) and Minister of State for Colonial Affairs (until the general election of February 1950). it was, therefore, something of a cornedown when, after the narrow Labour victory of that vear, he found himself appointed merely Joint Parlia-mentary Secretary at the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries - a position which he held until the fall of the Attlee Government in October in many ways, however, the most fruitful part of his career was still to come. Appointed to the governor-generalship of Chang by the Macmillan Government in 1957 at the direct request of the newly independent country's first Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah, Listowel soon proved an instant success. The years of Nkrumah's excesses were still in the future and there was opportunity at that time at least for a Governor-General to excercise a restraining influence on the undoubtedly magnetic political leader who rejoiced in the title of "the Redeemer". When Listowel left Ghana in 1960, it was to universal regret - he had endeared himself to the populace by having his daughter born in Ghana that year given the African name of Akua. Listowel was three times married. He married first, in 1933, Judith de Marffy-Mantuano, the daughter of a minister in the Hungarian Government and herself a well-known activist over Eastern Europe. This marriage was dissolved in 1945. In 1958 he married the former blues singer Stephanie Wise but this marriage was also dissolved in 1963. He married for a third time in 1963 a former hairdresser Pamela Read. He is survived by a daughter of his first marriage, a daughter of his second marriage and by two sons and a daughter of his third. The elder son of his third marriage now becomes His appointment was popular addition he was faced with a the right to sit in the House of in India as it was known that quite unprecedented demand Lords as the 4th Baron Hare.

followed a group of plague survivors — the last men and women left on earth after a new disease has wiped out 98 per cent of mankind. The question had been intriguing

Nation for several years. How could he cope without clean water, lightbulbs, pencils? To answer that, he made his family self-supporting for nine months. He bought a goat and some chickens and he and his wife Kate - formerly a pianist grew all the family's food.

The next series, Blake's

Seven, was set in outer space and did particularly well - opening as it did only days after Star Wars had its first to Los Angeles in 1980. Working in Hollywood had been a dream for years. But the reality of an increasingly grey-suited film-making environment on the West Coast did not suit Nation's style and there were no new television series. There was, however, always some new project for

Fox or MGM to keep him busy, and American aficionados of Dr Who, such as Steven Nation uprooted his family night in Britain in 1977.

ARLETTE TEDDER

Arlette Tedder, wartime WAAF officer, died on March 3 aged 77. She was born on November 4, 1019.

ARLETTE HARRIS - "Harry", as she was affectionately known throughout the Royal Air Force during the war - is remembered by Air Marshal Sir Ivor Broom as "one of the last of that vanishing breed of British women who put their country before everything else in their lives". For Sir Arthur Harris she was "the personification of the spirit of British women at war". She also won the enduring affection of Earl Mountbatten of Burma.

She was born Edith Arlette Harris in Birmingham and studied the piano at the Royal College of Music before taking a secretarial course at Pitman's College and began work as a shorthand typist for the City of Birmingham Cor-poration, But civilian work could never satisfy her and in 1941 she was commissioned in the Women's Auxiliary Air Force.

In 1943 she became adjutant at the WAAF officer cadet training unit at Windermere. There her attractive personality and lively sense of fun soon earned her the title of pin-up girl of Bomber Command". Lord Louis Mountbatten, then Supreme Allied Commander South-East Asia, also fell under her spell when she joined his personal staff in Ceylon. He always referred to her as "the adorable Ariette".

In November 1945, after the Japanese surrender, Mountbatten moved his HO to Singapore. There, Arlette found herself seated on his right at full dress dinners at Government House. But her escort to "super parties" on board the cruisers Birmingham and Belfast and the des-troyer Charity was a naval officer, Alan Tedder, whom she married in Bulawayo in 1948, after she had been demobbed. They returned to live in Singapore, where their son Nigel was born.

The Tedders came back to Britain in 1956. They were divorced in 1973, a decision she bitterly regretted. Her second marriage, in 1973, to Laurence Harlow, was shortlived. She went back to nurse her first husband through his final illness, and reverted to the name Tedder by deed poll.

Her home in Reading, where she worked as secretary to the managing director of Tate and Lyle, was a treasurehouse of RAF and WAAF memorabilia. Throughout her later civilian life, she remained a sort of icon among wartime aviators, attending almost every RAF reunion.

In 1991 she appeared with Sir John and Lady Mills and Anne Shelton in the video film Women at War, and in May 1995 she was a guest of the Armed Forces Minister, Nicholas Soames, at the service at St Paul's Cathedral to mark diagnosed in 1983, she continued working for the next ten years until she was 74. Her philosophy was always summed up in four words, "get on with it", and when her old friend Air Marshal Sir Ivor Broom visited her in hospital two weeks before her death, she flourished tickets for a forthcoming service for the Mosquito Aircrew Association at the RAF church of St Clement Danes in the Strand. She is survived by her son.

SIR THOMAS LODGE

consultant radiologist. United Sheffield Hospitals, 1946-74, died on February 16 aged 87. He was born on November 25, 1909.

DURING his many years in Sheffield, during which he was also clinical lecturer at Sheffield University from 1960 to 1974. Tommy Lodge published many articles and books on radiodiagnosis, particularly in children. He was also noted for his work on the respiratory and skeletal svstems.

Perhaps his most valuable original research was his thesis The Radiological Anatomy of the Blood Vessels of the Human Lung, which was awarded the Twining Medal in 1946. It provided the basis of many of our current con-cepts of heart and lung disease. From his twin bases at the United Sheffield Hospitals and the university he was a stalwart leader of national and international medical diagnostic radiology.

Born and educated in Sheffield, he qualified as a doctor there in 1934 and after postgraduate training in Sheffield and Manchester (radiotherapy), was appointed consultant radiologist to the United Sheffield Hospitals and clinical lecturer to the University of Sheffield. He was knighted on his retirement in 1974.

As a clinical radiologist, Lodge had a sharp diagnostic eye, a wonderful memory and a remarkable facility for rapid reporting of radiological ex-

He played a leading role at the Faculty of Radiologists which became the Royal College of Radiologists in 1975, serving as its president, 1963-

66, and honorary editor of its journal Clinical Radiology. 1954-59. He became its Gold Medallist in 1986. He was consultant adviser to the Department of Health and Social Security, 1965-74. His international reputation earned him fellowships and honours not only in this country but from radiological societies and institutions all over the world.

His leadership secured for Sheffield its position as a major contributor to British and international radiology.

When he was working as a young doctor in general practice in Sheffield, among his patients were leading members of the notoriously violent Sheffield gangs of that time, and Lodge would entertain his colleagues with colourful stories about that turbulent period in the city's history. He was a keen sportsman, excelling in swimming and water polo and cricket. He also had a great reputation as an afterdinner speaker.

In retirement he and his wife, Aileen, lived in Brighton. She died in 1990 after 50 years of very happy marriage. He leaves a son and daughter.

Terry Nation with one of his extraterrestrial creations

Appointments

Vale (Wakefield).

Magna (Bath & Wells).

Dean of Southwell.

(Carlisle).

The Rev Robert Gage, Vicar, South

Mymms and Ridge (St Albans): to be Canori Residentiary and Pre-centor of Wakefield Cathedral.

The Rev Stephen Gott, Assistant

Curate, Mount Pellon: to be Vicar,

St Thomas, Greetland and West

The Rev Richard Hall, Rector.

Saltford w Corston and Newton St

Log to be also Rural Dean of Chew

The Rev Peter Hill, Priest-in-charge, Calverton: to be also Rural

The Rev David Kennedy, Chaplain

to be Priest-in-charge, St Matthew.

Barrow in Furness, and part-time

Chaplain, Furness College

The Rev Robert King, Assistant Curate, Holy Trinity, Herelord: to be Priest-in-charge. Holy Trinity.

The Rev Ruth Legg, Curate, Christ

Church Nailsea: to be Vicar, Pill w Easton in Gordano and Portbury

The Rey Phillip McPadyen, Vicar.

of Humberside University (York):

TERRY NATION shadow of his monster. What-Terry Nation, television writer, died on March 9 aged 66. He was born in August 8, 1930.

TERRY NATION provided British children with a new nightmare when he invented the Daleks, those diabolical foes of Dr Who, in 1963. The Daleks made him a rich man, one of the highest-paid freelance television scriptwriters of his generation. Yet he had first turned down the suggestion of writing for a children's television series, and had only dashed off the idea to please his agent

The BBC liked his proposal, and introduced the Daleks during the fifth Dr Who episode, entitled The Dead Planet, at the end of 1963. Made of nobbly metal and about three feet high, the creatures resembled upturned beakers with domed tops. A dull metal flange surrounded their "heads", and three different kinds of rod probed the air like a beetle's antennae. There was an endearingly homemade quality to the early Daleks, whose death-ray guns were constructed, fairly obviously, from rubber sink plungers. "We will exterminate, delivered in strangulated falsetto, was their rallying cry. Like Frankenstein, Nation never quite escaped the long

The Rev Allan Pye, Vicar, Hayton

w Cumwhitton and Rural Dean of Brampton (Carlisle): to be also an

The Rev Brian Ralph, Assistant

Curate, St John on Bethnal Green

Fearn Ministry: to be Team Vicar.

St John on Bethnal Green Team

The Rev Alan Ripley, Rector, South Petherton w The Scaving-

Canon of Carlisle

ever distinguished adult work he later put his mind to, he was known around BBC corridors ever afterwards as "the Dalek Man". "I find that against my will I am taken over by the Daleks," he once His love for science fiction had blossomed as an only child, growing up in South Wales. After school at Cardiff. Nation briefly joined his father in the family furnituremaking business. When that closed he tried his luck as a stand-up comedian. After several auditions, endured by the audience in poinful silence, a forthright agent told him that. while his material was good, his delivery was appalling.

Spike Milligan took piry on the gaunt young man he found haunting the BBC studios, and gave him a cheque for £10 to write a script for The Goon Show. He liked the result, and Nation all but moved in to Milligan's office over a greengrocer's shop in Shepherds Bush. He also wrote comedy for Frankie Howerd, Harry Worth and Peter Sellers, and episodes for The Saint.

He was working with Tony Hancock in Nortingham when his London agent rang to ask. if he wanted to write for a new BBC children's series, Dr Who, "A children's series.

Who do they think I am?" was his initial reaction. But when he returned to London without a job he decided to give it a try, and dreamt up a verbal de-scription of a Dalek, which he named after the spine of an encyclopaedia on his bookshelf. DAL-EK.

According to the storyline of the feature film. Dr Who and the Duleks (1965), the Daleks were not actually robots, as they were popularly presumed to he, but the last members of a doomed race which had adapted to the corrosive atmosphere of their planet, Scaro, by wearing protective metal armour. The live part of them was a slimiv green, brain-sized

After a rapturous reception from the series' youthful audience, the Daleks became a fixture on Dr Who, and established Nation at the BBC. Their success cost him surprisingly little effort. Though he could be a painstaking writer on more serious projects, he found he was able to write a Dajck television script in about eight hours. The Daleks made way for deadlier foes during the 1970s. Nation, not pleased by the sadistic direction the series appeared to be taking. branched out on his own again. His first new series was The Survivors (1975) which Spielberg, made "the Dalek Man" welcome. Terry Nation died in Los Angeles after several years of bad health, and is survived by his wife and by a son and a daughter.

tons; to be also a Prebendary of Church news Wells Cathedral. Priest-in-charge, St Matthew. Nechells (Birmingham).

The Rev John Pescod, Vicar, St (Norwich): to be also an Honorary John and St Mary, Frome: to be Canon of Norwich Cathedral. also Rural Dean of Frome (Bath & The Rev Michael McNamara. Team Vicar, Team Ministry of St Paul w Emmanuel, Bolton (Manchester): to be Assistant Cu-The Rev Barry Priory, Rector. Porlock (and Porlock Weir) w rate. Galleywood, St Michael and Stoke Pero: to be also Rural Dean of Exmoor (Bath & Wells). All Angels' (Chelmsford). The Rev Mark Pudge, Assistant The Rev Simon Marshall, Curate, Curate, St Andrew's, Wickford and St John the Baptist, Great Clacton: Runwell Team Ministry: to be to be Vicar, All Saints', Chigwell Team Vicar. Wickford and Row, Chigwell Team Ministry Runwell Team Ministry Cathedral.

Ministry (London).

(Chelmsford). The Rev David Moore, Assistant Curate, St Helen, St Helens (Liverpool): to be Vicar, St Stephen. Canonbury Road (London).

Ranworth w Woodbastwick and Diocesan Clergy Training Officer

The Rev Stuart Nairn, Vicar, Narborough w Narford, Rector, Pentney w West Bilney and Rural Dean of Lynn: to be also Priest incharge, Castle Acre, Newton-by-Castle Acre, Southacre and West

Acre (Norwich). The Rev Steven Palmer, Assistant Curate, St Giles, Sheldon: to be

— ب • - بعد مدوم می رام و معند بهم

The Rev John Ruffle, Team Rector

Yation Moor Team Ministry; to be

also a Prebendary of Wells

Cathedral. The Rev David Ryan, Curate, Horsforth to be Curate Bedale and Priest-in-charge, Unration

Watlass (Ripun) The Rev William Sayer Rector, Holkham w Egmere and Quarles. Warham All Saints w Warham St Mary Mandalene, Wells-next-the-Sea, Wighton All Saints', and Chaplain to Wells Conage Hospital (Norwich) to be also an Hon-

Canon of Norwich Cathodral Prebendary John Sunons, Rector, Holy Trinity, Nailsear to be Sentor Assistant Priest, Holy Trinity, Nailsea and Director of Cross Winds (Bath & Wells).

Resignations and retirements The Rev Eric Ford, Chaplain, Holy Trinity, Las Palmas, Canary Islands (Europe): to retire August 3). The Rev Bill Pegg Chaplain, St George, Malaga w Torremolinos. Spain (Europe), to retire Septem-

THREE TYPES OF MOTOR-CYCLE

(From a currespondent.) The popularity of the motor-cycle was foreseen several years ago by acute observers Until quite recently, however, it was regarded as a young man's toy. So it was in the days when the motor-cycle implied noise, uncertainty, and danger both to the rider and to those he met on the road. The history of its development is not one of smooth and steady progress. At times the problems before the designer appeared insurmountable. There were in the early days, no trustworthy data for the designer to work upon. While one school argued that the motor-cycle should be a miniature motor-car, others maintained it would be a superior pedal-bicycle. Both were wrong. While being of the class of vehicles which have internal-combustion engines, the mojor-cycle has little in common with the car or with the bicycle. The problems of its design and manufacture are peculiar to itself. Respenizing this, and the hopelessness of any attempt to incorporate a miniature edition of some type of car-engine and transmission into a strengthened by ycle-frame, designers reconsidered the problem. The engine received first consideration. The single-cylinder, four-

ON THIS DAY March 13, 1915

The article has no mention of motorcycle makes but it does conjure up the days when Britain dominated the market with such names as BSA, Norton, Douglas, Velocette, Enfield and AJS stroke, air-cooled engine was at length developed into a power-unit of unquestioned "reliability." A demand for more power led to the 3½ h.p. engine, similar in type but of 499 c.c. capacity. This was the first satisfactory motor-cycle engine. For several years it held the field against all rivals. In fact, at one time engine-design was in danger of becoming stagnant, so reluctant was the manufacturer to depart from the proven single-cylinder unit. Having settled the question of power, the designer had next to concentrate on the problems of transmission, springing, steering and control. Roughly, motor-cycles may be divided into three main classes. First, there is the two-stroke light-weight, primarily intended for riding alone. In price these machines vary from £22 to £45. The fuel consumption is between 80 and 100 miles per gallon. The speed range is from four to 40 miles per hour. Secondly comes the singlecylinder, 3 to 5 h.p., four-stroke, air-cooled unit. These can be used with or without a passenger. Some type of speed-gear is desirable in the latter case. In this class must be included several satisfactory makes of machine fitted with twin-cylinder engines of medium power. These motor-cycles vary in price from £35 to E65. An average fuel consumption is 55 to 65 miles per gallon. With a passenger the speed obtainable with a well-tuned engine is about 40 miles per hour. Lastly comes the twin, or four-cylindered, machine, intended solely for use with a passenger. This is the most comfortable form of motor-cycling. With some of the heavy types, having engines of up to 8 h.p., a speed of 50 miles per hour can be obtained. The fuel consumption is heavier, and may be as low as 35 miles to the gallon; £100 is an ordinary price for such an outfit, complete with side-car. This sum includes electric lighting and engine-starting set, driven from the engine, and a very completely-equipped side-car, which affords ample protection to the passenger even in the worst of weathers.

oes alno new s hope care of r hannat the such a lovern-1980s. iged to al pen-

the anniversary of VE-Day. Although breast cancer was

Sir Thomas Lodge

NEWS

Anorexic girl held at clinic

An anorexic teenager at risk of starving herself to death is to be detained against her will - with force if necessary - under a High Court order requiring her to undergo feeding treatment.

In what is thought to be the first such order forcibly restricting a child's liberty for medical reasons, Mr Justice Wall agreed that the 16-year-old girl could be detained at a clinic and that she could be brought back if she ran away _____ Page 1

Thatcher denies Portillo campaign

■ Baroness Thatcher quashed talk of a Tory leadership battle by issuing a denial of claims that she was helping a campaign launched by supporters of Michael Portillo. She protested to the Press Complaints Commission over a report suggesting that her staff had circulated a dossier helping the Defence Secretary

Car girls killed

Four grammar school sixth-form girls died when their car crashed and burst into flames on a narrow country lane near Harrogate, Yorkshire.... Page I

Hogg survives

Douglas Hogg survived the latest attack on the Government's handling of food safety, insisting repeatedly in a Commons statement that hygiene standards in abattoirs were going up ... Page 2 Tabletalk

A television programme that purports to show that bigotry is alive and well in Tory middle class Britain will be screened on Chan-.Page 3

Chunnel 5 alert

Channel 5 admitted that it had given 18,000 television viewers "serious cause for complaint" in its race to retune their video equipment before it goes on air on March 30.... Page 4

Robinson's new job

Mary Robinson announced that she will not be seeking a second term as President of Ireland. She is expected to seek the vacant position of UN Commissioner for Human Rights.... ... Page 5

Dunblane memories

On the anniversary of the Dunblane massacre the primary school will open to allow friends and families of the bereaved to pay their respects Page 6

Cloning a herd

Australian scientists have produced nearly 500 identical cattle embryos in the first cloning "production line" ...

Lawrence award

The widow of the murdered headmaster Philip Lawrence launched an award scheme. Frances Lawrence called for more action to halt violent crime among disaffected youth.

Albanian queues

At nine in the morning, the people of Elbasan begin to queue: 200 outside the offices of the collapsed pyramid operator, Giferi, and 200 outside the local military arsenal at Mjeks...... Page 11

Township shootings

Six people were killed in Johannesburg townships and shots were fired in the city centre as Zulus marched to commemorate the third anniversary of the Shell House massacre......Page 12

US Army race row

The US Army faced a racial blow after five female soldiers claimed they were bullied into making unfounded rape charges against black instructors...... Page 13

Kohi closes down

Windows stayed firmly shut in Helmut Kohl's offices and the airconditioning was switched on to block out the chanting of miners baying for the heads of the Gov-

The parking meters answer back

A parking meter that telephones wardens to alert them when a car goes into penalty time has been developed by engineers. When the warning is activated, the warden can see the car on an electronic map. Motorists hoping to take revenge should approach with caution. The meter can send out a distress call to the local police station.....

King Hussein of Jordan and Queen Noor are greeted by Queen Sofia (right) as they arrive in Madrid for a two-day private visit. Page 13

BUSINESS

localand: The beleaguered food retailing group, plans to buy back a third of its shares, having abandoned hopes of taking itself Page 23 private

SBC Warburg: The investment bank has become the latest City institution to fall foul of financial regulators as the Securities and Futures Authority confirmed it was investigating £300 million of share Page 23

Barcleys has sold for £249 million parts of Imry, the property company, taken onto the bank's books in 1992 after property prices collapsed in Britain...

Markets: The FT-SE 100 fell 21.8 to 4422.5. Sterling fell to 96.8: failing from $1.6055 to $1.5930 and DM2.7379 to DM2.7105.... Page 26

SPORT

Rugby union: Rob Andrew, who has not played an international for nearly two years, was called into the England squad as cover for the stand-off half position Page 44 Racing: Record crowds have attended this year's Cheltenham Festival and 60,000 are expected for the most open running of the Tote Gold Cup since 1979 Page 44 Cricket: The expected appointment of David Graveney as chairman of damental changes in the way the national team is chosen Page 41 Footbell: A deal has been struck between Brighton and Hove Albion's co-owners and the prospective buyers of the troubled club after talks at the Centre of Dispute

Resolution

England selectors could lead to fun-

ARTS .

Patient virtues: Cinema releases are dominated by Anthony Minghella's The English Patient. Does it merit its 12 Oscar nominations? Geoff Brown reports Page 31

Juicy peach: New on video this week is James and the Giant Peach, the excellent animated version of Roald Dahl's book, with its message of love.... __ Page 32

Priokly poet: Jason Cowley meets Robin Robertson, poet, publisher, champion of experimental writing and godfather of the radical Celtic literary fringe.....

Sophisticated lady: Maria Friedman shines in the National Theatre's fine revival of Lady in the Dark, the Hart/Weill/Gershwin musical that was a Forties Broad-

TOMORROW

IN THE TIMES

David Sinclair on album by vintage

INTERVIEW

author of a new

Valerie Grove meets

Nine Lives, the new rockers Aerosmith (left)

Professor Roy Foster, the southwesterly, fresh to strong Mild.

Max 13C (55F).

I NE England, Borders, Edinburgh & Dundee, Aberdeen: dry at first, but cloudy. Perhaps some rain at

■ POP

FEATURES

Early start: Sixty girls were assessed for the 32 places on offer at a leading independent school. Nothing very unusual in that - except that the girls were aged only Too sky: Are Britons still so easily embarrassed when shopping for personal items? Dr Thomas Stuttaford on why so many unwanted toothbrushes are littering usual screening centre dispenses medical advice along with recipes for a healthy diet ... Criminei chic: Georgina Wainwright was chic - "the way she walked and dressed; she always looked immaculate. She was beautiful." Wainwright robbed 12 banks before she died at 33

Ackroyd on the poetry and mysticism of W. B. Yeats: Orlando Figes traces the legacy of the Russian Empire... . Pages 34, 35 its lowest level and ferry rivals slash booking pricesPage 37 Fading dream: Why Taffy Buffton will have to leave his hideaway: the consequences of development in a bathroom shelvesPage 16

Health meau: Britain's most un-

BOOKS

Books: A fire in his head: Peter

TRAVEL

Price cuts: War on the high seas as Thomson cuts the cost of cruising to

TYLISTINGS

Preview: Living off nature with Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall: A Cook on the Wild Side (Channel 4 8_30pm). Review: Lynne Truss on the joys of being Jewish Page 43

OPINION

A Hogg's breakfast

The Meat Hygiene Service was rightly created to implement a rational approach to the quality of abbatoirs. If it is to succeed then it must be detached from a failed ministry and placed under a new

Jolly good fellows: The presence of male fellows at St Hilda's need not threaten the cause of women's education ____ Page # Changing names

Changing a country's name is rarely popular. History is erased, geography confused ____Page 19

COLUMNS

WILLIAM REES-MOGG:

There is nothing rational about food policy. The Minister is the madame of a brothel of special interests, with branches all over Europe Almost certainly, the por icy is wrong: wrong in Burine wrong in the regulations, wrong in the ministry, wrong in the structure of enforcement, wrong in the animal-killing business Page B

WILLIAM WALDEGRAVE The windall tax is a proposed one off levy with the remarkable pos of paying for things which will go on costing money every year. When, I pointed this out to one Labour friend, he chuckled: "Didn't you know, windfalls come every year? That, I expect, is the truth; new

JOHN BRYANT If British sport is going to get a few taxes every year...

lessons in how to take on the world it had better get back to school. This week there are signs that it might be doing just that Page 42

OBITUARIES

The Earl of Listowel, politician; Terry Nation, TV writer and Daleks creator ...

LETTERS

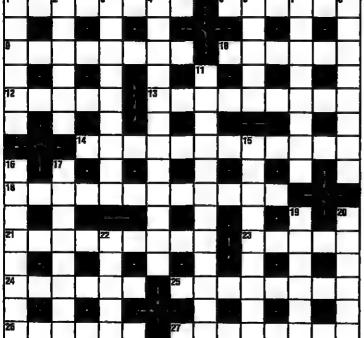

Archbishop's speech; Lord Weatherill on the Police Bill; Albania; Assisted Places Scheme Page 19

LOTTERY NUMBERS

NOON TODAY

3, 4, 5, 16, 22, 25. Bonus: 12. The

THE TIMES CROSSWORD NO 20.426

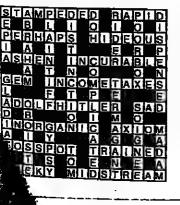

- I No more locks lower down than
- lessly turning over (6). 9 Transformed - recoated in paint

5 Mix hard sweet that needs end-

- 10 Where you see skiers taking second runs (6). 12 Monarch can back one of the gunpowder makers (5).
- 13 Guerrilla with artillery gun the state rejected (9). 14 One having unexpectedly good beart - sounds like trump card
- 18 Cut from yesterday's joint? (4-8). 21 Beautiful girl deprived of leading part in producing Sound of Music (9).
- 23 A fool who shows his hand at the start? (5).

Solution to Puzzle No 20,425

- 24 Tin ore processed in distant region (6).
- 25 Suspect little drops of water cause corrosion (8).
- 26 Retreat after turf becomes wet (6).
- 27 Breaking down in an urban area (Los Angeles) coming back (8).

I Making a secret of punishment

- 2 Audible, visible prompt (6). 3 Liable to turn us over or clean us out (9).
- 4 Love action? Certainly not! (7,5). 6 Concerning convict's place of incarreration (5).
- 7 Top pork producer down to nothing with Christmas over (8). $ Malicious gossip's brought up during social gathering for bridge
- 11 Forecast about the French cup of
- tea (12). 15 According to story, a lot dance in formation (9).
- 16 Cutters coming from one ship among many out east (8). 17 Do play - I'm out for time between games (8).
- 19 Take very short time in relation to sum (6). 20 Holy man accepting most of my
- 22 Research, in general, reveals central principle (5).

criticism (6).

Times Two Crossword, page 44

0336 401 910 0336 401 388 9134 497 596 Westher by Faz The Mac.Office Dist 0336 inflowed by area National Satellite Yearner
peture 416

416 397 414 398 World City Weather @The Mat. Office 153 dordszelinos world wide 6 stey ferrecest

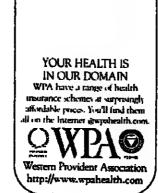

9336 41 1216 by Fax (index page) Metoring 0336 401 885 0336 401 886 0336 401 887 0336 401 882 0336 401 409 0236 401 895

AA Car reports by fax

thew and used car reports from the AA menu of 195 cars 0336 416 399 Dial from your fax handset, you may have to set to poll receive mode

Calls are charged at 45p per minute cheap rata, 50p per minute at all other dates. HIGHEST & LOWEST : Highest day lemp: Manston, Kent,). lowest day mac Cape Wreth, 5C (48F); highest rainfalt: sh. Argyl & Bulle, 0.12m; highest sun-gale, Kent, 9 Chr.

FORECAST

Washington and the General: England and Wales will be mainly dry with bright intervals, but the West will become more cloudy during the day and there may be patchy drizzle at times. It will be breezy later, but temperatures should be above average.

Scotland and Northern Ireland will be cloudy with outbreaks of rain, it may be dry for a time, but more rain is likely to spread from the West. It will be windy in most places, but temperatures should be a little above average. ☐ London, SE England, E Anglia, Central S England, E Midlands, E England, W Midlands, Channel Isles, Central N England: mainly dry, bright or aurnny intervals developing Wind southwesterly, moderate to fresh. Mild. Max 14C (57F). U SW England, S Wales, N Wates, NW England, Lake District, Isle of Man: mostly cloudy, outbreaks of light rein or drizzle later. Wind times during the day. Wind south-westerly, fresh becoming strong later. Mild. Max 14C (57F). ☐ SW Scotland, Glasgow, Central Highlands, Argyll, N Ireland: cloudy, rain or drizzle at times. Wind southwesterly, fresh to strong. Max ☐ Moray Firth, NE Scotland, NW Scotland, Orkney: cloudy, occa-sional rain. Wind west or southwest, fresh to strong. Max 9C (48F).

☐ Shetland: rain at times, perhaps turning to sleet or wet snow. Wind fresh westerly becoming northeast-erly. Max 4C (39F).

Outlook for Friday and Saturday: dry start in the South, but most places becoming cloudy and wet.

AROUND BRITAIN YESTERDAY

ABROAD

Asecial
Akerdiria
Akerdiria
Akerdiria
Akigiers
Antsi'din
Akigiers
Antsi'din
Akigiers
Bahraki
Bahraki
Bangkok
Barbados
Barasiona
Behrut
Bekgrade
Baran
Behrut
Bekgrade
Baran
Behrut
Bergrade
Baran
Behrut
Bergrade
Bergrade S Frieco
S Paulo
S Paulo
S Paulo
Salzburg
Santisou
Singi por
Si kholm
Strasti por
Si kholm
Strasti por
Tangle
Tal Aviv
Tomoria
Tokyo
Tomoria
Tokyo
Tomoria
Tokyo
Tomoria
Vanice
Vanice
Vanice
Vanice
Vanica
V Hebind Hong K Innsbrek Istarbul Jeddah Jo'burg L Angels L Palmae Le Tquef Lisbon Locarno Lucarno Lucarno 13 55 X 4 39 s 13 55 s

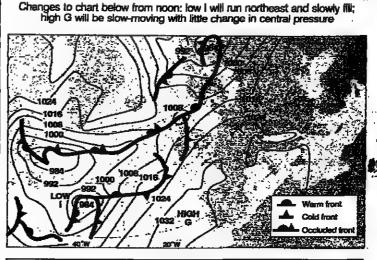

Sunny . Cloudy ntzzie Overcast. Rain Sunny showers

Showers Lightning Heil 120 Heil Temperature (Celsius) 13

Wind speed

(mph) & direction

CHA

HIGH TIDES HT 73 43 130 120 53 64 51 37 40 57 89 57 02 40 00.00 08.03 08.33 07.27 69 49 01.58 01.50 01.24 00.12 06.35 4.9 7.0 38 5.6 2.0 4.7 6.5 4.6 9.5 5.3 4.4 Cardiff
Devonport
Dower
Dubler (N Wall)
Falmouth
Geersuck
Harwich
Holyhead
Hull (Albert D)
Biracombe
King's Lynn 13.42 21.50 18.51 14.44 21.23 21.09 21.28 All times GMT. Hoights in metres

HOURS OF DARKNESS

London 8.02 pm to 6 17 am Bristol 8 12 pm to 6.27 am Edinburgh 6 12 pm to 6 31 am Manchester 6 09 pm to 6.26 am Penzance 6.24 pm to 6.38 am

OTIMES NEWSPAPERS LIMITED. 1997 Published and printed and licensed for electronic and all other derivative forms by Times Newspapers Ltd. PD 801 495. London 1 19XN, telephone 0131-782 5000 and also printed at Rilling Road. Preson.) UHN. telephone 0131-346 2000. Thursday, March 13. 1997. Registered as a newspaper.

as pr

Icela

1.74 1.74 1.74 1.74 Mag 255 -

Jan-

Carrier of Markey year

Mary Service

 $\log p_2(x_2)$

sharp of a

Per services

Č.

ment Fart.

lates: Cir-

her and that River to the owner.

Ing k.

lish_{ը ի}

irading .

6

the Car

and revers

(SFA"

Post (2)

20-2

 $\log \log (1-\epsilon)$

 $\operatorname{Tr}_{\mathbb{R}^{k} \to \mathbb{R}^{n} \times \mathbb{R}^{n}}$ feder -- --Warburg tr inquiry by $\mathsf{F}_{\mathsf{rep}(\eta),\psi}$ burg it. Barclays

15 OU Katur

to pay so left us on ciow a nd it is

ry had enough d some

rd care

recuire

reir old

provide e of the growth from nes al-

is hope care of r hansuch a iged to al pen-uned its earnings

ast year's and ex-

ng BET

dits rose dillion on iigher at roduced

17.13p, a

Rentokil

ment by a share,

INSIDE SECTION

ARTS

The English Patient shows symptoms of an Oscar winner PAGES 31-33

Travel News

Best buys for bargain-conscious travellers PAGES 36, 37

SPORT

Farrant surprises Festival with win in Champion Chase PAGES 38-44

TELEVISION and RADIO

PAGES 42, 43

THURSDAY MARCH 13 1997

John Church, chairman of Church & Co shoes, reflects on an 18 per cent rise in pre-tax profits last year to £5.4 million. Earnings per share rose

Iceland plans buyback as profits slide by 23% shares, having abandoned hopes of taking the company

The buyback scheme, costing £118 million, was announced as Iceland reported a fall of almost 23 per cent in 1996 profits, reflecting the cost of the price war being fought by the supermarket chains.

Malcolm Walker, chairman and chief executive, said he Bernard Leigh, finance director - who between them hold a stake of around 6 per cent - had held talks with venture capitalists about a buyout but had been unable to agree financing terms.

iceland proposes to cancel 35 per cent of its ordinary shares at 105p per share, a 20 per cent premium to Tuesday's closing price. The shares rose 12p to 99 p yesterday.

The scheme enables disaffected shareholders to sell out

ICELAND, the beleaguered at a premium and ensure food retailing group, re-improved earnings per share vealed yesterday that it plans for the remaining shareholdthird of its ers, Mr Walker said. Directors' holdings are excluded from the scheme. The company underlined its own difficulties by reporting a 22.6 per cent fall in pre-tax profits to £56.2 million in the year to December 28, its first decline in annual profits in 26 years. Iceland, like the other smaller supermarket groups, has been struggling to cope with the growing dominance

Sainsbury, Safeway and Asda. Earnings fell to 13.15p (17.01p) a share but the final dividend stays at 3.6p. This gives a full-year dividend of 5.4p (5.25p), due on May 27. Dividends are likely to be maintained but not increased for the foreseeable future.

Like-for-like sales were slightly higher in cash terms but down 1.2 per cent in per cent in the first few weeks of this year. The company said it sacrificed 0.4 per cent of its rying margin last year in an ill-lated price campaign.

Iceland is arranging a new loan facility through BZW and will spend around £118 million to fund the buyback, its gearing will rise from around 28 per cent to between 125 and 130 per cent on a pro-forma basis. pany should be "throwing off a lot of cash from next year," which will allow it to lower its gearing,

Holders of ordinary shares will receive 315p in cash for every eight shares held and will retain 5 shares. Holders of convertible preference shares will receive 288p in cash for each eight shares and retain five shares.

It is the second capital reduction for the company which bought back 10 per cent of its shares a year ago. Mr Walker insisted that the company would push ahead with new initiatives, including a national home delivery service, which is expected to created 1,000 jobs. Delivery is free for purchases of £25 or more within ten miles of

Pennington, page 25

Warburg trading inquiry by SFA

SBC WARBURG, the investment bank, has become the latest City institution to fall foul of regulators. The Securities and Futures Authority (SFA) confirmed yesterday that it was investigating £300 million in share trades linked to the defunct Kleinwort European Privatisation Investment Trust (Kepit).

The move comes hard on the heels of events at NatWest Markets, which today publishes its initial findings into the £50 million "black-hole" trading scandal. Bonus cuts and resignations are expected. Peter Corrigan, head of French equities at SBC Warburg, has resigned after an

Another Internal inquiry. trader has also left. The SFA team, under David

Kenmir, is studying sharp falls in several European shares on October 30, 1996, when SBC Warburg executed share sales on behalf of Kepit. A mistake by a Paris-based trader on the timing of the sale is thought to have triggered the falls. SBC Warburg made good the loss to Kepit at a reputed cost of between £2 million and £5 million.

The bank said it continued to assist the SFA in its ongoing investigation

Forex trade, page 24

More Revenue staff come under scrutiny

By ADAM JONES

THE head of the Inland Revee yesterday confirmed to MPs that other employees are being investigated in the wake of the Michael Allcock case. Allcock, a senior tax inspector, was sentenced to five years in prison for corruption this year. Sir Anthony Battishill. Revenue chairman, told MPs on the Select Committee on Public Accounts that internal inquiries into other possible breaches are not yet complete. No disciplinary action has yet been taken against any other parties. Sir Anthony also admitted that the Revenue had been "unwise" to allow tax inspec-Pennington, page 25 tors to go abroad at the expense of the person they were investigating. The practice - which has since been abandoned — came under the spotlight in the Allenck

However, Sir Anthony denied that Allcock's sudden possession of large sums, which he passed off as inherited money, should have rung alarm bells. Sir Anthony said: "He did have plausible reasons. There's a limit to the degree which you can enquire about someone's direct financial affairs."

Sir Anthony told the committee that Allcock received full pay between the day he was suspended and the day charges were laid. He recrived between £64.486 and £67,277 over that period. Undisclosed "hardship" pay-ments were available beyond that point. Sir Anthony said: "He was remarkably good at covering the misdeeds he was engaged in." MPs also quizzed the Revenue on the progress of the new They heard that the original tax return used in trials, running to about 30 pages, has been slimmed down to eight pages for greater clarity. Additional pages would be included to tailor the document to the particular need of Barclays sells Imry minus its 'jewel'

By CARL MORTISHED

BARCLAYS BANK has sold part of the lmry property portfolio to Rodamco, the Dutch fund, for £249 million. The deal includes the Shires shopping centre in Leicester and 14 office buildings, but Rodamco has pulled out of talks over the West Quay shopping centre project in Southampton, widely regarded as the jewel in limry's crown. Rodamoo said yesterday that it was still interested in purchasing the 750,000 sq ft West Quay project. Chris Bartram of Haslemere Properties. Rodamco's UK subsidiary, said the deal foundered on price. Rodamco's interest, revealed in The Times last month, followed the collapse of talks with Chelsfield, also thought to be because of disagreement over price.

by Imry to third parties. Barclays intends to release £25 million from a £44 million provision takin out against its investment in

Imry. The proceeds will repay debts of E91 million owed to Barclays, as well as preference shares held by the bank when it took over Imry in 1992 after its support of the £314 million buyout of the property group. The proceeds will also repay loans of £114 million owed

Rodameo is believed to have paid up to £165 million for the Shires centre with the balance for office properties. including the Wang building near the M4 in West London. In addition to West Quay, Imry is also retaining a £110 million industrial property portfolio The property company announced yesterday that Marks & Spencer had agreed to take 106,000 sq ft in West Quay, and reported that Southampton City council had granted detailed planning consent for the project. Construction will start this year.

Pound falls as output dents case for rate rise

THE pound took a battering vesterday as another sluggish set of manufacturing figures further weakened the argument for higher base rates.

also took fright after Howard Davies, deputy governor of the Bank of England, was reported to have expressed concern about the pound's strength against the mark. The pound's effective index against a basket of currencies finished at 96.8 from its close on Tuesday at 97.6. In late trading, it was quoted at DM2.7105 compared with DM2.7379 at the previous close. It had hit a high of DM2.7482 before the deputy 20vernor's remarks.

Sterling tumbled after Japan's Jiji news agency quoted Howard Davies, who is in Tokyo, as saying the pound was slightly too high against the mark. Mr Davies later said reports of his remarks were misleading because he had simply expressed the view of sterling priced into the financial markets, not the opinion of the Bank of England.

A British Embassy official quoted Mr Davies as saying: Looking at the forward rate for the pound, it seems that the market is indicating that the pound's future value would out or drop ag mark." The pound rebounded after this clarification, but only temporarily. It resumed its slide later in the day, partly in reaction to the latest snapshot of British industrial activity which tended to support the case for leaving interest rates unchanged at 6 per cent. The Office for National Statistics said UK industrial output was unchanged in Jan-uary, but was up 2.4 per cent against a year ago. Manufacturing output was up 0.3 per cent, a rise of 1.6 per cent year on year. Taking the three months to January, manufacturing was up only 0.3 per cent compared with the previous three months, the lowest quarterly rate of growth since August last year.

The manufacturing figures showed that the production of durable goods remained robust, suggesting that consumer demand is still healthy. Production of investment goods was buoyant too. Some City economists said the latest figures suggested that the strength of domestic demand still outweighed the negative impact of sterling.

Others were not so optimistic, pointing to recent survey evidence suggesting that some steam has been lost from the consumer recovery and that sterling's strength - still conclines — is already eating into exports, militating against the higher base rates that the Bank still appears to want. Mr Davies said yesterday the Bank would like base rates 0.25 points higher.

Andrew Cates, of UBS Ltd, said that, because of sterling, recovery in manufacturing to gain momentum in the coming months. "Combined with the raft of data over the past two weeks or so suggesting that activity in the domestic economy may be slowing and that upside inflationary risks are limited, there is little necessity for a base rate rise at the moment." he said.

BUSINESS TODAY

3-mith Interbank

Schroders bonus A record year for Schroders has produced a rise in the total bonus payment of about £50 million for staff. The bank announced post-tax profits of £184 million, up £41.2 million.

Reed pounded

Reed Elsevier, the Anglo-Dutch publishing company, warned the stock market that the strength of sterling would this year hold back the carnings growth at the LOWER LIFE ASSURANCE PREMIUMS FOR SMOKERS.

Cigarette, cigar and pipe smokers have traditionally been charged more for their life assurance. Not only can we offer very competitive

your life assurance premiums!

Save pounds on cigarette smoker terms, but we can also offer cigar and pipe smokers, 'non-smoker' terms, providing significant savings. Consider the illustrations below for monthly premiums, on a 20 year, £100,000 level term life assurance, for a male cigar smoker.

We can arrange this for	17.60	We can arrange this for	39.00
Clerical Medical	40.20	Swiss Life	98.73
Swiss Life	37.88	Midland Life	96.63
Midland Life	36.28	Clerical Medical	95.50
Friends Provident	36.04	Friends Provident	88.99
General Accident	35.10	General Accident	85.20
Commercial Union	33.40	Commercial Union	80.50
Standard Life	29.00	Standard Life	74.00
Male aged 35 next birthday, a cigar smoker.		Male aged 45 next birthday, a c	igar smoker.

So if you are considering taking out a life assurance, decreasing term, mortgage protection or critical illness plan and would like Independent Financial Advice phone us at local rates on 0345 419410

direct Services

Direct Life & Pension Services Ltd Direct Life & Pension Services Limited is an Appointed Representative of Ward Mortgages Limited who are Independent Financial Advisers regulated by the Persona Investment Authority for investment business Registered in England nt, 2613275

FROM JONATHAN MIRSKY IN HONG KONG

DONALD TSANG. Hong Kong's Financial Secretary, yesterday announced a budget for 1997-98 that is unique and unrepeatable. It is a first and last budget operative from April to April, bridging the transfer of sovereignty on July I. It is also the only budget in which Peking has been consulted at every step. From next year, Mr Tsang has emphasised, budget formulation will again be a solely Hong Kong affair. Reactions to the budget fell broadly into two to $759 million last year.

results contributing.

corporate finance

Kvaerner in its acquisition of Trafalgar House, and for Tetra Laval in the reorganisation of its shareholder structure. It was ranked number one among advisers to UK target computer software programmers will leave companies seeking alternative methods to reprogramming to combat the Thompson, chief executive of

Mr Thompson said: "The millennium issue is in the process of creating a shortage of programmers over the next two to three years, peaking in 1999." His analysis of independent data suggests that the shortage in 1999 could be 40,000 programmers.

Druid specialises in imple-

Druid, the computer software and services group said.

BY OUR CITY STAFF

A SHORTAGE of British menting integrated business camps. These consisted of those who felt that the measure was mean-spirited to the poor and the old, and those who wished that Mr Tsang had announced reductions in corporate tax.

Mr Tsang said that Hong Kong's GDP growth will improve to 5.5 per cent, in real terms, and that inflation, slightly up, will average 7 per cent.

The estimated surplus for 1996-97 is HK$15.1 billion (£1.2 billion), about five times the original estimate, rising to HK31.7 billion in 1997-98. Mr Tsang estimated the three-year surplus from 1998 to 2001 at about £4.7 billion. However, he said that continuing costs of the new airport and new railways "will take up virtually all the surplus from 1998 to 2001". Fiscal reserves available to the new government in 1998 will be HK$330 billion. Mr Tsang announced substantial concessions to middle-class families, single parents, and those supporting the disabled, the elderly, and brothers and sisters. These concessions, he said, expressed Chinese family values. How-ever, Mr Tsang left unchanged Hong Kong's salaries tax rate at 15 per cent and the corporate tax rate at 16.5 per cent.

Paul Chen, of Hong Kong Chamber of Commerce, said that, with such a big surplus he was "disappointed he didn't cut company tax". Huang Chen-ya, for the Democrats in the Legislative Council, said that they might vote against the budget. He said: "The Government is so stingy with the poor." Referring to a budget cut in tax on wine. Mr Huang said: "We have the rich able to drink their red wine, but the poor don't have enough money for daily living."

Schroders Forex trade drives 54% ever equity offering. It also handled the Railtrack sale.

year BY ADAM JONES

RECORD year for Schroders has produced a total bonus payment of about £50 million for staff. Yesterday the bank announced a profit of £184 million after tax. up £41.2 million. However, costs rose 19 per cent to £698.4 million, partly caused by a 10 per cent increase in staff for the asset management team and the reorganised corporate it was less open to criticism. The pre-tax profit was with-in the £230-£240 million range predicted by analysts. The proposed total dividend of 20p. up from 16p in 1995, was larger than expected.

The bank's asset management arm recorded significant growth, with pre-tax profit up from £93 million to £132 million, accounting for 55 under management stood at £87.6 billion at the end of 1996. an 18 per cent rise from 1995. The sum had grown to £93 billion by the end of January. John Govett, director rement, said that £10.5 billion of the 1996 rise was new capital from customers as opposed to market increases.

Tempus, page 26

Profits rise at Charles Baynes

Charles Baynes, the engineering group, raised pretax profits by 27 per cent to £22.5 million in the year to December 31 on sales up 24 per cent to £251 million. Earnings rose by 20 per cent to 8.39p per share out of which total dividend rose 16 per cent to 2.90p.

Bruce McInnes, chairman, said: "The lack of any buoyancy in our served markets, particularly in the UK, in the second half of 1996 has continued. if anything more severely into this year. I am therefore cautious about the prospects for sales growth in 1997."

AIM switch

Billam, the engineering group, is to become the third company to move from the main Stock Exchange to the Alternative Investment Market. The company is making the move to avoid the paperwork necessary for a major acquisition. It broke into profit last year, making £35,000 before tax (£l50,000 loss). The dividend is held at 5.3p with a final 3.1p.

Payout cut

Leslie Wise, the clothing manufacturer, cut the final dividend despite higher profits and earnings, as it seeks to invest more. A final dividend of 1.25p a share (2.5p), due April 29, reduced the total to 3p from 4.25p. In the year to November 30 pre-tax profits rose to £2.8 million from £1.04 million.

Haden higher

Haden MacLellan, the diversified engineering group, lifted pre-tax profits by 40 per cent to £15.5 million last year. A final dividend of 1.6p makes a total of 2.8p (2.4p).

Losses grow

Lionheart, the bathroom products group, saw pretax losses deepen to £12.7 million in 1996 from £6.85

Peter Pollock is to benon-executive

Hong Kong budget bridges the old and new

Hans de Gier saw 20 per cent gains in all key areas

Equities, the biggest division, saw gross revenues rise 31 per cent to $1.2 billion. The inclusion of SG Warburg was systems for large national and multinational companies with multiple sites. Mr Thompson said: "The shortage of many companies will not have the resources to amend their existing code and what we see fee income and commissionbased revenues. SBC Warburg acted as lead manager of the UK tranche of Deutsche Telekom, Europe's largest

Druid predicts 40,000 | Heinz staff fear fallout programmer shortfall | from coming shake-up

BY OUR BUSINESS STAFF

MORE than 2,000 UK employees of Heinz anxiously await news of a restructuring, to be announced by the multinational food manufacturer tomora 6 per cent cut in its 43,000 worldwide workforce.

Unions fear the Heinz fac-at the moment is companies tories at Wigan in Lancashire taking decisions to move to and Harlesden in north west standard package software on London, could be affected. the basis of the year 2000." Union leaders have aiready Druid, which floated last met managers and were told November, reported first half that the company wanted to pre-tax profits to December of make millions of pounds in £1.8 million, up from £867,000. savings and introduce a no-

The group will pay an interim dividend of 0.8 pence. A Heinz spokesman refused to confirm details of the reorganisation, saying: "This initiative will further enhance the business. It is part of a growth plan designed to sup-

The details emerged as

Swiss Bank set aside $1

group profits came from SBC

SBC Switzerland cut net losses to $70 million ($111 million loss), but remained burdened by high loan loss provisions. Of SBC Warburg's

9,000 staff. 3.200 are in the competitive market place." Brian Revell, Transport and General Workers' Union national officer, said: "We are obviously prepared to negotiate, but the workers have rejected losing the right to strike. There is a history of good industrial relations at Heinz and the company is extremely profitable."

The life of O'Rellly, page 27

Knight advocates minor bonus tops £50m in record

finance department.

Schroders did not disclose the size of bonus payments. made last week to about 3,800 qualifying staff. However, it admitted that half the EIOS million rise in staff costs was due to bonus increases for existing and new staff. Some payments will be deferred. Win Bischoff, chairman. said he was pleased with the results but he gave warning that it would not be easy to repeat them in 1997, although the start to the year has been encouraging. He said the Bank of England's recent anxiety over the link between performance bonuses and high-risk trading was "a very useful contribution".

He added that Schroders' low dependence on proprietary trading — it contributed 6 per cent of the £958.4 million total income in 1996 - meant

The Open University BUSINESS SCHOOL

The fast track management certificate

Now you can achieve a Professional Certificate in Management in one year, with the Open University Business School.

The certificate covers managing people, operations

As world leaders in supported distance learning, we offer everything you need to make learning effective and enjoyable. You work in your own time, at your own pace. But your personal tutor is only a phone call away, and you can meet fellow students through study groups and residential schools. All OUBS courses are backed by over 25 years' experience in distance learning. Our methods and materials were given the highest rating of 'excellent' by the Higher Education Funding Council for England. For details of our courses return the coupon. Or call the Business is changing. Are you?

Name		B961G
Position		_
Organization		_
Address
Postcoda	Tel	=

VSEL wins £200m Navy tanker task

A £200 MILLION contract for two fuel tankers for replenishing Royal Navy warships at sea has been awarded to VSEL shipbuilders, now owned by GEC (Michael Evans writes). The two fleet tankers, crewed by the Royal Fleet Auxiliary. will replace the vessels Olwen and Olna. The tankers, to be built at VSEL's Barrow shipyard, will have a helicopter deck and hangar, and military communications, with command and control facilities. Invitations to tender were issued in February 1996 to two businesses, British Aerospace-Sema with Kvaerner Govan, and GEC Marine's VSEL

Sigbjorn Ellingsen, managdirector of Kvaerner Govan, said that up to 1,000 iobs would be lost at the Glasgow yard by the end of the year, leaving just 200, after its failure to win the tanker work.

Knight less bureaucracy

ective. She said: "The past ten vears have demonstrated that to seek perfection in a regulatory system is an illusion. will always be fraudsters and there will always be negligence." Some supporters of structural reform tem - one wholesale regulator and one retail regulator. Others want to wrap the Bank of England and Building Societles Commission into one. Still more favour an enlarged Securities and Investments Board or super-SIB — with different arms regulating different areas of financial services.

Mrs Knight says change on this scale would take considerable time, and generate widespread uncertainty, it would also be expensive. She said: "It would be divisive, disruptive and costly for the industry at a time when just about every financial institution is asking for no more change."

Regulators, she said, would need to place more reliance on their judgment about the adequacy of a firm's own controls, in moving to a less-prescrip-

Job losses again blamed on lottery fallout changes to the existing framework would be more construc-tive. She said: "There is no doubt in my mind that what we need is the existing framework working better. Less box ticking, less paperwork, less bureaucracy, within the existing

Mrs Knight said there was always scope for adapting and improving the existing system to make regulation more eff-flexible framework."

Vernons cuts more staff

By Jon Ashworth

VERNONS Pools is laying off 70 people at its Merseyside headquarters and cutting its national salesforce by 20, blaming continuing fallout from the National Lottery.

The cuts will leave Vernons' Merseyside workforce at 410. compared with 1.045 in 1994. The annual pools market has tumbled from £1 billion to £500 million since the first National Lottery draw in November 1994, and the impact of the midweek draw has

The pools companies have consistently lobbied for changes in legislation to allow them to compete more effectively with the lottery. They duty, as well as 3 per cent each want to be able to pay out to the Football Trust and the are talking to Camelot about using the lottery system to put games online. Phil Jarrold, managing director of Vernons Pools, said: We have had to take these steps to ensure the long-term viability of the business. We hope the next Parliament will agree changes in the law so that long-odds gaming is small winnings in shops, and other consumer products." The pools companies pay 26.5 per cent in pools betting

Foundation for Sport and the Arts. Multiweek games - played by post and telephone - account for more than half the group's turnover. The difficulties have come with games that rely on coupons collected door-to-door and from shops. Vernons is planning to make its 12,000-strong network of self-employed col-: lectors more efficient.

TOURIST RATES

Telewest loss belies cable success story

TELEWEST COMMUNICATIONS, the cable operator, has sold its services to one in every three households covered by its network. The company has completed 65 per cent of its cable-laving programme and said the take-up of its services last year had been phenomenal, with one in six households subscribing to both telephone and television services, Stephen Davidson, chief executive, said digital services would be launched by the end of this year.

Coupled with a 68 per cent increase in revenue from business telephony users, new customers helped the company to turn cashflow positive last year. But the pace of its network development took spending to £516 million, which after interest charges resulted in a pre-tax loss of £250 million (£115 million loss). This took losses from 10.5p

AEA joint venture

AEA TECHNOLOGY, the nuclear-based science company, is forming a 50-50 joint venture company with Sumitomo. Corporation of Japan to provide decommissioning, risk assessment and other consultancy services to owners of ageing nuclear reactors. Summit AEA Corp. capitalised at 100 million yen (around £500,000), will begin trading next month. AEA Technology has worked with Sumitomo in the nuclear field for about ten years.

Toys R Us income trebles

TOYS R US, the world's largest toys and and games retailer. reported a rise in full-year net income from $148.1 million to . $427.4 million, or from 53 cents a share to $1.54 a share, in 1995. Sales rose 5 per cent to a record $9.9 billion ($9.4 billion). In the final quarter, which takes in the key Christmas trading period, net income more than quadrupled to $382.9 million from $93 million as sales edged up to $4.7 billion $4.6 billion). The company has a total of 1,372 stores worldwide.

BSkyB shares sold

BSB HOLDINGS, whose principal shareholders are Granada Group. Pathe and Pearson, has sold 19.5 million shares in British Sky Broadcasting to BZW Securities, for placing with institutions. The shares amount to i.l per cent of the share capital of BSkyB, which is 40 per cent owned by News International, owner of The Times. BSBH retains 220.6 million BSkyB shares, representing about 12.8 per cent of its share capital. BSkyB shares fell 1p to 632p yesterday.

LineOne launched

NEWS INTERNATIONAL owner of The Times, yesterday launched LineOne, its internet services provider that is run jointly with British Telecom. The service includes coverage from The Times. The Sunday Times. The Sun. News of The World and Sky Television. Its research facilities include a newspaper library, stock market updates and company research facilities. Available for a monthly fee, it can be accessed through www.lineone.net or by calling 0800 111210.

News group advances

PROSPECTS for Midland Independent Newspapers have improved, according to Chris Oakley, chief executive, He cited. buoyant advertising sales, lower newsprint costs and a better portfolio of titles. The regional press group's pre-tax profit rose to £16.6 million. from £15.8 million, before exceptional charges in the year to December 29. After £4.6 million in exceptionals, MIN made £12 million, against £16.3 million. Earnings per share were 8.06p (7.7p). A 2.5p final dividend makes 3.8p (3.5p).

Minorco advances

MINORCO, the mining group, raised net profits before exceptionals from $365 million to $396 million last year, on sales up from $4.247 billion to $5.014 billion. The dividend is unchanged, at 63 cents, on earnings down 13 cents, at $1.50. An exceptional charge of $119 million has been taken to cover the restructuring of the Morro Velho operation in Brazil, Minorco said that production increases in gold, copper and newsprint mitigated the price weakness of industrial commodities.

Brent lifts payout 60%

BRENT International, the UK chemicals company, is raising the total dividend 60 per cent after reporting a sharp recovery in pre-tax profits to £10.2 million last year. from £3.53 million in the previous year. Earnings were 8.6p a share, recovering from an adjusted 3.3p. The total dividend rises to 3.2p a share from 2p, with a 2.2p final. Group sales rose 4 per cent to £136 million, excluding businesses sold. The shares rose 9½p to £12p yesterday.

Securit	Y Resource allocation by a renowned
Rate of return	12,2%
Mortge on actually co	age security mpleted and leased office completes from US-$ 100	ments
	Ask for documentation and information, without any obligation
SOUR COMPETENT PARTNER	Telephone 0041-1-3171515 Fax 0041-1-3171517

Battling for Cheaper Car Insurance?

Is your premium over £250? You could cut your costs by calling Hastings Direct.

Bigger cars and comprehensive cover a speciality! Call FREE on 0800 00 1066 and quote reference TI012

HastingsDIRECT

-15 ()

Malaya at $Bank \, \mathrm{off}_{\mathbb{R}^n}$

271 %

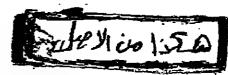

Paris.

Ascoi dica

the second

Cortecs develop

anti-plaque vace

☐ Entering the third Iceland age ☐ What happened in SBC's dealing room? ☐ Opportunity for private care sector

☐ WAIT around for long enough, and some clever cor-porate financier will eventually come up with a wizard scheme to do pretty well anything. No wonder the engineers complain that all the bright minds go elsewhere. The latest invention to emerge from the City's labs is the reverse rights issue.

JRCH Blift

Up 1

Under a normal rights issue, you get shares in proportion to the number you hold, so maintaining your stake. The opposite is a share buyback, in vogue at the moment because companies have spare cash or because the cost of borrowing is so much lower than of servicing equity. But the trouble with these is that the big institutions tend to be at the head of the queue, and smaller or slower shareholders never get a look-in. So NatWest has thought up a buyback for Iceland Group that allows investors to swap shares for cash in proportion to their individual holdings. Those that want to stay in are balanced out by more willing sellers. The result should be that sharehold-ers depressed by Iceland's recent share price performance - and who wouldn't be? - can get out at a price 21 per cent higher than previously available, while loyal investors stay in.

Because of the group's dismal rating, the cost of equity is about 22 per cent, against bank debt

Freezing out the doubters costing 6 per cent or more. Borrowings soar — last year's interest bill would have been covered only four times by profits — but earnings per share would have been enhanced by 20 to 25 per cent.

All very laudable. But the buyback, only considered because taking the company private was too expensive has a second effect, which we are assured is purely coincidental. It makes the company less vulnerable to a bid. by placing a firm price on the value of the shares while shooing those disaffected investors towards the exit. And Iceland, along with Kwik Save, are the two food retailers seen as most prone to a hostile takeover.

This is because leeland is in the process of reinventing itself for the third time, two previous incarnations having been killed off by bigger compeniors. First there were those arrays of freezer cabinets, until these became standard at any supermarket. Then Iceland was attracting a downmarket customer base by fierce price-cutting until the supermarkets got into that act as well. The latest plan is home deliveries, attractive to the company's carless clientele but

The big grocers would love to kill feeland off, first for access to new customers and, second, because a few of its high street stores are ideal for brands such as Tesco's Metro late-night stores. Malcolm Walker, Iceland's founder, is convinced the company has a future. Time will tell. But his plan to give doubters an easy exit could well be followed by other bid-prone underperformers. Just as long as it does not become a matter of spending investors' money on keeping the board in their jobs,

More questions than answers

□ IF DISASTERS come in threes, then there must be another around the corner. NatWest's derivatives problems seem to be technological incompetence, and today's internal report should make this clear.

SBC Warburg's entanglement with the burnt-out remains of the old Kleinwort European Privatisation Trust, or Kepit, looks potentially more serious. One's first thought, on news that someone handling that pro-gramme trade back in November had been a bit too clever, is that it just would be SBC, wouldn't it? The inventor of those contracts-for-differences that aroused such criticism during the electricity bids, and of that oh-so-ingenious Reuters special dividend last autumn that finally roused the Treasury to block a long-running tax loophole. The bank that seems to pride itself on being too clever for its own good. SBC was charged by Kepit with liquidating the trust's shares portfolio, and as soon as the deal started, on the day the London market was thrown into reduced

PENNINGTON

ICL loss

vices group owned by Fujitsu of Japan reported a pre-tax loss of £2.5 million for 1996. It lost £188.3 million in 1995, when there was an exceptional charge of £129.6 million. ICL has reshaped its operations since

Fujitsu took control in 1990.

aiming to shift out of computer hardware to focus on systems, services and integration. Last year it won the largest private finance ini-tiative contract in a £1 biflion deal to automate the UK's post offices. ICL cut operating losses from £31.2

million to £19.9 million in 1996, on sales down from E3.1 billion to £2.9 billion.

confusion by an abrupt rise in interest rates, it ran into problems. There were rumours, de-nied by SBC, of a sacking at a senior level. There were reports that the bank had dropped a few million, having to make up the difference between what the shares should have fetched and what they eventually did. We now have a confirmed sacking at a senior level, and a confirmed few million pounds down the drain. What we do not know is what happened in the dealing rooms on October 30. It seems that when it came to sell some of those shares, the indicative prices of stocks that were normally seldom traded were already falling.

What sparked those price falls? Was it ham-fistedness, other houses getting wind of the sale? Or was somebody at SBC perhaps being a little too clever in their dealings? And were they caught out by the timing? Let us end with a quote from

SBC's management accounts yesterday, "Costs were further inflated by higher, performance-related compensation, due to very good results." In other words, we did so well, we had to shovel out huge bonuses. And what happens when the bonus culture gets out of hand?

Nursing a grand ambition for gran

ONE should not be too cynical about human nature. But one of the odd spin-offs from the col-lapse of the housing market was a bad shock for nursing homes — if one believes the operators.

The theory went thus. The decision by an elderly person to go into a home is often influenced, if not actually taken, by the offspring. In a vibrant hous-ing market, the old dear can be shuffled off and there might still be enough left for that give in the Dordogne. In a falling market— well, the old do value their independence, don't they?

If the housing market is recovering, then, on this analysis, it should be good for nursing homes, a market so fragmented that the merger last autumn of the UK's biggest and third-biggest operators created a busi-ness with only a 5 per cent share. However, the sector has dis-appointed before. Care in the community should have provided occupants from among hospital patients — except that councils could not afford to pay private operators, and so left their charges in hospital, where the NHS picked up the bill.

A nursing home runs on largely fixed costs; drop below a certain occupancy level and it is unprofitable. The industry had too many beds and not enough takers. This week offered some takers. This week offered some fresh hope. Monday's incentives to help the elderly to afford care could provide a few more customers, as and when.

Yesterday's promise to require councils to sell most of their old people's homes would provide further expansion. Because of the difficulty in filling beds, growth already tends to come from taking over existing homes already furnished with occupants. rather than splashing out on new

Only one caution. Let us hope that the contracting out of care of the elderly is rather better handied than the last time that the private sector was handed such a huge opportunity by the Government. That was in the late 1980s, when people were encouraged to schemes and opt for personal pen-sions. The result was the sharning

Marsh & McLennan buys rival

Marsh & McLennan has agreed to boy rival Johnson & Higgins for $1.8 billion, consolidating its position as the world's biggest insurance broker.

M&M will pay about $600 million in cash and the rest in shares. Johnson & Higgins is the third largest insurance broker in America and fifth biggest in the world. With 9,000 employees and 145 offices around the world, it had total revenues of $1.2 billion in 1996. primarily from its insur-ance-related operations.

Malaya up

Malaya, the motor dealer. returned pre-tax profits of £2.5 million (£2.09 million) last year after disposal costs of £500,000. Both new and used car sales rose 15 per cent against last year, with volume sales rising 18 per cent. Malaya H R Owen, after a specialist car dealer it bought three years ago. After a beavier tax charge, earnings were ip (0.96p), while the total dividend was held at 0.66p. A final 0.33p is due on May 6.

Bank offer

Jacques de Larosière, pres-ident of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, said be has been offered a second term in the position by the bank's governors. He succceded Jacques Attali in 1993 for a four-year term and he will give his answer

Ascot deal

Ascot Holdings, the indus-trial group, has sold Metro House, Harrow, for £L5 million, payable in full on completion, which will occur on April 22. Howard Dyer, the Ascot chairman and chief executive, said the disposal is "in line with the company's stated strategy of disposing of property assets to further reduce gearing."

Argent fall

Argent, the property group, reported pre-tax profits of £6.67 million (£13.63 million) in the year to December 31. Earnings were 8.2p (19p). Argent raised net as-sets per share from 287p to 312p in the year.

Sterling strength prompts warning from Reed Elsevier

BY ALASDAIR MURRAY

REED ELSEVIER, the Anglo-Dutch publishing company, gave warning yesterday that the strength of sterling would hold back earnings growth this year at Reed International - the UK-quoted arm of the company. Nigel Stapleton, co-chairman, predicted that at current levels the pound would knock about 5 per cent from profits. He added that investment in electronic publishing was also likely to act as a drag on margins although it should promote organic growth in the medium term.

Reed plans to spend more than £60 million this year on developing its electronic publishing businesses, which include LEXIS-NEXIS, the online business information service. Electronic publishing now accounts for nearly 20 per cent of total revenue and Reed predicts that growth will continue to outstrip demand for traditional print formats.

Reed Elsevier announced an II per cent increase in full-year profits to £805 million. Earnings per share for Reed International shareholders rose 9 per cent to 56.2p, compared with a 13 per cent increase for shareholders in Elsevier, the Dutch-quoted arm.

The total dividend was increased 11 per cent to 27-2p for Reed International shareholders. Turnover from continuing businesses increased 5 per cent

Nigel Stapleton expects a 5 per cent dent in profits to £2.5m ICL, the information technology group, is close to breaking even after suc-cessive years of losses (Christine Buckley writes). The UK systems and ser-its in the professional division increased 21 per cent to £274 million, driven by strong performances from its legal busi-nesses and LEXIS-NEXIS. The business division increased operating profits 7 per cent to EZ73 million thanks to good growth in its exhibitions to E3.4 billion. Operating prof-business information units. But the division suffered from a continued decline in hard-copy travel publishing. Reed is aiming to expand its electronic output from the travel business to reverse the

The scientific division increased profits 9 per cent to £231 million. Reed is aiming to launch ScienceDirect, its first science-based online information service, in the second half

Profits in the consumer division rose 13 per cent to £78 million. Reed expects IPC, the consumer magazine business. to benefit this year from stronger advertising revenues and lower paper prices.

Mr Stapleton added that the company is well positioned to make further acquisitions this year and looked forward to continued growth. Reed also announced it would be making a two-for-one share split in May. A final dividend of 18.95p is payable on May 28.

Tempus, page 26

TI plans more acquisitions to extend global operations

By Christine Buckley, industrial correspondent

TI GROUP, the UK engineer, that spent £275 million on acquisitions last year, expects to make further purchases this year as it seeks to strengthen global operations. Weakness in European markets was offset by stronger trading in America and expansion in Asia and Latin America. Pre-tax profits rose 26 per cent, to £232.2 million, with a 16 per cent advance in underlying profits after stripping out gains from disposals.

Sir Christopher Lewinton, chairman, forecast tough trading again in Europe in 1997, but said the group was well placed to progress because of its geographical spread and the range of its businesses. TI's operations embrace mechanical seals and engineer-ing polymers, tubing for the automotive and refrigeration industries, and aerospace.

Profit from UK operations fell to £49.3 million, from £50.7

million, and in Continental

Europe fell to £50.6 million, from £51.1 million. Profits in North America rose 26 per cent, to El01.1 million, and the rest of the world jumped 46 per cent, to £18.1 million.

Sales climbed 3 per cent to £1.75 billion, although the underlying turnover, modified for acquisitions, disposals and currency movements, rose 8 per cent. The final dividend is lifted 11 per cent, to 975p a share, due May 30, making a total of 14.5p (13.1p).

BP sees big leap in oil and gas output

By PAUL DURMAN

anti-plague vaccine

Cortecs developing

CORTECS International, the biotechnology company, is working with the Defence Evaluation Research Agency (Dera) at Porton Down to create a vaccine to combat biological weapons that kill by spreading bubonic and pneumonic plague.

Dera wants to use Cortecs' expertise in creating oral drugs to deliver its antigens against the plague. Cortecs has been working with Dera since last June and the results of early tests in mice are

Cortecs reported half-year results that showed sharply higher research and development spending of £4.6 million (£2.5 million). The company hopes shortly to be able to file for European approval of Macritonin, its capsule form of calcitonin, the treatment for osteoporosis, the brittle bone disease. Results from phase two/three trials on 228 patients should be released in early April Revenues in the six months to end December fell to £4 million, mainly due to lower licensing payments. The halfyear loss rose from £1.6 million to £4,3 million. After raising £46 million last year, it still has cash of just over £50

BY CARL MORTISHED BRITISH PETROLEUM has in oil and gas production until forecast a dramatic boost in oil and gas production, with output expected to rise by one million barrels per day within the next decade. City analysts were yester-day told that BP would meet its profit target a year ahead of schedule. Last year, BP said that underlying earnings would rise by $1.5 billion by the end of the decade. John Browne, chief executive, said that the goal was steady expansion aimed at sustainable growth of around 10 per cent a year. The oil company had forecast 5 per cent aenual growth

2000. But BP is now confident that it can maintain a 5 per cent rate of growth in output over the next ten years to 25 million harrels per day. The additional output will come from developments in Colombia and Venezuela as well as existing provinces in the North Sea and Alaska. Gains from increased output and lower costs will benefit BP by at least another $300 million in the current year. BP expects to spend $5.7

billion on developments this year, with $1.5 billion on projects that will generate

Dyno-Rod seeks to lay OFT trap for Rentokil

By PAUL DURMAN

DYNO-ROD, the privately owned franchise operation best-known for unblocking drains, is to complain to the Office of Fair Trading about the sales practices of Rentokil's pest control

Dyno-Rod, which has just established Dyno-Kii to challenge for Rentokil's 60 per cent market share, said the larger company "is acting against the public interest in some of its tactics". It declined to give more details.

In 1988, Rentokil was found by the Monopolies and Mergers Commission to have acted against the public interest, including using predatory pricing against smaller rivals. It has since had to spell out its labour, materials and overheads costs but its prices have remained 10 to 15 per cent higher than its competitors.

Thompson: 'better quality'

Sir Clive Thompson, chief executive of Rentokil Initial, dismissed Dyno-Rod's criticisms as a publicity stunt. He said Rentokil's customers were happy to pay higher prices for better quality.

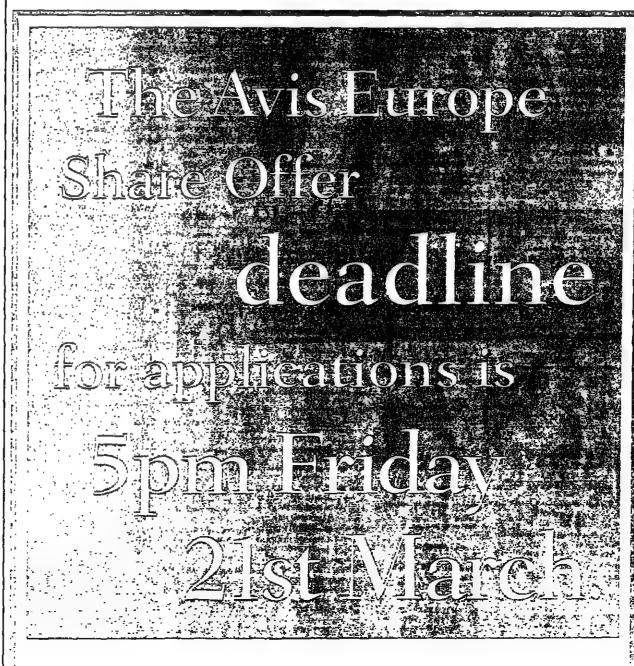

Rentokil Initial yesterday reported that the UK pest control business suffered a fall in profits last year. The group only maintained its target of 20 per cent earnings growth because of the eight month contribution from Initial and the other businesses acquired as part of last year's takeover of BET.

The old Rentokil businesses increased pre-tax profits by 9 per cent to £233.4 million. As well as redundancy and exchange-rate costs, Sir Clive blamed the management time devoted to integrating BET. which contributed profits of £84.6 million.

Group pre-tax profits rose 48.2 per cent to £318 million on sales 167.6 per cent higher at £2.3 billion. This produced carnings per share of 17.13p, a 20.5 per cent rise. Rentokil Initial will pay a final dividend of 3.58p on May 17. This increases the total payment by 20.5 per cent to 5.06p a share.

Tempus, page 26

There is still time to apply. Buy shares in the Avis Europe Share Offer and you could receive discounts and benefits on Avis car rental. Completed application forms must be returned by 5pm on Friday 21st March. To apply, contact your stockbroker or call one of the following share shops:

Skipton Share Dealing Services _____0800 1380800 City Deal Services _0800 437437 .0345 665665 ShareLink NatWest Stockbrokers_____ 0800 210212 learnt in, and the wide responsibility of Aris Europe pic, and approved by Merrill Lyuch international (Merrill Lyuch) and NatWest Securities Limited (NatWest within are regulated by the SSA, acids for the purpose of action ST of the Francesca Services Act 1986 (the PSA). This is not an office Merrill Lyuch and NatWest are string exclusively for Aris Europe pic, in relation to the purposed offer of shares and will not be responsible to anyone the for providing the protections off whell to their customers are for providing advice in relations to the proposed offer. The value of district can be done or and as up. Person seculing advice shruld country a professional advice. Stabilization/SIB. Not for distribution in or into the United States, Canada, Australia or Japon

Hanson stays in the top 100 as Argos drops out relief last night as it held on to its place in the FT-SE 100. despite sinking near the bottom of the listing after its demerger moves. After the quarterly meeting to assess company ratings for the important FT-SE 100 membership, Argos was put on the relegation list while British Land, as expected, won promotion.

Compass, which had been tipped to replace Hanson. remains on the reserve list. while it was confirmed that the Halifax Building Society will not automatically join the top 100 when it floats around early June. Instead it is likely to make its FT-SE 100 debut on June 23.

On a busy day for company results in the City, with the added distraction of results from Cheltenham, the market going was firm to heavy. A renewed call for a rise in interest rates from the Bank of England unsettled the market in the morning before Wall Street's opening set the tone.

A wave of profit-taking saw shares settle lower across the board. By the close the FT-SE 100 was 21.8 points lower at 4,422.5, with around 850 million shares changing hands.

Sterling fell back against the dollar and mark on talk of its being overvalued. By the close the pound was trading around DM2.71 and at $1.59.

Its retreat will have brought some comfort to Reed International, the publishing company, which together with reporting an II per cent rise in pre-tax profits warned the market that the continuing strength of the pound would hit current profits. Its shares fell 17p to £11.5612 as analysts trimmed profit forecasts to around £870 million.

Tobacco stocks blew smoke in the face of National No Smoking Day. BAT was in demand and put on 7p to 56412p, while imperial Tobacco followed suit with an 812p rise to 43412p.

Cadbury Schweppes was
The shares added 141 ap to 555p to reach its best level this year, as the City anticipated positive reaction in the US to Cadbury's presentation to analysts.

Pizza Expres favourite and saw its shares shoot 24p higher to 65712p. another high. Last month's strong results, the promise of expansion plans and the extra topping of bid speculation

Sir Christopher Lewinton of TI Group, which rose 12p given the hearty appetite of brewers and leisure groups for restaurant chains, are combining to keep the shares ready to go.

Iceland Group was cheered to a 1212p rise to a peak of 991 zp. after announcing plans to buy back over one third of its ordinary and preference shares. The details came with news of a 23 per cent drop in fund manager, had topped up its stake to 20.25 per cent.

TI Group, under Sir Christopher Lewinton, chairman and chief executive, led the FT-SE 100 for much of the day after snares responded to strong results with a 12p rise to 576p. Pre-tax profits of £232.2 million, up by 26 per cent, came in at the top end of forecasts and analysts have

Among the household names reporting today, United Biscuits is expected to show a profits recovery to £109 million. Its shares closed 42p lower last night at 2372p. Recklit & Colman, also reporting today, closed at 789p. down 8 2p. NatWest Securities, the broker, is looking for an 11 per cent rise in profits to £317 million.

pre-tax profits at the group, which plans to expand from its high street base with a home delivery service.

Supermarkets were back in the running as analysts digested new research on the sector. Sainsbury was the chief beneficiary, moving up 5p to 315p. while Asda added 114p to Ill'4p. Kwik Save dipped a penny to 294p after the disclosure that PDFM, the pension upgraded expectations for the current year to over £240 million. Smiths Industries put on 412p to 81412p in the wake of Ti's upbeat news.

Rentokil Initial, the pot plants to pest control group, failed to impress, and shares fell 4212p to 41512p after reporting a 48 per cent rise in pre-tax profits. EMI Group climbed IIp higher to £12.36, taking its rise of the ubiquitous Spice Girls and a recent broker's recommendation are credited with fuelling the rise.

Among pharmaceuticals Scotia Holdings gave up fur-ther ground, falling 30p to 405p, after its failure to win approval for a new diabetes drug. British Biotech moved up 5p to 26212p on talk of dealers switching over from Shield Diagnostics was hotly pursued once again, rising 6212p to 71712p, while Glaxo Wellcome slid back on profit-taking to end 1412p lower at £11.3912. Shares in Cortees moved up 5p to 23012p after announcing interim fig-ures, while Zeneca fell back 23p to £18.37.

Yorkshire-Type Tees continued to power ahead, adding 32'ap to £12.80 after Tuesday's results and renewed talk of Granada's bid interest.

Shares in Telewest Communications, the cable group, dipped 212p to 118p after announcing a pre-tax loss in line with forecasts, while BSkyB fell ip to 632p after 1.1 per cent of its share capital was placed by three share-holders, Granada, Pearson and Pathe.

N Brown, the mail order group, fell back 7p to 38112p on talk of its interest in the Freemans operation.

BP railied before slipping back to close 8p lower at 70212p. Enterprise Oil, due to report today, attracted interest and moved up 1012p to 63312p.

Lively trading in BA is expected this morning after news last night that USAir has videned its lawsuit against the airline to claim an alleged breach of fiduciary duty by BA's representatives on the USAir board. BA shares ended at 65412p down 812p. GILT-EDGED: The market sagged, partly in response performing other European bonds and reacting little to UK industrial production figures. In futures the June series of the long gilt ended £1032 lower 32 on volumes of 57,000 little changed from Tuesday. Treasury 8% 2000 ended off £1e at £1032532, sterling's fall, under-while Treasury 8% 2015 closed □ NEW YORK: Shares were lower at midday as investors once again fretted about interest rates and upcoming inflation data. The Dow was 12.70 points lower at 7,072.46.

MAJOR INDICES

908.12 (-3.27)

New York (midday):

Tokyo: Nikkei Average 18183.27 (-84.4	15)
Hong Kong: Hang Seng	17)
Amsterdam: EOE Index	P9)
Sydney: 2454.4 (-13.	.9)
Frankfurt: DAX3415.401-45.1	9
Singapore: 2177.71 (-17.3 Brussels: General 12295.74 (-62.2
Paris: 2641.70 (-41.4
Zurich: SKA Gen	xO)
Landon: FT 30	า
FT 100 4422.5 (-21.	S)
FTSE MId 250 4725.1 (-4.
FTSE 350 2185.4 (-8.	9
FTSE Eurotrack 100 2204.47 (-37.4	lti)
FT All-Share 2156.05 (-7.8 FT Non Financials 2207.07 (-7.6	19)
FT Non Financials 2207.07 1-7.6	(O)
FT Fixed Interest 119.43 (-0.2 FT Govt Secs 95.50 (-0.2	27 27
Bargains	oi.
SEAO Volume	TT.
USS 1.5930 H0.012	[5]
German Mark 2.7105 (-0.027	4
	BC.
Exchange Index 96.8 -0.	40.1
Bank of England official close (Apm) E:ECU

RECENT ISSUES

154.4 (an (2.8%) Jan (987=100

	WIGIO-MEIZU	103:
	Aortech	1225
	Birmingham City	535
i	C&B Publishing	175
ı	Calidore Warrants	1
	Cambridge Mini Res	1312
	Centrica (75%)	621:	-
1	Core Group	328	_
	Dobbies Gran Curs	260	+
	Energy Group (525)	52112	_
	Girovend Csh Sys	188L	-
	Howle	30½
	Infobank Inti	1761:	٠.
	Nord Anglo Edem	160%
	Psd Group	360	- 2
	Street	514	_
	TR Euro Gwth Wrts	601:	-
	Technoplasi	1131,
	Usher of Trowbridge		Ċ
	VFG	4115
	11.00

RIGHTS ISSUES

Grantchester n/p	371:	+ 10
PTS n/p (100)	221,		1

MAJOR CHANGES

RISES:
Norbain
Iceland Gp 921;p : - 12pi
Haden Macin 124p 1 ~ 13 :59
Brent Chems
Jarvis220p (~15':p)
Huntich Tech 2050 (~17p)
Acom Comp 230'tp (-165)
PizzaExpress 657'.p (+24p)
Therp Anti Inc 383p (~11'-p)
Cadbury-Schw 555p (+14":p)
VALLS: Scotia
Blacks Leis 417p (-13p)
Adam & Harvey 332 to 1-10p.
RMC Group 989¢ (-29':p.
Argent
Vodalone
Woiseley 501':p (-10p)
Dixons Gp 514 (p. (-9p)
Man Utd 630p (-10p)
Gen Accident 8411:p (-13p)
Ryl Bk Scot 576p (-8 :-p)
Closing Prices Page 29

TEMPUS

Banking on fund managers its earnings target. Yesterday's figures included a sweeping £260 million

writedown of BET's net assets. A reduced depreciation

A GREAT fund manager carrying a merchant bank on its back. Not quite fair as a description of Schroders, but, in investment terms, shareholders would do bener without the overcapitalised bank. Schroder Investment Management goes from strength to strength. with operating profits rising by almost a third. Money is being pumped into SIM to good effect; most of the increase in funds under management is new business, and the retail side continues to win performance awards.

The problem is investment banking. Schroders arrived at a crossroads a year ago: it could remain a "boutique" merchant bank. advising clients in the old-fashioned way, or become an integrated investment bank. offering both advice and the ability to sell shares. Unfortunately, Schroders took the latter path. The costs of turning a perfectly good bank into something flash with global. pretensions and overheads are now becoming apparent. Administrative expenses gress more quickly than operating income last year, leaving the pre-tax line flat. Fortunately, a few tax-driven leasing deals boosted the carnings line, avoiding the embarrassment of nil growth from banking during a bull market.

The banking business almost justifies its existence, earning a 12 per cent post-tax return on equity, a fraction up on Schroders' cost of capital. For investors, however, that is a wholly inadequate return for a volatile business, probably at its cyclical peak. Of course. Schroders' return is no worse than its American peers, but that is no reason for investors to like it. Cheap and cheerful boutique banks can at least afford to make hay while the sun shines.

than the needs of the business. While Sir Clive is confident about doubling

BET's margins over the next two or three years, there seems no very obvious rea-

former w

والمراوي e**

1. 1. 14

$51.50

Negative Trans

Rentokil Initial

RENTOKIL INITIAL met its 20 per cent earnings growth target but the shares took a pasting anyway. Growth is slowing at the old Rentokil businesses, which only managed to raise profits by 9 per cent to £233.4 million. Last year's acquisition of BET came to the rescue, appearing to confirm the suspicions of many that the deal was driven by targets, not business logic.

Smooth-talking Sir Clive Thompson, the chief executive, reckons the Rentokil slowdown is only a temporary hiccup, which he blamed on a combination of lack of work in UK pest control, exchange-rate costs, and the management time spent on BET.

The concern is that the group will have to rely on accounting wheezes to meet

Mar Apr May Jun Jul Aug Sep Oct Nov Dec Jan Feb Mar

Reed Elsevier

REED ELSEVIER is certain that its future is electronic. Print will continue to be the mainstay of the group's earnings into the next century but it is clear that growth will tend to come in the future from its online information services. Reed has already established a strong position in the electronic media market with the $1.4 billion acquisition of Lexis-Nevis. The legal and business information database provides the vital piatform for supplying online information and already has 40 per cent of the US online business market and 50 per cent of the online legal market. Reed is now seeking to expand the service, developing projects such as the $30 million launch of ScienceDirect aimed at new success will depend on scale and the bit-part players will

Reed seems to have achieved

the necessary critical mass it will now need to work hard on expanding the range of data it provides if it is to cement its position as a potential market leader.

in the short term, however, Reed's outlook is distinctly dull. Some flimsy bid specuiation has taken the shares 10 per cent higher in recent weeks. But the extra costs of expanding its electronic businesses and the souring pound will hold back profits at its Reed International arm to single digits this year. In the long term, however, Reed could well have stolen a lead in the publishing market of the future.

Barclays

THERE is a delicious irony in the long drawn-out sale by Barclays Bunk of the assets of Imry Holdings. Property lending was the bank's Achilles' heel during the recession and its support for the buyout bullish lending followed by crashing property values. Of course, Barclays is a more cautious beast today and a number of ambitious developers are (ascinated by Imry's assets, in particular the West Quay shopping centre project

Maria Marii

Southampton. This should be the bank's revenge on its critics. Indeed, the Shires shopping centre in Leicester has been picked up by Rodamco, the Dutch fund. for a mooted figure of £165 million. Even in today's market an initial yield of just over 5 per cent feels hot.

But if Barclays is to show a return for its patience with lmry, it will come from selling the West Quay project at a premium price and that is proving difficult. Two investors pulled out, unwilling to pay the high price demanded. Could it be that today's developers are more cautious than the ones Barclays backed to the hilt in the last

EDITED BY CARL MORTISHED

WALLSTREET

COMMODITIES LIFFE GNI LONDON GRAIN FUTURES CRUDE OILS &/barrel POB) PRODUCTS $/MT) LIFFE POTATO (L/Q Open C ROBUSTA COFFEE (S) Bid 205 (-2) 167 (+3) 79 (n/c) 192 (+2) WHITE SUGAR (POS) May 301,8-01.5 May 301,8-01.5 May 301,8-01.5 Jun und IPE FUTURES (GNI LIA) . 167.25-67.90 Jul ... 171.25-71.75 . 168.50-68.75 Aug . 171.75-73.00 . 169.75-70.00 Vul: 20874 1515 1610 1540 1330 BRENT (A.00pm) Average faistock prices at representative markets on March II

1+/-/		METAL EXCHANGE Rudolf Wolff]
Eng/Wales:	Copper Gde A ($/tonne) Cash: 2402.0-
(11-)	Lead ($/(onne) 691,004
(%)34.0 -11.0 -19.0	Zinc Spec III Gde ($/tonnet = 124/0-
Septland	Tin ($/lonnel 6005.0-
(+/-)	Aluminium Hi Gde ištionnėi 1645.0-
(%)7.0 -6.0 -14.0	Nickel ($/ronne) 7920.0-1	7925U 8025.0-e030 0 97716
三国经济, 医乳管门外 机萝卜	LIFFE OPTIONS	11
 	LIFE OF HORS
Calls Puts	Calls Pois	Calli Puts
Series Apr Jul Oct Apr Jul Oct	Series Apr Jul Oct Apr Jul Oct	Series Apr Int Oct Apr Jul Oct
Uld Dott . 420 30 57 45 4 14 18		Abby Nat. 750 44 b9, 13 9 24', 34
1444°1 460 75 let. 26 21°, 25 39	BAA 500 39 49', 55 2 10', 14	(*781) 800 16 42 56 11 47', 57
SDA 110 5 8' 10 2', 5', 1		Augustian 140
"HIPA 120 1 4 6 9 H 129	Thames W., 650 49', 68 71's 7', 28' 3)	(uno) 160
30003 650 33 47°, 53°, 6°, 3° 24°	(1640):) 700 18 40: 45 25: 51 56	Barclays 1100 30 75': 93 18 37 55':
167413 700 75 30 DEC 30 45 51	1	C11159 ITM IM 90 675 45 625 RD
3r Alifway's , 650 22 38 49 📑 🖼 351	ScriesMay Aug NovMay Aug Nov	Natl Perr 450 47 3
1653) 700 5 M 29 47 60 65°.		['4934] 500 12", 32 32", 17", 38 44",
3P 700 🖾 40° 52 16 30 38	BTR
784F4 750 5 19 30 49, 59 His	P276A) 280 7 15 10 16 20 23's	Series Apr Jul Oct Apr Jul Oct
r Steel 140 19 22 22 05 4 55	Br Aem 1350 67: 105 1205 M. 57: 645	Giran W., 1100 43', 76', 74', 21', 43 61';
1994 160 4 9 10 6 15 15	(*1365's) [400 47: 78', 100 62', 76', 89	C11349 1150 19', 51 65', 49 ME, 57
6 W 500 21 36 464 124 25 13	Br Telcm 420 264 36 394 74 184 224	HSBC 1500 497 145 172, 17 48 737
907) 550 4 17 EN 41 EN 62	(*434".) 460 8", IT III 29 43", 46	P1997 1600 14 NULTY 617 MM 119.
70 31 60', 74', 20'; 46 60', 74', 20'; 46 60', 780'; 750 12', 39', 53 52' 74 89	Cadbury 900 54's 63 67's 4's 10's 13's	Reuter 100 40 1041 73: 7: 17. 23
	(*554) 550 20°, 33°, 39° 22°, 39°, 33°,	(*643):1 650 IV 367: 47 287: W. 457:
	Guinness 460 23 34 40 13 20 22 P47bi 500 75 16 22 38; 435 45	Bostal # Sun 460 39 46 So 41, 131, 201;
		[*4989.] 900 9 24', 35 23 32 mg
Land Sec 750-43 54 60 2" 15 20 •78n/s 800 11 23 32" 20', 40', 45	GEC
4 & S 4nD 27': 35 43': 4' 13 15	Hanson 300 17' 25' 29' 10' 13' 17	SeriesMay Aug Nov May Aug Nov
481'4) 500 6 13'- 34 23 33 35'	Hanson	Bion Circ. 390 24 32 374 15 18 237
Taking 500 6 199 24 25 35 35 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10	LASMO 220 23 307 337 Ft 7. 85	C404'-1 420 4 18 24 30° 35 40
7742'1 750 19 45 56 25 35 51'	1235/4 240 13 20 23 13 15/ 17
Saleman pig 360 E4 23 39 8', 191 24'.	Lucas Varies 300 131 194 23 8 105 141.	Series May Aug Nov May Aug May
79n.9 390 4 10h 17 28h 30 43	(205) 220 5 (1 (4') 22 26	Kinglishr 680 47 59 69 12, 22 27
Sainshury 300 20% 25% 31 37, 31% 13%	Pilkingto 140 13 18 - 4'. 8 -	(*687) 700 [/ 32": 43 [m 45" 51".
#3199) 330 45 lg* 17 171 271, 10	(146.) 160 S 9 - 16 30 -	Norma Mar Jun. Mar Jun.
shell	Printennal, 550 44 57, MV, 111, 19 25
11041.1 1100 18 34', IMT 50', 62 71	(590) 600 18', 31', 41', 35', 43 90	Br Gas 220 (ff 17 - 11 11 - mill Bch., 900 56 82 101 114 28. 37'.		(229% 240 2 7% -)) 34% -
19431 450 29 55 745 315 51 60	13674 390 8 lef. 241, 38 44 46	SeriesMar Jon Sep Mar Jon Sep
intelse 100	R-Revice 240 181, 351, 301, 19 15 17
ind 330	C249 3:0 9 17: 21', 50, 25': 27';
frafalgar 90	Tesco 330 25 31 36 8 12 10
UNIO 60	("MN 300 8", 16", 27', 23", 28 II	EMICHEPIAN & 85/117, 4, 34, 36
enera 1800 to 134 ltd 45 781. 96	Williams _ 730	[F1236] 1250 日 62、 15 25 57 元。
1836/1 1900 25 775 112', 104', 133 149	Williams 360	Tarmac 100 4 8 11 1 5, 6
		(1935) 116 M 31 7 7 115 12
Series Apr Jul Oct Apr Jul Oct	FTSE INDEX (*400°)	Hillsdwn_ 180 (0% 13 15 15, 7 19
AT ind 550 ZO 38 49 31 35', 45'.	FIRE CAUEA CHANA	רוב או מאול אין מיום (1905 בייום 1905)
965) 600 5 107, 29 56', 166 76'	430) (490 4400 1450 4500 4550	Longthe 140 Bt. 14 17 5 7
odajone 200 i4 25 31' 8' iii' 30'		(*148) 160 0 5 8 12', 15'; 18 1
2041 30 % 16 22 19 27'. 31'	Calls	Sears 90
	Wat 120°, 76 36 12°, 2°, 1	Judni 100
Series May Aug Nov May Aug Nov	ADT 145', 108 77 SI 30 IS.	Thorn EMI 1500
emd Met 400 365 465 531 b 13 17		(uno) 1600
1951 500 F4 241 325 235 34 351.		Torokins 240 10 214 35 1 84 15
adbroke 220 19°, 26 29°; 3° 6° 9°,		(239) 300 11 to 11 18 25
1239 360 8 14's 18's 12 15's 18's	Dec 317 - 2525 - 3025 -	Liongs TSB. 540 20'1 41 51'4 1', 15 23
nd Blsc 220 14° 24° M 5° 9 13	The same and same 237.) 240 î 147.20 15 19 23.	Mar 6 13', 29 57 99 149
	Apr. 23 46 🚟 90 121 198
Aarch 12, 1997 Tot. 45297 Cell 21062	May 57 73 91 115 142 1765	11-14 121 227 32 401
nd: 24235 FTSE Call: 7572 Pet. 2649	Jun 73 90 july 132 158 188',
Underlying security price.	Dec 1415 - 1785 - 225 -	(*1948's) (600) 17 54's 87 18 60 73
	÷
•	7.

		_
	Persion	Орец	High	Low	Sett	Vol
Long Gilt	Mar 97 .	110-06	112-08	111-25	111-30	1192
Previous open interest 20,945)	Jun 97	111-21	111-26	111-11	111-15	55239
German Govt Bond (Bund)	Jun 97 .	101.01	101.92	101.63	101.78	135134
Previous open interest: 237496	Sap 97 _	101.00	10170	100,90	100.41	20
Italian Govt Bond (BTP)	Jun 97	126.62	125.80	125,60	125.78	69250
Previous open interest: 105729	Sep 97	26.50	126.52	35.50	125.73	135
Japanese Govt Bond (JGB)	Jun 97 _	125.77	125.62	125.72	125.51	1046
	Sep 97 _	134,39	24.38	124,38	124.43	25
Three Mth Sterling	Mar 97 .	93.75	91.76	93,75	93.75	9838
	Jun 97	93.60	93.64	93.57	93.57	16028
Previous open intensi: 541261	Sep 97 .	93.42	93.46	93.37	43,37	21971
Three Mth Euromark	Mar 97 .	96.72	95.74	90,72	Wei.73	8782
Previous open (prerest: 1303969	Jun 97 -	90.72	9b.73	96,71	95.73	17443
Three Mth Eurolira	Mar 97 .	92.67	92.68	97.56	92.bl	10994
Previous open Interest: 280683	Jun 97	93.05	93.05	42,93	75.05	29151
Three Mth Euroyen	Jun 97	99.42	99.42	99.42	99.41	50.0
	5cp 97 .	99,32	99.32	99.12	9931	500
Three Mth Euroswiss	Mar 97 .	96.06	96 08	98.01	94.07	3333
Previous open Intenst: 107299	Jun 47	96,79	94.12	99,04	48711	13125
Three Mth ECU	Mar 97 .	95.72	95.74	145.72	95.73	961
Previous open Interest 34735	Jun 97	95.73	95.75	95.72	95.73	Luns
FINE 100	Mar 97 .	4417.0			-
Previous open (nierest: 75253	Mar 47	4438.0	44500	4401.0 4425.0	44353) 4427.5	14711
rievious opan inicres: 73232) N 14 11 14 11	44136337	447000	4440	4427.3	4514
						_
MON	EY RA	TES	(%)	17
	nance Has
Discount Market Loans: O/night			₩ ¶"⊾		Week Its	ed: 5%=
Treasury Bills (Dist-Buy. 2 mtb 5"	w , 3 mth 5	r. Sell:	2 mih 5	.×:3 ₪	m: 94 .

LONDON FINANCIAL FUTURES

	l mth	2 mth	3 testis	6 տեի	OZ WOL
Prime Back Bills (Dist			6 ′ლ5″ı.	6' ⊬ 6'ı.
Sterling Money Rates:		6°c-6°s	6 °•••6°•	6,4-6,	Qp,
oterbusik:	61-37 h	(C) traffic	G lassiyle	6°m6°ı	67-69
)vernighi: open 5™a, clos	æb.
local Anthority Deps	gn _{ip}	n/a	6 °u	Đ ⁱ s	6
Sterling CDs	6-5 ¹¹ c;	δ¹ _I _I _I _I _I _I	Owo's	to°.⊶6`v	D'm-b
Dellar CDs	5.34	n/a	5.44	5560	5.9
Building Society C'De	6'4-6	6'uddy	fr'6's	b'wb's	0'-0'
	•
Courrency	7 day	Imus	3 auth	6 path	Call
Dollan	5°-4"h	5'w 5's	5-5-	را در ال	_ 5-
Deutschemark: French Franc	3'-2'- 3'-3	31-31 ₀ 31 ₀₋₃₁₀	31-31s 31s-31s	3'-3'- 3'3'-	7°-2' 3°-2'
renes Franc	2-1%	2-1",	Sars's	S'e-S'e	3'-2
rese risus.	100	2-4-1	74-74		1-04
GOLD/PR

llion: Open $353.75-354.05	Close: $352,50-353 00	High: $353.75-354.08
Low: $350.15-350.65	AM: $353.15 PN	4: $351.40
u gerrand: $ 351.75-354.75 (£	220.75-222.75

nn: $380.50 (£239.10) Silver: $5.20 (£3.295) Palladium; $151.50 (£95.25) STERLING SPOT AND FORWARD RATES

What Rudes for Muco	ni 12 Rang	ge (lose	i mouth	3 muss
Amsterdam	3.0493-3.06	52 3.0443-3.	0530	%-\pr	2'-2'-0
Brussels	55.864-56.2	10 55.864-9	5,963	14- 0 pr	41-34p
Copenhagen	10,339-10.3	90 10.339-10	3.349
Dublin	1.0228-1.02		0254	5-1pr
Frankfurt	2,7089-2,72		7117	\-\pr
Lisbon	271.68-273.			- Lds
Madrid	229.76-230.
Milan	2701.2-2713			34-40ds	72 .94 d
Montreal	2 [72]-2 [8	00 2,1735-2	1748	0.59-0.53pr	1, [3-1.05p
New York	1.590b-1.59	40 1.5925-1.	9935	0.925-0.725pt	0.235
Oslo	10.832-10.8
Paris	9,14(3-9,18	60 9 1413-9.	1400	2'-201	6%-6%
Stockholm	12.201-12.2
Tokyo	195.20-195
Vienna	[9.063-19, ['-'epr	1'-1'4
Zurich	2.3338-2.35	34 2,1336-2	3364	Y401	21-254
Source Extel			Pre	mium • pr. L	Discount - di
			-	•
		'

DOLLAR RATES

Arabi	ariyal .	5.7750-5 x00n	HIRE OF NY	di De
י יקנית	Jollár 📖	2.3828-2.2847	Bankers Tr Mi	94
a ran	d (com)		Barneti Banks	44
dirha	m	5,825(15 (4)4)	Bauch & Lomb	37
des R	ant GT	3 4 Lloyds Bank	Buder Intl	47
-143 D	W 11 A C 1	E MONES DUTTE	Beem Dicknan	43
			Hell Allantic	f#
			Bell Industries	21
	EW	DLUMES	BellSouth	H JJ
F 115	3E V.	ACOME2	Black & Decker	n
_			Black (H&R)	r
				11/17
A	470	Land Secs 1,300	Boise Cascade	60
Gp_	10.200	Legal & Gn 2.100	Brisini Myr. Sq	67
Nti	1.900	Lloyds TSB 9,200	Browning Ferris	31
Dom	705	LucasVarity 10.100	Brunswick	21
	200	Marks Spr 5,000	Burlingson Nihn	4
od+	233	Mercury Asset 493	CMS Energy Corp CNA Financial 701	NatWsi Bl. 1,600	CPC Inil	114
ıds	31,000	Nai Grid 7.301	CS2	45
	23,900			51
		Nat Power 2 (0)	Campbell Soup	91
	1,600	Next 715	Can Pacific	25
	10.400	Orange 3,10g	Carolina Par Calerpillar	ν,
	37,8Uu	P & O 2.200	Control a cov	AL.
	14"340	Pearson 343	Central & CW	23
	14.500	PowerGen 2.300		44
Scot	3,700	Prudential 2.800	Chesnin Corp	105 117
yς	3.000	RMC 600	Chrysler
, .	1,300		Chuhh Com	31
ircle	1.600			1-1 158
ILLIE		Ratitrack 4.200		127
	2.100	Runk Group 3, Ing
	2,000	Recklitt Cot 751	Crastal Corp	125
	1,700	Reed Intl 2,000	Coca Cola	M.
eel	16.700	Rentoldl 25,800	Coca Cola Ent	12
th Cst	790	Reuters 0,100		ιñ
1	2.000	Rolls Rayce 2,600	Columbia Gas	ia
Wire	1,500		Columbilica
	7.300	Royal & Sun 5.200	LOMPJU CIMP	#
Ty_		Royal Bl. Set 1.70g	Comp 425 Int	2·7
	(1.40)	Safeway 4,500	Сипарта	36
- a	22,600	Salm bury 5.200		Ιĺż
นับท	14-41	Schroders 681	Con: Edison	ú
5	1.800	Scot & New (100)	Cons Nat Gas
	443	Scot Power 829	Compay Inde	S
	1.600		Constale	41
/ Gr		SYM Trunt (A)	Corrigina	54
A Off	100	Shell Irans 4.200	Coming Inc	45
	1,500	Slebe 1,500	Clowp Cody	94
	4,200	Smkl Beh 2.3m	Вапа Согр	31
	5.25	Smith Nph 4,300	Parion Hindenn Deens	42
CC OC	836	Smiths Indo 2001	Padra	Н,
			Delia Air Linca	N5°
lec	1,900)	Std Chand 1.200	Deluxe Lorp	33
Well	6,4(2)	11 Cp 2,700	Olitical Entitle	1
ďΦ	2,100	Tale & Lyle 580	Dilland Deni St	jį.
Met	3,400	Tesco MAXO	DI.Rey (Walt)	in
255	3.300	Thames W 1,200	ուրանության ար	97
237	1300	Tomkins 5.300	Dundlin (DD)	Жi
			DUNEY COMP	₹3÷
11	2,500	Unliever 832	Drisk Chemical	ĸ
	1.30	- Vid Villilles 1.400	DOM JUDIE.	ŭ,
	2.400	Utd News 3,300	Dresser	3)V
ob	1.300	Vodafone 24.800	Duke Power
		Whitbrud 689	Dun & Rolunss	H
her	1,300			26
•	3 .00 0	Wolseley (J'UD	fullman m	Н

unand, date	unitarily circle.	(
AMP Inc 38's 38's	Eaton Corp 73 72's	1 6
AMP Inc 381 301 AMB Corp 841 841	Edward Ini 114 114
ATA 75' 36'-	Elect Data Sys 44. 49.	PPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPPP
Abbott Labs 644, 556.	Emerson Elec 107, 107, Engelhard Corp 29, 27,	6
Advanced Micro 445 415	Epmn Corp. 40. 40.	Ιż
Adina Life 925 925 Altmanson (HF) 415 415	Entergo 35 M	P
Alternatison (HF) 41's 41's Air Prod & Chem 74's 74's	Ethyl Corp 9 9 Extra 10) , 102 ,	15
Air Prod & Chem 74: 14: AirTouch Cumm 24: 26: AirEsta-Cubre 27: 27:	ESSE Comm. And and	ĺŝ
ADDEDO-COME I SY, SY,	FMC Corp. 66% 66% FPL Group 44% 45 Federal Express 54% 54	l P
Alcan Mumhim 34 38	Lina By 240 85" 87"	P P P P P P P P P P P P P P P P P P P
Alited Stanzal 74% 74%		16
Alum Coof Am 74', 75'.	Flood Fine Gen Is No. 1825.	Ι'n
Amerada Hesa 53 sp.	Flubr Coro 1945 445	1 1
Amerada Hesa 53: 57: Amer Brands 52: 52:	Ford Major 32', 32', OTE Cutp (T) 47's	1 5
Ather FI Police His. In	Ganner 61's 82's	Ιÿ
Affer Express W. Adv. Affer Ceni Corp 44 435 Affer Home Pr 66 66	Gap Inc Dal 34', 33',	l è
Affect Home Pt and 64	Gencorp IV. III.	1 5
	L.Pn Flactoia 1000, Loca	P
	Gen Mills 514 644 Gen Mouors 57, 57, Gen Reinsurance 174 1744 Gen Signal 39, 47, Genuine Paru 47, 47 Georgia Pac 774, 774	P
Amerikash 62', Mar.	Gen Meines 17, 57,	12
Amorn 84 kgl.	Gen Reinsurance 74 174% Gen Signal 30, 42%	l P
Anheuser-Busch 44°, 4,°, Apple Computer 10°	Genuine Parts 47 47	P
Archer Daniels IR. 18.	Gillette 82 82	0
Armes V ₁ 5%	Class Wells ADR 30, 36, Greatich (BF) 40, 41 Greatypar Tire 51, 53,	J K
Armstrag Wrid 71's 71's	Greatich (BF) 404, 41	l R
AGRICULTURAL 126 1265	Cert Signal 29, 4%. Cenutine Parus 47 47. Cenutine Parus 47 47. Central page 77; 77; Gilhelte 52 62; Claan Weile ADR 30-307. Cenodinch (8F) 40, 41. Coodysea Tire 49, 41. Gn All Pac Tea 20, 29, Creat West Pin 48; 46; Hellitourion 48; 66; 66;	PPOKRR
Auto Data Pm 41, 44, Avery Dennisin 41, 42, Aven Products b) 62, Baker Hughes 32, 39	Great Water Pla 48' 44'	18
Aton Products at all	Great Wett Pla 48', 48', Hellibunen 68', 66', Haravan General 47', 47'	l ñ
Avon Products by his Baker Hughes but 19	Hanz (HJ) 42, 47,	R
Baltim Gas & El ana 20%	Heinz (HJ) 42', 43', Herculis 40', 46',	1 5
Bank One 47's 47's Bank America 118's 119's	Hereules 40°, 46°, Hershey Foods 18°, 30°, Hewlett Packard 45°, 54°,	Ri Si Si
Bank of NY 41's 41's Bankers Tr Mi 44's 44's	Hewlett Packard 49', 54', Hillian Hotels 28', 28',	Si
Bank of NY	Hilliam Hotels 25's 25's 15's 11'one Depor 54 50's Homestate Ming 10's 10's 10's Homestate Ming 10's 10's 10's 10's 10's 10's 10's 10's	1 8
Barneti Banks 40°, 40°, Bausch & Lomb 37°, 38°,	Homescare Mink los for Homeswell 74', 74',	(š
	Household Intl. 90°, 100	$1 $2 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4 $5 $4 $5 $4 $5 $4 $5 $4 $5 $4 $5 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4 $4
Secon Dickness 48 48	Household Intl 909, 100 Houston Inds 22 221	[};
Bell Allantic 96% 67% Bell Industries 21% 22 Bell South 44% 44%	Houston Inds 22 224. Historian 225, 23 TOT Corp See, See, Ikan Office See, See, Illimote Total	Íŝì
Bell South 40, 44, Black & Decker 33 31	TYT Corp Sey Sey Sey Ikon Office 30, 30%	7
Black & Decker 11 11 Block (H&R) 17, 20,	lilinois Tool 844 A77	Si Si
boding 107's 108's	Illinois Tool 88, A7, Binova 54, 24, 1900 97, 37, 1900 101 101 101 101 101 101 101 101 10	Į š
Boine Cascade 171, 1169, Bristol Myro Sq. 671, 671, Bristol Myro Sq. 671, 671, Bristol Myro Sq. 671, 671,	ingersoli Rand 47 47	Si Si
Brusening Ferris 314, 314	ingersoil Rand 47°, 47°, intel Core 14°, 14°, 14°, 14°, 14°, 14°, 14°, 14°,	34 Si
Brumwick 29, 281	Intel Curp (4) (43), 18M 146	St
Burlingson Nuhm 44, 844, CMS Strange Corp 32, 32, CSA Financial 114, 114 CPC Inil 85, 65,	IBM 146 146 Intl Flan & Fr MA 46.	1 25
CA financial traitia	inti Flan & Fr M/A 40°. inti Paper 42° 42° 42° James River Va Mc. M. M. Dinon & Jimon 60°, cer.	St Sv
CPC Inil as- as-	Julies grant as Mr. 14	Sy Tr
CSN 51': 52 Campbell Soup 91': 42':	Kellogg 68', 18	Ta
CSN 50' 52' 52' 52' Campbell Soup 60', 62', 62', 62', 62', 62', 62', 62', 62	Kern-MoGee 64' 64'. Kimberty-Clark 110', 110	T3
Carolina Par by, by,	kman las 125	Ta Te
Calempillar for say, Committed a SW 20, 20,	Linight-Philder 40 40 Lin (Ell) 87, 68	Te Te
Central & SW 21, 23, Champion Inii 41, 44	Lin (Ell) 87', 65', Umfted inc 10', 10',	Te
Chase Manhal 105 10%. Chesnin Corp 10', 17',	Thusen by the for the	Te
Christer 3P. 3P.	Lition 41', 41', Liz Claiborne 44', 43'	70
Chulch Corp of R2	Lockheed Martin by	ti
Cirrio Corp 1587, 1507, 1547,	Lockneed Martin 85', 85 Louisiana Pac 21', 21',	Tr
Chicarp 158, 160, 160, 160, 160, 160, 160, 160, 160	MLI Comm 36', 36', Manpreser Inc 30' 30', Marrion Les	Tu to
Coca Coda 64' na'	Manproper Inc 30' 30', Marrion Im 91', 51', Marsh & McLin 134', 124	Te
	Marrion Int 91'. 51'. Marsh & McLinn Lav.	Tn Tr
College-Palm (10 112)		Τv
Columbia Gas 10% MY Columbia ICA 41% 42%	May Dept St 48' 47' Myster Corp. 32' 22'.	US
Columbial ICA 41', 43', Lompus Comp 30', 79', Comp 455 ini 40 40', Consern 56', 55	MCLIONALITY 14', APL	U/ US
Lompus Comp 37. 77. Comp 45 Ini 40 40. Consern 56 55	Mediana train 1971 671	US
Q40040 1125 125 1	7 CU CUTTO 57 CT.	US
Con Edison he we	Medimile to to	W
Cons Nail Gas Str. 53	Merry Jose	មន មក
COMPATE THE WAY		Un
William Inc. 46	Microsoft 40', up.	Hin
LIOW'S CIRE CO. C. I	Michael Min. 48', 48', Minnesota Min. 41', 42', Mobil Corr.	Ŭη
Dana com	Parties Children Communication of the Communication	U

	Enrin Corp 40, 40,	PHH CMp PPG Industria	48°s 57	- 44 51
	Enterpo 35 35 Ethyl Corp 9 9	PPG Industries PNC Bank PPG I Res	44°, 20°,	4
		Process Inc	745	. 2
į	FMC Corp. 66% 66% FPL Group 44% 45 Federal Express 54% F4	Pacificorp Pac Enterprises	772.
I	Federal Express 54', 14 First Bk 5y; 87', 87',	Pac Televis		Ŀâ
	First Union Rity 34 34	Pall Losp Parker Hanniûn	23 45	. 1
	Fleet Fini Grp 6.75 624	Pen Energy	415	2
	Fluor Corp 19% 61% Ford Major 32% 72% GTE Corp 67% 47%		514
	CTE Crip 67 471 Cannett 61', 125	Pepoleo	32	3
	Cur inc Dal 34', 13',	Phon & Lainn	54° 32' 95' 36'	41 42 42 50 M 5 65 M 5 64 M 5
	Gencorp IV. IV. Gen Dynamics for our	Pharm & Upjhn Phelps Dodge Philip Morris	777	7
١	Gen Electric III9, 1054 Gen Mills 644	Phillips Per	138°s	4
	Gen Mills 644 644	Pitney Bourgs Potopidd	62°s	- 63
ĺ	Gen Reinsurance 74 74% Gen Signal 39, 4%	Procer a Grabi	130	12
ı		I PUD Serv E & C	130° 10° 20°	20
ı	Georgia Pac 77', 77', Gillette 82 82	Quaker Gars Raision Puring	37's 86's	31
ł	Class Wells ADR 364, 367,	Raychem Core	86°
l	Gillette 82 82 62 Glain Wells ADR 39, 36, Grootich (BF) 40, 41 Goodycar Title 71, 53, 57, 57, 57, 57, 57, 57, 57, 57, 57, 57	Raytheon Reebok Inii	484	4
Į	Crest Water Plan July 441	i Propoids Macula	報本をいいかが	4) 高级全国 医线线性 医动物
١	sterning the Child	Rockwell intl Rohm & Hous	977) 40%	9)
I	Haroun General 47 47 Hanz (HJ) 42 43 43 43 43 43 43 43 43 43 43 43 43 43	Royal Durch	176%	177
I	section ten	SBC Comms Salero Corp	57,	57
١		Saleto Corp Si Paul's Cos	(1) 10 17 14 17 17 17 17 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18 18	41
ł	Himm Holels 25, 25,	siomon inc	57	57
ļ	HOLLICETTE WUR IP! 10"	Sara Lee Corp Schering Plough	79,	39
ł	Hittigehold Intl. Dog. 100	Schlumberger Scagram	100,	107
J	HOUSION IND 22 221.	Sear Roebuck	553	55
Ì		Sheli Trans	ION.	颐
	Himois Tool 844 AP.	Sheroin Wilms Sivilne Curp Snap-On-Took	244	34
	Minova 24°, 24°, 19°, 18°CO 37°, 37°,	Sompeti On	21,	21
ľ	III KANU 47. 47.	Stanley Works	44)	45
l	inici Curo 141 1431	Sun Company	28	7
ļ	IBM 146 146	Sun Microsys Suntrust	31 53%	31'
Ī	Inii Paper 425 429	Supervalu Systa Com	31%	31
ı		System Corp TRW Inc TCC Inds	50	54
l	Kellogg 68', 18', Kell-McGee 64', 64',	Tandem Comp	1.35	12
l	KIMDERLY-CHARL TIP. 110	Tandy Corp Temple Inland	57%	52
ĺ	knight-bidder 40 m	Tenneco	*	40
l	LIN [LI] 87', 68',	Teraco Teras Engr	102\ 85\	102
l	TROOPED Not NOT NOT	Texas Urillian Textron	36%	,16
l	Liz Claibonne			434
l	Lockheed Mariin 83', 86	Times Mistor A Timken	53 . 54 .	54% 54% 61% 89% 56%
l	MLI Commi 36 6.	Turchmark		617
İ	Marrion Inc 30' 30'.	Transamerica	25°,	99
l	Marson Int 91'. 51'. Marso Corp by 37'.	Travelers Tribune	55%	56%
l	May Dept St 48 47	Type Inc	40% 015	615
	maying Corp. 22, 27,	UST Inc	335	351
	McDonalds 41, 44, 44, McDonalds D 77, 67, McGraw Hall 52, 67, Med Com 57, 57, Medimble	US tods US West Comm US West Media	3 0	77
١	Mend Corp ST. CT.	US West Media	19%	100
		USAIrways Group USX Marathon	沙战 医克克氏	29: 77:
١	Merch los	מועבאווע ו	22	Z,
	Merrill Lynch &y. 49'. Microsoft ball	Uniterer NV Union Cemp Union Cerbide Union Bodice	985 90 80	のいいのかのできているのでは
	Minnesota Mine que que Mehil come	Union Carbide	#	ij.
	Monsanho 131's	Union Pacific Union Com	ál í	448 64
	Morgan up 109 mms	USFAG Corp	22	25h
	Nati Sami	United Tech	77,	77%
	wall Selvice Ind and	Unocal Corp	39	42
	No Times a	WMA Term	124 124	2.
	Minu H. 44	Unocal Corp VF Corp WMA Tech Wal-Man Slores Warner-Lambert Weils Salves	27,	12.
	THE R
	Norman Co. 167, DA	Westinghouse El	19	Ÿι 471
	Number Title 15. 151	Whisiponi	φ¥.	49.
	Thirting Killian Line	Whiteness	214	27: 17:
	Morwey Lurp 52 Cm	Poolenth Auth Dage	22	7
	Okcludental page 55 Mr.	Terra	62 62	W.
	Unio Edison 25° 25° 11°	Yelkow Corp	16	16'1

Filial lie $\mathsf{PATR}(\gamma_{i+1})$ trapa angive and bu Sweet gestling

ه ي اون الإعمالية

well-known life assurance com-

A pany has had a origin marketing idea. The term pensioner should be pany has had a bright marketing scrapped, it suggests, in favour of something more snazzy and interesting. Suggestions are invited. Judging by the tenor of recent public debate, the term parasite may come into vogue. Half a million people who are still waiting to hear if they have been sold the wrong pension might have some other ideas: vulture-fodder perhaps.

As both main parties try to privatise welfare for older people, they plan to put ever more business the way of the long-term insurance industry. After the Pinochet pension, this week we had insuring your house against state seizure. All such schemes seem to involve compulsion, direct subsidies or tax concessions. All agree, it seems, that few would otherwise rush to buy

No wonder. As MPs at the Treasury Select Committee learnt on Monday, companies and their regulator are not exactly straining to repair the industry's good name. An inquiry into mis-selling of personal pensions, mainly to people who had pensions supported by employers, was started in 1994 at the behest of the Securities and Investments Board. The problem was not quite as disastrous as first feared. But it is bad: 558,000 cases have been identified that show symptoms of possible mis-selling. Of these, nearly 480,000 were deemed priority cases.

because the policyholder was already re-

The Personal Investment Authority.

tired, soon to retire or had even died.

ing college in Dublin and told that he was illegitimate. The Jesuit gently explained to him that his parents were not married and his father had a wife and four children in

This must have come as a considerable blow to O'Reilly who until then thought of himself as the only child of an apparently respectable. Catho-lic middle-class home in the ultra-conservative Ireland of the 1950s. Commentators have made great play of the effect that his unorthodox origins

had on the young O'Reilly, suggesting that his life ever since has been an attempt to seek approval and applause from a society that he feared might shun him. According to this theory, his hunger for success was fuelled by a des-

Others dismiss this as psy-chobabble, pointing instead to what they see as an immense

Whatever the spur, O'Reilly gave an early indication of his ability to grab the headlines

when he was selected to play for the Irish rugby team. He was capped 29 times and his became a favourite for Irish supporters. In 1955 he was the youngest member of the British

Lions Tour of South Africa, and in the 1959-tour of New Zealand and Australia he set a try-scoring record which remains

Off the field of play, O'Reilly graduated from University College Dublin, then qualified as a solicitor. He moved to England for a short while to work with a firm of industrial consultants before returning to Ireland to work in a merchant company specialising in agricultural products.

perate need for acceptance.

wealth of raw talent.

another part of the city.

products from life assurers.

THE

Nadir for Asil's former wife

ASIL NADIR'S ex-wife has come a cropper for apparently buying stolen goods. A Turkish court has sentenced Aysegul Nadir. better known as Tecimer. in her absence to four-anda-half years in jail for buying a stolen antique Koran, then selling it for $15,000. She apparently only attended the trial's hearing in 1994, and is now believed to be living in Miami.

The former wife of the fugitive tycoon, an expert on Islamic art, was given a ten-month suspended jail sentence last year for illegally hoarding hun-dreds of antiques in her mansion by the Bosphorus Straits.

The Istanbul socialite twice married and divorced the Turkish Cypriot businessman, who jump-ed ball and fled from Britain to northern Cyprus in 1993, after the collapse of the London-based Polly Peck business empire.

Negative image

CREST NICHOLSON has decorated its showhouse in this year's Ideal Home Exhibition with particular panache. Complete with TV, vase of flowers, and decorative books, the Surrey-based property developer has included a beguiling family photograph, to add that all-convincing lived-in feeling. The family in question? Nigel Lawson in all his pre-diet splendour, accompanied by his wife and a child. Enough to make the former Chancel-lor reach for the biscuit tin.

'Mum's gone to Iceland to sell back her shares"

Filial tic

PATRICK SUMNER is the runaway winner of the Henderson Real Estate trophy for tasteless neckwear. The European analyst and brain behind the competition in aid of Comic Relief was awarded the prize for his white polyester number, pat-terned with red and turquoise diamonds. According to the heartless brute "I borrowed it from my ten-year-old son. He bought it at a school bringand-buy sale, and wasn't very happy when I told FANCY a flight for six to any European city, a foot-ball shirt signed by Teddy Sheringham, or a tie signed by the Spice Girls? Cityscreen, the real-time on-screen magazine on the Reuters network, is hosting a live auction between 10am and 4pm today, to raise money for Comic Relief.

Sweet gesture

A CONFECTIONERS in Cheshire has come up with a political sweetener - the Euromint. Manufactured by Sugro UK, to freshen the breath of Europhiles and Eurosceptics alike, 25p packets of "the taste without frontiers" have been sent to MPs, including Michael Portillo, Sir David Steel, and Virginia Bottomley. Touched by the gesture, former chancellor and Euro-sceptic Norman Lamont wrote to the company: "I shall look forward to starting the packet during my next weekend in Harrogate. They deserve to be devoured." MORAG PRESTON

Beware sweet-talking vultures bearing bribes from the State aimed to break the back of work on these cases and, where necessary, have compensation offered by the end of 1995. Twelve months after that deadline, 37,000 cases had been fully assessed, just one in thirteen of those classed as urgent.

Many excuses are given. The original questionnaire was too perfectionist. A court case brought by independent financial advisers, who account for 13 per cent of the cases, delayed their part of the operation by a few months. Occupational pension schemes, especially public sector ones, took ages to supply the information needed to work out any compensation due. They are, however, merely excuses. The PIA itself, which has a duty to vet 42,000 cases from financial advisers that have gone out of business, seems to have been more dilatory than any section of the industry.

Things should speed up. After procedures were simplified last autumn and companies were at last required to submit credible programmes, the PIA hopes that 90 per cent of cases might be dealt by the end of this year. But it is only a hope. Asked publicly by the MPs, the PIA's chairman and chief executive could offer no date when the scandal might finally be dealt with.

SEARJEANT

So far, the only group to come out of this with any credit are small independent financial advisers, the old-fashioned oneman businesses or small partnerships. By the start of this year, they had at least assessed a quarter of their priority cases, against the 6.7 per cent managed by insurance companies on average and a paltry 2.4 per cent by big national brokers. They have the unfair advantage of knowing their clients and having handled the cases policies to the wrong people as the carpetbaggers. Clearly, if you use an adviser, it pays to go for a reputable local professional who is not going to go away. Unsurprisingly, these small advisers are the only group sat on by PIA bureaucrats. Mis-selling is a cardinal sin under the Financial Services Act, so you might think the industry's failure to purge it would be a hanging offence. Some companies have almost as many cases outstanding as the PIA itself. Yet only 37 fines have been levied, all on advisers, most on small firms who did all on advisers, most on small firms who did not fill in the forms properly.

The PIA also rejected the idea of publishing a league table, on legal advice that this would constitute discipline and therefore be open to legal challenge and appeal. There is literally one law for innocent primary schools and another for guilty big-name companies. Such episodes confirm the fear some of us always harboured that the PIA was misconceived. It is an unhappy hybrid between self-policing as envisaged under the Act, and regulation by quango, imposed because the industry could no longer be trusted. The hybrid is still distrusted because its chairman used to run Legal & General, one of the companies at the centre of the scandal. Other top industry people have the influence to stay its hand. Yet its executive lacks the weight for backstairs fixing or the effective brutality industry professionals use to bring their own kind into line. As a quango, the PIA does not lack powers. It can fine, issue public reprimands or take away companies' authority to do investment business, but seems to lack the professional confidence to use these powers. Threats to deregister would clear up most cases pronto. Instead, we get bureaucracy and excuses.

Companies, not their regulator, are to blame for mis-selling, however, and also principally for failing to atone for it. What good marketing it would be for any company or adviser to be able to claim that it had no outstanding cases of mis-selling on its books. Which companies really care what the public thinks?

Professor Jim Gower, mastermind of the 1986 Act, famously argued that the purpose of investor protection was to prevent reasonable people being made fools of, not to protect fools from their own folly. We have to exercise common sense, then hope that the law and its enforcers will ensure fair dealing. We must rely even more on common sense when it does not. Common sense dictates that if you buy any policy from a company that cannot be bothered to investigate its mistakes, repair them and tell you it has done so, you are a fool — however big the state bribe.

"Tony O buys Jackie O's ring." Widely credited with great business vision and boundless energy, O'Reilly is considered a hard but loyal task master. He is also a charming and amus-ing companion. "He is one of those people who after you talk to them for two minutes, you think you have a friend for life," said one business analyst in Dublin. "He really is a uniquesix children from his first marriage are all active in his various companies and are clearly being groomed to take over when he decides to step down. After a mysterious illness at the end of 1995, speculation has been rife that he may be ready to reduce his business profile. In a recent interview, he conceded that the illness was a warning to slow down, and when asked about his plans he replied: "Sixty is a time for everyone to arrive. Whatever you aspire to you have achieved or not achieved by the time you are 60." In two months O'Reilly celebrates his 61st birthday.

This type of remark and the recent promotion of William Johnson to the posts of thief operating officer and president of Heinz has fuelled speculation that O'Reilly may be ready to relinquish his role as chief ly well-rounded person." The three sons of O'Reilly's

Change of pace in the life of O'Reilly

As Heinz prepares to announce a restructuring, Eileen McCabe examines the twists and turns in the career of its chairman and chief executive

Rugby brought Tony O'Reilly renown

He is often seen at the races with Chryss Goulandris, his wife

Business success has brought him respect for a number of charitable groups, including The Ireland

Fund, which has raised more community programmes throughout Ireland. He is a loyal fan of the Irish rugby team, and attends many horse racing meetings with his second wife Chryss Goulandris, than $60 million for cross-

Tomorrow he will reveal a substantial restructuring plan for Heinz. It is expected to involve selling some subsidiaries, cutting costs and shedding several thousand jobs. But according to Dublin sources close to O'Reilly, he will not use the occasion to announce his imminent departure,

"He will let Johnson show his worth on this restructuring for the next few years and then he'll decide, but he is certainly not going yet," said one source.

bulk produce to Heinz in

At 33, O'Reilly was appointed managing director of Heinz England Ltd, and within four years he had crossed the Atlantic to take up the position of president and chief operating officer in the company's headquarters in Pittsburgh. In 1979 he became chief executive officer and almost a decade later. the company's chairman.

Then he pulled off the first of Today the global food promany master strokes in his cessing giant with its stable of career. At the age of 26, he got brand names such as Heinz. himself appointed chief execu-Weight Watchers and StarKist tive of the state-controlled milk has worldwide sales of more than $9 billion. Its products are national newspaper market company, Bord Bainne. It was widely speculated at the time that it was O'Reilly's sporting provess and his un-doubted skills as a networker that secured him the post. His appointment caused a ripple of discontent among the timeserving traditionalists in an Ireland dominated by state-controlled companies.

But he quickly proved his worth. O'Reilly put his growing marketing flair to work on butter. He came up with a new image and a new brand for the old dairy dependable, and Kerrygold still commands loyalty among shoppers throughout the world. From an Bord Bainne, he moved seamlessly to the statecontrolled Irish Sugar Company (forerunner of the privatised Greencore) in 1966, where he was managing director. It was during this tenure that he first made commercial contact with Heinz, signing a controversial deal under which the Sugar Company's Erin Food subsidiary agreed to supply being Irish was an important part of being Tony O'Reilly. By

At the centre of it all was the made in 15 countries and marketed in 200. When O'Reilly became chief executive officer. Heinz had a market capitalisation of $900 million compabout $15 billion today. He is the largest individual shareholder with a stake said to be worth just under $300 million. O'Reilly managed to reach the top despite ruffling a lot of Heinz's corporate feathers as he insisted on devoting time and energy to his burgeoning Irish businesses. Heading one of the world's great food companies was challenging, but it was not going to get in the way of O'Reilly's ambition of becom-

he first pulled on the green rugby jersey, it was clear that the early 1970s, the foundations of a Dublin-based empire were

Irish Independent, then one of the country's three national daily newspapers. Snapped up for little more than IrEl million in 1973, the paper is now part of a global media empire stretching from Dublin to South Africa. Australia and New Zealand. Today. Independent Newspapers controls more than 75 per cent of the Irish and has a large

stake in Newspaper Publishing, owner of Whatever you The Indepenaspire to you dent London, It has have achieved a 58 per centi or not achieved stake in Argus. South Africa's by the time higgest newspaper group, and an 85 per you are 60 cent stake in Wilson & Horton. New Zealand's leading newspaper chain. In Australia. Independent Newspapers and the O'Reilly family trust hold a substantial stake in the Australian Provincial Newspapers chain. O'Reilly personally owns about 27 per cent of Independent Newspapers. which today has a market capitalisation of Ir £830 million. However, Fitzwilton, his industrial holding company, has ing a leading player in his had a more chequered history. After starting out as a dynamic home city. From the moment early 1970s, it hit stormy waters some years later when its fertiliser company ran into serious problems. Eventually it managed to extract itself from trouble and is now performing satisfactorily. Today, Fitzwilton owns the Wellworth chain of supermurkets in Northern Ireland, a stake in a Dublin engineering company and a 13 per > wood, the giftware company. It is the turnround in the fortunes of the latter company that even O'Reilly's detractors concede demonstrates his true marketing genius: recognising, reinforcing and capitalising brand names. After taking a substantial stake in Waterford Wedgwood, which was on the edge of collapse in 1990, O'Reilly ruthlessly cut costs and restructured. The com-pany is now a world leader in gifrware and recently purchased a stake in a German cent stake in Waterford Wedg-porcelain company. As chairman of Independent Newspapers, Fitzwilton and Waterford Wedgwood, he is a particularly busy man during the agm season in Dublin.

But the workaholic's interests don't stop there. For the past 20 years he has also been heavily involved in several oil and mineral exploration venwhich have been largely unsuccessful. He has a 43 per cent stake in Arcon, which has just started production of zinc concentrate from a mine in County Kilkenny. It is set to become the biggest zinc producing operanon in Europe at a time when zinc prices are rising.

And still O'Reilly finds time

FREE BANKING FOR BUSINESSES

the Greek shipping heiress. Last year his $2.6 million purchase of the engagement ring that Aristotle Onassis bought for Jacqueline Kennedy prompted the most telling headline of just how far O'Reilly has risen in the firmament of world players. The

New York tabloid splash read:

At Investec Bank (UK) you can have free banking and earn a high interest rate on your balance...

- 60 transactions per month free of charge
- 3.50% gross p.a. interest rate
- Standing orders and direct debits
- Minimum balance of £2,001
- A first class postal banking service

For more information please call our 24-hour answerphone on 0171-626-0879 or call one of our Account Managers on 0171-203-1550 between 9am and 5pm Monday to Friday, quoting reference HIBCA. Alternatively complete the coupon and FREEPOST it to us.

The new name for Allied Trust Bank interest is paid gross to companies, net of lower rate tax to sole traders and partnerships interest rates may vary. To: Investec Bank (UK) Limited, FREEPOST, London EC4B 4RN Please send me details of the High Interest Business Cheque Account (HIBCA).

Name of business: Address:

Invested Bank (Uki Ermited, Carmon Bridge A) 5 Dowgate Hill, London EC4R 2AT TIM 13/3/97

BUSINESS LETTERS

Fear that audit change would allow charities to avoid scrutiny is misplaced

From the Chief Executive of the National Council for Voluntary Organisations

Sir, Peter Langard's article, "Charities need special treatment" (Accountancy, March 6), implies that the Department of Trade and Industry's proposals to raise the audit threshold for small companies will lead to a loophole whereby some charities will be able to avoid having to audit by registering to become charitable companies. Far from being "more vul-nerable to fraud, error or simply mismanagement than entities in many other sectors", charities tend to be under even greater pressure to demonstrate accountability, because of the tax breaks they enjoy, and their responsibilities to donors and other stakeholders. In addition, the number of charities which could, conceivably, be affected by these proposals is not as large as Mr Langard assumes. Out of 180,000-plus registered charities, only 13,000 are actually charitable companies, and, of these, only 3,000 are big enough to require an audit This leaves 10,000, only about 6 per cent of the sector, likely to fall into this category The National Council for

would-be conglomerate of the Voluntary Organisations strives to encourage good practice within the voluntary sector, and we would not condone charities becoming charitable companies simply to avoid an audit Certainly. the trend is for new charities to set up as companies, but this is invariably because of the quite legitimate need for many voluntary organ-trustees and senior executives. Even if some organisations are planning to apply for charitable company status as a means of avoiding an audit, they are unlikely to get far. Under charity law, any charity with gross income or expendirure exceeding £10,000 a year is required to file its accounts with the Charity Commission

Yours faithfully, STUART ETHERINGTON,

Regent's Wharf.

isations to limit the liability of 8 All Saints Street, NL

ACCOUNTANCY

Teamwork against fraud

Tony Bingham highlights proposals for an advisory panel to combat

what is largely a preventable crime

7 hen the Audit Faculty embarked on its campaign "Taking Fraud Seriously". Ian Davison said at the launch conference that little had changed in ten years and that the prosecution of fraud was lamentable. It is because the faculty does not want another ten years to go by without much progress that it has promoted dehate on whether sufficient anti-fraud measures are being taken. Remarkably, the problems are well understood; fraud is a threat to business, to the public and to confidence in UK plc: and there is widespread interest in a more co-ordinated approach to combating fraud more effectively. Fraud is, in large measure, a preventable

A principal concern was the fragmented approach to the problem of fraud and the multiplicity of players, which puts a premium on effective co-operation.

The faculty recommends that government should establish a standing hody — a fraud advisory panel - to improve on-operation between government, law enforcement agencies, the private sector and other interested parties.

Such a panel would also aim to increase overall awareness of the problem of fraud and how its effects could best be limited.

No moves have yet been made in government to set up a panel and it is unlikely that further effort will be made in the short term. Individual government departments and regulators, however, continue to take anti-fraud steps in targeted areas.

For example, considerable efforts are being made in regulated financial sectors to address money-laundering and financial fraud. In the specific area of social security crime, the Government has taken a high-profile route to purse from benefits fraud, with some reported success. What is needed now is more effort at reducing losses from fraud across the whole business community. There is no point expecting higher stan-dards of commercial behaviour if those standards are not to be enforced

The Audit Faculty strongly believes that a fraud advisory panel would be a public benefit and, in the absence of others taking a lead, is prepared to act as a catalyst for progress. It has issued a consultation paper and will initiate steps to set up a panel if there is enough support.

Tony Bingham says that greater co-operation is needed panel should be a forum for what more can and should be discussion and policy advice on ways of combating serious fraud affecting the business community and the public.

The panel should comprise people with a strong interest in the subject matter who would help to collect and analyse information on fraud and make recommendations to government and others on

ANY OTHER BUSINESS

could be an effective way of identifying priorities for trate it.

The panel would provide a voice for those engaged in fighting fraud, and serve as a clearing house for information and ideas. It would aim to open channels of communication with the various investigating and prosecuting bodies and others who are interested in the field, setting its own agenda but also reacting to events and developments.

Fraud is a serious and growing problem for investors, employees, suppliers and customers. It is not, as some have characterised it, a victim-holistic approach and more effective teamwork of all those who can make a contribution.

A new fraud advisory panel

What is needed is a more

The consultation paper can be obtained from Margaret Cassidy at The Audit Faculty. The Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales, PO Box 433, Moorgate Place, London EC2P 2BJ. Alternatively, call 0171-920 8526. Comments should be sent to her on the proposal no later than Friday May 30, 1997. The faculty will be arranging an open meeting on May 14 to discuss the proposal and priorities for the panel's work.

Tony Bingham is chairman of the ICAEW Audit Faculty's Fraud Working Party and a Business Assurance partner at Coopers & Lybrand.

that the international rules were likely to exclude the UK's preferred options on deferred lax and pensions. Price Waterhouse partner Graham Ward mused on companies' likely responses. Would they be happy "to report what they perceive as unrealistically low profit figures", or would they simply think it "an unacceptable price to pay for access to Open debate must precede harmony

THIS week has seen all the arguments about the future of financial reporting around the world being fully exercised. First. Denny Beresford, chairman of the US Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB), was in London to sit in on a meeting of the UK Accounting Standards Board (ASB). Then Brussels was knee-deep in accountants at the conference sponsored by the English ICA and the International Accounting Standards Committee (IASC) on the implications of international accounting standards.

Yet this outbreak of discussions is unusual. Normally everything is discussed behind closed doors. It is no wonder that finance directors and industry groups become frustrated. Or, as has been happening in this country, they know little of what the process will mean to their companies and their financial reporting methods and so care little about the process. This does not happen in the US. There the meetings of the FASB take place in public, "Our process," said Beresford last week, "is so much more open than here." For him, the advantage is that companies have no excuse for not know. ing what is going on. In this country companies do have a great deal of private input into the work of the ASB's deliberations. But it also means that once proposals are published they can also go into paroxysms of outrage in an effort to have them altered. "We will be meeting with companies all the time. said Beresford. "All of our meetings are open to the public. People know where we stand." This does not mean that people find the rules easier to cope with. On the contrary, the FASB spent much of last year fighting a move that would have given industry a greater say under the FASB voting structure. And he knows exactly the sort of complaints that businesses bring against rulemakers anywhere. "We listen." he said, "but we don't always agree. It does help that the FASB is well funded. Its members are full-time rather than the volunteer representatives who make up the ASB. But it is the openness of the process that makes it an easier one. The ASB has tried to be as open as it feels that it can. When the goodwill rules were in the meiting pot it devoted two days to public hearings on the subject. They were effective. But what the hearings tended to emphasise was the breadth of disagreement and the wealth of peculiar fringe ideas from both academia and industry. To put the more exotic ideas as well as the mainstream arguments on show meant that a consensus was easier to reach if only because the central players closed ranks against the more eccentric outsiders.

But it is seen as more or less impossible to open up the ASB's main deliberations. Partly this is to do with the nature of the board. The deliberations at FASB are between the fulltime members of the board. At the ASB it would be between people who are finance directors or audit partners or professors of accounting elsewhere. All have interests that at times they will feel they have to represent rather than simply reflect in what they argue and how they vote. To do that in public would be difficult. Someone from a large accounting firm, for example, can reveal things in private which could not be aired in public, if only for legal reasons or client confidentiality. It also suits the UK culture of sorting out business matters behind closed doors. In the US business matters are more central to the nation's culture. And Beresford also pointed to another benefit from having the deltherations in public. We are much more polite towards each other." he said.

But there is a larger issue here and that is the international dimension. The IASC is trying to get its entire programme of core standards wrapped up by this time next year. If it can do that then IOSCO, the international securites organisation, will consider whether or not the IASC's standards should be deemed to be the international benchmark by which foreign companies gain a listing on US stock markets. It is not a foregone conclusion. and the US Securities and Exchange Commission is likely to take issue with it. But it is an epic effort by the IASC for global harmonisation of financial reporting rules.

The problem is that several of the standards that it promulgates are not those that the UK, for example, recognises. On pensions and tax there are going to be significant problems. If there was ever a real need for public discussion, it is the deliberations of the LASC over the next year which should be open. "Companies." said Beresford, "are simply not going to feel part of the process." And then he put it more clearly and more centrally. "It's the principle of no taxation without representation.

Piqued by partnership law

FORGET the arguments about the concept of "clawback". What really annoys large accountancy firms about the Government's proposals on partthe legal language. In the ners salting away excessive

Queen's Bench Divisional Court

nership law changes is some of section guarding against partprofits before the unlikely event of a partnership going bust, it talks of "reasonable domestic needs". Outraged accountants recognised a straight lift from insolvency law. "The impertinence." fumed one. "We're being treated in the same way as bankrupts are."

Price of progress PRICE WATERHOUSE has forsaken the straight and narrow. The security gates at its London building by the Thames used to have a security system which worked only if partners and employees had the correct electronic gizmo and took a perfectly straight path through the sensors. Now they have reverted to waiting a pass under the gaze of the gateman. The reason, apparently, is the good accounting one of spiralling costs. As our informant told us, the little electronic marvels "cost £13 a pop and we seemed to be losing a lot of them".

Only a lew weeks ago the faculty reported the results of a survey through Accountance Age that confirmed what many auditors suspect, that there is a worrying trend of increasing fraud risks, with the opportunities for fraud far outstripping measures to pre-vent and detect fraud and

Brussels spouts

THE chairman of the international accounting standards conference in Brussels was pushing his luck as he opened proceedings this week. Noting which of necessity imported the right of access to the court, was as near to an absolute right as any

It seemed to his Lordship from all the authorities that the common which could be envisaged.

what that meant.

international capital"? Answers to Ward on a postcard.

ROBERT BRUCE

Law Report March 13 1997

Right of access to court denied

Regina v Lord Chancellor. Ex parte Witham Before Lord Justice Rose and Mr Justice Laws

[Judgment March 7] Access to the court was a constitutional right which could only be denied by the government if it persuaded Parliament to pass legislation which by express provision permitted the executive to turn people away from the court Consequently, as section 130 of the Supreme Court Act 1981 did not have words to alert the reader that fees might be imposed which would deny absolutely right of acress to court, a measure enacted by the Lord Chancellor under that section revoking exemption for litigants in person on income support and powers to reduce or remit fees where there was undue financial hardship in exceptional circumstances was unlawful The Queen's Bench Divisional Court so stated in a reserved judgment when granting an application for judicial review by John Witham seeking a declaration that article 3 of the Supreme Court Fees (Amendment) Order (SI 1996 No 3191), which came into force on January 15, 1997, was ultra effect was to deny him his constitutional right of access to the court.

Mr Witham was on Income support and sought to bring proceedings in person for defamation which did not attract legal aid. The 1996 Order increased to £120 the fee for issuing a writ for claims less than £10,000 and to £500 for claims where there was no monetary limit. No exemption was position who could not afford the

Mr Peter Duffy for Mr Witham: Mr Stephen Richards for the Lord

MR JUSTICE LAWS said than article 3 of the 1996 Order repealed provisions contained in article 5(1) and (3) of the Supreme Court Fees Order ($1 [980] No 821) which relieved litigants in person who

Regina v Dickinson

Judgment February 201

Before Lord Justice Kennedy, Mr

Justice Harrison and Mr Justice

Where a driver used his car in a hostile manner towards a cyclist.

who suffered injuries from which he died, such an action was regarded as very grave even where there were no other aggravating

The Court of Appeal, Criminal

Division, so held in allowing an appeal by Anthony Dickinson against a sentence of four and a half years imprisonment imposed in October 1996 at the Central ford, QC) on conviction of causing Criminal Court (Mr Recorder Mil-

from the obligation to pay fees and permitted the Lord Chancellor to reduce or remit the see in any particular case on the ground of undue financial hardship in exceptional circumstances.

issue proceedings because he could not afford the revised (ecs. He could not sue for defamation in the county court and his prospective consent to his claim being brough ing other categories of cases where persons on very low incomes were taking process in the courts.

certain types of debt and housing cases. Those included a person on income support who could not afford the £10 fee to apply to set aside a default judgment, and another person on income support threatened with eviction as a proceedings by her landlord's alliord the £20 fee to be joined in the

The actual or purported vires for the 1990 Order was found in section 130 of the 1981 Act.

Mr Duffy's primary submission

tion on Human Rights.

The applicant was unable to

The court had evidence describ-Order, in particular article 3, from

The principal categories were building society who could not proceedings as an interested party in his Lordship's view, it was circumstances, to take steps to resist the effects of claims brough exercise the power in such a way as to deprive the citizen of what had been called his constitutional right of access to the courts. Such a constitutional right was said to article o of the European Conven-clear on the evidence that there was a wide ranging variety of situations in which persons on very low incomes were in practice denied access to the courts to prosecute claims or, in some against them.

was that there existed implied limitations upon the Lord Chanto be taken in the Supreme Court. Section 130 did not permit him to

Hostile driving sentence

Mr Peter Guest for the appel-

MR JUSTICE NELSON, giving

the judgment of the court, said that the appellant, a taxi driver, had an argument with a cyclist while

As they moved off the cyclist appeared to be trying to keep pace with the taxi and made a sudder unexplained movement towards it.

The taxi then swerved violently towards the cyclist before accelerating away.

The vehicles did not come into contact but the cyclist fell to the

The appellant was convicted of ground and suffered fatal head waiting at traffic lights.

lant; Mr Stephen Holt for the death by dangerous driving.

erally speak in the language of constitutional rights. In the unwritten legal order of the British state, at a time when common law continued to accord a legislative supremacy to Parliament, a constitutional right could, in his Lordship's judgment, inhere only in the following proposition: that the right in question could not be abrugated by the state save by specific provision in an Act of Parliament, or by regulations whose vires in main legislation specifically conferred the power to abrogate.

General words would not suffice and any such rights would be creatures of the common law, since their existence would not be the consequences of the democratic political process but would be

Mr Duffy cited authorities to support that proposition including Bremer Vulkan Schiffbau und Maschinenfabrik v South India Shipping Corporation (1981) AC 909) and R v Secretary of State for the Home Department, Ex parte

In Boaler (1955) I KB 21) the principle vouchsafed was that the citizen's right of access to the courts was not to be cut down save by clear words.

His Lordship did not consider it necessary to refer to the juris-prudence of the European Court of Human Rights since he considered that the issues might correctly be resolved by domestic law.

The common law provided no lesser protection of the right of access to the courts than might be vindicated in Strasbourg. The House of Lords had held the same to be true in relation to the right of

His Lordship could not think that the right of access to justice was in some way a lesser right than that of free expression: the circumstances in which free speech might justifiably be curtailed, in his Lordship's view, ran wider that any in which the citizen might properly be prevented by the state from seeking redress from the Queen's court Indeed the right to a fair trial causing death by dangerous

Mr Guest had argued that there were many mitigating features and only one aggravating factor which was that the appellant's driving was deliberately hostile

but their Lordships regarded that as very grave, even, as was suggested, if he had been provoked by the cyclist's aggressive manner.

person to lose his temper while driving and to act upon it. Nevertheless, the proper sentence in the case was three and half years and the appeal would be allowed to

Solicitors: Chethams, Oxford

Street: Crown Prosecution Service,

It was not acceptable for a driving.

Oueen's Bench Divisional Court

Driver need not be told everything

Fraser v Director of Public Before Lord Bingham of Cornhill. Lord Chief Justice and Mr Justice law had clearly given special weight to the citizen's right of Where a motorist was entitled access to the courts. It had been described as a constitutional right. although the cases did not explain Nothing had been shown to displace the proposition that the executive could not in law abrogate the right to access to justice, unless specifically so permitted by Par-liament and that was the meaning of the constitutional right. His Lordship would find great difficulty in conceiving a form of words capable of making it plain beyond doubt to the reader of a statute that the provision in question prevented him from going to court, for that was what would be required, save in a case where that was expressly stated. His Lordship would reject the submission that there was no vires argument. Section 130 contained nothing to alert the reader to any imposed in circumstances such as deny absolutely the citizen's right of access to the courts. Mr Richards argued that the no such bar; other factors might bear on the impecunious litigant's position, in particular the possibility of assistance by way of legal aid, which, if granted, paid the court fees. But there was no legal aid for a defamation plaintiff, nor, in effect for many others affected by the

Mr Richards submitted that it was for the Lord Chancellor's discretion to decide what litigation should be supported by taxoayers' money and what should not. That was right as regarded the expenses of legal representation.

Payment out of legal aid of lawyers' fees to conduct litigation was a subsidy by the state which in general was well within the power of the executive, subject to the regulate. But the impost of court fees, was to his Lordship's mind, subject to wholly different considerations. They were the cost of going to court at all, lawyers or no lawyers. They were not the choice of the litigant who might by contrast choose how much to spend on his lawyers. In his Lordship's judgment the 1996 Order's effect was to bar absolutely many persons from seeking justice from the courts.

Access to the courts was a constitu tional right; it could only be denied by the government if it persuaded Parliament to pass legislation which specifically, in effect by express provision, permitted the executive to turn people away from the court door. That had not been done in the present case. Lord Justice Rose agreed.

Solictors: Bindman & Partners:

that right and asked whether he

Budement January 29

under section 8(2) of the Road Traffic Act 1988 to claim to replace his specimen of breath with a sample of blood or of urine, the police constable, in asking him whether he wished to do so, was not required by sections 7(4) and 8(2) of the Act, to tell him that if the constable required a specimen of blood it would be taken by a medical practitioner. The Queen's Bench Divisional Court so held dismissing Paul Fraser's appeal by way of case stated from Newcastle upon Tyne Crown Court (Judge Lowden and justices) which had upheld his conviction by Gateshead Justices for drink driving contrary to section 5(1) of the 1988 Act and Schedule 2 to the Road Traffic the Road Traffic Act 1991. Having failed a roadside breathalyser, the defendant was breath tested at the police station and a result was recorded which entitled him under section 8(2) to claim to replace the sample of breath with a mple of blood or of urine.

in accordance with a form used by the Northumbria Police, the taken by a doctor. ercise his right and subsequently asserted that failure to refer in terms to the doctor's role as the blood taker, if a replacement blond sample were required, invalidated the statutory procedure and entitled him to be acquitted.

defendant: the prosecution was not present or represented.

said that it was apparent from the that they contained no statutory terms that a blood sample would he taken by a doctor. The ratio of Director of Public

Cases concluding that a driver should have an opportunity to express a preference were held to contain an impermissible gloss on the statute. The effect of the decision was accordingly to extir-

(at p327), with whose speech the laboratory test.

wished to avail himself of at The constable did not tell him that if the constable selected a replacement specimen of blood it would be

The defendant declined to ex-

Mr Peter Greenfield for the

THE LORD CHIEF JUSTICE

express a preference for giving either blood or urine.

319) was that neither section re-rate that heresy. It was plain, however that in Warren. Lord Bridge of Harwich agreed, gave an account of what the driver should be told including represe reference to the taking of blood by a doctor. At p332 however, he embarked on a summary of his views on the proper approach to the sections. That summary contained no reassement that the driver should be expressly told that blood would be taken by a doctor, but if the constable intended to require such sample to be so taken, then the driver had to be told of his right to object The form of words used by the Sorthumbria Police was closely modelled on that summary. If that form of words were defective then Lord Bridge's summary omined an essential feature of his earlier and longer passage. His Lordship referred. particular, to Robinson v Chief Constable of Merseyside Police tunreported, April 23, 1995, DC): Chatelard v DPP (unreported, October II. 1996, DC); and Gorman v DPP: DPP v Arnup (unreported, November 7, 1996, DC) where Lurd Justice Rose, giving the leading judgment, had "To comply with the statutory requirements a driver must be asked whether there are reasons vhy a specimen of blood should not be taken. A driver must consent to the taking of blood by a consents, a doctor will take

ROBERT

BRUCE

His Lordship said that it did not seem to follow from the fact that consent would be required if bland were to be taken by a doctor at a later stage, that a driver had to be told in terms at an earlier stage that it would be so taken.

There were plainly several things which a driver had to be told at some stage, but it did not follow that he had necessarily to be told all of them at the outset. There was some danger that a new and heretical gloss was beginning to be put on the statute such case. The Northumbria Police warning was in strict accordance with Lord Bridge's summary which contained everything that the statute itself required a driver to be told at the outset. To the extent that the longer passage at p327 contained matters not contained in the short passage at p332 and not required by the stance, it was valuable guidance but not a mandatory requirement that that information be given at

Hix Lordship would accordingly rule that there was, on the facts found by the crown court, a sufficient compliance with sections 7(4) and 8(2) of the 1988 Act. The defendant had been rightly convicted and his appeal failed. Mr Justice Moses agreed. Solicitors: Singleton Winn.

down the apportunity under section 8(2) of the 1988 Act to replace a breath specimen with a specimen of blood or urine was held rightly never been told that any blood specimen would be taken by a

In his Lordship's view there was no reason why the principle in that case should not apply to Mr

Solicitors: CPS, Warrington:

Lord Justice Brooke agreed.

Byrne Fordsham & Co. Widnes.

Donnelly's case.

convicted even though he had !

be specifically told that, if he Newcastle upon Tyne. Constable need not quiz motorist over test

Regina v Cheshire Stipendiary Magistrate, Ex parte Director of Public Prosecutions Before Lord Justice Brooke and Mr. Justice Blofeld

[Judgment March 10] When a driver was required by a police constable to provide a specimen of blood or urine, under section 7(3) of the Road Traffic Act 1988, the constable was not required to ask him in advance of his refusal whether there were any reasons why a specimen of blood could not or should not be taken from him by a doctor. The Queen's Bench Divisional Court so held allowing an appeal by way of case stated against a decision of the Cheshire Stipendiary Magistrate sitting at Widnes on November 2, 1995, to acquit Ronald Francis Donnelly of failing vide a specimen of blood or urine.

Mr Steven Everett for the DPP:

Mr Nigel J. Ley for Mr Donnelly.

MR JUSTICE BLOFELD said Mr Donnelly had been arrested after getting into his car when he was apparently drunk. At the police station, the custody officer had tried to administer a breath test with a Lion intoximeter, but the machine was not working properly and the test

The custody officer, reading from a pro forma, had informed Mr Donnelly that he required a specimen of blood or urine for a

The officer said he would decide whether the specimen was to be of blood or urine, but Mr Donnelly would have an opportunity to make representations which it

He warned Mr Donnelly that failure to provide a specimen would make him liable to prosecution and asked whether he would To 'download' a computer

Regina v City of London Magistrates' Court and Another, Ex parte Green To "download" a computer means to "transfer (data) from one storage device or system to another in accordance wih the definition contained in The Concise Oxford Dictionary of Current English (9th

The Queen's Bench Divisional Court (Lord Justice Staughton and Mr Justice Scott Baker) so stated on February 13 giving reasons fur dismissing on February 6, Jeffrey Green's motion to commit for contempt of court the Director of the Serious Fraud Office and four officers therefrom for alleged do so. Mr Donnelly had replied The magistrate had acquitted because the officer had not told Mr Donnelly that any specimen of blond would be taken by a doctor. and he had not been asked whether there was any medical or other reason blood could not be taken: see DPP v Warren [1993]

His Lordship referred to R v Gateshead Magistrates Court, Exparte Fraser (The Times March

breaches of injunctions of December 6 and 10, 1005, in respect of computers seized by the SFO pursuant to a warrant. MR JUSTICE SCOTT BAKER said that the applicant relied on the dictionary definition downkad. The SFO had considered that ownloading included not only the imaging process, that is, transfer-ring information from the computer to another storage device. but also the next stage of writing the image to compact disc only then would the image be source The currect meaning was that described in The Concise Oxford Dictionary. Although there was an obligation strictly to comply with the serms of an injunction, the courts would only punish a person for contempt upon adequate proof that: (i) the terms of the injunction were clear and unambiguous, (ii) the particular defendant in the contempt proceedings had proper nutice of such terms and (iii) he had broken those terms. In the present case neither (i) nor (ii) had been

Correction

In Jones and Another v Welsh Rughy Football Union (The Times March n), counsel for the plaintiffs were Mr William Norris and Missa Joseph Cash.

AKCH 13 IMU

into Account for the Account for Account f 1.30 1.30 0.30 0.30 +10.37 413 +45.59 - 0.98 8.67 - 0.36 ... Part of the second + 0.38 0.60 - 0.59 2.70 - 0.32 5.45 - 0.06 0.50 - 0.06 0345 581 109/7 5460 581 109/7 5460 48 48 5480 97.27 5480 97.27 5480 97.27 0.89 0.00 8.22 Australia IV Maries LTD 377 Mrt Houge
World Harth
Decare # 24
UK Growth # 20
Egenetic # 24
Egenetic # 24
Egenetic # 27
Egenetic がおおいないのでは というというののでは、 というというのでは、 というというという。 17 60 130 70 130 70 130 70 131 Help cover yourself when the markets If you have equities and you be earning on your 534: 552
127.70 + 0.10 204
128.71 - 0.60 789
749.7 - 0.50 0.51
89.16 - 0.90 7.00
133.509 - 1.40 261
705.70 - 0.00 0.70
123.509 - 0.00 0.70
123.50 + 0.00
24.70 - 0.00
24.70 - 0.00
24.70 - 0.00
24.70 - 0.00
24.70 - 0.00
24.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - 0.00
25.70 - Company Service
Across Across Across
Service Service
Service Service
Service Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
Service
S Life for the second sec - 0 15 239 - 0.00 7 184 - 0.07 184 - 0.07 2.55 - 0.07 120 - 0.13
120 - 0.13
120 - 0.13
120 - 0.13
140 - 17
140 - 17
150 - 17
150 - 17
150 - 17
150 - 17
150 - 20
150 - 20
174 - 20
174 - 20
175 - 20
174 - 20
175 - 20
174 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 - 20
175 の fund 12.5244 (15.52.74 To find out more call us an ### AND PLAND PLAND USERS 1.TD
0771 489 8973
ers 2 62555
ers 2 625 ### COLOR CO - 170 194 + 810 599 - 021 242 - 050 195 - 140 2 - 110 211 For a Great Spread of Bets Mt.Spread but, carry a high level of risk to your capital. Only openicipe with survey you can offered to lean, Spread betting may not be suitable for all investors; therefore assure that you hely understand the shirt involved and seek orders if successary. SCHOOLER 1977 FLORE LTD

That GLOS 25 SER BAY CARRESS 3-00

1-17 GLOS 25 SER BAY CARRESS 3-00

1-18 BESTAN SAY 100 75 113 SER 1 0.02

1-18 BESTAN SAY 100 75 113 SER 1 0.02

1-18 BESTAN SAY 100 75 113 SER 1 0.02

1-18 BESTAN SAY 100 75 113 SER 1 0.02

1-18 BESTAN SAY 100 75 113 SER 1 0.03

1-18 BESTAN SAY 100 85 SER 1 0.03

1-18 B | Separate | Transfer Attended | Transfer Atte | CLOSAL, ASSET MANSAGESERF | CRAS Starting Management (1) | 483 (990) | 283 5 bit of | 717 90 | 765 67 | -11 47 ARP | 285 00 | -10 47 ARP | 287 255 00 | -10 47 ARP | 287 257 00 | -10 47 ARP | -10 47 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100,000 | 100, | St. | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 | 100 - 0.80 1.72 - 0.80 2.36 + 0.40 1.09 - 1.80 2.16 - 2.10 1.72 ESILET ARELE UND THURST IMPRES
O1:SIG ST 480
Empean 101 44
Empean 207 21
Emission 307 21
EX Esision 57 00
EX Esision 152 42
EX Esision 153 43
EX Esision 153 106.75 - 0.27 1.54 52.41 + 0.18 0.06 223 ± 0.07 1.50 63.68 - 0.28 4.6 60.00 - 0.38 1.6 60.00 - 0.38 1.6 162.407 - 1.15 0.4 175.55 + 0.9 1.7 81.65 + 0.02 2.7 246.71 + 0.28 1.23 + 070 0.25 + 1.30 0.10 + 0.70 0.10 - 1.70 0.46 - 3.30 0.46 - 0.30 - 0.30 - 0.65 - 0.67 151.70
162.40
153.00
163.00
163.00
163.00
163.00
163.00
163.00
163.00
164.00
163.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
164.00
16 + 110 1.37 - 210 0.42 - 0.20 2.88 - 0.45 - 0.10 0.02 105.40 112.10 - 0.10 2.30 352.20 374.60 + 0.60 2.00 - 070 186 - 160 185 - 050 262 - 080 331 - 050 023 - 024 474 - 030 142 - 060 | Comparison | Com C15 UNIT MANAGERS LTD
0151 827 5060
Stween 202.70 214 40 - 0.38 1.71
KN Goreth 234.00 246.00 - 0.90 2.03
UR Income 164 40 173.10 - 0.30 4.00 | Secretales Funds | Carl Access Name | Carl Access 554 10 269 209 147 201 138 90 147 201 158 90 147 201 158 90 158 9 | 190 | 197 | 101 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 | 185 0101 831 7455 7 ± 170 - 0.20 0.22 - 0.20 1.29 + 0.20 1.29 - 0.20 3.43 - 0.20 3 + 100 166 + 100 166 + 0.20 1.20 + 100 3.87 142447 - 0.06 1 48
144467 - 0.05 1 48
144467 - 0.05 1 49
144467 - 0.05 1 49
14447 - 0.06 1 49
14447 - 0.06 1 49
14447 - 0.06 1 49
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 - 0.06 1 12
14447 -

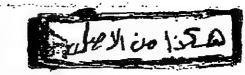

Ming

AN EXCLUSIVE OFF

Make vo amily or fel living airca feel at hon

هكذا من الإجليم

Although there was an obliga-

FILM I

Epic scenes. intense drama, and intelligence too: no wonder The English Patient has won huge acclaim

FILM 2

, and Mother Night also deserves plaudits for its careful treatment of Kurt Vonnegut's novel

FILM 3

... but the family fun and heartache of The Evening Star are strictly for the sentimental

FILM 4

. and a thriller about Lorca's death is received with indignation by the Spanish

CINEMA: Geoff Brown on why The English Patient has the prescription for Academy Award success

Minghella serves up Oscar's just deserts

an expanse of desert sculpted by sun and shadow into the most sensuous shapes. We could almost be looking at a woman's body. This is the gorgeous opening image of The English Patient, which has drummed up more heated expectations and Academy Award nomina-tions (12 in all) than any film for some time.

As the camera sweeps across the landscape, you can almost hear the director. Anthony Minghella, saying: "Look I can be David Lean too!" True, he has something to brag about: whoever thought the British director of Truly Madly Deeply and Mr Wonderful, as fetching and quirky as they were, had the stamina to attempt a romantic epic?

The film, it seems, can hardly wait to shower us with huscious sights as it tackles Michael Ondaarje's complex novel of love, loyalty and national identity among the shifting sands of the Second World War.

Not that we stay in the desert for long. There is a stupendous crash. A burnt survivor — "I'm a bit of toast, my friend" — is being interrogated in Italy, but has little memory of events. He looks like, indeed he is, Ralph Flennes, but a Flennes plastered over with prosthetics from Jim Henson's Creature Shop. He is referred to as "the English patient", but flash-backs gradually identify him as a Hungarian count, Laszlo Almásy, engaged before the war in mapping the Sahara and smouldering with passion for a colleague's wife, Katharine Clifton, played by the poised and pert Kristin

Scott Thomas. in the novel, this adulterous affair takes its place among a clutch of relations round the figure of the burnt patient, nursed in a ruined Tuscan monastery as the Americans advance through Italy. Minghella takes note of the other elements, the network of metaphors and literary references. But he guides Almasy and Katharine to the forefront, lured no doubt by the visual appeal of the English elite in prewar Cairo and adultery in a sandstorm. Who wants to look at charred skin in shadow for two-and-three-quarter hours? Aided by John Seale's excellent photography, Minghella presents an intoxicating physi-cal landscape. The interior landscape is more problematic. Almásy may be Hungarian, but in Fiennes's hands he suffers from the English vice of emotional repression, Audiences wait an age before these lovers kiss: even when physi-cal contact is achieved, the passion that drives Almasy to lorgo his aloomess and risk

The English Patient Curzon West End 15, 162 mins Intelligent romantic epic

Mother Night Metro, 15, 114 mins Absorbing adaptation of Kurt Vonnegut's novel

The Evening Star Virgin Haymarket 15, 129 mins Maudlin sequel to Terms life and limb can only be Scott Thomas's reckless aristocrat is an easier character to fathom, and her amused responses give many scenes a prickly edge. But she is scarcesomeone for us to warm to. For the human touch we must turn to Juliette Binoche, jostled to one side by Minghella's busy script as the French-Canadian nurse Hala, who finds her own salvation bonding with the charred patient in Tuscany. Navim Andrews's Kip, the

Sikh officer who defuses bombs and becomes her lover, is marginalised even more; ieua camnot ling room for everything from Ondaatje's 300 pages, even when backed by the American producer Saul Zaentz, renowned for his zeal in filming unfilmable novels. "It is epic cinema of a personal nature," Minghells says. Tiny details on a big canvas." An ambitious aim, this. The ordering of those details, and the balancing of

AN EXCLUSIVE OFFER WITH L

THE

NOW PRINTED IN CHARLEROI

Make your family or friends

living abroad

feel at home

Set up a subscription to The Times for them at substantial discounts off local cover price and let them enjoy early morning delivery on the day of publication.

SINGLE DAY SUBSCRIPTIONS ALSO AVAILABLE.

The Times. Your family and friends are missing the best of quality reading without it.

and postcodes 92, 93, 94; Lunerabourg — nationalde, same day delivery by post; Netherlands — main cities; Switcerland — Genere, Bern & Zurich. Mell delivery is

(SFr) 15898 45% 7534 3836 2285 3329

(FFr) 1985 55% 1091 571 331 502

(LFr) 9184 51% 5040 2635 1527 2811

(DF) 778 45% 428 224 130 188

(2F) 309 35% 445 232 135 ITT

eent by-

AMEX No.

بالنواولة

Piecesa eroor my subscription for:

Monday to Saturday 3 Saturday only

CHANGING TIMES

Credit (*); | Visa | Library

Rest of Europe (E) 474 n/z 237 118.5 79.04 130

THE TIMES SUBSCRIPTION OFFER

usually one day late (except rest of Europe). Please call for details on hand delivery a

France

the big and small, is difficult enough even for experienced directors: Lean himself fell down with Ryan's Daughter. No wonder that The English Patient works in bits and pieces: a splendid stretch here, a hollow spot there, with potential glories squashed in The film's obvious flaws, however, have done nothing to stop American critics going all rhapsodic. Listen to Richard Corliss in Time magazine.

This, you realise with a gasp of joy, is what movies can do ... a work of art to break your heart." Then there are those 12 Oscar nominations, stretching all the way from Best Picture. Director, Actor and Actress to Design. Over on this side of the pond, the film is being cham-pioned as a British affair, although it was mounted and funded entirely by Americans, and shot by an international crew in Italy and Tunisia.

Best Sound and Costume

The hoop-la seems so out of proportion to the film's actual achievements that one suspects The English Patient is being valued almost as much for what it is not as for what it is. There are no galactic invaders. No grimacing superstars. No MTV-style irenzy. Characters do not talk 'hood argot or siacker-speak: Almásy's own cultural baggage ranges from the 1930s popular songs rattling round his head to the thoughts of Herodotus. You can take your brain to The English Patient and you will not be insulted. Your eyes will not be offended either. This scarcely makes Minghella's film the best in the world; it just makes it loom large.

The absorbing Mother
Night also wrestles with a famous book, from the pen of Kurt Vonnegut Jr. The hero. played by Nick Nolte, is an American writer down to married life in Nazi Germany ("I'm not a political man - I'm an artist"). Approached by the American War Department in the twinkling form of John Goodman. he agrees to masquerade as a Nazi sympathiser and broad-cast anti-Semitic talks larded with coded messages. The war ended, his wife dead, he lives in sorrowful white supremacists anoint him their hero, and Israel makes moves to try him for war crimes. "We are what we pretend to be," Vonnegut warns. "So we must be careful about what we pretend to be."

This intriguing and thoughtful tale slips disconcertingly between comedy and drama, coming closest to black farce when the Iron Guard of the White Sons of the American Constitution — a dilapi-dated bunch — clamber up steps to meet their hero in his Greenwich Village hideout.

Keith Gordon, the actor turned director, does nothing to ease us over the story's jolts, and limits his cinematic embellishments to a few strong images and a use of monochrome for the scenes of Nolre in prison. But he deserves respect for his careful treatment of difficult material, and draws the best from his cast. Nolte is excellent as the bemused writer caught in the wheels of history, while Goodman. Sheryi Lee and Alan Arkin all stand out in Vonnegut's parade of devious eople can be divided into two groups: those who loved and cried their way through Terms of Endearment 13 years ago, and those, like me, who blanch at the memory. The Evening Star, based on another Larry McMurtry novel, was not made for us. For it brings back Shirley Mac-Laine's Aurora Greenaway for more family fun and heartache, following years of bring-ing up the children of her late daughter (played in the origi-nal by Debra Winger). And it places in the director's chair Robert Harling, writer of the equally insufferable Steel

Since Harling lacks the skil to slap the material into workable shape, every ingredient lies cruelly exposed, from artificial romance, ungainly dialogue (You spray this house with happiness repellent") and a redundant cameo appearance by Jack Nicholson, to the most ourrageous sick-bed melodrama. To survive The Evening Star you need a cast-iron stomach, or blinkers.

"It is epic cinema of a personal nature," Anthony Minghella says. "Tiny details on a big canvas" — and even Juliette Binoche is jostled to one side in The English Patient

And now, British patients

The databank of simile and metaphor that journalists frequently raid tends to be plundered as never before when the subject of the BBC's coverage of a general election is raised. Walking on glass, treading on thin ice and tightrope acts are all invoked, and not without reason.

Already the Conservatives, via Charles Lewington, the main Central Office spokesman, are getting their retaliation in first. But every polling organisation that asks about such matters finds that the public thinks the BBC favours the Tories, and every Tory thinks the BBC is a nest of socialists.

The focus of attacks on the BBC, which I think is unbiased and balanced almost to a fault, will be related to current affairs programmes which, when the election campaign starts, are obliged under the BBC guidelines to give equal time to each of the three main parties on every issue.

RADIO

However these strictures do not apply to comedy. Take, for example, the new series of Trust, which began last night on Radio 4. Trust is a very amusing satirical sitcom set in the Bottomley Memorial Hos-pital. In the first episode a nurse says that bunk beds are "a great idea, but maybe we shouldn't put patients on drips in the top one", and the hospital manager, who buys dying people at "operations auctions", has a new scam whereby they are not actually operated on, but are charged for as if they have been. Lest anyone at Central Office reads this and decides to call the BBC, I shall vote for the Monster Raving Referendum Liberal Green Build More Motorways Party at the election if Trust is taken off the air. The notion that anyone's vote would be influenced by half-an-hour of comedy is an insult to the electorate.

Trust's writer, Wendy Lee. knows of what she sneaks: she has suffered a chronic illness for years and will have heard enough during long hospital stays to base her fictional exaggerations on the real thing. The performers, who include Nerys Hughes, Margi Clarke and Keith Allen, clearly have their hearts in the

PETER BARNARD

'Rich in texture'

Every week, young film fans discuss some of the latest releases . . .

☐ THE ENGLISH

Damian Samuels, 19: Although it will probably pick up a handful of Oscars, the story is extremely dull and very overrated.

Robert Peter Hunter, 20: Beautifully crafted and won-derfully played. The produc-tion is rich in texture, and its direction is refined to the point of understatement. Worth every nomination.

Gregory Cooper. 21: An extraordinarily glorious film that will stay with you for a very long time.

Dominie Lynch, 18: Full of intrigue and highly emotive,

☐ THE EVENING STAR Damian: Unlike Star Wars or Raiders of the Last Ark, some films should not be made into sequels. Give it a miss if you are a Terms of Endearment fan, because you will be bitterly disappointed. It's sick-but a tad glossy.

Robert: Some sequels are not worth waiting for. This is dull at best and far, far too long. Gregory: A good ensemble cast do well in this bitter-sweet comedy, led by the always fabulous Shirley MacLaine. Dominie: MacLaine gives a wonderful performance in this entertaining but ultimately disappointing sequel. Let sleeping dogs lie.

Murdered by critics

Hederico García Lorca, the homosexual left-wing cost when wing poet who was murdered by Catholic thugs in the run-up to the Spanish Civil War, is stalking his native land once more - to the undisguised chagrin of Spain's self-appointed cultural commissars. Lorca, whose death was one of the most poignant episodes in 20th-century Spain, has returned not as a pukka Andalusian with the shiver of flamenco in his speech, but as a slick "Hollywood Latino". He is back in the film Death in Granada. based loosely on the poet's own story, and is played by the (emphatically nonhomosexual) Cuban-American heart-throb Andy García.

The critics in Spain have panned the film, made by the Puerto Rican director Marcos Zurinaga. Their language, however, has been a trifle intemperate. One reviewer described it as "una Americanada*, which was intended to mean "Yankee

The film, shot in Granada and Puerto Rico, has also been A Hollywood movie about Lorca's death has aroused attacked for its English dialogue, and here perhaps the crines have a point. The short, sharp rhythms of Lorea's poetry - his celebrations of demotic gypsy speech - have always translated appallingly into English, and Andy Garcia's impassioned declamations are a poetic embarrassment.

Spanish wrath

But the critics are guilty of one major sin, that of taking the film too seriously. As Zurinaga has said till he was azul in the face, the film is only a personal interpretation of Lorca's last days, and of the mysterious circumstances of his murder. "The film is a thriller, for God's sake, not a documentary." The Spaniards, than whom there is no race more pompous, have failed to see his point. Enter Ian Gibson. The Irishborn historian, who has written the definitive biography of Lorca, has this week dashed an angry letter off to the newspaper El Pais, putting his Hispanist's boot into the crities for sticking their knives into Death in Granada.

Accusing the critics of being ignorant and xenophobic, Gibson, who advised Zurinaga closely while the film was being made, stands up belligerently for the Holly-wood Lorca and for the filmmaker's right to interpret the poet's messy death in the way he thought fit.

The Irishman's voice is a respected one in Spain and his words will find many eager takers. The critics, however, have already inflicted their damage, and box office managers across Spain are probably rueing the fact that Gibson waited so long before giving vent to his splendid spleen. Hardly anyone wants to see the Americanada now.

> Tunku VARADARAJAN

■ CHOICE 1

Oscar Wilde is at large again, courtesy of Simon Callow's portrayal

VENUE: In preview from tonight at the Savoy

■ CHOICE 2

Peter Maxwell Davies conducts the premiere of his Mavis in Las Vegas VENUE: Tonight, Royal

Northern College of Music

writers to BIC Politics.

enonic in the world premiere of his light hearted composition Mavis in Las Concerto (Simon Buisaworth) by Ron Callabiano: Massell Davies a Strainchyde Concerto (Duncan McTier, double board compières fire programma Royal Northwan College of Masse, 124 Oxford Road (1)161-273 55534).

WORDING: A rising star in the dance firmament, British choreographer Cherles Linehan presents two works at this year's Wolding Dence Umbrelle: The Two Sausone and A May Ground, Rithode McGaw, The Arrosessadors, Peacocks Centre (01483 761144).

LONDON GALLERIES

Tonight, 7 30pm

Tonight, 7 45pm.

Vages and two works by American composers: The Black Maskers by Roger Sessions and the Sevophon

THEXITIMES

■ NEW VIDEOS

Fruitful meeting: Roald Dahl's James and the Giant Peach comes to the small screen

■ NEW CDS

Iona Brown directs an attractive. collection of Scandinavian (string music

LONDON

wŀ

raud aid a hat li

f frat

It is o by vheth

vell

oic: a arge crime multi that iish a

Su

of th

Pi

pa

POR

Wha

emi

the

SOLD.

ner:

talk

Q

Մա

lin

BADFINGER. After the success of last year is "Four Comers" season, this year's programme allows a fornight's run for each of three plays. Kicking off is Wales's frun Language Theate Co with Simon Hards is stated inglithmers set in a jurk shop, directed by Michael Shean Dommar Werehouse, Earthern Smort, VC2 (0171-369 1732 Opens longhl, 7pm. Then Mon-Sat, 8pm; mat Sat, 4pm Until March 22 RADFINGER After the success of last

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING OSCAR The first revival of Michael macLammon's dramatic biography since the man's death in 1975 Performed now by Simon Callow, directed by Patrick Garland dalected by Patrick Garland Savoy, Strand WC2 (0171-836 8888) Previews begin tonight, 8pm Opens March 18, 7pm Then Mon-Sat, 8pm; mats Wed and Sat, 3pm Unbi May 10.

STRAVINISKY ET AL. The BBC Symphony Orchestra under conductor Andrew Davis parloms music by Stravinsky (Fostival Hall, 7,30pm). The Programme includes Divertimento. The Farry s hass Violan Concerto (solorist kyoko Takezavra). Addous Hudey. kyoko Takezawiai Addous Hibbley Variations and Symphony in E flat At 7 45pm in the Queen Elizaboth Hall, Trio Fontenary offers a programme of music by Haydin, Brahms and Schuberr, as part of the International Charetter Mittel's Search Chamber Music Season.
South Bank, SE1 (0171-960 4242)

□ BRIDY Morthern Exposure actor Rob Morrow poins it evin it regint's cast in Naom Wallace's lasconaing version of the William Wharton rovel a psychologically damaged GI (Meithew Wai) believes he is a bird Or does he? Comedy Panton Street, SWI (0171-39 1731 i Mori-Sat, 8pm, mate Thurs, Jam. Sat, 6pm

E CARDIFF EAST Verneth

Linnson, Windsor Davies Cranham, Karl Johnson, Windsor David in the cast of 15 for Peter Gill's new play, set on a Welsh housing solute in the 1990s Hational (Cottenion), South Bank, SE1 (0171-928 2252) Tonight-Sai, 7 30pm, mat Sat, 2 30pm. In rep

IN HEATHCLIST: Paroud by this El HEATHCLEFF Parved by the misca loved by the lans, Cliff Richard's miscas treatment of Wulfreyng Heights resches London after an extensive national four Helen Holsson plays Cathy, with songs by Tim Rice and direction by Frank Dunlog. Labatts Apollio, Queen Carolina Street, Hammersmith, W6 (0171-416 8050) Mon-Sat, Spm. Unbil April 5

E IVANOV Raiph Flennes heads a spendia cast mail induces names Water and Oliver Ford Davies, in Jonathan Keni's accillont production of Cheknov's first produced play, Almeida, Almeida Street, N1 (0171-359 4404) Mon-Saf, 7 30pm, mails Sei, 3pm Uniti April S

NEW RELEASES

 BLOOD AND WINE (15): Seedy adventures of wine mentium? Jack Nicholson: Stylish politicaler from Odeon Haymartet (0181-315 4212)
Ritzy (0171-737 2121) Virgine: Fulha.
Road (0171-370 2636) Trocadero (§ (0171-434 0031) Warner West End (0171-437 4343)

IRMA VEP Hong Kong star gets in deep water shooting a French litm Playful addity from director Offvier Assayas, with Maggie Cheung Everyman (0171-435 1525) ICA Cinema (0171-930 3647)

◆ JERRY MAQUIRE (15): A sports PR nominated Tom Cruse. Claphem Picture House (0171-498 ICC) Empire (0590 888990) October 2023 Empare 900 888940 Colorest Kemaingston (0181-315 4214) Marche Arch (0181-315 4216) Swites Cottage (0181-315 4220) UCI Whiteleys (5 (0990 88899) Wigher Chelsee (0171-352 5096) Fullhern Road (0171-370 2636) Trocaders (5 (0171-434 0031)

NORMAL LIPE (18): Acriley Jurid and Luke Perry spin out of centrel. Starl-curve drama from director John McNaughron ABC Piccadilly (0171-437 3561) NFT

TODAY'S CHOICE

A daily guide to arts

complied by Gillian Maxey

ELSEWHERE GLASGOW: Julie Saunders plays the teline, Robert David MacDonald and Mark Bazeley are tather and son in Calt on a Hot Tin Roof, Tennessee on a not tin Hoot, Jernessee Williams's gropping drama of lamily strife in the Mississippi Delta. Directed and designed by Philip Prower Matter Theore, Chieses, Golbert (0141-429 0022) Proviews begin tortight, 7 30pm. Opens tomorrow, 7 30pm. Until April 5

LEEDS: Jack Smathurst plays Henry LEEDS. Jack Smathurst plays Heavy Hobson in a new production of Haroid Brighouse's cornedy, Hobson's Chicker With Katherine Rogers as Magge Directed by Stuart Burge West Yorkshire Parkets Playhouse Square, Clarry H

(0113-244 2111) Previews begin torught, 7-30pm, Opens March 18, 7-30pm Then Mon-Sal. 7-30pm, mats (March 22, Apr 2, 9), 2pm, JApr 5), 3pm, Uniti April 12,

MANCHESTER The second of these concerts in the Max Factor senes, tided "Teachers and Pupils", has an American themic Sir Peter Maxwell

THEATRE GUIDE

LIVE & KIDOWG Maureen Upman presents herself for a season of presents hersell for a season or humourology and many another ology Ductimes. Californie Street. WCI (0171-494 5075) Mon-Sat, 8pm; mail

Set, 3pm until April 3.

If THE POSITIVE HOUR: Margot Lenester as a carefully untilustered social worker, with Path Love, Robin Soars in perceptive April de Angelle play, co-produced with Out of Joint. The caring liberal middle-classes fall apart on all fronts. Hempstered, Swess Cottage Centre, NW3 (0171-722 9301) Mont-Sat, Spirr, mel Sat, 3 30pm.

17H2 SCHOOL FOR WIVES PAN Bowles both fourthing and come as Moltere's deluded hero. Enc Sykes Motions of debugged name and system secretaring as his factor integrand servani Peter Hall direct.
Plocadilly, Denman Street, W1 (0171-369 1734) Mon-Sat, 8pm, mals Wed, 3pm, and Sat, 5pm

Cartho Sam Keil (0171-435 6650).
Dover Street Kais Malone (0171-409 1540)... Geovorist John Dough
Partings and Prints (0171-735 3445)
Harried Green: "Freet" Contemporary
Print in Ceramos (0171-287 8328)
Leighton House Vibrant Exploratores
Modern and Contemporary Synan Art (0171-602 3316)... Lieveeliyn
Alexander Jeremy Berlow (0171-620 1322)... Pentagram Tony Evens
(0171-229 3477)... Royal Assedency
Braque, The Late Works (0171-437 7438)... Tata Hogarth the Partier
(0171-887 8000) DI THE SEAL WIFE AND THOUGH CO celebrates its tenth year with Sug Glover's heunting play part tolk-table. part contemporary love story Directed by Janny Lee, designed by Allson Darke, the learn who helped to make Glover's 8 mondagers on memorable Wimbledom Studio, 103 Broadway, SW19 (0181-542 6141) Mon-Sat, 7 30pm, mai Set, 4pm Until March 15. WAKING, Sono Theatre Co's first duction at they new premises (still production at their haw pretriess; (still being built, Lin Cognituring play set in an trish healweive exacerbating the lensions between three generations of a tamity Directled by Abigail Monns Soho Theetire Company at 21 Dean St. W1 (0171-420 0022), Mon-Sat, 8pm

LONG RUNNERS

□ Busidy Strand (0171-930 8800)
□ Cats. New London (0171-405 0072)
Si Greese Cambridge (0171-494 5080)...□ Joisson Victora Palace (0171-834 1317)...□ The Blousetrap: Si Marth's (0171-838 1443)...□ The Piramion of Phe Opera: Her Majesty's (0171-494 5400)...□ Startight Express: Apolio Victoria (0171-416 6054)...□ Sunset Boulevard: Adelpti (0171-344 0085)
□ The Wiemen in Black: Fortune (0171-336 2238) Ticket information supplied by Society of Lündon Theatre

CINEMA GUIDE

Soulf Grown's assessment of films in London and (where indicated with the symbol Φ) on release across the country

SWANN (15) Local Canadian poel halis a mystery, Glam drama with hierida Frichan, Miranata Richardson Director, Anna Benson Gyles, ABC Shaftesbury Avenue (0171-8)

CURRENT

 THE CRUCIBLE (12): Weighty version of Arthur Miller's play about 17th-century witchcraft, with Winons Ryder, Daniel Day-Lewis and, best of all, Paul Scoffeld Director, Nicholas Hytner Bert Mourt (8) (0171-636 8891) Odeo Kensington (0181-315 4214) Leicesk Square (0181-315 4215) Marbie Arch (0181-315 4216) Swiss Cottage (018 315 4220) Ritzy (0171-737 2121) UCI Mhiteleys (5) (0990 836990) Yingin Cheisea (0171-352 5096)

 PERICE CREATURES (PG), Broad comedy in an English 200, from John Claese and A Fish Called Wands team. Mith Kewn Kling, James Lee Curtis

Director, Robert Young Empley (0990-838 090) Column Selection Codage (0181-315 4223) UCI Whiteless (0190-8399) Vergins: Futhern Read (0171-370 2639) Trocaders (0171-484 0031)

 MICHAEL (PG): Ragged, indugent roments lable saved by John Travolte's starting role as an angel. With William Hurt and Ander MicDowell Orleaner Kennington (I) (1), 213-2214. Hurt and Andie MscDovell
Odeons: Keneington (0161-315 4214)
Marbie Arch (0161-315 4216) Burles:
Cottage (0161-315 4220) West End (0161-315 4221) UC Whiteleys (3
(0090 888990) Virgin Cheises (0171-RANSOM (15): Internationally absorbing ludners distance, with Mel Gloson, Rene Russo and Gary Some. Octoons: Kensington (0181-315 421-Marble Arch (0181-315 4216) Switch Cettage (0181-315 4220) West End (0181-315 4221) UCI Withteleys (099 899990) Virgin Cheisen (0171-382 ◆ SHE'S THE ONE (15) Armable o orne o rine uvies (18) Amiable lamily comedy from Edward Burns, director of The Brothers McMuller, With Cameron Diaz and John Mahoney Odeons: Kensington (0181-315,4214) Serbas Cottage (0181-315,4220) Please (0990 888990) Und Whiteleys (017)-325 5069) Virgin Chelses (017)-325 5069)

APOLLO VICTORIA cc 0171 416

6055 cc 24hrs 0171 344 4444/0171

420 0000 Grps 416 6075/413 3321 Andrew Lloyd Watshar's

STARLIGHT EXPRESS

THE FASTEST SHOW ON EARTH

White knuckle runs 19.45 daily Tue & Sar Jom Tickets from £12.50

Extra Mat Thurs 3 April

0171 420 0000 (bkg fee)

PASCINATING AIDA

Challe simply the tope" 0 Tell Mon - Sat 8 00 Mars Sal 3 00 UNITIL EAT 15 MAJE ONLY

APOLLO 24hr cc 0171 494 5070.

cc 0171 344 4444 (bkg les) Grps 0171 494 5454 UEN BLTON S

POPCORN

From 21st March

CAMBRIDGE (9) $280:418 6000

344 4444-420 0000 [+ bkg fee; Groups 494 5454 416 6075/413 3321*436 5588

GREASE

"Feet, furious, thrilling & kon, fun, fun," D Mirror TICKETS AVALABLE APPLY DAILY TO

BOX OFFICE

Mon-Sai 7 30pm, Wed & Sat Mai 3pm

Juicy adaptation of Dahl classic

NEW ON VIDEO

■ JAMES AND THE GLANT PEACH

20th Century Fox, U. 1996 MISTREATED James finds his feet in an oversize peach voyaging across the Atlantic Excellent version of Roald Dahl's first book for children, made with the stop-motion animation technique by the team behind The Nightmare Before Christmas. Among the voices, David Thewliss's lugubrious tones make a perfect fit for the pessimistic Glow-worm, and Richard Dreyfuss's bumptious squawk suits the wisecracking Centipede, Randy Newman's songs are bland, but they service the story and underline the gentle points about the need for love and acceptance. To rent or buy.

ANTONIA'S LINE

Guild Pathé, 15, 1995 ENSCONCED at her lovely pink farmhouse in a small Dutch community, Willeke Van Ammelrooy's statuesque Antonia collects an extended family of oppressed souls taking shelter from male brutality or straitlaced society. This feel good movie from feminist Marleen Gorris has made friends around the world and won last year's Oscar for Best Foreign Film; though you have to be very indulgent to overlook the wobbly script and lack of dramatic highlights. To rent or buy.

LA MADRE MUERTA Tartan, 18, 1993

A CRIMINAL kidnaps the mute teenager who saw him murder his mother. Spanish director Juanna Bajo

Ulloa has talent, no doubt: you can tell from the brazen images, the crisp black humour and gothic atmosphere. But the characters' impenetrability and the unpleasant violence cast a pall. Karra Elejalde displays a chilling presence as the murderer with a massive Oedipal complex, but the film is finally too perverse for its own good.

THE CROSSING GUARD Buena Vista, 1996, 1995

A GRIEVING father (Jack Nicholson) plots to avenge himself on the drunk driver, just released from prison, who killed his seven-year-old daughter. Sean Penn's second film as director is heavy stuff, though you have to admire him for using his muscle to make modern Greek tragedies with limited appeal. And if his directorial ambitions exceed his talent, he knows how to draw on the talents of others, such as Nicholson, David Morse and Anjelica Huston. Despite yourself, you keep on warching. Available to rent.

GEOFF BROWN

NEW CLASSICAL CDs: Fresh airs from Norway; Christophers meets Carver; Bartoli doubled

Carver's early mass Dum

sacrum mysterium, thought to be composed in 1513, was "in

ORCHESTRAL

THE string family may have

Barry Millington

■ GRIEG/NIELSEN Music for Strings Norwegian Chamber Orchestra/Brown Virgin VC 5 45224 2, provided the chief folk instruments in 19th-century Norway, but Grieg's best-known works for string orchestra were actually arrangements by him of songs and piano pieces. Most popular of them all is the Holberg Suite. originally for piano solo. It is lar better known, however, in his version for string ensemble made the following year, and that is how it is heard in this attractive collection from the Norwegian Chamber Orchestra under Iona Brown. Both here and elsewhere notably Norwegian, the first of the Two Melodies, Op 53 the characteristic Norwegian dance rhythms are strongly marked out, giving the readings a fresh, bracing, open-air quality. Yet there is room for tenderness and passion too where required. The first of the Two Norwegian Airs, Op 63 (Popular Song) and the familiar Last Spring (from Two Elegiac Melodies, Op 34) are particularly moving.

Carl Nielsen's prentice work, the Little Suite, Op 1. is not without charm. but it lacks the emotional weight of the other piece included here, At the Bier of a Young Artist.

Mass: Dum sacrum mysterium The Sixteen/Christophers

THE Scottish composer Robert Carver wrote for a late medieval court which rang with polyphonic song until the Battle of Flodden put an end to James IV and his patronage of music at the Chapel Royal. honour of God and St Michael"; but its typically slow harmonic rhythms and its cloudscape of shifting sonorities, fitfully lit by a shaft of high soorano light, also make perfect Lenten entertainment. The Sixteen - just 12 of them in this case - hold their austere lines admirably steady, ebbing and flowing as duple and triple rhythms alternate, most breathtakingly at moments such as the Credo's "Deum de deo, lumen de lumine". An extraordinary 11minute Agnus Dei seems to pass out of time into eternity. Harry Christophers and his team certainly have the measure of this distinctive music, and complete a valuable disc with Carver's effulgent 19-part votive antiphon O bone Jesu

CDs reviewed in The Times can be ordered from the Times Music Shop on 0345-023 498 cat in the English style from the Carver Choirbook.

and an anonymous Magnifi-

Orfeo ed Euridice Bartoli/Heilmann/ d'Arcangelo/Academy of Ancient Music/Hogwood L'Oiseau Lyre 452 668-2 (Z CDs) * * £29.99

HAYDN'S version of the Orpheus legend was commissioned for the King's Theatre. Haymarket, but performed neither there nor elsewhere in rus lifetime. Posterity has treated it little better: too much competition from Monteverdi onwards perhaps.

vehicle for Cecilia Bartoli, who on record gets a chance to sing both Euridice and the role of Genio, a sibylline oracle who gives Orpheus advice which, fatally, he fails to take. The two ladies meet briefly in Act IV, so doubling up is not possible on stage. Bartoli gets a chance to sing two of Haydn's most spectacular arias in very different style. Euridice, bitten by the serpent, has a death scene in which Haydn has the polson coursing through her veins. Bartoli shows the most exceptional voice control and range of pianissimos during the fourminutes it takes her to expire. As the Oracle she has a chance to display coloratura fireworks recalling the Queen of the Night, created by Mozart just before Haydn started work on Orfeo.

Uwe Heilmann, as Orpheus, is well able to calm savage beasts with his top notes. Christophet Hogwood draws highly committed playing from his large AAM. orchestra and vigour from his small chorus. Next Thursday the LPO, with totally separate forces, puts on Orfeo at the OEH. The contrast could be.

Ton't 7 00

ROYAL OPERA MOUSE (17) 3V Tickets available on the day The Royal Opera Ton'i, Mon 7.30 TOSCA

ANTIQUE & ART FAIRS

A. The Antique Open till 22nd March Kings Read, SW3 Wkends 11 - 6

Penman Fairs Engl 0171 351 1980

SUNSET BOULEVARD Starring PETULA CLARK 24HR CREDIT CARD BOOKINGS CALL 344 0055 (bkg leo) GRP BOOKING 413 3302 (bkg lee) No booking tea for Adelphy Box Office Callers Recorded information 0171 379 8564 Mon-Sat 7 45 Mars Thur & Sot 3.00

THEATRES

iees) Gros 413 3321, 312 5069, 436 5598 Previews from 14 April, Opens 17 April CARY WILLIOT AREA CRUME

> A New Musical Book by Neil Smon, Music by Marve Hamisch, Lynes by David Zippel Additional Aries by Don Black Ever Mon-Fn 8pm. Wed Mat 3pm, Sats 5 & 8 30pm

ETTEPHEN PROST ONE WORD IMPROV

MUST END 16 MAR ALDWYCH 0171 416 6007/420 000 (24 hrs/no bkg lee) Groups 0171 416 6075

TOM & CLEM A NEW DRIV DY STEPHEN CHURCHETT Directed by RYCHARD WILSON Red. Price Prevs from 9 Apr Ceners 14 April at 7 DCom Eves 7:30 Wed & Sat mats 3

ALDWYCH 0171 416 6003, cc bkg tee 344 4444 Grps 0171 416 (DIANA REGG DAVED S on ECOWARD ALBEE S WHO'S AFRAID OF YARGINIA WOOLF Oir by Howard Da ALBERY THEATRE 80 & 0:0171 989 1730 or 344 4444, 312 5088 (No

THE GOODBYE GIRL

WITH WALLLAPINEY

McCOWEN

DAVID SUCHET

COMPLEX THEATRE 0171 389 1731/0171 344 4444 Rob Horrow is

BIRDY" By William Whenton "A wonderful adaptation that is full of humbur & landarmess Fil BIRDY

Mon-Sal Born, Thur mat 3pm.

TWO BEST SEATS FOR THE PRICE OF ONE "A Reason To Rejoice"

ROB MORROW

The Cornedy Theatre Porcor Sorres 1 (1997) 98/1

AND HUMOUR... BRINGS WHARTON' NOVEL BLAZINGLY

(MD) > 2 (ee; MAUREES LIPSIAN

ENTERTAINMENTS Tel. 0171 680 6222 or fex: 0171 481 9313 ON 017: 656 : 855 1990

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST A NEW MUSICAL Prevs from Apr 29 now booking DRURT LANE THEATRE ROYAL SS cc (Birg fee) 24hr 7 days 3171 494 5000(344 4444/429 0000 Grps 494

5454413 3511/312 8300 MISS SAIGOS "THE CLASENC LOVE STORY OF OUR TIME" KIN KI WEN 8TH EXTRAORDINARY YEAR Eves 7.45 Mats Wed & Sat 3cm & some peris - apply 8.0. FOR TELEPHONE POSTAL

BOOKINGS & PERSONAL CALLERS 0171 494 5060 (BKG FEE) DUCHESS 80. or 9171 494 5075 (no big fee) on GTT1 344 cond." 420 0000 (big fee)

THE HERBAL BED "Albie story, a countrorn change and MEW PLAYS THE RSC HAS PRODUCED STATE FROM 10 APRIL 17 WEEKS DRAW DUCHESS BO:C: 0:71 454 5075 pm blig kej co 017: 344 444/423 000

LIVE & KIDDING

Eves 8pm Mass Sat 30sm

POSTURE SO A COURT EVE

the most thrilling and chilling PARY for Years" D Mail NOW IN 115 ETH YEAR Running time 21ms

GAPPICK 0177 494 S085/312 1985 Probleg feet Groups 0171 494 5454 WINNER OF 19 MAJOR AWARDS SLIZANA

AN INSPECTOR CALLS D.Uai

Wed mat 230 ROMANCE, ROMANCE Two New Musicals So good they named it tage. Diffe Evas Born Mais Thur & Sat 3om

JESSICA LANGE TORY TEPHENS Tennesses Williams' A STREETCAR NAMED DESIRS

TWO THUR MATS STARRING To advertise

(blog fee) CC 344 4444/420 0000 (fee Gros 494 5454/413 3311/436 5588 ANDREW LLOYD WEBBER'S AWARD WINNING MUSICAL THE PHANTOM OF THE OPERA Directed by HAROLD PRINCE MOW SKIL TO GEC 97

Exes 7.45 Mats Vied 5.52 3.00

Apply to Box Office daily for returns

Hilary Finch ROBERT CARVER

E14.49

VOCAL

Collins Classics 14782.

OPERA John Higgins

M HAYON

L'Oiseau Lyre sees it as a

* Worth hearing

 Worth considering

 Worth buying

SAVOY BO/cz: 0171 836 8888 cc: 420

BEING OSCAR The Wit, Triumph & T-72, Triumph & Tragedy of Oscar Wilde by Michael MacLiammob

STRAND THEATRE Box Off & CC (no lee) 0171 930 8800

MEAN SMOKINT, ENOUGH ENERGY TO ELECTRIFY A CITY." D Mail

WEST SIDE STORY" E S Mon-Sat 8pm, Thu & Sat Mats 3pm REDUCED PRICE THURS MAY MOW BOOKING TO JAN 1956

MASTERCLASS

COMPANY LONDON (0171 636 8891) BARBICAN AS YOU LIKE IT Today 2,00 & 7 15 Eves 7 45 Mats Thurs 3pm Sal 4pm MOW BOOKING LIFTTL JAN'98

ERC TINES THE SCHOOL FOR WIVES "POSITIVELY GUITTERING... THIS IS AS GOOD AS IT BETS

"REAL POWER & PASSION
A BLOCKIUSTER" 0, 1d
"A BIG MACHIFICENT EPIC
MISSICAL A GREAT EVENING OUT"S Times MARTIN GUERRE

NOW BOOKING TO JAM 1988 Filincie OF WALES 0171 839 5967 First Call 430 0000 or 344 4444 Grps 4C10 02000 freephone 08000 6149003 HOT FROM BROADWAY, AND 1

QUEENS 80 cc 0171 494 5040 OC 344 4444 Cips 494 5454 PATTI LIPONE

by TERRENCE ISONALLY Prove 18 April Opens 30 April Mon-Set at 7 45pm. Thur & Sal at 3pm. ROYAL SHAKESPEARE

THE PIT THE WHITE DEVIL Today 200 & 7 15 STRATFORD (01789 295623/ oc RST THE MERRY WIVES OF TOP EVERYMAN IGN 7 7 30 ROYAL COURT 0171 565 5000 or 420 0100 (24ths) Downstars (Oute of Yorks, St Martin's Lane) THE SHALLOW END by Doug Lucia Ever 7:00 St most 3:00 Ends Sat Upsage (Ambaccadors West St) ATTEMPS ON HER LIPE by Martin China Mon. Sat 2:55 See Martin Crimp Man Sal 7 45 Sal frai 4 (in Unit 5 Apr.

THE IMPORTANCE OF

Prevs from Ton't. Opens Tue 7pm 8T MARTIN'S 0171 836 1443 Eves 8, Tue 2.45, Sat 5 & 8 AGATHA CHRISTIE'S THE MOUSETRAP

CC (Disty (see) 0171 344 4444420 0000 Aps 0171 413 3321/0171 436 5588 *BIDDDY The Buddy Holly Story
"BRILLIANT" Sun BUDDY WONDERFUL STUFF" Sin Tel BUDDY

WOMEN ON THE VERGE OF

HRT by Mane Jones "The spirit of Shirley Vales fives on" The Guardian or fax: 0171 481 9313 /ICTORIA PALACE 0171 834 1317 n a world of privileged love that broke ALWAYS A NEW MUSICAL

/0171 436 5588 (no lea)

WINNER

1996 OLIVIER AWARDS

BEST MUSICAL

"JOLSON"

Thurs at 3.00 staining

Alim Simum weeks till London angagement ande prium te World Town

To adventise in

WYNDHAMS 369 1736/344 4444 BEST COMEDY Eve Standard Awar BEST COMEDY Strence Officer As "ART"

erlormances From 20 May

Med-Sal matz at 3.00pm

298,000 readers of this section go to the theatre at least once every 2/3 months. To advertise in The Times theatre

> 0171 680 6222 or fax 0171 481 9313.

All major credit cards accepted

4

OPERA & BALLET COLISEUM 0171 612 8300 (MIN) EMOLISH NATIONAL OPERA FIGARO'S WEDDING

"A magical revival" S îmus Sal 4 00 (First Night), Tue 5 00 DIE MIEISTERSIMBER VON MÜRNBERG

ENTOSH ANTIQUE DEALERS ASSOCIATION FAIR. DUKE OF YORK'S HEADQUARTERS (No Strane Sq) King's Rd. Chelsea, SW3, 12-18 March Open Weekdays 11 00-8 00pm. Last day 6 00pm. Information 0171 730 6730

THEATRES ADELPHI

ANDREW LLOYD WESSET'S

APOLLO THEATRE ()171 494 50.72 Albury Theolie 0171 369 1740 (no thig lee) ichemaster 344 4444 (thig lee) EDDIE IZZARD

Mon-Sat 7.15pm Sat Mat 2.15pm

ADAPTATIUN_ FULL OF TENDERNESS CRITERION 389 1737/344 4444

Laurence Olivier Award Norminee REDUCED SHAKESPEARE COMPANY in THE COMPLETE WORKS OF WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE (Excident)
A 37 Pays on 97 Manures
"Harrigues" Times Mat: Trans 3 Salas 5 Sunai 4 Eresal Sam

THE COMPLETE HISTORY OF AMERICA (Norldgad) Tuesday at Earl IN ITS 2000 HELARICUS TEARS

204020/420 0000 (birg teet Gras #16 6096/312 1997: 0800 614903

ENTERTAINMENTS Tel: 0171 680 6222 or lax: 0171 481 9313

HER MAJESTY'S 24tr 494 5400

LABATT'S APOLLO, 0171 416

Sussen Hill's THE WOMAN IN BLACK

BAINTY STANTON

ENTHRALLING, VISUALLY STUNNING ONAMA*D Tel Mon-Fn 7 45, Sat 5 00 & 8 15, GIELGUD 0171 494 5567/ 420 0000 Grps 494 5454/420 3200

CAYMARICET SET RECO (no blog les 344 +4444 (CO 0000 (with bird fer) Mon-Sal 7 - Spm Mats Thur & Sat 3pr "MAGNIFICENT" Notic

> ews from 3 Apr. Opens 8 Apr SIAN PHILLIPS AS MARGENE NATIONAL THEATRE BO 017

6075/436 5588 forcs, feet 20hr 0171 344 AAAAAAN DOOD CLIFF RICHARD T.S. ELICT INTERNATIONAL MINITO HINNING MUSICAL CATS

Some seats areal in April Mor. - Sat Open LONDON PALLADRAM BO/CC 0171 494 5000/344 4444 (C1 of serv chg) 420 0000 Gap; 0171 312 8000 NOMERT LINDSAY
BEST ACTOR IN A MUSICAL
LIMENTO COVIET AMERICA
TOSERT LINDSAY'S FAGIN IS OLD VIC 0171 928 7618 PULL OF CHAPES, WARRIETH & GLEEPUL CRIMINALITY. 24hrs 430 0000 (no blog tee) The Peter Hall Company

HE'S A HOOT" D Exp OLIVER! OFFI PRINCIPLE VIEWS THE BART'S MASTERPRICE VOU CAN'T ASK FOR MORE S Times Ever, 7:30 Mair, Wed & Sat 2:30 SOME GOOD SEATS AYAIL

MOW FOR WEEKDAY PERFS

HEATHCLIPP

LYCEUM 12 0171 035 1206 0990 500 800 420 0000/344 4444 (b) INDI GIPS 415 6076 TIMI RICE A ANDREW LLOYD WEBSIER JESUS CHRIST SUPERSTAR

Sunds Shivers Racing Don The Spine" D Telegraph Eres 7 45 Mats Wed & Sal 3 ino bilg fee for personal callers at tin Lyceum box office 10am-5pm) £15 tichers for students, axad Mon-70 Some seats avail at door Mon - The LYRIC (17) 494 5045

928 2252, Gups 9171 820 0741, 24 ex. bkg fee 0171 420 0000 Please allow exits asserted time because of major readworks. OLIVIER Ton't, Tomor 7 15 GUYS AMO DOLLS Music and Ames t Frank Laterser. Book by Jo Swelling & Abe Burrows. Tourit 6.20 PLATFORME COLIN. DISTENS
LYTTELTON Ton't 7:30 LADY II THE DARK a musical play by Moss Hast with fines by lia Gershwa and music by Nurt Well. Tomor 7.30 DEATH OF A SALESMAN AND

COTTESLOE Ton't Torrer 7:31

CARDIFF EAST a new play by

NEW LONDON DREY LISTS WC2 BO 0171 405 0072 CC 0171 404 4079

ENIS 7 45 Male Tuo & Sal 3 00 IATECOMERS NOT ADMITTED WHILE AUDITORIUM IS IN MOTION, PLEASE BE PROMPT Bars open at 6.45 LIMITED NO. OF SEATS AVAIL DAJLY FROM BOX OFFICE.

Now Playing WASTE by Harby Gramuda Basker Now Playing CLOUD Nime by Coryl Churchill From March 22 HUFLYBURLY by David Rube days a week/10 ports, a week Mon-Sun 7 30 (norn Mar 23) Mals Thurs & Sar 2 JD Ties £10 - £19

OC 24hrs (blig lee) 0171-344 4444 (blig lee) Groc 0171 413 5311 THE WORLD'S MOST POPULAR MUNICAL LES MISERABLES NOW IN ITS 12TH RECORD-BREAKING YEAR Eres 7:30 Mats The & Sat 2:30 Lalecomers not actroded

BEST MUSICAL Once/Drama Awards BLOOD BROTHERS Librarys the audience to its feet and rearing its approval" D ALM TRASY THANKITHAM

DALY FROM BOX OFFICE

PHOEMEX BO/CC 0171 369 1733 /344 4444/420 (0000 (fee)

344 4444/420 0000 (24 No.) Eves 8, Mats Wed 3 & Sar 5 THE PETER HALL COMPANY PETER SUMILES in Molece's Intances compoy

DMb

PICCADILLY 0171 369 1734

PRINCE EDWARD 0171 447 5400 Feet Call 430 0100 oc 344 4444 Groups 420 0200 WINNEH EST CHOREOGRAPHER BEST NEW MUSICAL LAUTIENCE OLIMER AWARD

int Him Trig Mon-Sai 7 45 Mars Thur & Sai 300

GRALL TY AWARD WINE MUSICAL SMOKEY JOE'S CAFE HE SONGS OF LEBER & STOLLER PALACE THEATRE 0171-434 0909 Directed by Jerry Zales
"AMERICAN GRAFFIT! MIGETS

WINDSOR Today 1:30 MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING SHAN LITTLE EYOUF Today 1 30 HENRY VIB Ton'l 7 30

A RESOUNDING HIT Sunday Telegraph Evgs, Tues to Sat 7.30, Mats Wed & 45th YEAR

Tues-Thurs 8 0 Fn 5.30 & 8 30 Sat: 500 & 8 30 Sunday 4.00 LL SEATS 1/2 PRICE FRI 5.30 PERF 8th ELECTRIFYING YEAR Now booking '14 October 4 VAUDEVILLE 0171 836 9987 (no this less to 420 0000 (this les) "FRESH, BRAVE & FUNNY"

> A new play by Yesmine Rezel
> Trans by Christopher Hergelon
> "Fly, swim or stocke just to see > R" New York Times Eves B. Mats Wed 3, Sat & Sun 5 listings please call our sales team on 21

i 🍎

critics at 30p7an. ..

20th errores death, the . releasing $M_{\text{drid}, \ell_{\frac{1}{2}}}.$ Opera Territory

114 RCH 13 lW

as Brown ^{रहत}े व्य ractive partition of $^{\alpha n}d_{li_{id},i_{a_{0}}}$

L'a Walle

LITERATURE

Poet and publisher Robin Robertson has become known as the godfather of the radical Celtic school of writing

THEATRE 1 Lady in the Dark enjoys a fine revival at the National with Maria Friedman in the title role

THE

■ THEATRE 2 In the entertaining Landslide a Labour woman MP

meets the crusty

Tory whom she

هكذا من الاعليم

■ TOMORROW

In the Friday pop pages: a profile of Michael Franti, and reviews of all the new CDs

LITERATURE: Jason Cowley meets Robin Robertson, Scotsman, poet and publisher with a new-wave mission

Prickly flower of Scotland

6 I think

English

fiction is moribund.

dead on its feet 🤊

literature, the uncrowned king of Britlit — epithets cling to the poet and publisher Robin Robertson. He is one of the most highly regarded editors in London, who discovered and nur-tured a generation of remarkable, unorthodox talents including James Kelman, Irvine Welsh, Duncan McLean, Alan Warner and Alison

(A.L.) Kennedy. Resolutely Scottish. Robertson favours experimental writers, vernacular voices from the underground. speaking in a dis-turbed demotic. He rejects any suggestion that they form a school or coterie, but concedes that his authors are united by "their complete rejection of and linguistic centre".

They also work authentically in their own idiom, and are drawn to the darker side of life".

Of that there is no doubt: the novels of McLean and Welsh, for instance, contain some of the most harrowing scenes of violence and sexual humiliation in contemporary fiction. Another Robertson dicovery, the young Londoner John King. specialises in football hooliganism. The energy and extremism of these writers have chimed with the rave generation for whom the book has hitherto appeared too slow a form. Welsh's novels circulate at raves and nightclubs as if they were samizdat; his collection of stories.

like 750,000 copies, a figure more usually associated with a pop record.

This is a source of pride for Robertson. "I have an evangelical feeling about the kind of publishing I'm engaged in because many of the people reading Welsh and King haven't read fiction before," he says. What is significant about Robertson's list is how few English writers there are on it. "I think English fiction is moribund, dead on its feet," he says. "Most of the work I receive from English writers is stultifying, curtailed and usually like something else. No one is trying anything new. A lot of it is set in the past. I hope the emergence of the new wave of Scot-tish and Irish writers will encourage people in England to start writing about the present, about their own immediate lives and experiences in a way that is vital

Pressed to name a contemporary English writer he admires, Robertson can think of only one: Adam Thorpe. Martin Amis he considers to be "a better journalist than novelist": and other leading English novelists are dismissed with a sneer. There is, of course, a political subtext to all this: Robertson insists that Scottish literature is exciting precisely because Scots have been radicalised by what he calls feelings of disenfranchisement. The English.

Robin Robertson favours experimental writers who "are drawn to the darker side of life"; his own poetry turns constantly to the sea by contrast, are hamstrung by convention and the weight of the

"I don't want to overstate the case," he says, "but for 17 years the Scots have been yoked, by central government, to an English political system they utterly reject. This is bound to cause resentment, and a sense of frustration born out of a voice not being heard."

There is nothing resentful in Robertson's first collection of poetry, A Painted Field, however. The son of a Presbyterian minister, he grew up in Aberdeen. The desolate landscape of his boyhood mirrors that of his poetry. He is drawn to themes of alienation and loss. A woman burns a name into her arm with a cigarette. A traveller dreams of Aberdeen after having emotionless sex with a chambermaid in a Frankfurt hotel. A solitary walker stumbles on a decomposing horse, its skull "fizzing with maggots". But it is the North Sea that is the true subject of the book. The poems abound with the screech of guils, the "fat slap" of waves and the threat of sudden storms. In Fugue for Phantoms, the sea throws up the swollen bodies of drowned fishermen, their "skin gone to curd, and worn now like a fragile dress/water behind the eyes like the insides of oyster shells".

Although Robertson, 41, has lived and worked in London for more than 15 years, he seldom writes about the city. "If you grow up in a strong environment it leaves an indelible impression on you. I used to work as a lifeguard and the memory of the sea, of vulnerability in the face of something enormous never leaves me. I remember the smell of the herring catch as it came in every morning."

Poetry enthrals, fascinates and torments Robertson. He would like to have more time to write it. But the noise and bustle of London is a distraction, and so are his two young daughters. He works slowly, meticulously - the notes he made while researching his long narrative poem, Camera Obscura, form a pile six inches high. He accepts he will never be as prolific as, say, his friend irvine Welsh, who wrote his novel Marabou Stork Nightmares in four weeks, and that poetry will always lose out to publishing. "I'm afraid that this is my life's work," he says of A Painted Field. Pathetic really, isn't it?" Pathetic? For once this poet of rare precision settles for the wrong word.

Robin Robertson will be reading from A Painted Field (Picador, £6.99) at 7pm tomorrow at Waterstones, East End,

Dutch treat

THERE is no doubt that the B minor Mass is Bach's masterpiece, yet the question of whether it was conceived for a particular performance remains a grey area in Bach scholarship. There is equally no doubt as to how effective, indeed, how overwhelming the work is in performance. This was certainly the case with the Amsterdan Baroque Orchestra's superb account ar the Barbican under the direction of its founder, Ton

At first I was not convinced. The opening Kyrie was expansive - and very beautifully sung by the Amsterdam Baroque Choir - but it seemed slightly unfocused. The steady tempo seemed a touch uncomfortable: the meticulous attention to phrasing created a

CONCERT

Amsterdam Baroque Orchestra Barbican

halting feel. But as the evening wore on, everything began to fall into place, and the flow became more natural. Koopman's overall interpretation is gentler, less ostentatious, than some, but has an inner strength that builds effectively to the cathartic final chorus.

At the same time he brings a marvellous lightness of touch to the faster sections. The Et Resurrexit Tertia Die, for example, was almost a scherzo: playful and dancy, exuding the infectious joyfulness of the setting. This is perhaps Koopman's real forte, and things often went best when he was directing from the keyboard with the bubbly energy that is his hallmark.

This is not to say that there were not moments of more expressive intensity, as with the chorus Et Incarnatus est or the Benedictus with, for me, the ideal combination of Wilbert Hazelzet's limpid and seemingly effortless flute playing, tenor Paul Agnew and rich support from the continuo cello of Jaap ter Linden.

Soprano Ruth Ziesak is, like Agnew, ideal for Bach, though the purity of her tone blended less effectively with the strikingly darker hues of the Polish alto Bogna Bartosz. She has made singing Bach an important part of her career, and I shall remember her Agnus dei for some time to come.

TESS KNIGHTON

Singing with the shrink: James Dreyfus, Maria Friedman and Charlotte Cornwell in Lady in the Dark

Sophisticated lady sings the blues fantasies of a wincingly neurotic collaboration between Stephen Sondheim and Woody Allen or, more fancifully, one of O'Neill's big Oedipal dramas undergoing the Rodgers and Hammerstein treatment. Yet 55 years ago Ladv in the Dark — book by Moss Hart. music by Kurt Weill, lyrics by Ira Gershwin — had a good. long run on Broadway. The critic Harold Clurman was put in mind of "The Threepenny Opera diluted with Noël Coward and Cole Porter , and found the result "cleverly suave and fashionable". And by all accounts Gertrude Lawrence was magic as the fashion-mag editor who spent the evening free-associating Danny Kaye and Victor Mature. among the other males in her troubled professional life.

EMI

A FREUDIAN musical, large-ly occurring in a psychoana-what is claimed to be the lyst's office? That conjures up show's belated British stage premiere, is not so charismat ic: but she proves herself a splendidly versatile performer. The show is original and appealing and, as heroines go, so is she. Her Liza Elliott stalks into her shrink's eyrie radiating nervy assurance, then spins rapturously into the first of the dream-sequences that interrupt the more realistic proceedings. Dandies dance round the towering triangles and angular columns of Adrianne Lobel's set, wishfully screnading her: princes give her houquets; great arrists dedicate books and symphonies to her; the President wants her face on the three-cent stamp.

But this editor is an insecure woman. When her married lover reveals he is at last getting divorced, she doesn't want to know. A dream marLady in the Dark Lyttelton riage to him ends on what Francesca Zambello, a mostly admirable director, surely should have made a more nightmarish note. Liza weeps, wrangles, snarls. And the diagnosis? It is a bit more obvious in 1997 than it was in 1941. Liza is reacting to the father who thought her plain. and the good-looking boy who snubbed her. She has been suppressing her femininity to avoid rejection.

The ending comes a bit quickly and glibly; but this still seems an unusually sophisticated Broadway musical. Gershwin is capable of quoting from Herrick, then rhyming him with derrick,

Leeds

St John has the right to do what he likes with his land.

Felicity sides with his wife and son, who don't want Benton and Weill's tunes, though bland at first, come into their own later. I suspect Danny Jenny, and then into his Kaye made more of the celebrated patter-song, Tchaikovsky, than James Dreyfus, and Mature was probably more of hunk than Steven Edward Moore, the Hollywood wunderkind who here falls for Liza. But the supporting cast is fine and Friedman more than fine. When she exits from a big-top fantasy-episode to splendidly robust love-song, My Ship - well, she had the first-night audience wishing the palm of her hand was larger, so we could spend more time in it.

BENEDICT NIGHTINGALE This review appeared in late editions of The Times vesterday

Maria Callas 1923-1977. HER VOICE WILL LIVE ON FOREVER.

She's been heralded by music critics all over the world as the finest soprano in living memory. To commemorate the 20th anniversary of her death, EMI Classics is releasing twenty of Maria Callas's legendary opera recordings in a new series presentation. All twenty recordings have been remastered at Abbey

Road Studios, using the latest digital technology to produce optimum sound quality.

The operas come complete with stunning new packaging and include comprehensive notes and rare archive photography.

A truly significant addition to any opera lover's collection.

EMI RECORDS, 43 BROOK GREEN, LONDON WE TER

PAGLIACCI, I TURITANI, LA SONNAMEDLA, CARMEN, LUCIA DI LAMMERMOGR. NORMA. CAPALLERIA BUSTICANA. PAGLIACCI, I FURITANI, LA SONNAMEDIA, CARMEN, LULIA DI SAMMENOUE, NURMA, CAPALLERIA BUSTICANA. LA GIOCONDA, LA BORÈME, MADAMA BUTTERFLE, TOSCA, MANON LESCAUT, TURANDOT, II BARBIERE DI SIVIGLIA. Ul TURCO IN ITALIA, RIGOLETTO, UN BALLO IN MASCERRA, LA FORZA DEL DESTINO, AIDA, LA TRAVIATA, II TROVATORE

Bedroom politics THE lights go up on a glass-Landslide Courtyard Theatre, roofed room, perhaps a former orangery, at stately Benton House. Wistaria hangs in festoons outside the windows. French doors open onto the terrace and a panorama of rural Lancashire. Has Andy de la Tour's play transported us back 40 years to the social comedies where Dame Thissy-That strolled in with an armful of flowers and jabbed them into vases?

No, but also yes. The play's melodramatic events take place later this year, after a Labour win turfs cymcal St John Hewitt, Benton's squire, from his safe Tory sear, replacing him with Felicity Anderson, a young lass committed to compassion, profoundly propeople But this sort of issue drama harks back to times long gone by, when customary practice counterpointed attijudes to some national problem with a domestic difficulty.

generally a tangled love affair I don't say this history disqualifies the play from serious consideration. De la four writes seemes that are elever or exciting and sometimes both, and the mechanics. at construction are soundly planned Sometimes (believed) these characters could actually exist, though not for long. For that was the trouble with this old kind of drama. A formulais a formula, whether the new PM is Blair or Baldwin.

The public issue is whether

Wood chopped down to make way for luxury homes and a hefty profit. Present and past MP pass a night together. He outwits her, she learns fast, betrays a few principles and ends up the victor. But he goes one better yet. The cast work hard to breathe life and background into their roles. Christopher Ravenscroft, ramrod stiff, persuasively suggests St John's complacency and cruelty, which allows us to accept, just, the ready obedience of his wife (Deborah Norton). Jenna Russell's Felicity catches the dishevelled look of a political innocent and the cool suavity of the ambitious animal she becomes But never could she have transformed herself so fast so thoroughly, with the wisteria still in full flower.

On the whole Gwenda Hughes paces the actors well enough. One lesson the play teaches is never trust a polincian who says: "Trust me." But perhaps we know that already.

JEREMY KINGSTON

DO GREAT MINDS THINK ALIKE ON RISK?

Dr John Ashworth is chairing the conference and Sir Robert May and Professor Lewis Wolpert are chairing sessions at the Royal Society's meeting on Science, Policy and Risk. The Times Higher Education Supplement has advance coverage tomorrow and the main speeches will be carried in sound on our net site http://thesis.newsint.co.uk from 19 March.

How are judgements about 'Risk' made when scientific facts are uncertain or contested?

How can conflicting perceptions of 'Risk' by scientists and society be reconciled?

Robert D. Ballard on a fascinating journey to the ocean's mysterious depths

Light on the face of the deep

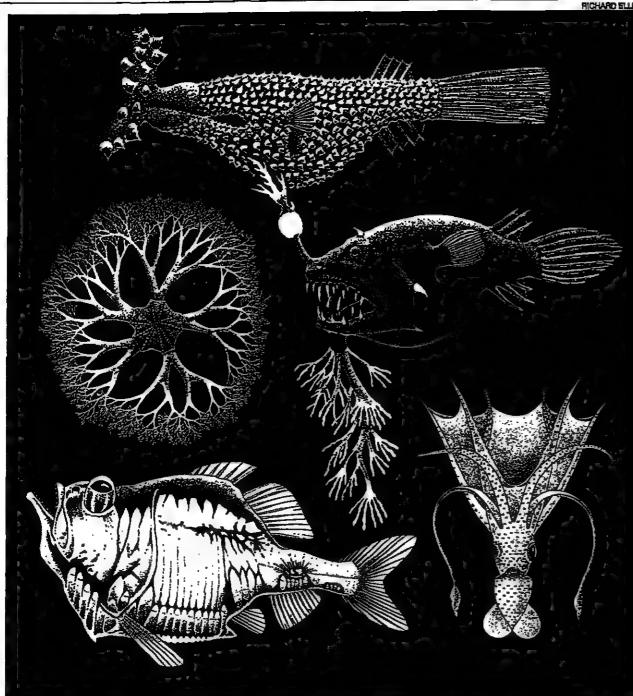

Exploration in the Abyss By Richard Ellis Robert Hale, E25 ISBN 0 679 43324 4

n his preface, Richard Ellis mentions the difficulties he faced in binding together his "diversely disconnected chapters on the Atlantic". He goes on to say he "started this book twice, but finished it once". In fact, he finished two books in one.

In Part One of his book. entitled Exploration, Ellis attempts to cover a matrix of subjects including cable laying, the Gulf Stream, a short thesis on plate tectonics, a history of deep diving, the finding of the Titanic, and finally, the discovery of hydrothermal vents in the Pacific Ocean. It's a rollercoaster ride in the deep abyss, providing a short summary of the important moments in deep sea exploration.

To most people, basking in the rays of the sun, the oceans of the world are only a few hundred metres deep and full of beautifully coloured fish. Yet the true ocean averages 4.000 metres in depth and its waters are near

To visit this alien world is to travel to another planet in our solar system, far more difficult to explore than Mars itself. At first, our only knowledge of what might live there came from the stomachs of deep diving whales or from nettows lowered from ships to probe this world of eternal darkness. Some biologists suggested that, owing to the absence of oxygen, nothing could live in the great depths of the sea and, for that reason, they were not worth exploring.

Strange and wonderful beasts: (clockwise from top, not to scale): a male anglerfish, Ceratias holboeili — four inches long to the female's four feet, it lives as a parasite on its mate, functioning only as a sexual organ; a female anglerfish of a different genus, Linophryne arborifera—its plumed lantern attracts its prey; the foot-long umbrella

It wasn't until the 1930s that in the bathyscaph Trieste. the biologist William Beebe Peering out of their tiny and the engineer Otis Barton viewport they were surprised to see a "flat fish" slowly first descended into this unexplored world and returned to swimming over a flat, featuredescribe its many wonders. less mud surface. From Beebe's dives, we began For years to come, our image of the deep ocean floor would remain theirs, a vast, to learn about the creatures that inhabit inner space. featureless plain - almost But Beebe's bathysphere never reached the bottom of desert-like in appearance the deep ocean. For that view we had to wait almost three with only a sparse population of animals totally dependent decades until finally, half a for food on the sunlit layers world away, Jacques Piccard and Don Walsh descended to

Win a £36,000 Mercedes SLK

and help to raise money for Comic Relief

the bottom of Challenger Deep

To support the Red Nose Day campaign McLaren International and their close friends the Spice

Girls have linked up with The Times to offer you

For your chance to win call our hotline with your answer to the question below. All profits from the phone line will be donated to to win the Australian Grand Prix.

Comic Relief — so the more times you enter, the more money you raise.

the chance to win a Mercedes SLK worth more than £36,000. McLaren's new partnership with West and

Mercedes-Benz for the 1997 Formula 1 World Championship has already proved successful — beating the competition

thousands of metres above. But that image all began to change in the summer of 1973, squid, Histioteuthis bonnellii, has light organs like mirrored searchlights all over its body; the silver hatchettish. Argyropelecus hemigymnus, "with its telescope eyes looking forever upward", as explorer William Beebe wrote; the basket starfish, Gorgonocephalus arcticus, traps floating plankton in its web of branching arms when scientists, diving in deep submersibles, first explored the rugged volcanic terrain of the Mid-Ocean Ridge. Instead of a flat mud bottom, they encountered a vast mountain range containing thousands of active volcanoes and steep sided lava flows. Just a few years later, while exploring this global mountain range near the Galapagos Islands. they discovered exotic communities of animals living around undersea hot springs and the world of marine biology was turned upside down.

but. I believe, far too briefly. Despite this limitation, Ellis hits his stride in Part Two when he presents the wondrously illustrated Creatures of the Abvss. This is Ellis at his best. Although I am an earth scientist, like anyone who ventures deep beneath the sea I am fascinated by the bizarre ani mals that inhabit this world of eternal darkness. For years, I have had its creatures dart

Part One of Deep Atlantic

highlights these historic moments in deep sea exploration

truly seen, understood, nor record has been a fuzzy, out of focus photograph shot in haste. But now, thanks to the skills of artist Richard Ellis, I can take all the time I want to examine in wonderment the living faces of the deep.

Deep Atlantic, by the same author that brought us Mon-past my viewport - never sters of the Sea and The Book of Whales, is a valuable contribution not only to the public at large but to the scientific community - a fascinating account of the exploration and discovery of a world that few know about and even fewer have ever seen first-hand.

Dr Robert D. Ballard is President of the Institute for Exploration in Mystic. Connecticut; his books include The Discovery of the Titanic. published by Orion. priced £7.99.

Because a fire was in his head

Peter Ackroyd is drawn into the early life of a poet whose passions helped to define a nation

W. B. YEATS

A Life Volume I: The

Apprentice Mage

By R. F. Foster

ISBN 0 19 211735 I

caying Irish cul-ture, and set him-self the task of reviving it from the ruins of old facry; he was born to a Protestant family going down with the "Ascendancy" and was obsessed, all his life by the notion of racial or cultural nobility. In his private life he was often considered to be an affected snob but, in his public writings, he espoused a grand vision of a renovated people and civilisation. But was Ireland good enough for him? Could it be trusted to embody Yeats's vision? This is the theme of Professor Foster's magisterial first volume.

As a youth the burgeoning poet became drawn to Irish nationalism, but his first great enthusiasm. In Foster's account, was for the varieties of magical practice. Recent volumes of Yeatsian biography have intimated that he turned from a private to a public world, moving through a moon-struck occultism to political commitment; in fact, as Foster suggests, both tendencies existed together as one of the more paradoxical aspects of a most paradoxical man. The early interest in Irish nationalism was inevitable; he was an intense and excitable young man who conflated his own ambition with that for his country. He created a myth of Ireland at the same time as he fashioned a myth for himself. Professor Foster gives a long and credible account of how that early enthusiasm gradually diminished, until there were occasions when Yeats spoke on be-half of the old Ascendancy: certainly he was never much in favour of Catholies whom he depicted, in one memorable passage, as "groping for halfpence in a greasy till by the light of a holy candle

His interest in the occult was more permanent and profound. For much of his life he was summoning spirits and gazing into crystal balls; he was a member of the Order of the Golden Dawn, and consulted various "mediums" who were happy to introduce him to spiritual guides. Foster very wisely suggests that there was a tendency among Irish their own prestige began to slip away; indeed, the great writers of ghost stories come from that exilic tradition across the water.

But Yeats's interest has all the marks of an obsession. For him it seems to have been a way of acquiring power, in a highly secretive and yet most convenient fashion. All his life he was devoted to power; soon enough he was lunching with prime ministers and peers but, before his incarnation as a public man, he was on visiting terms with long-dead seers and visionaries.

W.B. Yeats: A Life is a relentlessly detailed book and Professor Foster has clearly tried to be "definitive". His approach has the great merit of placing Yeats very firmly within the context of his times; much of the poet's first 50 years was spent involved in literary organisations, political parties and the machinations of the Irish National Theatre Society with all the consequent feuds, recriminations and polemics. Foster records all of these, but there is sometimes the danger of Yeats himself becoming obscured by the dust of forgotten

Yet this is not to deny the range and achievement of Foster's work. The scholarship, as well as the criticism, are first-rate. He is particularly good, for example, in conveying the includable process by which Yeats created his public and poetic identities. He was able to see his life from the outside, as it were, and thus to give it shape. He created his own system of belief and, as Foster points out, annexed "writers and philosophies into his personal pantheon". In fact his technique was all of a piece, whether he was dealing with the Golden Dawn, the Abbey Theatre, or Ireland itself, he always became attached to a larger entity, and then proceeded to assimilate it like some predatory literary amoeba.

He emphasised his Irishness, at least in England, as a way of conferring upon himself a distinctive identity; but it was also a means of defining, and marketing, what might otherwise have been an inchoate or inconclusive vision. He was of such unsure or unsettled character that he needed to bolster it with various assumed roles. A man without a fixed self can also have a genius for self-advertisement: it is a way of asserting that which otherwise might not exist. He said once that he had been "driven into public life" but he was rarely, if ever, a back-seat driver.

Foster's biography also provides proof of the essential ambiguity of the man. All his life he moved from London to Dublin, posing alternately as a Rhymer or a Republican; and then, by dividing, he conquered. He commuted between Maud Gonne and Lady Gregory, doing alternative votive dances before females who in turn represented political drama and theatrical politics.

He was absent-minded but also masterful, insecure but haughty. He manifested "egocentricity and aggressiveness", as Foster notes, and suffered from what he himself called "our fierce Irish hatred"; nevertheless, he managed to strike an attitude of absent-minded unworldliness. He moved uneasily between aesthetics and politics, art and nationalism,

Richard Ellmann, in his Yeats: The Man and The Masks, describes how the poet lamented that he had forgotten most of what he had once known but then promptly added: "there must be some reason why I wanted to write that lying sentence, for it has been in my head for weeks." And here lies the truth of the man: he existed in words rather than deeds or beliefs. His ideas were often quite idioric, but his verse is inspired; his actual personality was difficult and in certain aspects treacherous, but his poetic persona is magnificent. All the errancy and contradictions of his temperament were resolved in that poetry, therefore, where the slow spell of ritual words afforded him the authority he could not find elsewhere. He invented his voice in Innisfree and by the time his Collected Poems appeared in 1908 he had created a poetry both lyrical and demotic, melodic and rhetorical. It may be that, in the second part of this voluminous biography, he will be seen to find some resolution within his own life as well. But, even as it stands, the first volume will remain a central text for all admirers of Yeats,

Drawn into the occult a faked "spirit photograph" of Yeats

Jasper Rees

A nation built from stories

n urban planner in-A spects a hovel around the capital of Marti-nique with a view to razing it and relocating the slum-dwellers. He is attacked and stoned by a vagabond. From this simple beginning, Patrick Chamoiseau plunges us into a fabulous narrative history of Martinique, which leaves us as dazed by his gift of storytelling as the urban planner by the stone. His is a restlessly inventive prose, revelling in the possibilities of words. He could easily have lost control in the joy of storytelling, but Chamoiseau reins in the narrative, giving it a documentary framework and a tight internal structure demarcated by the four "Ages" of Martinique's development. The excitement of the novel lies in this tension between order and carnival, a tension at the heart of its meaning. The first part, set mostly in the 19th century, portrays slavery as no other novel has done, not in terms of a uniform parade of black victims, but as a carnival of moods, events and people. We are given a collage of characters inhabiting masks of sor-cery, rebellion and revelry. Each is individuated but each belongs to interlocking communities: there are maroons. mulattos, field-negroes, housenegroes and chabins (blond individuals with African features), whose various pres-

هدا من الاعليم

Chamoiseau: brings the Creole imagination to life

David Dabydeen

TEXACO By Patrick Chamoiseau Grania, £15,99 ISBN 186207 007 5

ences testify to the chaotic social and sexual history of the sland.

Stories and characters gyrate and jostle for space, each noisy and lyrical, each brilliantly costumed and ragged. and we are swept from the spectacle of slavery to indentureship, to migration from the plantation, to urbanisation, then through the catastrophe of a volcano and two world wars to the present-day colonial status of Martinique. Chamoiseau's method in packing so much history into fiction is as unfathomable as it is brilliant.

What holds the book together, through all the fractures of history and language (the novel shifts between Official French and French Creole) is the narrating voice of Marie-Sophie, She is the spirit of social rebellion and revival. but she is also keeper of African memory, one who "mustered our mosaic imaginings . . . imprinting upon them a convergence — a coherence". It is Marie-Sophie who fulfils the African quest for selfbetterment by setting up a ness and disorder. Marie-Sophie's "slum", however, is the point at which Africans have arrived after two centuries of slavery. Here they will establish systems of self-help and interdependency. But the "slum" is more than social space, It is the location of the Creole imagination. Marie-Sophie is embarked upon nation-building, but the nation will remain chaotic without the symmetry of the imagination. So Marie-Sophie establishes a town, "Texaco", and writes a novel, Texaco.

oiled systems of commerce, see the slum as a place of unruli-

Patrick Chamoiseau is an unknown in Britain, as is his island, Martinique, but Texaco will surely correct this. It is an epic novel, deservedly the winner of the Prix Goncourt. Given that it has sold more than 500,000 copies so far, and heen translated into 14 languages (here by Rose-Myriam Rejouis and Val Vinokurow). Texaco will be appreciated as one of the major fictional achievements of our century.

NEW AUTHORS ALL SUBJECTS CONSIDERED Fiction, Non-Fiction, Biography, Religious, Postry, Children's. WILL ON SEND YOUR MANAGEMY TO

PUBLISH YOUR WORK squatter-lownship called Texaco in the fringes of the oil company's depot. The whites, who control the city's well-MINERVA PRESS

DEEP ATLANTIC Life, Death and they were all at sea

Would

for two on board Virgin's Red Nose CrossCountry train to Edinburgh, staying in a top hotel. Third prize is a pair of tickets to Paris with Air France. The lucky winner of the pit garage, and enjoy the Grand Prix from the VIP Grandstand. The

Mercedes will be McLaren's guest at the British Grand Prix in July. where he or she will be entertained at the McLaren Hospitality Club. meet David Coulthard and Mika Hakinnen before the race, tour the

The second prize is a two-day trip

Spice Girls, who are donating the proceeds of their No 1 hit Who Do You Think You Are? to Comic Relief, hope to be at the Grand Prix. HOW TO ENTER

CALL OUR COMPETITION HOTLINE ON 0891 335 599

Call our hotline, above, before midnight on Saturday March 22 with the answer to this question:

How much money has Comic Relief raised in its five previous Red Nose Days? a) £100 million b) £112 million c) £150 million

All proceeds from the line will go to Comic Relief, Normal TNL competition rules apply.

COMIC RELIEF - THE FACTS Over five Red Nose Days, Comic Relief has raised just over £112 million. Two-thirds of the money goes to self-sufficiency projects in Africa, and one-third to projects in the UK.

WHAT YOU CAN DO: Buy a red nose for your car at any Texaco garage, or one for your face or to wear as a badge. Do something and get sponsored. Donate money by calling: 0345 460 460.

 For information about Comic Relief, call 0891 55 77 88. Reg Charles 😘 52/668

- CHANGING TIMES

Imperial legacy that left a nation searching for an identity

ussia does not have a national flag only an imperial one. The tricolour which replaced the red flag on the Kremlin after the collapse of the Soviet regime was the emblem of the tsarist Empire. This symbolic irony sums up the main dilemma of Russia today: how to free itself from its own empire.

The collapse of the Soviet Union ended four centuries of imperial rule by Russia. Most of the empire's subject peoples have redefined themselves as nation states since 1991. Only Russia seems unable to do this - and perhaps cannot until it comes to terms with the loss of its own imperial role. Having ceased to be an empire. Russia must now learn to become a nation state.

This is the timely theme of Geoffrey Hosking's impressive history: the construction of the empire stunted the development of Russian nationhood. It is a persuasive argument, which perhaps it took an Englishman to make. Who else would understand what happens to a nation when it becomes an empire on Russia's scale?

Hosking begins with a survey of the growth of the imperial state from Ivan the Terrible to Catherine the Great. He then a better explanation of why Orthodoxy discusses how this prevented the development of national forces and institutions. The nobility was too dependent on the State, and steeped in the culture of the West to become a national leadership. There were no real burghers, in the Western sense, to create a civic culture in the towns. As for the peasants, they lived in their own separate world, cut off by their own self-governing communities, enstomary laws and illiteracy. The peasantry

Hosking's biggest weak-ness. Like Solzhenitsyn. he tends to idealise their "communal spirit" and to overestimate the real potential of their institutions as the building blocks of Russian nationhood. Perhaps this is because he has looked at the village only from a distance, and so has not noticed its internal weaknesses or violence. But his knowledge of religion is his greatest strength, and he puts it at the centre of his argument. I have never read failed to integrate the Russian nation. Its prometion was the mission of the Russian Empire, based upon the idea of Moscow as "the third Rome", the only centre of the true religion after the fall of Constantinople. Meanwhile, the Church was dangerously divorced from the peasantry, who preferred their own sects to the Scriptures in a Church Slavonic which they could not Orlando Figes read. The Bible was not translated into Russian RUSSIA until the 1870s - after People and Empire Marx's Kapital. 1552-1917

By Geoffrey Hosking

Harner Collins, £20

ISBN 000 2555360

The last hundred years of tsarist rule were a three-way strucele to define and lead the Russian nation. The intelligentsia sought to create "Russia" in cultural terms, and to recreate it through social revolution. The liberals sought to create a political nation based upon the slowly emerging civic culture fostered by the reforms of the 1860s. And the reactionaries tried to define Russia in ethnic terms, and to make it dominant within the empire and the Slavic world.

All three trends are well discussed by Hosking. But his central thesis, that empire enslaved nation, is not quite so persuasive here.

. The Russian nation had surely come of age by the turn of the century. Its cultural life was one of the most vibrant in the world, and the 1905 Revolution was partly an expression of this. Hosking underestimates the political force of this emergent nationhood, compressing his discussion of the First World War and the February Revolution, when this national movement reached its apogee, into a few pages.

T onetheless, and despite its very slightly stodgy style, Russia: People and Empire is the most interesting and authoritative account of Russian imperial history in English. It is a masterful synthesis, intelligent and lucid, passionately argumentative but always fair, which everyone should read who wants to understand the origins of Russia's predicament today. Let's hope there's a Russian translation soon.

Orlando Figes's A People's Tragedy: The Russian Revolution, 1941-1924, is published by Cape, priced £25,

View of the canal of the Moika in St Petersburg, 1815 (from British Art Treasures From Russian Imperial Collections in the Hermitage, Yale, £45)

Would they were all at sea

frontier that sunders writers conventionally trade in realism: to the south, they tend to practise magic. If the map is not quite that simplistically colour-coded, it is thanks to rarities such as Francisco Goldman, a Guatemalan New Yorker who keeps a foot in both traditions. After his impressive debut, The Long Night of White Chickens, the collision between cultures has delivered a second, deeply exploratory contemplation of a fissured continent.

The Ordinary Seaman es-corts a rabble of Central American workers to a remote pier in Brooklyn, where they are hired to renovate a ship which they will then crew. The Urus turns out to be a rotting carcass, unplumbed and without electricity, its deck porous with rust-ringed cavities, its innards a breeding ground for fearless rats. Unpaid by their evasive employer, the illegal. aliens are reduced to de facto slavery. They come to depend on the ship's apologetic Cap-tain Elias and his first mate, who with less and less frequency drive over from Manhattan to distribute provisions and empty promises.

Esteban, chooses to brave terra firma. Though still a teenager, he is already a

Jasper Rees

THE ORDINARY SEAMAN By Francisco Goldmau Faber, £15.99 ISBN 0.571 19101 0

battle-scarred Sandinista veteran haunted by the corpses in his own memory, and takes to thieving booty from local delivery trucks. Sometimes the boxes contain food, but once he brings back toys - appropriately for a crew who are as powerless as children. Soon he fails in with Joaquina, a manicurist who tidies him up and takes him in. In one of his endearingly unsubde brushes with symbolism, Goldman makes her a collector of colanders and slotted spoons. Like a utensil from her own collec-tion, she has got Esteban out of hot water. Goldman swings his cam-era round to fill you in on the wily captain Elias and his first mate Mark. It turns out they are old college pals who al-ways dreamt of making their fortune together. The Urus, a vast, immovable image of their grounded ambition, is their last, catastrophic throw of the dice. They fall out when the crew's viejo — its most viancient member — is scalded by oil and the slippery Elias, fearful of letting him go near a hospital, tries holistic treatments on him. Elias has done time down in the jungles of South America, dabbling with shamanism in the same spirit of imperialistic dilettantism that finds him toying with the lives of 14 blameless Central Americans. Across the ocean, the Berlin Wall topples while Goldman dispiritingly, intricately describes the protective fencing that is thrown up around the land of the free.

He also, not quite as satisfyingly, filters the narrative through the eyes of the ship visitor who will liberate the marineros. Despite his philanthropic intentions, even he uses them as a source of stories to take back to his European girlfriend (a more privileged foreigner, she). But what stories they are, hornifyingly based - it emerges in an afterword - on a true story.

Henry R. Morland's vision of David Garrick as Richard III (completed c 1775 and now in the Garrick Club) followed a fashion for theatrical painting which the actor helped to set

Paintings and the painter of mankind

Macklin once rushed off the stage, knocked down the prompter, and returned to announce indignantly to the pit: "The fellow interrupted me in my grand pause!" The pit understood: 18th-century theatre audiences were much more interested in star performance than in the twists and turns of the plot or the finer points of direction. It is no coincidence that the mid-to-late Georgian period was the golden age of theatrical portraiture.

Hogarth's huge canvas of David Garrick as Richard III one of 18 paintings of the actor in that role) was completed in 1745, five years after his sensational debut in the role. Garrick was quick to detect promotional possibilities, and his partnership with Johan Zoffany was of crucial importance in establishing the popularity of theatrical painting as an independent genre in England. From 1761 the Society of Artists, of which Garrick was a founding member, held annual exhibitions.

The Garrick Club's collection has grown from several hundred paintings once owned by the actor Charles Mathews, Mathews, the son of a hookseller and Wesleyan preacher, the friend of Leigh Lambs, was born in the year that Garrick retired. His paintings were acquired by the club shortly after its foundation in the 1830s. The committee of the day offered his widow an ungenerous El.000, and her circumstances obliged her to accept, although she called it "a sad sacrifice".

Ian McIntyre enjoys a dramatic view of British theatrical history

PICTURES IN THE GARRICK CLUB

A Catalogue Compiled and written by Geoffrey Ashton, edited by Kalman A. Burnim and Andrew Wilton

Garrick Club in association with Unicorn Press, £95 ISBN 0 906290 147

The collection - drawings and sculpture as well as paintings, and now comprising more than a thousand items - was last catalogued in the 1930s. This new version was commissioned 15 years ago, and Geoffrey Ashton, the distinguished theatre and art historian, was still working on it at the time of his early death in 1991. His manuscript has been revised and edited by Andrew Wilton, Keeper of the British Collection at the Tate, and by the American scholar Kalman A. Burnim, an authority on Garrick as a director, and joint author of the monumental Biographical Dictionary of the theatre triumphs of the Southern Illinois University Press.

Elegantly typeset in Basker-ville, and with almost a hundred fine colour plates, this is an outstanding piece of bookmaking. Zoffany's splendid portrait of Garrick as the cheerfully gouty Lord Chalkstone is used to arresting effect on the jacket. Hugh Tempest-Radford and the Unicom Press have done the club and its collection proud.

There are, however, some careless slips in the text. In the commentary on Zoffany's famous painting of Garrick and Mrs Pritchard in Macbeth, for example, the line which prompts Lady Macbeth to seize the daggers from her husband — "Look on" again 1 dare not" — is misquoted. Nor is the assertion that the cos-tume for Macbeth in the 18th century was traditionally a Windsor uniform correct. The Windsor uniform, for the Royal Family and members of the Royal Household (not military garb as suggested here) was the creation of George III, who came to the throne in 1760. The descriptions of some of the more obscure paintings also leaves something to be desired. A canvas by Philip Mercier, said to be of the actress Peg Woffington, Garrick's mistress for a time. offers a case in point. The editors tell us that "the sitter contemplates the miniature of a man (said to be Garrick)". But they then quote a catadates the picture about 1735-36, and observes that "the identification with Peg Woffington is unconvincing and the subject evidently fanciful". It certainly is. In 1735-6, as Professor Burnim knows better than most, Garrick was still a schoolboy in Lichfield and Wolfington was just establishing herself in Dublin More generally, although the editorial decision not to go in for detailed interpretation is sound, the text of the catalogue listings is disappointingly austere. In some instances more space is devoted to provenance and related matters than to anything else. Under John Gilroy's oil painting of Donald Wolfit, for Instance, we read: Sir Donald is shown with grey hair brushed back and wears a dark jacket, a Garrick Club tie, and a white shirt. He became a member of the Garrick Club in 1942."

hat doesn't make the old monster sound very interesting. Wolfit was important not because he wore a bit of faded pink and green polyester round his neck but because he was the greatest ham-actor of the mid-20th century. We are told it is planned to remedy future by publishing a companion volume devoted to the biographies of sitters, but twopart catalogues don't make for convenient reading.

And what about the painters? All we are offered in this volume is a ten-page index which does no more than record their dates and list the works by which they are represented. Some of the artists - Batoni, Beerbohm, de Loutherbourg, Pellegrini, Vandergucht — led lives every bit as colourful as those of their subjects. Even if they didn't wear Garrick ties.

Ian Mcintvre is at work on a new biography of David Garrick.

A hawk transformed into a dove

John Grigg

RAYMOND POINCARÉ By J. F. V Keiger Cambridge University ISBN 0 521 57387 4

miership on two further occawritten before his private sions. In his first postwar papers came to light in the 1970s. (They were previously ministry he took the decision to occupy the Ruhr when the throught to have been de-Germans defaulted on reparation payments; in the second stroyed.) Now Professor he stabilised the franc. Before J. F. V. Keiger of Salford Univhis death in 1934 he had ersity, using this essential new material, has produced a life published his memoirs in ten of Poincare that is not only a Since then very little has model of scholarship, but also remarkably fair and underbeen written about him; only standing. The book should do two biographies in French and much to redeem Poincaré's none in English Moreover. reputation where it has been unjustly impugned, not least in France.

The worst charge against him is that, as an exceptionally hands-on President in the crisis of July-August 1914, he pushed France towards war. As a Lorrainer, he is assumed to have been hawkish and revanchist, but Keiger shows that this view of him, and of his role at the time, is false. Far from being a reckless warmonger, he sought accommodation with Germany until it became clear that war was inevitable, and then did his utmost to ensure that Germany would be seen as the aggressor, that France would enter the war as a united nation, and that Britain would stand with France. Perceiving the significance to the British of Belgian neutrality, he vetoed a proposal by General Joffre to move into Belgium in anticipation of the German attack through that country. The "Poincaré-la-Guerre" myth was the result of systematic denigration of him during and after the war, mainly from the extreme Left and much of it Germaneiger's measured defence is all the more persuasive in view of his candour about Poincaré's faults. On the whole he seems not to find the man very sympathetic, though we are told that his cold exterior concealed a nature which, to those close to him, was warmly affectionate. Throughout his life he was driven by ambition and competitiveness, and he had a duct in that affair of Georges tendency — which the author finds "unendearing" — to pa-rade his intellectual superiority. As a young politician he acquired a reputation for strict probity that was not wholly deserved. (He did not hesitate to use his influence and oa tronage as Minister of Education to secure his own election to the Academie Française.) But his worst fault - the opposite of that commonly ascribed to him - was exces sive caution amounting, at times, to moral cowardice. In the Dreyfus affair he was soon aware, as a good lawyer, of the probability that there had been a grave injustice, but remained silent for a long time and did not speak out until it was safe to do so.

Very different was the con-

If any single aspect of the Heseltine character is brought out by Crick it is his passion for the concept of UK Ltd. fostered by co-operation between government and big business — unlike his Thatcherite colleagues, Heseltine never displays more than the minimum necessary concern for the problems smaller enterprises. That turn is paralleled by h strengths and weaknesses as politician. Numerous assi ciates suggest, and Cric seems to concur, th Heseltine's failure to captur the ultimate prize rested on h inability to court the mo humble Conservative bac bencher — the political equiva lent of the one-man busines As Crick concludes, that defe means the Deputy Prime Mil ister is left with an unsatisf ing legacy as the man wh removed Margaret Thatcher from Downing Street but could not put himself in her

Clemenceau - one of many examples of incompatibility between the two men. Yet in turned to Clemenceau to form a government, subordinating his personal feelings to the interests of the country. Clemenceau's triumph as national leader caused him agonies of envy, and there were many disagreements be-tween them, in which Poincaré was not always wrong. Keiger is fascinating about their strange relationship and complementary qualities. Both were great patriots, and at a moment of supreme danger they stood together.

the French biographies were The brass ring just out of reach

TO WRITE a satisfying biography of practising politicians was once considered a task that verged on the impossible. Recent books assessing Tony Blair. Kenneth Clarke, Michael Portillo and John Prescott suggest a revolt against that approach. Michael Crick's entertaining and balanced account of Michael Heseltine's life and career suggests once again that the effort is worth-

aymond Poincaré's

French history. He got going early — a deputy at 26, a minister at 33. Prime Minister for the first time at 51 (having refused the office at 38), and the youngest ever President of the Third Republic at 52.

He served from 1913 to 1920.

a momentous period, and after the conclusion of his term was the first President to return to government, holding the pre-volumes.

career is one of the most important in modern

Michael Heseltine is a rare figure in postwar politics. Crick outlines in considerable detail the means by which the ferociously ambitious Heseltine acquired his fortune. Coming down from Oxford, he embarked on an imaginative but rather haphazard Tim Hames

MICHAEL HESELTINE A Life By Michael Crick Hamish Hamilton, £30 ISBN 0 241 13691 1

career as a property developer, then abandoned that fur the more glamorous world of publishing. Here again he drove himself to the edge of ruin before executing an improbable rescue via such titles as Accountancy Age. Michael Crick tells this tale with real gusto and rightly suggests that much of Mr Heseltine's subsequent story as a politi-

But was anyone listening? Michael Heseltine in 1990

cian could be anticipated on Crick is swift to offer rightful the hasis of his record as an appears more accurate - the commercial failure of Con-That political career is outlined carefully and with admiconde under his watch as rable neutrality. Crick stresses Minister for Aerospace under Ted Heath — the author is no Heseltine's emphasis on dyless ready to assign blame. namic action (and not a little self-promotion). Where that Precisely because of this rigorproves productive, for examous balance. Crick's biography seems set to become the ple his passionate evocation of urban renewal in Liverpool. standard tome on his subject.

praise. Where the opposite

THE BOOKSHOP SPECIAL OFFER

SAVE #3 ON 3001: THE FINAL ODYSSEY

by Arthur C. Clarke Only £13.99 (RRP £16.99) with free p&p for the UK

 You can also buy ANY English-language book currently in print. ● FREE UK p&p ● Delivery in 7-10 days, subject to availability • 24-hour service. Staff available 8am to 6pm, Monday to

Friday, 9am to 4pm Saturday, and 10am to 4pm Sunday. CALL: 0345 660 916 AT LOCAL BATE

Call +44 990 134 459 from overseas and the Republic of Ireland. tax +44 1326 374 888. e-mail: bookshop@the-times.co.uk:

Oty	Time/Author	Total Price
_

Or post coupon to: News Books, FREEPOST, PO Box 345, Falmouth, TR11 2BR.

Surrame		Initi	w		Title .
Address
Postcode	Tei
l enclose cheque/PO Please write your nam	ne and address i	on the ba	ok of all	cheq	U86
Debit my Mestercard,	/Visa/Amex, Sw	ECENT OF LIVE	40 avvv
Debit my Mestercard						I
,

The suggested retail price of a book can be subject to change by the publisher without prior notice. Tick box if you prefer not to receive details of other offers

Bargains of the week — from Easter in Iceland to rambling in Italy and cut-price fares to Copenhagen

FLIGHTS

DEBONAIR has lowered fares for midweek flights between April 8 and May 1. The airline is charging a flat £39 one way from Luton to Düsseldorf, Copenhagen, Barcelona, Madrid, Munich or Rome. Book by March 3l. Details: 0541 500300.

■ AFFORDABLE businessclass fares are offered by Laker's Premier Business Ser vice from March 21. Gatwick to Miami costs £1,298. Details: 01293 789000.

AIR Portugal has "openjaw" excursions to Lisbon. Oporto and Faro. Prices start at £128, excluding Easter. De-tails: 0171-828 0262

VIRGIN Atlantic to Johannesburg cost £419 return when you depart by March 20. Details: 0171-258 0280.

DURING April, Delta flights to Los Angeles cost £285 through Air Tickets Direct. Details: 0990 320321.

■ FLIGHTBOOKERS has New York or Boston from Glasgow for £219, excluding Easter. Details: 0141-204 1919. HOLIDAYS

VOUCHERS offering £100 off Travelcade from E349 a person, including eight nights' B&B. Details: 01253 23545. a break to Disneyland Paris plus discounts of up to 25 per cent will be available from EASTER in Cyprus for tomorrow to those booking

£279 a person is on offer from overseas holidays for the next Odyssey Holidays, with a winter at Thomas Cook. Deflight from Luton on March 29 and a week's self-catering studio accommodation. Details: 0181-343 9090. SKIING in Verbier for a week from March 23 is on offer for adults for only £334 from Ski Esprit and includes

■ SAVINGS of 10 per cent are available for Easter week hookings in West Country cottages from Farm and Cottage Holidays. A Cornish cottage sleeping ten costs E314. Details: 01237 479698.

Easter to Italy, southern Greece and Madrid are avail-ROMAN holidays at bar-gain prices in April are available from Ramblers Holidays. A week visiting Lake Garda able from Room Service if booked by March 31. Prices start at £179 a person for five nights' B&B in a central and Venice is the best deal, at E475 a person, with a flight from Gatwick on March 29 and half-board accommoda-tion. Details: 01707 331133. budget hotel. Flights go mid-week from Luton. Details: PARIS for Easter from £145

a person with two nights' B&B ■ CHINA for £665 a person and Eurostar travel is on offer from Crystal Cities. Details: 0181-241 5040. for a ten-day escorted tour including the Great Wall and the Forbidden City is on offer ■ ICELAND for Easter, usfrom Bales Tours, using a ing a flight from Blackpool on March 29, is available from flight from Heathrow on April 29. Details: 01306 885923.

Watch a one-day international during a week at the Barbados Royal Pavilion with Caribbean Expressions. Price: £1,185. Flight on April 28. Details: 0171-431 2131

1268 £285

£315

£265 £265 £269

£225

£295

We use the world's best airlines including Virgin,

British Airways, American, United, Northwest and Delta

BALTIMORE

BOSTON

CHICAGO

DALLAS

DENVER

DETROIT

FORT MYERS

HOUSTON

LAS VEGAS

LOS ANGELES

MINNEAPOLIS

NEW YORK

FORT LAUDERDALE

offer at 1390 a room for double occupancy, including Sconish breaklasts, dinner on one evening, transfers and a half-day chauffeured tour of the city.

Available through Leading

Hotels of the World. Details

AN APRIL Fool's Day special is on offer at the Grosvenor House's Café Nico restaurant with a two for the price of one deal for lunch or dinner on that day only. The menus for two are priced at £24.50 and £29.50 including service. Details: 0171-495 2275.

■ DETAILS of B&B accommodation in National Trust properties, ranging from a pub in Norfolk to a hill farm in Snowdonia, are available from the trust at PO Box 39.

at Silverstone in July and stay

a night at Birmingham's Novotel Hosel for £170 a person, double-occupancy rate. Price includes coach transfer with guide. Booking through Goldenrail. Details: 0161-238 5206.

0800 181123.

FLORIDA hotels from as little as El7 a room a night are available from the bookings specialist Hotelshop Details: 0181-995 3010.

A THREE-NIGHT break starting on March 28 at the Grand Hotel in Torquay. available through Superbreak Mini-Holidays, costs £195 a person half-board and includes a champagne reception, a trip to the Newton Abbot races and a "casino" night. Details: 0161-238 5257.

■ THE latest full-colour directory of the 233 members of the Small Luxury Hotels of the World consortium, including for the first time hotels in Cambodia, Portugal and Central America, costs £5, including postage and packing. Details: 01372 375116,

SOME cottages are still available over Easter from Rural Retreats, such as Primrose Cottage at Exbourne near the edge of Dartmoor at £327 for four nights, sleeping four. Details: 01386 701177.

THE Caledonian Hotel in Edinburgh has a two-night

0181 559 7725

01222 377 091

4174 360 111 4174 70 154 0 155 2 151 2

FAMILE PLANS OF THE CAMERIA OF THE CAMERIA OF CAMERIA O

JETWORLD

01273 730930

O FRANCE SING BANGSTOK STOP O O CHAN SIZE BRING BANGS DO O FREN'TON SIGN BRING BANG O O MEN'TON SIZE BRING BANG O O MEN'TON SIZE BRING BANG O

0181 795 3180

LEISURE CARS

MANCHESTER: 0161 456 2515

GLASGOW: 0141 248 4844

BIRMINGHAM: 0121 585 7775

Heliany zahiyaning and whip

Alamo Rent A Car from £15 per week

Hilton Hotels from £24 per person & stancyl

ORLANDO HOTLINE

0181 559 7766

For all your travel needs to Orleado, Florida

SAirtours plc

E235

219

£269

£195

£235

NEW DRLEANS

PHILADELPHIA

SALT LAKE CITY

WASHINGTON

SAN FRANCISCO

ORLANDO

PHOENIX

SARASOTA

TORONTO

VANCOUVER

SEE ITV'S TELETEXT P.272

FOR MORE GREAT OFFERS

We have arranged over a million trips to the USA

SEATTLE

TAMPA

FERRIES

STENA LINE is offering 20 per cent off fares to Ireland if you book and pay by April 30. A new ten-day fare costs £128 return - both for a car and up to five passengers. Details: 0990 707070. (IIII)

cruise a ferry pr wars ra

P&O FERRIES has a new offer on Dover-Calais of £74for a car and nine passengers or a car and time passengers for any five-day return ticket if paid for by April 30.
Details: 0990 980980.

BRITTANY Ferries has introduced 24-hour returns to France from Poole and Portsmouth, £19, and £24 on Portsmouth-St Malo - both for a car and up to nine passengers. Valid until May 15. Details: 0181-324 4000.

HOVERSPEED is charging £35 for a motorcycle and rider off-peak on Dover-Ca-Bromley BRI3XL Send an A5 envelope with first-class stamp. Details: 0171-447 6700. lais. Folkestone-Boulogne prices start at £30, Details: 0990 240241. SEE the British Grand Prix

> HOVERSPEED is offering breaks from £37 a person for two nights' B&B in Boulogne, based on four sharing a car, two people a room. Details: 0990 240241.

CHECK-IN

WASHINGTON $176 BOSTON TORONTO ATLANTA MEXICO CITT EZIG DUBAL VANCOUVER INDIA S.AFRICA BANGKOK SINGAPORE

FLIGHTWISE CHEAPEST FLIGHTS

STER RY BREAKS

26 449 120 100 27 Auto 125 179 27 Auto 140 27 Auto 135

0161 500 0505

>DELTA TRAVEL

OVER 20 YEARS OF TRAVEL KNOW-HOW AND MINE

CONTRUTTURES On flighter & hole to Europe, USA & most destina-tions. Diplomat Travel Services Ltd. 0171-790 2201. ABTA 25703 LATA/ATOL 1155.

Ola1 501 4141 ARTA 71744

FLIGHT CENTRE

WORLDWIDE

DISCOUNT

FLIGHTS

THE TRAVES EXPERS

More than just low cost flights worldwide

WITH UP TO 65% DISCOUNT ON HOTELS & CAR HIRE Call Trailfinders for the complete tailor-made travel service

> LONDON Longhaul: 0171-938 3939 Transatlantic & European: 0171-937 5400 First & Business Class 0171-938 3444

BIRMINGHAM Worldwide. 0121-236 1234

BRISTOL Worldwide: 0117-929 9000

GLASGOW Worldwide: 0141-353 2224

MANCHESTER Worktwide 0161-839 6969

First & Business Class: 0161-839 3434

LONDON - BERLIN £129

LONDON - GENEVA £119

LONDON - STOCKHOLM £159

EDINEURGH - PRAGUE 5228

MANCHESTER - ATHENS £232

All feres listed are subject to availability and differing booking and travel periods. Passenger taxes apply. For full details of conditions and more Petits Prix to many other European and worldwide destinations contact your Travel Agent or call Air France on

0181 742 6600

WORLDWIDE FLICETY 017 72 72 72 72 01772 727 727 su nv Teletext 7-275 tails from its shops.

ferry crossings, most meals

and chalet accommodation.

■ WALKING breaks over

Details: 01252 616789.

SPECIALS QANTING BRITISHALIWAYS Pertin : £599 DOC. THE MONTH

THIS WEEKS

S260 LANGELES 5255 5305 MADRID 599 PRANGER SPO MOSCOW SZZS BANGER STIS NARCH STR MKARIA SITS COLANDO STOP JAMACA SZZO COLANDO STOP JAMACA SZZO MANIEA SAGI 0171 439 4181

benz

VEW YORK £160

HONG KONG £440

AMSTERDAM SEP NOTHING $355

PROCESSES OF THE PROCES Travel as many times as you like from £59 a year. With our annual travel insurance you can take an inlimited number of trips. To enrol 8am and 8pm Monday to Friday quoting reference TQ11

0800 700 737 Curain orchasors and slighthly liminious apply Policy Terms and Conditions are available on sequent

TRAILFINDERS >-

LATA

CAPITAL FLIGHTS

0171 209 4000

INSURANCE every policy sold विक्र को दर्श ($10%) (क्रा स्ट्रोटकंड हर 19. स्ट्रोटर वर्ष, रे इसेंटर स्ट्रोट (19 ट टर. 01243 787835 +4CLUB DIRECT

hom ABERDEEN £29 GLASGOW £29 EDINBURGH £29 INVERNESS £29 £35

AMSTERDAM NICE £49 BARCELONA £49 All lares single excl. for from Landon Luton Airport

easyJet Call 01582 44 55 55 anytime

- Just America 01730 266588

SPRING ROUND THE WORLD! London - Bangkok - surface - Singapore -Perth - sorface - Sydney - Auckland - Los Angeles - London from £558-

EUROPE: 0171 361 6161, WORLDWIDE: 0171 361 6262, EUROSTAR: 0171 361 6143 ACCOMMODATION - CAR HIRE - INSURANCE AND OVERLAND TOURS: 0171 261 6160 III iman fired SW1 to Old Broppen; Ed SW7. II Goodge SCW1, London

STATELLE PROPERTY AND ADJUST FIRST BASE

CALIFORNIA £270 £260 £180 NEW TORK £180 BOSTON FLORIDA £240 CAROLINAS £180 Airport taxes not inc.

MAJOR TRAVEL offer great value on low cost flights to all destination in the USA, with the leading scheduled airlines. Car hire, hotels and tours available. RESERVATIONS

01476 592095

You'd have to look hard to find a smaller fare.

AMSTERDAM from	£69 return
BELFAST from	€65 return
BERGEN from
BRUSSELS from	£145 return
EDINBURGH from	£76 return
FRANKFURT from	£62 return
	£125 return
GLASGOW from	£62 return
LEEDS BRADFORD from	£83 return
NICE from	£149 return
PALMA from	£119 return
PARIS from
PRAGUE from	£75 return
TEESSIDE from	£164 return
ZURICH fram	£93 return
	£99 return
Return fares from London	Heathrow.
Contact serve to Contact your local travel agent or call for details on 0345 554554 0 34 British Midland The Airline for Europe

almair ins top lating

Ma

عكرا من الاملية

Will technology

-D5

ίŊ

Kristin Scott Thomas in The English Patient

Tunisia aims to cash in on Oscar film

the TNO expects a 20 per cent increase; the film is likely to attract new visitors to take desert excursions by air from

Tunis or by four-wheel-drive vehicle from the resorts.

By Steve Keenan

TUNISIA is banking on the screen appeal of The English Patient to win a new market for its Saharan sands. The Oscar epic, which opens in UK cinemas tomorrow, features the Tunisian oasis of Tozeur, as well as souks of the seaside resorts Sfax and

The Tunisian Tourist Office

(INO) is hoping the spectacular desert scenes will encourage upmarket British tourists to spend several midnights at the pasis. One travel operator is already planning an English Patient tour.

The TNO has spent £20,000 Last year, barely 1,000 Britas main sponsor of the film's ish tourists visited Tozeur. premiere, and has mounted a and Tunisia as a whole has 17-city roadshow. It is also seen a decline in UK numbers encouraging tour operators to from 267,000 in 1994 to capitalise on the film. Oper-200,000 last year. This year ators including Panorama,

Cosmos, Wigmore Holidays and Cadogan already feature the southern Sahara - and Panorama plans an English Patient tour for winter 1997-

The film follows a tradition of film-making in Tunisia. Houssem Ben Azouz, TNO's UK director, says Star Wars and Raiders of the Lost Ark were filmed there,

In The English Patient, the relationship between the British actors Ralph Fiennes, as Count Ladislaus Almasy, and Kristin Scott Thomas (Katherine Clifton) starts in the desert, where a 36km road was specially built. Miss Scott Thomas says: "The film is not showing itself as a picture postcard; but the audience will get the beauty of the desert through osmosis."

• Film review, page 31

'Cruise and ferry price wars rage

By Harvey Elliott and Steve Keenan

A PRICE war broke out on the high seas and in the English Channel yesterday as Thomson cut the cost of cruising to its lowest level and ferry rivals slashed early booking prices. Thomson's commercial director, Steve Garley, announced prices for a holiday afloat in the Caribbean from £999 for two weeks. First-time cruisers now make up 60 per cent of passengers.

The company, which has three cruise ships and expects to carry more than 100,000 passengers this year, is positioning the 493-cabin Emerald in the Dominican Republic port of Santa Domingo with connecting UK flights from 18 regional airports.

Thomson is offering a oneweek Red Sea cruise with visits to Egypt, Jordan and Israel. Prices for the cruise, which gives passengers the chance of seeing the Valley of the Kings, the Pyramids, Petra and the holy cities of Israel, start at £579.

Additional cruise liners coming into service have enabled prices in the Far East to fall, too, with a week at sea and a week in Phuket, Thailand, costing from £969 in-cluding flights.

At the same time early booking mania has returned to plague Channel ferry operators to the considerable benefit of Continent-bound holiday-

Le Shuttle and Stena Line

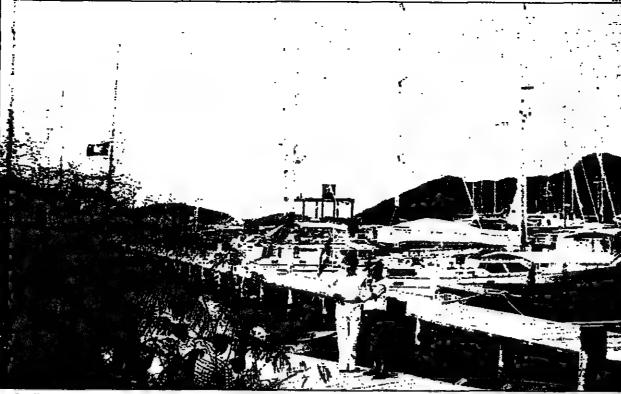

this week followed P&O Ferries and Hoverspeed in extending advance booking offers, keeping return fares to Calais to below £100 — compared with peak season prices of more than £330 last summer. Of the five cross-Channel operators from Dover and Folkestone, only Sea France has yet to join the fray.

The uneasy truce between operators was shattered last week when the Monopolies and Mergers Commission delayed recommendations on a proposed P&O/Stena merger on the prime short sea routes

With rivalry resumed, P&O is offering any 1997 Dover-Calais return for £145 until April 30, while Hoverspeed is quoting £99 on the route for bookings by March 31. Its offer on Folkestone-Boulogne is even lower at £78 for bookings by April 30. Le Shuttle has responded with an offer of £149 for travel any time during 1997 for bookings made by the end of next menth.

Stena Line has also chipped in, knocking 25 per cent off brochure fares for bookings made by the same time.

While the discounts reduce lead-in prices on Dover-Calais to £89, the fares apply to crossings such as the 3am departure on October 2. Peak summer returns will cost considerably more, at £199, even

English Harbour, Antigua, will have competition if a huge development including marinas and ferry ports goes ahead

Antigua plans 1,000-room resort

A CONTROVERSIAL plan to build a 1,000-room luxury hotel and golf resort on three desert islands off the coast of Antigua is threatening to end Taffy Buffton's reclusive way

Major international hotel chains are in fierce competition to run the multimillionpound development. But first they must reach agreement with Taffy — properly called Cyril — and his wife Bonnie, who have lived alone on Guiana, one of the three islands involved, for more than 30 years. The Government of Antigua and Barbuda is backing the project, which will have three 18-hole championship golf courses and involve the building of marinas and ferry

the tranquil islands of Guiana, Crump and Great Bird.

and, because they on the windward side of Antigua, possibly encircle the main what they plan," says Winston Derrick, editor of The Observer on Antigua. "Until it is debated in the local parliament next week, we will not discover exactly what is hap-

We have very few details of island in rubbish.

ports. But it also means that work they have done we are the Bufftons - now in their prepared to offer them money seventies - will have to move. vacate the island." They couple were recruited

30 years ago by the then owner of Guiana to look after the Plantation House and tend the sheep, goats and deer. When the original owner died 15 years ago, the Guiana Island Farm company which took over agreed that the Bufftons could stay and provided them with a house and a five-acre smallholding.

"They are employees and as such do not have rights to compensation," says Ron Sanders, the Antiguan High "But in recognition of the pening." Dr Rodney Wil-liams, Minister for Tourism, Culture and the Environment for Antigua, said in London last week that the Govern-Locais say that Mr Buffton ment was determined to enis now prepared to return to his native Wales. sure that the development was environmentally accept-Locals and environmental able. He said international experts claim the developexperts had been called in to ment will destroy wildlife on find ways of protecting the area's ecosyste "We want to keep the islands pristine," says Mr

• Antigua is introducing a new law to prevent tourists from being hassled on its 365 beaches by designating certain areas in which licensed vendors can operate. Special constables with powers to arrest any intrusive traders will patrol the main beaches.

to hotel luxury? Travel

THE NIGHT I woke in the early hours in London's Halkin Hotel and completely failed in my efforts to turn on the bedside light is etched deep in my memory. I managed - by accident to open the curtains, turn on the television, call the bottom of the bed. But the simple task of switching on the light eluded me. The Halkin prides itself on ensuring complete dark-ness in the bedroom which, it claims, guarantees a good night's sleep — until you wake in the early hours and night porter and raise the want to turn on the light. Then you need to know which button to press on the black consol beside the bed which, though efficient in daylight, becomes as impenetrable as the Starship Enterprise in the blackness of the small hours, Last month a bigger and even "smarter" hotel opened on Park Lane. The Metrodoesn't stop politan is proud that its rooms at hotels' have acoustic between and "hip"

windows, three dual-line telephones, US/UK modem points, electronic Do Not Disturb signs, remote control television with satellite and cable TV channels, and I quote from the publicity blurb — "ISDN jinternational services digital network] line category 5 wired". The designers of the Merropolitan. which charges from £175 to £1,200 a night for a room, have apparently pared away all the nonessential elements of a traditional botel". The building is designed on the assumption that travellers no longer demand antique luxury but the efficiency of the modern office. Not surprisingly, older hotels are watching closely. How long will it be before similar ideas are introduced in holiday hotels around the world? Do people really want to wallow in the kind of comfort they cannot afford at home? Or are they more interested in keeping that modern switched on? One of London's suppos edly "old-fashioned" hotels is the Goring, one of the few still owned by its founding family. Yet the Goring. tucked away in a side street near Victoria station, was once considered a daring innovator when, in 1910, O.R. Goring provided a private bathroom and central heating in every

Many people regard it as one of the friend-liest hotels in London, But it The split does not have ISDN and its staff wear traditional uniforms traditional rather than the snazzy outfits seen at the Metropolitan.

The growing split between traditional and what the Metropolitan calls "hip" does not stop at hotels. Airlines are introducing impersonal electronic ticketing, while emphasising their devotion to personal care and attention.

Fashion sways between Jaeger and Red or Dead for women and Chester Barrie and Jean Paul Gaultier for appeal either to those who like Rules or those who prefer the steely efficiency of Mezzo. Long-stay holidaymakers

London restaurants now seek either exotic, undeveloped parts of the world or the pampered convenience of an all-inclusive hotel.

Travel is at a crossroads. Will travellers continue to demand the comforts and elegance of the past or the slick electronic efficiency of the future? The success or failure of the Metropolitan may well show which way

Palmair wins top rating

By HARVEY ELLIOTT

ONE-JET airline from Bournemouth has apparently discovered how to please all of the people all of the time.

Every one of the 32 passengers interviewed by the consumer magazine Holiday Which? said that they would recommend Palmair to a friend.

It is, of course, easier to satisfy all your customers when you have to deal with only 25,000 a year compared with almost 100,000 a day who fly with British Airways.

But Palmair, which has been flying for a range of tour operators from Bournemouth, Southampton and Exeter for the past three years, was naturally rather pleased with the findings.

David Skillicorn, managing director of Palmair, which employs just 12 pilots and 20 cabin crew, said: "We've always tried to give our customers the best and we're happy to stay small and special."
Singapore remained the overall top-rated airline followed by Air New Zealand. Emirates, Virgin, Palmair. Swissair, Thai International, Cathay Facific, KLM and Aer Lingus. Virgin was again the most highly-rated British Britannia was the favourite charter airline, with 41 per cent of its passengers saying they would definitely recommend it. At the bottom of the table was British-owned Sabre Airways which operates two Boeing 727s and two Boeing 737s from the main regional in Russia Indonesia special Travel in Ireland Belgium: the joys of Antwerp, Bruges and Ghent Paris on the cheap Jill Crawshaw's Travel Tips

M25 heads the league for motorway jams STUCK IN A JAM

nds of vehicles saught in tion, per day, per motorway mile

By Jonathan Prynn TRANSPORT CORRESPONDENT

MORE than half a million frustrated drivers waste the combined equivalent of 29 years every day sitting in traffic jams on the M25, according to a survey of road

The London orbital motorway emerges as the most congested road in Britain in the survey, accounting for about 40 per cent of all traffic hold-ups reported nationally. More than ten million vehicles a month are delayed on the M25 by slow-moving traffic, and the average total tailback during rush hours has increased to 50 miles. The second worst levels of congestion are in the Mid-lands, with 8.6 million vehicles a month caught in jams, mainly on the M6. M5, M54 and M42. The lowest levels of congestion are in the West and East Anglia.

Across the country, about 1.3 million motorists a day are caught in jams, costing the UK economy £2.1 billion annually. according to the survey commissioned by Trafficmaster. Congestion levels rose by 5 per cent last year and will double over the next 14 years, according to the survey. By 2011, the average business motorist will spend 14 days a continue, but the Government will find it very difficult to impose road pricing and to increase other road taxes substantially," says Traffic-master, "Society is likely to look towards ways that shift journeys to other transport modes, while maintaining the individuality and convenience of personal transport systems such as the car " year sitting in traffic jams. "Demand for cars is likely to take action.

East Anglia

"The message to all political

Edmund King, the RAC's

head of campaigns, says: "The Covernment's own congestion will get even worse if we do not parties is that this country needs investment in road, rail and public transport. We also need to invest in smarter ideas so that the car can play the right role in meeting our mobility needs."

Merger to create ski giant

CANADA's top ski resort. Whistler, is finalising a merger this month that will confirm it as one of North America's most competitive ski destinations.

The resort's skiing is spread over two adjacent mountains, Whistler and Blackcomb, which until now have had separate owners. Whistler Mountain, which was developed in the 1960s, is owned by two local families. Blackcomb Mountain, with an impressive network of pistes which were opened 20 years later, is run by Intrawest, a huge leisure group.

month,

Whistler

By BRIDGET HARRISON

Mountain Holdings will be merged under the Intrawest name giving the group con-trol of what is already the largest skiing area in North America, including all mountain restaurants, pistes and

After the merger, Intrawest is planning to spend $35 million on improving the already excellent facilities on the mountains, concentrating specifically on developing runs above Creekside, a smaller village two miles down the valley, which is linked by chair lift to the main Whistler pistes. In the purpose-built village which has grown up between the two mountains, news of the merger has been welcomed. Local businesses hope that Intrawest's huge resources will holster the resort's marketing clout on the international ski scene, enabling it to keep up, in particular, with Colorado's

Aspen and Vail. British tour operators are pleased too. Inghams is already planning charter flights to Vancouver for the next ski season and regards the resort as a major growth area for British skiers.

French Chateau Breaks Two nights from only £69

EuroDrive Holidays offers Times readers two-night weekend or Chateau Tilques 3º. Tilques Indiana Tilques 3º. Tilques Indiana T selected chateaux, plus a return Dover-Calais channel crossing with Stena Line, from only £69 per person. Each chateau featured is within a suitable driving distance from Calais, and all have their own distinctive traditional style and beautiful grounds. Prices are based on four adults and a car. Add an extra £10 per person if only two adults travel. To extend your break, you can book up to an extra two-nights accommodation. Travel anytime from 27 March until 10 July, 1997. Chateau des Tourelles 2º, Le Wast Friendly, welcome atmosphere and superb gastronomic restaurant. £69op (BB) - extra night £30pp. Chateau Cocove 3*, Recours sur-Hem

18th century chateau approx. 15 min. drive from Calais. Overlooks peaceful park and has a wine shop in the Chateau cellars. £78pp (RO) - extra night £30pp.

Chateau de la Motte Fenelon F. Cambrai 19th century chateau situated in 8 acres of wooded park, near the historic town of Cambrai. £78pp (RO) - extra night £29pp. La Tour du Roy 3*. Vervins en Thierache

Former manor house which has welcomed some very famous guests from Henry IV to Francois Mitterand. 690pp (RO) - extra night £30pp. Chateau de la Redoute Hostellerie des Trois Mousquetaries

4. Aire sur la Lys Comfortable 19th century chateau set in a wooded park with lake and gardens. £94pp (RO) - extra night £39pp. Chateau Hesdin-L'Abbe Hotel Clery 3*, Hesdin-L'Abbe 18th century chateau situated amongst rolling Boulonnais hills. 19th century chateau set in extensive grounds. £98pp (BB) - extra night £39pp. La Chartreuse Du Val St Esprit 4, Gosnay

Former monastery in quiet parklands, close to the village of Gosnay. £104pp (RO) - extra night £45pp.

SEND COUPON TO: THE TIMES CHATEAU BREAKS, EURODRIVE, IMAGE HOUSE, STATION ROAD, LONDON, N17 9LR.

	You may be sent further information on offers and services which may be of interest to you. If you do not wish to participate please took box. TT/FC
	HOSTCODE
i !
	ADDRESS
!	NAME
!

ABTA V473X. Offer subject to availability. This offer is operated by EuroDrive Holidays, a company independent of Times Newspapers Limited.

£94pp (BB) - extra night £37pp. FOR FURTHER DETAILS PLEASE CALL EURODRIVE HOLIDAYS ON 0181-324 4000 RACING

Martha's Son gives show of strength in Champion

By JULIAN MUSCAT

IN A contest bristling with passion, Martha's Son swept from last place to rout the five other protagonists for the Oueen Mother Champion Chase at Cheltenham yesterday. His strength was too pronounced to generate the head-bobbing that often settles this test of speed, but what the race lacked in suspense was more than redeemed by its stunning intensity.

Had it happened two years ago. Martha's Son's defeat of Ask Tom and Viking Flagship would have been wholly expected. But the little bay. undefeated in his first nine chases, has been so blighted by injury that four of his opponents were dispatched at shorter odds. To see him bound away from them was to savour the return of a prodigal son. Martha's Son had finally claimed the garlands belonging to him by right.

Such an outcome looked unlikely four fences from the finish as Martha's Son trailed a pack headed by Strong Promise, who, devouring the ground with ease, briefly threatened to turn the race into a procession. A bad blunder stopped him cold three from home, at which point the menacing shadow of Viking Flagship and Richard Dunwoody loomed up on the inside of Ask Tom.

Having manoeuvred his way to the front, Viking Flagship's fighting qualities seemed destined to assert themselves. Klairon Davis, the defending champion, was by now a spent force, but Rodney Farrant, riding his first Festival winner, had timed his bid to perfection. As Dunwoody recounted: "I had saved a bit for the finish but as soon as I saw Martha's Son alongside me I knew the game

The winner's performance was all the more meritorious for his troubled preparation: this was effectively his first outing for 16 months as he had

HEXHAM

2.25 Bill's Pride. 3.00 Rallegio. 3.35 Off The Bru. 4.05 Southern Cross. 4.40 Last Refuge. 5.15 Kings Lane.

2.25 MEDALLION LAGER CONDITIONAL JOCKEYS MARES ONLY HANDICAP HURDLE (£2,322° 2m) (11 runners)

5-2 Agotto s Daughter, 7-2 Peggy Gordon, 9-2 Amber Holly, 5-1 Catch The Pigeon, 7-1 Lancred Mechief 10-1 Gill's Pride, 14-1 others

4-6 Ratiogo 7-4 Speach 9-2 Exemplar, 10-1 General Resi, 14-1 Resolutely John, 20-1 Deputery Hill, 25-1 others

2.4.USD 4rtf) (6)

1 1-P2 STOMEY BURNE 17 (6) Mars I Russell 8-11-10 A Thurnitud 93

5 156 PENName PREE 28 (6.6.5) M Hammond 10-11-3. R Carriny 98

3 3121 OFF THE BRU 13 (C.F.G.S.) Ass S Bradhume 12-110-13

4 1520 MEAVENLY CITIZEN 13 (F.G.S.) J Glodson 9-10-12 K Johnson 93

5 5655 HJUSON 8AY TRABER 6 (C.G.S.) P Besumont 10-10-8

6 1223 TECH COLL 8 (G) P Cheechacy 9-10-5

6 4 1223 TECH COLL 8 (G) P Cheechacy 9-10-5

7 4P12 GOLD PIGEON 14 (G) B Romand 8-10-0

8 Stephe 95

8 Supple 95

8 Supple 95

8 Supple 95

6-4 Off The Bru. 3-1 Stoney Burke. 9-2 Peanine Pirole. 6-1 Ties Gold., 8-1 Gold. Pigson. 12-1 Meavenin Cilizen. 14-1 Offices

3.35 WIN WITH THE TUTE HANDICAP CHASE

3.00 ANN LEBON NOVICES CHASE

(£2.961, 2m 110yd) (8)

GOING: GOOD (GOOD TO SOFT IN PLACES)

horse has had a more imperfect preparation." Tim For-ster, his trainer, said. "He is a horse that makes you emotional. On the racecourse he is explosive but at home he is the sweetest horse I have had. You could take him down to Ludlow, tie him up and go second while Viking Flagship's effort deserves recognition. In five visits to Cheltenham he has never finished worse than third.

Had Istabraq filled the same berth in the Royal Sun-Alliance Hurdle, he would have been dismissed as a fraud. It fell to him to make good considerable Irish losses sustained on Tuesday and he did not disappoint, although his supporters endured several anxious moments before bursting into song.

Having boiled over in the paddock, where he seemed agitated to boot, Istabraq looked anything but a worthy 6-5 favourite. And when Charlie Swan anchored him last of 17 runners the plot appeared to be running wild. A serious bump at the second-last flight compounded a difficult situation but the horse showed real character to pull the race out of the fire. "I thought I was beaten but he kept sticking his head down every time I asked," Swan said. Istabraq's victory threatened scenes of delirium. While Ireland's travelling hordes pay scant heed to the sanctuary of the winner's enclosure. efforts to deny them access were over-zealous. To see a posse of black-clad security men swarm the enclosure on account of a handful of intruders ruined what should have been a joyous celebration.

The mood was neatly encapsulated by the antics of Edward Gillespie, managing director at Cheltenham. His efforts to restrain an individual unknown to him served only to detain Aidan O'Brien. Kempton 18 days earlier. "No beside the winning horse.

Martha's Son and Farrant power up the hill to lift the Queen Mother Champion Chase. Photograph: Marc Aspland

One Man can answer his critics

ham throws up a race that is complex and exciting beyond what we have come to expect from the Festival. The Tote Cheltenham Gold Cup today is just such a contest, with a fascinat-ing mix of the old and new. A trio of talented novices add an intriguing dimension and there's every prospect that one of them might come through. It's the sort of spectacle I could almost enjoy watching from

As it is, I'll have a good view of the race from the back of One Man. whom I expect to ride under restraint. It is important to his chance that I get him settled early on, as he can be a bit fizzy. It is always an advantage if you can anticipate how a race might unfold, and it's pretty clear the early gallop will be cutthroat. Mr Mulligan will be harried all the way by the likes of Dublin Flyer, Banjo, Barton Bank, Unguided Missile, Cyborgo and Danoli.

I welcome that. One Man's jumping ability is one of his strengths; he will be very comfortable racing at speed. In some of his previous races second fence on his return at joining his owner and jockey has carried me towards the

4.05 KEOGHANS NOVICES HURDLE (52,490: 3m) (12)

7-2 Dividy Rymor, 4-1 Maggio Micrody, Collec Divide, 5-1 Southern Cross, 7-1 others.

1 0234 TIGHTER BUDGET 94 (D.F.G.S) Mrs Sayer 10-12-0 M Moleculy 93

7-2 Old Wind, 9-2 Pariab. 5-1 Last Rebuge, 6-1 Tighter Bodget, 7-1 others

2 4-3 REMILYORTH LAD 479 (D.G.S) # Currengings 9-113 1-68 MEW CHARGES 26 (CD.F.6) P Beautinol 18-71-8 B Creator (S) 93
4 205 REMOUSIN 20 (D.G.) B Combedge 9-11-5 ... Gary Lynnes
5 PS-U GRACE CARD 20 (B.D.G.) B Combedge 9-11-5 ... Gary Lynnes
6 PO-4 RIVE FLASS 27 (F.G.S.) Us. 5 Sman 9-11-2 ... B Beautinol
7 SO14 DOCOMASTER 14 (D.E.S) Mach Millions 6-11-1 M Harmost (7) 96
8 CO33 COMPS LANE 5 (C.G.) 10 and 9-10-13 ... M Harmost (7) 96
9 CO35 COMPS LEV 16 S Best 7-10-4 M Letters 94
10 133P KRESS MESSTRAL 45 RC.S) U Lamb 7-18-0 ... J Barba 97
11 COURS TIME CITIES MAN 14 Mass L Sedan 7-10-6 ... O Pears 83

7-2 December 4-1 Monotons, 5-1 Nings Lane 7-7 Resilverth Lad 5-1 others

COURSE SPECIALISTS

HECHAM: Transers J Bottomicy, 3 whoses from 9 premer: 53.2%, 7 Carr, 5 from 19 25.3%; L Longs, 27 from 81 25.9%; Jockeys 7 Reed, 19 werest from 102 date, 18.6%, 6 Caloll, 18 from 61, 16.4% 8 Garntly, 9 from 57, 15.8%

NNGFIELD PARK: Trainers: G Levit. 18 writers from 73 rectues. 24 75, Lord Humingdon. 42 from 191 7220%, D Nacholts. 9 from 45 19,6% Jockeys: Almee Cool. 3 writers from 14 ndes. 21 4% S Whatwork. 35 from 178, 19 7% R Cochrane. 47 from 268, 17 5%

5.15 BUCHANAN ALE HANDICAP HURDLE

4.40 FEDERATION BREWERY HANDICAP CHASE

(£3,013: 2m 4f 110yd) (12)

RICHARD DUNWOODY

strong pace might unsettle the younger horses. Danoli. Dorans Pride and Cyborgo, who are in their first season over fences, will find this a very different experience.

Mind you, I couldn't dis-miss any of them with confidence. Perhaps Cyborgo's chance is the weakest - and that's only because fast ground won't put a premium on the stamina he has in abundance. To win the race, 1 feel he will have to force things some way from home. He might lack the experience

The ground is also against to the bottom of him.

DRAW: 5F-1M, LOW NUMBERS BEST

2.15 REID INTRITY LITIGATORS HANDICAP (DIV I: Arnaleurs: £2,090: 1m) (11 numers)

GOING: STANDARD

(£3.355. 1m 4f) (7)

LINGFIELD PARK

2.15 Blys. 2.45 in The Money, 3.20 Sosking, 3.50 Mellors. 4.20 Renown. 4.50 Robo Magic, 5.25 Bold

11-4 Bets, 7-2 Deam Carner, 9-2 Czarn, 7-1 Belliss Gate Box, 10-1 eithers

2.45 REID MINTY SOLICITORS HANDICAP

1 310- ONE OFF THE RAIL 207 (CD.F.S. G.1. Moore 7-10-0

S Without 8 2 036- MISTER ASPECTO 146 (V.CD.F,G) M Johnson 4-9-10

W Physic E 4 22-0 LORG 9 (F.C.S.) (B.CD.BF) G Lenes 5-9-0 . . . A Whistan (C) 3 5 1131 W THE MOREY 20 (CD.F.C.) R Hollerchard 8-8-11

D Notice 3 -213 Writashambles 38 (C.D.BF.F.G) L Monague Hall 6-9-5

7-2 in The Money 4-1 Wollashambles, 9-2 Zacaroor, 5-1 Lole, 6-1 others

3.20 REED MINITY LIBEL & SLANDER CLAIMING

TAKES (22,869 71) [10]

1 00-0 NORDNEX 29 (C.F.G) D Element 5-18-0

2 -224 ERILDIN 17 (C.D.B.F.G) C Bicaro 7-9-12

3 0411 GREATEST 15 (B.CU.F.G) ME2 G Fellewy 6-9-11. K Fallon 2

4 044 PERPET RUNS 107 (D.F.G.S) L Core 9 5-9-10. R Cachrane 5

1-13 SOLUMG 44 (C.D.B.F.G) 18 Beny 7-9-10

5 D Fine Cale 4

6 0-9 CARPHAR 19 R Flower 4-9-9

7 2121 BYSICARON 23 (C.D.F.G) G L Moure 10-9-2. A Cach

9 0004 SPENCENS REVENE 12 (C.D.F.G) P Basis 0-3-6 E Bended 10

9 0004 CURTE MARTIN 15 (C.D.F.G) M Joses 9-95 Jackses Richards (7) 1

7 2530 CUR SHADEE 14 (V.C.D.F.G) I Moure 5-95 Jackses Richards (7) 8

fall at Thurles last time was exactly what he didn't need. He's the type that warms to his jumping as the race un-folds but he will find it all happening very quickly today. If Danoli wins, the Irish wili go crazy. It will be like Arkle, Dawn Run and Desert Orchid rolled into one. This is another whose jumping sim-ply has to stay together on the day. Connections played to his competitive instincts at Leopardstown last time and the plan worked a treat. Even then, however, he made one bad mistake. It will place huge demands on his courage and spirit if he does the same

Dublin Flyer's bold forcing tactics will really test the novices but I just worry about the trip for him. He has been racing at distances below three miles, although he must have been wrong when so disappointing in last year's Gold Cup. And I can't really rate Coome Hill better than an each-way chance on this ground. Like Cyborgo, his stamina probably won't be such a big influence on the outcome. On the credit side, one to beat. When he won 12 months ago everyone expected him to do it again and again, yet everything has gone wrong this season. He fell first time out, tripped over his leg bandages in some work and then missed his intended prep race. To me, he looked the likely winner in Danoli's

George, but since then the critics have taken him to task. They questioned his courage after his Ascot defeat last month but I am really looking forward to riding him. People doubt whether he will come up the hill after the way he fared last year.

For whatever reason, be tends to tie up at the end of his races. In his defence, I'll remind you how emphatically he strode up the Sandown hill in the King George 14 months ago. After what he has been through, the way people have suddenly turned sour on him, it would mean a lot to me to win on this horse. Otherwise, my best prospects rest with Shooting Light in the Elite and Trainglot front much too soon. And a Dorans Pride. He has class That leaves us with Imper- Tripleprint Stayers' Hurdle.

3.50 cost claiming stakes ($2,484: 6f) (8)

4 08-0 MEMBERS WELCOME 12 W 6 M Tunes 4-9-4 . T Sprate 5
4409 MURLING 35 (D.F.G) K Cosmingham-Brown 7-9-4 C Munday 7
6 4415 JUSTIVIAMIS 19 (CD.C.S.) 4 Orlings 5-1-1 . A Daly (5) 6
7 2-02 ZELAYA 21 G L Moore 4-9-11 . F Horizon 8
8 00-0 WENNESE DANCER 68 N Williams 4-9-10 . D Bugs 2

4.20 REID MINTY 17TH ANNIVERSARY HANDICAP (E5.053: 1m 2f) (12)

HANDICAP (£5.053: 1m 2f) (12)

1 2130 SOUTH EASTERN FRED 15 (CDE 8) H Columpton 6-10-0
R Maller (5) 12
2 9-36 BARDON HILL BOY 22 (CDE 8) H Harbury 5-9-6 MI RUNTINE 8
3 010-0 CDEAN PARK 155 (CDE 5) Lady Herre; 6-9-6..... A Clark 11
4 -563 PRINCE DANZIG 12 (CDE 5) Lady Herre; 6-9-6..... A Clark 11
5 0-26 SECRET ALY 15 (CDE FE, 6) C Britains 7-9-2..... W Ryan 7
6 -901 PUNCH 23 (CDE FE, 6) C Britains 7-9-2..... W Ryan 7
8 -90-7 RENOWN 35 (CDE FE, 6) La Hustergoin 5-0-10 Almes Cout (5) 6
8 2233 ROBELLON 9 (V.DE FE, 6) Arbitant 6-9-5.... S Whywords 1
9 440 SHEROY 17 (DE) S Auffered 5-6-5.... John Warre Couper (3)
10 G62 DEPAST 9 (CB) M Madgred 7-8-4.... Matrix Dayer (3)
11 3015 TALLEAH BELLE 12 (CD,G) N Lath 4-0..... J Dayins 5
12 2133 DUET AHCH 7J (CD,G) W Matrix 4-0..... J Dayins 6-1
2-133 DUET AHCH 7J (CD,G) W Matrix 4-0..... J Discould (6) 3
5-1 Parkin 11-2 Secret My, 6-1 Researc, Oand Arch, 7-1 others.

4.50 red minty commercial property solutions handscap (53,274: 51) $\langle 7 \rangle$ DUTIONS HANDFLAP (2.3,274, 31) (7)

1 123 ROBE MAGE 5 (C.G.) Libratage Hall 5-10-0 F Lynch (3) 1
2 45-0 BITHASH 10 6 (6) 0 Hagh June 5-9-11 TWINGES 6
3 -LIO MEAS 14 (CDFG) Libratage Hall 4-5-11 Dame O'Nell 5
4-10 SALTY SLINE 14 (CDFG) C Cyre 5-9-10 Degs 2
5 1261 G LA HIGH 8 (CDFG) Miletale 4-9-2 (7en) D Suppostly (5) 4
6 -4-0 BUNCLIFFE BRANCE 8 (CDF) 0 Chapman 5-8-1 J Down 3
7 1525 MIRTYS GRAB HIRE 14 (6, CDFG) R New 4-7-12 Markin Dayer (3) 7

2-1 Gr La High, 7-2 Robo Mago, 4-1 hony's Gran Hist, Sally Slade, 5-1 others 5.25 REID MINTY LITIGATORS HANDICAP

(Div II: amateurs: £2,090 1m) (10) 1 0281 M CH SAGA 9 (CD,G,S) M Madyack $-11-18 (Say P Middleto 1 0281 IS CHI SAGA 9 (CD.G.S) M Madywork 5-11-10 (Sey P Middlebox (7) 7
2 -364 MATTA SUMSHIME 25 (CD.G.) G L Monn 7-11-7 filts J Mouse (5) 4
3 4091 EASTLUBSH 14 (CD.G.S) R Helicohead 4-10-13 ... 8 Codin 5
4 0295 STATISTIZAM 9 (ED.J.S.) R Helicohead 4-10-13 ... 8 Codin 5
5 2835 BOLD HABIT 8 (CD.J.S.) J Pearler 12-10-10 ... Mrs. L Pearler (7) 2
5 2835 BOLD HABIT 8 (CD.J.S.) A Balley 6-10-10 filter A L Midchmon (7) 8
7 6562 PMATE RATURE 17 (C.S.) D Made 5-10-2 ... TUCCHRY 1
8 090- RETURN TO BRIGHTON 114 (D.F.) J Brailey 5-10-2
9 6242 COULT DROP BOMBS 9 (V.CD.F.G.) D Thomas 4-10-10 filts A Feldon 10
10 00-8 SUSSECK GORSE 17 J Long 6-9-8 ... T Waters (7) 9
7-9 hade Helan 4-1 Proatle Folium 9-2 Excitedy, 5-1 Gadge, 6-1 uditors

7-2 Bald Halot, 4-1 Proste Feaux, 9-2 Exchelgit, 5-1 Galge, 6-1 ottess

RESULTS FROM YESTERDAY'S THREE MEETINGS

Cheltenham Going: good to firm

2.00 ROYAL SUNALLIANCE NOVICES HURDLE (Grade 1 649,585 2m 51) HURDLE (Grade 1 549,000 511 or.) ISTABRAD big Sadler's Wells - Betty's Secret id P McManus) 5-11-7 C Swan (6-5

Daraydan bio Nahyasi - Delsy (D. Johnson) 5-11-7 F. Hughes (16-1) 3. ALSO RAN 6 Agistment (f) 9 Rayatino, 14 Forest Norg (48h) 20 Boss Doyle, Marching Marquis, 25 Harbour Island (68h) The Proms 33 Official Times Soldat (6th) 50 National College (5th) 50 Harma 33 Difficult (Infest Solda) (50) 50 Huddarfe, 66 Hand Woven, 100 Lasahada Hazone 200 Prussia 17 tan NR Mentingre Towers Morecesa Red Blazer 11 34, 31 71 101 A O Bren (Inc) at Ballydovie Tote 52 40 £1 50 £2 20 £3 30 DF £10 60 7no £68 70 CSF £11 43

2.35 QUEEN MOTHER CHAMPION CHASE (Grado 1 981,650 2m) MARTHA'S SON big libra's Delight - Lady Martha (P Hortigan) 10-12-0 R Factori (9-1) 1. Ask Tam big Strong Gale - On The Scratch (6 Stewart Brawn) 8-12-0 R Garatty (6-1) 2.

(3-1)
ALSO RAN 5-2 fax Strong Promise (5th 3 Karron Davis (4th), 50 Lord Dorcer (6th) 6 fan NR Arctic Kinsman 2*4, 14 1) 51 8/T Forster al Downton 15th, 211 00 63 10 62 00 DF 621 10 CSF 545 94

3.15 (2m 5/ hole) 1 BIG STRAND (J. Evans 16-1): 2 Allegation (A P McCov 20-1) 3 Castle Sweep (R Johnson 14-1). 4. Tullymury Toff (E Callaghan, 9-2 key) ALSO RAN 10 Copper Boy, 5e Maila. Supreme Lady, 12 Blast Freeze, Rawy Sea Victor. 16 Direct Route (pu), Erecutine Design, Family Way (pui, 20 Mandys Martino. 25 (Sealar Mystical City 33 Bafyrin's Boy, Gysart, Metastason Nymegon Sesame Seed, 40 Dr Leunt (6th), Non Virtago So Fatack, Lyng Gyes, 100 Stort Gale Tamarpour (5th) 200 Scottsh Wedding 28 ran NR: Edgemoor Pince Sh hd hd, 11, 11, 11 M Pipe at Wellington Tote: C26 (D; C5 40, C4 40, C3 50, C2.10 DF $138 10 Tinc £761 70 CSF: C292 83 Tricast E4 196 60.

3.55 ROYAL SUNALLIANCE CHASE (Grade | £57,282 3m 11)

HANAKHAM b g Phardante - Even Charm (M Brereton) 8-11-4 R Durwoody (13-2) 1. Euclipe b g Uschul - Taskanimo (D Johnson) 5-10-8 A P McCoy (4-1) 2 Djeddah big Shafoun - Union Jack III (Mrs S Elkarn) 6-11-4 A Kondrai (100-30 fav) 3. S Elkahni 6-11-4 A Kondrai (100-30 tav) 3.

ALSO RAN 15-2 Bernde Not To (4th) 9
Corket (5th), 10 Indian Tracker 11
Buchhouse Boy (pur, 14 Bell Scaliboy, 16
Gaiter Iste (6th) 25 Baronet 33 The Last
Fing (ur), 36 Hawasan Sam 100 Lord Mutt,
150 Bothyline (pu), 14 ran, NR: Croon
Equery, Karmkaze 21-1 51, 2, 91, 61 R
Hodges at Somerton Tote 67 40; 62 30
62 20 51 90 DF 518 70 Tho 519 30
CSF 529 33

4.30 (4m ch) 1, PLIMSY TRUTH AM M. Hams, 33-11, 2. Vel Par Nutt (3/k 7 Dournen, 13-2) 3, Robsand (Mr A Savding, 9-1) ALSO RAN; 6-1 fav Random Harvest (pu), 7 Sideoffalli (pu), 9 Dromtana (5th, General Pongo (pu), 12 Coolainta, 14 Bellyca Boy, Utific Martina (ur), 16 Inst. Loth (4/th). Itsaumolecutibree hou Bellyvas Boy, Luthe Marfins (urf. 16 Inch. Light (4th). Itsayungleouthere (pu), Parahandy (6th). 25 Macaunta (pu) 23 Capo Castanum (ur) Young Mrs Kery (f). 50 Cardinal Rulo (pu), Charlie Perrot (pu), Jaste (pu), Master Kr (f), 66 Wince Wonder (pu), 100 Loch Garman Hotel, Plassy Boy (pu) 23 ran MR Cendwen Druid's Brook, Easy Breezy 154, 271, 31, 193, 71, M Weston at Hindlip Tote: £56 60: £11 70, £2 60, £3 90. DF £163, 10, Tho. £333,90. CSF £220 29

Murphy, 20-11, Z. All The Aces (C.F. S.Ash, 14-1); 3. Air Shot (R.Johnson 15-2), ALSO RAN: 100-30 Jav As Du Trede (6th., 17-2 Noyan (4th, 6 Destroy Calls (5th), 7 Golder, Spriner (po), 11 Konnekla King Iose 14 New Co. 16 Northerm Hide, Pashbo Southampton, 25 Belts Life, 13 ran, NR-Bestson Carnitrov, Rouyen 134 Rd, 131 PM, 89 M Proe at Wellington, 10th S01 Top S152 To CSF 1254 85 Tricest 12-104-22 Adv. Committed the Committed Committ

5 40 (2m 110)d) 1, PLORIDA PEARL IR Dunwoody 6-11, 2, Archic Camper 45, Johnson 16-1), 3, All The Colours 13 Osborne 10-1) ALSO RAN 4-1 tay Dazar Leadex, 7 Samuel Wilderspa, 8 Einstatte, 9 Mr Markham (5th) 10 French Holty (6th), Mr Lurpak, 12 Friwit Pember, 16 Fuerature-ville, Musical Mayhem, 20 Our Bid 33 Frownes Hill Lad. Curradulf Moli, Iranos, 30 Ballad Minsterl King Mole, 50 Dum Bet-rano, Fronke Willow. Top Note, 66 Scoring Pedigree (4th), 100 Bozo, Endeaucar. Memisahib Olesteom 25 ran. 5, 2, -3, 1-1, sh hd. W Mulling (Ira) at Gorzbridge Tote 25 90; 22.50, 39 40, 13 20 DF $137.80 Ino $210.90. CSF, 598.49. Includit not went (pool of $129.898.13. Jackpot not won (pool of £129,698.13 carned forward to Cheffenham today).

Huntingdon Going: good: good to firm in places 1.50 (2m 5i 110yd holle) 1. Edward Seymour (7 Janis, 3-1 lan), 2. Code Rod (5-1), 3. Barkin bute (6-1), 10 ran. MR. Doon Ridge 13%, 3. Walenks, Tole 2250. 21 30. 21 80. C2 20. DF 213.10. Trio £19.00 CSF (20 7), Tricast £35.51 E1900 CSF 120 71, Tricast 195.51
2.25 (2m 51 1 10yd hole) 1, Northern Star Wass J Wormell, 16-1), 2, Loch Na Keel (9-1), 3, Turcal (68-1), Dark Phoenic 3-1 av 17 can 21 3, J.Pickering, Tote, £54 60; £11 70, £4 10, £21 20 OF £194 10. Thermotistic (policy) of £319 34 cannol lawand to 3 15 at Chellenham foolayh, CSF £150.36

E150.35 3,00 (3kn ch) 1, Sheetin Lad (T Reed, 33-1), 2 Trn Soldio (11-4), 3 Night Fancy (20-1), Resport Rock 5-2 fav (w) 11 ran NK 15, Mis T McInnet Sonnet, Toler E58.80 E5 70, E240, E5.19, DF E3220 Trib, 5163.70, CSF: E113.57, Theast E1 797.46.

3.35 Cm 110yd hdle) 1, Iron N Gold (Sophe Mighel, 2-1 fay); 2, Hdgty Chamming (9-2); 3, Shilling Mison (11-2); 9 ran 14, 111, T Casey, Tota, 22-30, £1-10, $2.50, £3.20, DF 93.00, Tito; £15.50 CSF, £11.00 Tricast £39,11. 4.05 (3m 2f hdle) 1, Tilly (T Bley, 7-4 lav). 2, This Nettle Danger (11-2); 3, Tigar Claim (8-1) 5 can NF Ulum 294, 51 A Spreiter Tole, $2.30, $1.60, $1.90, DF $11.80 CSF $11.12.

4.40 (2m st 110yd ch) 1. Mr Conductor (3 R Nursnagh, 1-6 (ar); 2, Kathallou (8-1), 3. Deep Song (11-1) 3 ran, NR Grouving, Pegazuz, Eay 211, 1-46, R Alner Tote C1 10, DF, 21, 40, CSF; 21, 64. 5-15 (2m 110yd fai) 1, Lord Lamb (G Lee, 4-5 Lay, 2, Dad's Army Two (7-2), 3. Fandyson (12-1) 11 ran NR Another Pumpos, Last Penny, Sunday Venture 4, 2. Mr. M Reveley Toto: £1-90, £1-10, £1-60, £5-00 DF-£5-70, Tric. £26-80 CSF £4-75

Newton Abbot

Going: hoavy 2.10 (2n 110yd chi 1, Court Master (P Hollo, 8-11 fav), 2, Finnigen Free (10-1), 3, Imalight (5-1), 7 san 11 111 R Bucktor Tote: $1.50, £1.20, $2.70 DF £18.90 CSF £9.89. 2.40 (2m 6) hole) 1. Detenditiversalm (J Frod., 11.8 (2m); 2. Armateur (25-1) 3. Flich Tycoon (33-1) 13 ram. MR Willows Roulette, 71, 61 R Frog. Totar $2,30; $1,40, $5,50, $5,80 OF $5,570 Title not were (pool of $1,43,39 carried lorward to 3,15 at Challonham today) CSF $43,41 3.10 (2m 51 110)d ch) 1, Orswoll Lad (Mr 5 Durack, 6-4 tay), 2, Jaikmesker (11-4); 3, Bit Of A Touch (4-1), 4 ran, 121, 151, P Hobbs, Tote: £370, DF £3.30, CSF

25 61 Male Hollet 1, Hold Your Ronks J.J. Frost, 5-1), 2, Casser's Boy (2-1 (t-lav), 3, La Menorquina (9-2) Rimo 2-1 (t-lav) 5 ran 2, 51 R Frost, Toke, 26-20, 23 10, 21 60, DF 27 00 CSF 214 77. DF 2700 CSF C1477.
4.20 (2m St 110yd ch) 1, Herhorse (Mr L
Jefford, 16-11, 2, Krisone (7-4 f-f-m), 3,
Good King Henry (9-1) 11 rain 12, dist
Miss A Howard-Chappell Totor £32 20,
£2.60, £1.90, £2.80 DF £22.20 Tho
£44.50, CSF £45.40.

144-50 (25" 244-0).
4-55 (2m 14 hdel 1, Albe's Mirror (R Greene, 12-1). 2, Alpino Joker (5-2 ji-lan), 3, Historily House (5-2 ji-lan), 9 mm 3, 5; 6 History Toto (2139), C 170, C 170, C1 60 DF: 521 60 Trio (27 70 CSF C39 86 Tricast £93 29 1.30 filliast 1.33 (2) Shorino (5 Surauch, 14-1), 2, Top Javain (5-4 lau); 3, Bournol (6-1), 6 ran Dist, 11-1 P Realized Toto C12-90, C3-40, C1-40 Dist. 27-90 CSP-C31-38 Placepot: C55.50. Ousdpor: C27-00

MANKERED FIRST TIME CHINENIAM 200 Pomme Social 235 Ocean Hawle 430 Ecoba 540 Sow Man, Hawlesse 335 Pengser Prido

Fighting for survival in hard school

Andrew Longmore compares the fortunes of jockeys at opposite ends of the scale

The roar sent shivers down the spine of everyone with a bit of green inside him and an unreasonable belief in the power of prayer. Istabraq had ensured a future for the Irish economy and a host of smiling faces spoke of the

After a barren opening day, the change of fortune came wrapped in the green and orange colours of J. P. McManus, whose annual conversation with the bookmakers is conducted in telephone numbers. McManus is a quiet man, but by the time the Festival comes around, his whispers can send shockwaves through the stoutest of hearts. On the weighing-room balcony, unnoticed by the crowds, Jayo Kinane listened to his countrymen and felt the emotion as keenly as the feted jockey, Charlie Swan. His real name is James K. Kinane, but his younger brother, Michael, always pronounced his name wrong and so Jayo it has always

The pair are a year apart in age, but a world away in fortunes: Michael is one of the world's leading Flat jockeys, a multimillionaire winner of the Derby; Jayo had his fourth ever ride at the Festival yesterday, at 36.

Only in a recurring dream does he ever come close to matching the deeds of his brother. "I'm there, at the Curragh, riding one of Vin-cent O'Brien's horses in the Irish Derby, I don't know its name, and I jump off in front. As we come into the straight, I look behind me and there's no one there, but just before we get to the lollipop, my wife shakes me awake. I never get there." Yesterday morning, before most were up, Jayo had because Lord Muff, his mount in the Royal SunAlliance Chase, might benefit from the research, but just to savour the feeling. Since High Diver fell with the Irish Grand National in his grasp a decade ago, he way round.

But he stopped anyway at still fighting." the bottom of the hill, musing gently about the twists in his life that have left him whether he might one day enjoy better luck as a trainer. His father, Tommy, won the Champion Hurdle on Monksfield. If there is scope for bitterness, none shows.

"I've done well," he says. "I've not ridden many decent horses but a lot of people would want to be where I am today, still riding at Cheltenham. And I've got a couple more years yet.

Coome

to chas

comp

Had Lord Muff but known the weight of unpaid dues on his back, he would never have made the start. As it was, he was last for the first circuit and a hard-ridden ninth of !! at the finish. It was poor reward for the 21hour journey Kinane and Lord Muff had made on Monday, by truck and ferry. it's the only way someone like me will get the ride, you see," he said.

As he spoke, Swan walked by, another interview done. "I used to ride with his father," Kinane said. "No, don't say that, it makes me sound old. Brilliant ride, that. There was a lot of pressure on him." Not that it showed. Swan's nerve was cast-iron as he kept Istabraq at the back for a mile before sweeping smoothly through to fill deep pockets. More important than the fat wallets, though, was the man listening to the commentary on a phone link 3,000 miles

John Durkan, who bought Istabraq and was going to train him, contracted leukaemia at 30 and has been recuperating in a New York Day. Today, he undergoes a bone marrow transplant. "I could hear the emotion in his his father-in-law. attitude is fantastic. He is

So is Jayo in a different way. Just being part of the Cheltenham Festival, part of among the also-rans of his the folly and the fretting, is profession, wondering enough to send him happily back to his early mornings on the gallops and his afternoons in his secondhand car business. "I feel very lucky to be here," he said. The luck of the Irish indeed.

Pick up the phone PICK UP A £10 FREE BET

FOR FIRST TIME TELEPHONE CALLERS staking £25 or more using Switch or Delta bank or building society debit cards. POTE CHELTERNAM FOLD SUP. 3 miles 2% furlongs, Cheltenham 3.15pm, Live on CH4 TV. *SPECIAL TRICAST RACE 5/1 Imperial Call 14/1 Unguided Missile 16/1 Challenger Du Luc 16/1 Mr Mulligan 11/2 Coome Hill 28/1 Nahthen Lad 15/2 Danoli 8/1 Doran's Pride 40/1 Banjo 8/1 Dublin Flyer 66/1 Barton Bank 9/1 Addington Boy 66/1 Go Ballistic 10/1 Cyborgo Each-Way One Quarter the odds a place 1,2,3. ELITE RACING CLUB TRIUMPH MURILLE 2 miles 1 furlong, Cheltenham 2,00pm, Live on CH4 TV. SPECIAL TRICAST RACE 4/1 White Sea 33/1 Mr Wild 11/2 L'Opera 40/1 Double Agent 11/1 Shooting Light 40/1 Evriza 7/1 Commanche Court 40/1 Serenus 7/1 Kerawi

50/1 Mutanassib 12/1 Stylish Allure 66/1 Always Happy 14/1 King's Witness 66/1 Belmarita 14/1 No More Hassle 66/1 Exalted 25/1 Pomme Secret 66/1 Seattle Alley 28/1 Hayaain 100/1 Merawang 33/1 Circus Star 100/1 Pleasureland Harbet House 200/1 Palamon 33/1 Marlonette 200/1 Society Girl 33/1 Miss Roberto 200/1 Warning Reef te Quarter the odds a place 1, 2, 3, 4. Above races: Prices subject to fluctuation is up to First Shaw: Tatternally fluid & (c) may apply. Non number - no bet. CREDIT & DEBIT OFFICES OPEN FROM 9.60mm

TO OPEN A CREDIT ACCOUNT FREEPHONE 0800 289 892. WILLIAM HILL RULES APPLY PRICES SUBJECT TO FLUCTUATION

.

CHELTENHAM

Paragraph of the state of the Maria de la compansión

.....

ा रण्यत् । भूका

With majors.

RACING

Coome Hill can complete rise to chasing peak

By RICHARD EVANS RACING CORRESPONDENT

iOr

USING logic for which his fellow countrymen are renowned, a respected Irish racing writer yesterday surveyed the runners for the Tote Cheltenham Gold Cup and declared: "Nothing can win."

As unseasonally dry conditions continue to afflict the Prestbury Park bowl, where up to 15 of the best steeplechasers in training will line up for jump racing's most coveted prize today, it is is easy to understand what he meant. The unwanted arrival of summer weather leaves punters with a series of awkward

The ground on the New course, over which the Gold Cup is run, is likely to be good to firm unless the weather breaks. Unfortunately, the fast surface will hinder rather than help the horses with the best

So backers must decide to what extent the prevailing conditions will reduce, or even snuff out, the chances of the top horses. Can members of the "second division", at home on quicker terrain, make sufficient improvement to challenge for honours? Add to that the number of novices which are running here and the uncomfortable statistic that a third of the field has fallen during their last two outings and the race is made for the "too difficult" tray.

FESTIVAL

In such an open contest, it is tempting fare to suggest some of the runners have next to no chance of winning but a victory for Go Ballistic or Banjo will evoke comparisons with Norton's Coin, who obliged at 100-1 in 1990. At the age of II, Barton Bank has surely had his chances.

The ground will be of greatest disservice to Dorans Pride, the Stayers' Hurdle winner of two years ago, who has been an exciting recruit to the fencing ranks this term. Apart from an uncharacteristic blunder at Thurles last time, his jumping has been impeccable but the Michael Hourigan-trained novice does need some cut. Nahthen Lad, winner of the Sun Alliance Chase 12 months ago, also appreciates mud.

Gordon Richards saddles

er has a lamentable record at the Festival, not having saddled a winner for more than a

Unguided Missile is a doubtful stayer and will struggle to reverse Wincanton form with Coome Hill. One Man is arguably the form choice udged on his victory in the King George VI Chase but a combination of this track and his tame effort at Ascot last time underlines his vulnerability. Addington Boy, proven on this course, should relish this trip but had heat in a leg earlier this week, which hardly inspires confidence, Opposing Martin Pipe dangerous but Challenger Du Luc needs to find considerable improvement. Dublin Flyer's victory in the Ladbroke Chase at Cheltenham in January was his best effort but will the Tim Forster-trained chaser stay this trip? The trainer has his doubts and so do I, aithough it would be marvellous to be proved wrong. Danoli will carry the hope of most Irish people and if Tom Foley's charismatic chaser puts in a clear round be will go very close; but his jumping remains a big worry.

Imperial Call was an exceptional winner 12 months ago and his latest home work has suggested a return to somewhere near his best but a badly interrupted campaign this term does not bode well. All of which leaves my shortlist. Mr Mulligan would have finished a good second to One Man at Kempton but for falling at the last. On ideal ground and with Tony McCoy riding, he can make the frame. Cyborgo's best form is on soft going but the going was good when he won the Stayers' Hurdle here last year. If he adapts to this faster surface the progressive novice has the ability to be involved in the

However, I side with Britain's most progressive chaser this year. Coome Hill won the Hennessy Gold Cup and although he is best on easier ground, the Walter Dennistrained eight-year-old has decent form on firmer ground

At Wincanton three weeks ago, he won the Jim Ford Chase, the form of which was boosted by the success of thirdplaced Hanakham in the Royal SunAlliance Chase yesterday. COOME HILL will be much more at home on this left-handed, galloping course and his excellent jumping and proven stamina are positive pointers in a race full of

Mar 14 1996, Cheltenham, good: (12-0) beat Rough Quest (12-0) 4t with Barton Bank (12-0) 22t 4th, One Man (12-0) neck and 8 6th and Dublin Flyer (12-0) pulled up 2 out (3m 2l 110yd, gd l ch, £131,156, 10 ran).

Dec 25 1996, Kempton, see One Men.
Dec 7 1996, Chepstow, good to soit. (11-12) 1334 4th to Betmont King (10-8) (3m, gd II h'cap ch, £18,822, 7 ran).
Mer 13 1996, Chetenham, see Nainthen Lad.

Feb 15, Chapetow, soft. (11-12) 6t 2nd to Air Shot (11-0) (2m 3t 110yd ch. 98,775, 5 rsn).

Jan 18, Haydock: see Unguided Miselle.
Dec 18 1996, Bangor, good: (11-10) 26l 6th of 7 to Freddie Muck (11-0) (3m, h'cap hdie, £4,765, 7 ran).

Mar 13 1996, Chetenham, good to soft: (11-4) best Mr Mulligan (11-4) St (3m 11, gd I nov ch, 254,673, 12 ran).

Feb 5, Ascot, good to firm: (11-7) 11 2nd of 4 to Strong Promise (11-7) (2m 31 110yd, gd I ch, £37,032, 4 ran) Jan 25, Chellenham, good: (11-12) beet Berton Benk (11-12) head (3m 11 110yd, ch, £16,775, 4 ran)

Dec 28 1996, Kerrpton, good to firm: (11-10) beel Rough Quest (11-10) 12 with Barton Bank (11-10) 91 3rd and Mr Mulligen (11-10) 2nd and beeten when fell 3rd and Mr Muliigen (11-10) 2rd and beets last (3m, gd I Ch, 953,325, 5 ran). Mar 14 1996, Chollenham: see Imperial Call.

UNGUIDED MISSILE

MR MULLIGAN

NAHTHEN LAD

ONE MAN

make waves in Triumph Hurdle 2.00: L'Opera did particular-GUIDE TO THE White Sea can

ly well to win a decent invenile race at Kempton on his hurdling debut 19 days ago. Kerawi was 2½ lengths away that day but will be fancied to reverse the form on 4lb better terms around this stiffer track. Kerawi had previously been fortunate to beat White Sea at Newbury because of a rare riding error by Charlie Swan. White Sea, who had previously beaten Shooting Light by five lengths on his hur-dling debut, can make amends for Martin Pipe here. Shooting Light, a good winner over course and distance seven weeks ago, is the

2.35: Trainglot should reverse Ascot form with Ocean Hawk, who is better going right-handed, and Jimmy Fitzgerald's fast ground-loving veteran, winner of the Coral Cup here 12 months ago, would have a sound chance if reproducing the form which saw him beat What A Question at Wetherby in the autumn. The David Nicholsontrained pair. Anzum and

RICHARD EVANS

Nap: TOM BRODIE (5.40 Cheltenham) Next best: Sparky Gayle

(5.05 Cheltenham)
Richard Evens solected Hanakham (13-2) at Cheltenham yesterday, while Thursders found Alice's Minor (12-1) at Newton Abbot.

Escartefigue, hold solid form claims but both appreciate easier ground. Pridwell is not a horse to trust implicitly but Pipe's mercurial performer saves his best for Cheltenham on fast ground. Third in last year's Champion Hurdle and a respectable seventh in Tuesday's renewal. he should appreciate today's fast-run race and his breeding suggests he can see out this trip.

3.55: The ground is against Fantus, What A Hand and Holland House today and Double Silk is the most reliable alternative (Carl Evans writes). It took him a long time to get over his Grand National fall in 1994 but he is back to his best, tions are two miles on fast according to rider Ron Treloggen. The 13-year-old's jumping and stamina are not in doubt and he does not mind quick ground. Cab On Target and Lord Relic were high-class in their youth but not impressive on their latest starts. The Jogger's stamina open to question while Copper Thistle's Leicester win was on sticky ground. Mr Golightly and Still In Business have each-way possibilities.

FESTIVAL TODAY

4.30: Lightly weighted firstseason chasers have a good record in this race and there is a chance the handicapper has been lenient with the Pipe-trained Elzoba. Significantly, the former French-trained horse has been without his customary blinkers since moving here, and, as with Or Royal in the Arkle, Pipe has refitted the headgear today. Mister Oddy, fourth in this race last year, recorded a rare belowpar effort at Newbury 13 days ago but has solid claims judged on two earlier successes. Certainly Strong has been laid out for this and a clear round will take him close but the biggest danger may be posed by Time Won't Wait, who relishes a fast-run

5.05: Pipe is wasting no time running Or Royal, who prevailed in a thrilling finish to the Arkle on Tuesday. A reproduction of that form would take him close, but the blinkered six-year-old had a hard race and I am keen on Sparky Gayle. Colin Parker's stable star was more than a stone better than his rivals over hurdles and, unbeaten in four chases, he looks as though he could be equally good over fences. The seven-yearold won on fast ground last year and appreciates a stiff track. Double Symphony is not out of it.

race on this ground.

5.40: A light weight is traditionally a prerequisite in this race and three runners stand out. Hamilton Silk produced his best effort to chase home Tuesday's Champion Hurdle winner. Make A Stand. in the Tote Gold Trophy and the Pipe runner has decent form on fast ground. Carlito Brigante continued Paul Webber's fine run of form when winning the Imperial Cup at Sandown on Saturday and will love this fast surface. However, Tom Brodie, whose ideal condiground with a stiff finish, is preferred. The winner of three races earlier in the season, he later finished a good fourth to Make A Stand at Kempton and is weighted to beat Hamilton Silk.

RICHARD EVANS

BIG RACE LINE-UP 3.15 TOTE CHELTENHAM GOLD CUP CHASE

(Grade I: £134,810: 3m 2f 110yd) (15 runners) 301 111-812 ADDINISTON BOY 47 (C.D.F.G.S) (Soil Foods Lid) 6 Richards 9-12-0 A Dobble 96 Pled and white clamonds, blue sleaves, blue cap, red diamon 111131/ BANJO 706 (F.S) (D Marcer) (I Michalson 7-12-0 Black, white hoops, black sleaves, white epods 23-1951 CHALLENGER DU LIUC 28 (B.C.F.C.S) (D Johnson) M Pipe 7-12-0 ...
Blue, emerald green stateme, white cap, emerald Green spots 305 2-111F1 COONE HILL 21 (C.D.F.C.S) (Mrs. J Decent) W Dennis 8-12-0 ...
Dark blue, white cross bells, white cap, dark blue star 11P-S11 DUBLIN FLYEN 47 (C.D.E.S) (J. Samour) T Forster 11-12-0 _______ B Powell 97

1-6121F 60 BALLSTIC 40 (F.9.S) (Mrs B Loddraft J 0 Tites 6-12-0 M A Fitzyeniki 60 Turquotise and aliver diamonds 311 F111-43 IMPERIAL CALL 38 (CD,SF,G,S) (Lincolne Ferms) F Schweierd (Int) 8-12-0. C O'Deyer 👺

Light blue, dark blue topie diamond, diamonds on siesves and sep 5-1 Imperial Call., 11-2 Coome HM, 7-1 Donard Pride, 8-1 Denoil, Dublin Flyer, Oce Man, 18-1 Boy, 12-1 Challenger Du Luc, 14-1 Cyborgo, 16-1 Mr Midligen, Martinen Lad, 28-1 others. 1998: IMPERIAL CALL 7-12-0 C O'Duyer (9-2) F Sutherland (ire) 10 am

ADDINGTON BOY

Jan 25, Chetenham: see Dublin Flyer. Dec 14 1995, Chaitenham, good to firm: (11-10) beat Go Universal (10-6) 6i (2m 5i, h'cep ch, £37,690, 10 ram) Nov 16 1995, Chaitenham: see Chaitenger Dz Luc.

BANJO

Jan 25, Chaltenham: see One Man

Apr 7 1995, Aluree, good to firm: (11-0) best Kash (11-9) 14i (3m 1f, gd Ji nov ch, £22,168, 4 can) May 15 1995, Cheltertham, soft (10-8) 24 3rd ol 13 to Briel Gale (10-13) with Unguided Missile (11-4) tell 4 out (3m 1t, gd i nov ch, £49,183, 13 ran) BARTON BANK

Dec 25 1995, Kempton: see One Man. Nov 16 1995, Cheltenham: see Challenger Du Luc.

Mar 14 1998, Cheltenham, see Imperial Call. CHALLENGER DU LUC

Feb 6, Wincanton, good to fam: (12-0) beat B (11-6) St (2m 5f, oh, £6,613, 4 ran) Jan 25, Cheltenham see Dublin Flyer Nov 30 1996, Newbury; see Coome Hill. Nov 18 1996, Chattenham, good to firm (10-2) beat Strong Promise (10-0) head with Addington Boy (10-10) 31/4 Srd, Barton Bank (11-5) 10/15th and Dublin Flyer (12-0) alphed up 4 out.

COOME HILL

Feb 20, Wincanion, good: (11-2) beat Unguided Misaile (11-8) 15ti (3m 1l 110yd, ch, £12,055, 7 rant Feb 1, Sendown, good to firm, 111-12 (ed. 2nd behind Destra Dove (11-2) with Go Balliette (11-0) fell 18th (3m 110yd, gd ii h'cap ch. 524,059, 6 ran) Nov 30 1996, Newbury, good: (10-0) beat The Grey Morsk (10-3) 4! with Challenger Du Luc (10-10) fell 14th (3m 2! 110yd, gd fil h'cap ch. £48,263, 11 ran)

CYBORGO

Feb 15, Chepstow, soit: (12-0) beet Buckhouse Boy (11-8) 91 (3m, nov ch, £3,513, 14 ran) Feb 8, Newbury, good (11-8) beet Buckhouse Boy (11-12) 61 (3m, nov ch, £5,085, 7 ran). DANOL

COMPREHENSIVE FORM GUIDE TO THE 15 CONTENDERS

Feb 2, Leopardstown, good to yielding: (12-0) best Jodami (12-0) 1'4! with Imperial Cell (12-0) 2013rd (3m, gd I ch, £62,500, 8 ran)

Jan 19, Leopardstown, good (12-0) fell 3rd behind. Multigan (12-0) (2m 11, gd ii ch. £9,675, 6 ran) DORANS PRIDE

Feb 13, Thurles, soft: (12-0) tell 2 out behind Meny Gele (12-0) (2m 4t, gd II Ch, £9.675, 5 ran). Feb 2. Leopardstown, good to yielding (12-0) beat See More Business (12-0) 61 (2m 51, nov ch, £9,750, 4 ran) DUBLIN FLYER

Jan 25, Chetenham, good (12-0) beat Addington Boy (11-4) 2) with Chellenger Du Luc (10-13) 28-41 6th (2m 5), h'cap ch, £16,938, 7 (an) Nov 26 1996, Huntingdon, good to soll; (11-1) beat Gales Cavalier (11-10) 181 (2m 4l 110yd, gd II Ch,

Mar 14 1996, Cheltenham: see Imperial Call. GO BALLISTIC

Feb 1, Sandown see Coome Hill. Dec 21 1996, Ascot, good to firm (10-0) beat Unguided Missile (11-11) 1 kil (3m 110yd, h'cap ch, £24,379, 9 ran).

IMPERIAL CALL Feb 2, Leopardstown see Danoll. Dec. 7 1996, Punchestown, veiding. (12-0) clear when left last behind Royal Mountbrowne (11-8) (2m 4l, gd I ch, £22,750, 6 ran).

Feb 20, Wincanion: see Coome Hill, Lian 18, Haydook, good to firm (11-6) neck 2nd to Jodami (11-10) with Nahshen Lad (11-4) pulled up 14th (3m, gd ii h'cap ch. £24,776, 6 ran). Dec 21 1996, Asoot see Go Bellistic. Mar 15 1995, Chettenham: see Banjo.

Selection: IMPERIAL CALL

VICE A PRIENTAM - VICE

2.00 Stylish Allure 2.35 What A Question

THUNDERER 3,55 Holland House 4.30 Certainly Strong 5.05 Stately Home 5.40 EMBELLISHED (nap)

The Times Private Handicapper's top rating: 8.55 HOLLAND HOUSE.

Carl Evens; 3.65 Double Silik.

HER STATE

. .

all.

GOING: GOOD TO FIRM TOTE JACKPOT MEETING 2.00 ELITE RACING CLUB TRIUMPH HURDLE (Grade I: 4-Y-0: $44,290: 2m 1f) (28 runners)

Committee Country 1 (28 numbers)

Committee Country 25 (6,5) (0 Desmond I Watch (tw) 11-0 ### Millernson 75 ### Mille

BETTING: 9-2 White Sea, 6-1 Keraet, L'Opera, Shooting Light, 7-1 Consmittene Court, 10-1 Shytish Albert, 14-1 Rings Witness, 16-1 No More Heeste, 25-1 Entex, Haysain, Serenus, 33-1 others 1998: PADOY'S RETURN 11-0 R Durmoody (10-1) F Morphy 29 rate

FORM FOCUS

COMMANNCHE COURT bear Griere Si in 8-namer grade II Juvenile Hurdie af Pranchestown (2m. 1001) seth Miss Roberto 11 3nd: KERAWI beat WHITE Land Gi in 8-namer grade II France (2m. 110yd, good) with SERENIS heat Newbury (2m. 110yd, good) KWASS WHITESS beat Suesici 14 in namer hurdie at Hurdingdon 2m. 110yd, good) with PLEASURELAND SI in 8-namer nowice hurdie at Newbury (2m. 110yd, good) with PLEASURELAND SI in 8-namer nowice hurdie at Newbury (2m. 110yd, good) with PLEASURELAND SI in 8-namer nowice hurdie at Newbury (2m. 110yd, good) with PLEASURELAND SI in 110yd, good) with PLEASURELAND SI in 8-namer nowice hurdie in 10yd, good) with PLEASURELAND SI in 8-namer grade II France at Newbury (2m. 110yd, good) with PLEASURELAND SI in 8-namer grade II France at Nobite Lord Gi in 8-na

GUIDE TO OUR IN-LINE RACECARD

112142 COOD TIMES 12 (BF.F.G.S) (Mrs. D Robinson B Hall 12-0 Research cumber, So-Spann form F-lod P-pailed sp. U-pailed
C4

2.35 BONUSPRINT STAYERS HURDLE (Grade L £53,440: 3m 110vd) (17 runners)

de E $53,440: 3m 110yd) (17 runners)

3603-13 ARZMI 26 G.S.; fire Old Foresters Plans to Michalatin 6-11-10

1-38230 DERRYMOVIE 18 (0.7.6.5) IN Stanleys M Curamagham (no.) 6-11-10

45-8221 EAUSIS COURT 12 (0.6) (A Bootmass) N Biothage 6-11-10

128-23 RARSHS 34 (C.F.G.) Land Vessey Micros 10 Notice 6-11-10

221-3RI PADDYS RETURN 33 (B.C.F.G.) (A Archive 10 Income Lines: 5-11-10

221-3RI PADDYS RETURN 33 (B.C.F.G.) (A Archive 10 Income Lines: 5-11-10

221-3RI PADDYS RETURN 33 (B.C.F.G.) (P O'Correctl) F Marphy 5-11-10

112155 TARKS RRUGE 19 (C.C.F.S.) (Income Lines: 5-11-10)

112-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (G.C.F.S.) (Income Lines: 5-11-10)

121-132 TRABCL FERD 19 (G.C.F.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 5-11-10

14-120 URUSANDE 33 (C.F.G.S.) (May faith Plans) M I Pro 5-11-10

14-120 URUSANDE 33 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

14-120 URUSANDE 33 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

14-121 UNIVERSITY OR 10 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

14-120 URUSANDE 33 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

14-120 URUSANDE 33 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TRABCL FERD 19 (C.F.G.S.) (What faith Plans) M I Pro 10-10

15-15 TR

BETTRIG: 3-1 Escariellyus, 5-1 Urchande, 11-2 Wits; A Question, 7-1 Conquering Leader Ocean Hault, Transplot 12-1 Probabl, 23-1 Antoni, Aarshi, Packly's Return, 25-1 Dumpmorte, 33-1 uthers 1996, CYBORGO 6-11-19 D Bridgeste (8-1) M Pipe 19 Ian FORM FOCUS

ANZIAL best Burnt imp head in handicap hardle at Haydock (2m 6t, good). KARSHI best Mandys Markino 4t in hardle here (2m 4t, good to 6mm) RIDWELL 13x1 2nd to Large Action in grade 1 cleant Hardle here (2m 51 110pd. good). TRANNELDT best Treasure Again haad in handicap head best for 51 good to soft) Mer 95 with SOHRAB 191 12th. CONDUCTIONS LEADER 21 2nd to Pharmeor in grade 8. Rendlesham Hardle at Marking imp and 31 and URUBANDE (2h and 2 ultil 36 8m.

3.15 TOTE CHELTENHAM GOLD CUP CHASE (Grade t. £134,810. 3m 2f 110yd) (15 runners)

C4

RUNNERS AND RIDERS — SEE ABOVE

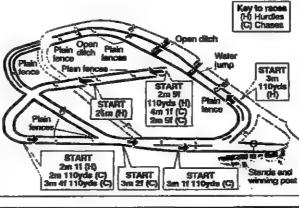

3.55 CHRISTIES FOXHUNTER CHASE CHALLENGE CUP (Amateurs £19,868: 3m 2f 110yd) (18 runners) T Michell ...
C Vigors 89
R Fars 80
Mrs S Gadney 87
R Ruston, 86
Libss P Carling 80
E Bolger ...
J Tizzard 80

BETTING, 7-2 Cab On Target, 5-1 Holland House, 6-1 Double Sill, " 1 Failes: 6-1 (Stat A Hand: 10-1 others 1990: ELEGANT LORD B-12-0 E Budger (3-1 tax) E finliger (live) 17 num

FORM FOCUS

CAN OF TARSET had Nive 1Vil to immer chain at Fatermann (2m 51 110pt) good). COPPER THISTLE had Elmone 111 in melden hunter chase at Lexester (3m, good). DOUBLE SILX had Visaga all a moleculate at Watermann (2m 11 110pt), good to family FANTUS heat Watermann (2m 11 110pt), good to family FANTUS heat Milliand HOUSE 20 in 13-tonner hunter chase new course and distance (soil). Heat on hunter chase have (2m 51 good) May 96. STILL BY BUSSINESS had Englanded 4.1 on 7-tonner hunter chase over course and distance (soil). Hit indiges the object Abstance 1.1 on 6. former hunter chare 12 on 6. former hunter chare 13 on 6. former hunter chare 13 on 6. former hunter chare 13 on 6. former hunter chare 14 chare 12 on 6. former hunter chare 15 on

4.30 125TH YEAR OF THE CHELTENHAM GRAND AMBRIAL CHASE CHALLENGE CUP (Handicap: £28,679: 2m 110yd) (16 runners)

Long handicas: Gaselo 9-12 Peninang 9-11, Marce Rader 9-7 BETTING 4-1 Certainly Strong, 9-2 Ebello, 6-1 Easthope, Gaselo, Time Wast, 18-1 Saper Coo, 12-1 Pibest, 14-1 Lincie Emp. 16-1 Dancey Patity, Moster Oddy, Political Tower, 38-1 offers. 1996. KERRET 9-19-12 A P McCoy (7-1) P Hooks 13 cm

FORM FOCUS

DAWCHIE PADDY but NEEEE Alls base of 330 or 3-wave landcap clare over course and distance (good to limit) EASTHORPE 251 Jul of 5 to Romelta King in handcap clare at 4-wante handcap clare at 5-wave land with CENTURLY STRONG bit at 4-w. ELOUSA (Co., good to limit) on penal-bit and FALCON MONT WAIT (11th battle of) 1-54 Jul of TRE WONT WAIT (11th battle of) 1-54 Jul CENTAMLY STRONG but liter have 31 in 4-wave bandcap clare of cool of first) on penal-bit start, with NOSSE RANDER (25) below oils 0 Jul. Selections: DANCING PADDY

5.05 CATHCART CHALLENGE CUP CHASE (532,850: 2m 5) (10 numers) | 54-28G DESTIN DESTINANT CONNELEDATE CUT CHINGS (E.S.C.GOL. 2011 SI) (10 Interest 70 Misses) D Nicholson 6-11-7 D Bridgmatte 70 Misses) D Nicholson 6-11-7 D Bridgmatte 70 Misses) Bridgmatte 70 Misses Philips 7-1-1 D Bridgmatte 7-1
DETTING: 9-4 Or Royal, 3-1 Goable Symptomy 9-2 Manhallan Castin, 7-1 Sparky Gaylo, 8-1 Stately Hyme, 18-1 Edger Sell. 12-1 White West Word: 16-1 others 1996 CHALLENGER DU LUC 6-11-3 D Bridgmater (10-7) M Pipe 11 can

FORM FOCUS

DOUBLE SYMPHOMY heat Dancing Pathy 344 m
the 3-numer grade It have Sport Classe at Nesthing
1-m 11 goody IMMHATTANI CASTLE theat Arctic Weather 144 in Promote Instet Austicap chase at temporations (2m 31 good) IMAIOR RELL 42 and to Strong Promote in the grade it Gold Cup Hamilcap Classe at Ascart (2m 37 110) d good to limit with PMMPERLEY PLACE (4th surpre only tailed off
10 R ROYAL heat Squee 546 M in the 9-rotner

Selection: D4TURLE SYMPHONY

5.40 VINCENT O'BRIEN COUNTY HANDICAP HURDLE (Grade III: £26,615: 2m 11) (23 numers)

| Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Color | Colo

Lann handisas: Stav Min 9-13. Carlin Brigaria 9-13. Carlic Lure 9-12, Tidjen 9-11, Faspiero 9-8, Morstock 9-8 BETTRICE: 7-1 Carlin Brigarie, B-1 Hamilton Stik. 10-1 Edebess. Du Moufin, Celtic Lore, Eschellshed, Penny A. Day, 12-1 Romance. 14-1 Amblesede, Black Queen, Cheyl's Lod, Slew Man, Toast The Spreace, 16-1 Lody Daty, Star Rage, 20-1 Ticland, Tow Brodie, 25-1 Barra Boy, Stompto, 33-1 Kadashot, Myston's Choice: 50-1 others 1906: STAR RASE 6-10-0 D Gallegber (14-1) J Harris 28 raft

FORM FOCUS

STOUTH Level Collins Beet 1141 by 17-numers inacticap hurdle of Africa (2m 110pd, good) Mar 96, with STAR RABE (2lb warsa off 14) and probe if Total Gold Trophy Handicap Hurdle of Membry (2m, good to soft). CHERYLS LD best leve for 114 in hundleso hurdle of Desart Epither (2m 110pd, good) Feb 96 with STAR RABE (2m 110pd, good) Feb 96 with STAR RABE (12b warse off) 240 and STAR

COURSE SPECIALISTS TRAINERS 150 136 129 125 125 17 4 11 6 10 5 10 3 9 3 6.4 A Magure
A Magure
D Brisson
A P McCoy
C Swan 4 23 13 112 9 86 3 29 5 54 15 236 E D'Grady D Micholson A L T Moore S INS

☐ Large Action, who was pulled up after two flights of the Champion Hurdle, will not make a quick reappearance in today's Bonusprint Stayers' Hurdle. But the gelding, who was sent of the 7-2 favourite on Tuesday, is not seriously injured and will return to action in the Martell Aintree Hurdle on April 5. His trainer, Oliver Sherwood, said yesterday: "Large Action is 95 per cent sound but he won't run in the Stayers' Hurdle."

TEN-YEAR FESTIVAL STATISTICS

TRIUMPH HURDLE Favouritas/joint-favourites: (winner; 0 placed; 11 unplaced. Training successes: Ireland 3.

STAYERS' HURDLE Favourites: 4 winners; 3 placed; 3 Training successes: freland 5; M

Favourites: 2 winners; 2 placed; 6 unplaced.

COLD CUP

GRAND ANNUAL CHASE Favourites/joint-favourites: 3 win-ners; 1 placed; 7 unplaced. Trainer: C Brooks 2. Jockey: G Bradley 2. CATHCART CHALLENGE CUP Favourites/joint-favourites: 2 win-ners: 3 placed; 6 unplaced. Trainers: N Henderson 2; M Pipe 2. COUNTY HURDLE

Favourites: 0 winners; 2 placed; 8 unplaced

Fevourites: 3 winners; 3 placed; 4

FOXHUNTERS CHASE

& TO PRESS.

Leicester strike blow for underdogs

By Brian Glanville

LEICESTER City could have been at Wembley twice, but at least they will be there once. Had the referee. Mike Reed. not given that contentious penalty against them at Stamford Bridge, perhaps Leicester would have prevailed on penalties against Chelsea and gone on to their fourth Wembley FA Cup Final. As it is, the Coca-Cola final is substantial consolation.

It has been said, since their midweek success, or survival, at Selhurst Park, that Leicester out-Wimbledoned Wimbledon. That is not entirely true. It is true that Leicester equalised Wimbledon's first-half lead with a goal that Wimbledon themselves might well have scored: a long free kick from the right by Garry Parker, that underestimated midfielder, headed in on the far post against a dozing defence by the left wing back, Simon Grayson.

It is also true that the club has put together its team largely from bargain buys and rehabilitated obscurities though clearly their lithe American goalkeeper, Kasey Keller, bought from Millwall, does not come into that

Emile Heskey apart, how-ever, Leicester have no local player in their side. Wimbledon, by contrast, have a remarkable youth policy. Not only have they, for so many years, shopped shrewdly in the football equivalent of Oxfam, they have been admirably successful in developing their own talent.

Heskey is the exception who proves the rule for Leicester, a vibrantly powerful, exceptionally versatile attacker, effective on either wing or, as at Selhurst, through the middle: a strong candidate for a role on one or other of England's

Overall, however, Martin O'Neill, Leicester's resourceful manager, and his predecessors have been commendably successful in the game of rehabilitation. Grayson, for example, was picked up from Leeds United six years ago. having played just two league games — and those in his very first season — in his four years at Elland Road.

Claridge, the 31-year-old striker, was another stone that the builder rejected - a rolling stone indeed, having played for seven clubs, Aldershot and

Weymouth among them before Leicester signed him Birmingham City. O'Neill knows how to get the best out of such players and Leicester's success is a reproach to those clubs who merely "buy big". Keller is only the latest in Leicester's distinguished succession of goalkeepers. Gordon Banks, signed from Chesterfield, a World Cupwinner, was possibly the best England have ever had, challenged only by his successor, Peter Shilton, a Leicester man himself, who played 125 times for England. If Leicester have never won an FA Cup or championship, they have certainly come close in the former. People still talk about the Revie FA Cup Final of 1956, when Manchester City, under his midfield inspiration, beat Birmingham City, but there could have been a Revie Final in 1949. Don Revie found by Leicester in minor football, had been their key figure when they demolished Portsmouth, then en route to the championship, in an FA Cup semi-final at Highbury. Alas, before the final, Revie suffered an appalling nasal haemorrhage and was unable to play against Wolverhampton Wanderers, who took the Cup, 3-1.

In 1961, the Leicester of Banks and the commanding Frank McLintock lost to a Tottenham Hotspur team which did the double, but Leicester played much of the game with just ten men. No substitutes, then, though Leicester were allowed to bring one on in 1969, when they narrowly lost the final to Manchester City.

The achievements of both Wimbledon and Leicester are greatly encouraging in these days of hyperbolic transfer fees and salaries. Chelsea. the very exemplar of such lavishness, could only scrape home in the FA Cup against Leicester. Middlesbrough, for all their huge outlay and their progress in two cups, struggle to stay in the Premiership.

Long ago, the comedian Davie Morris had a catchphrase: "Boro for the Cup!" All they have won in their 120year history is the Amateur Cup, twice, last century. Unlike Leicester, they have never before been to a Wernbley final. Money, as the man said, isn't everything.

Grayson celebrates his equaliser at Selhurst Park on Tuesday night, which took Leicester to Wembley

FA poised to lift drugs suspension on Notley

JAY NOTLEY, the Charlton Athletic midfield player, appears before the Football Association today in an attempt to resurrect his career (Russell Kempson writes). Notley, 18, was suspended in December after it was revealed that he had tested positive for a mixture of drugs - cocaine, cannabis and Ecstasy

After an initial FA hearing he was given three months to receive counselling and undergo rehabilitation. It is expected that he will be given the go-ahead to resume playing today. Since Notley's initial test.

Adam Tanner, the Ipswich Town midfield player, has also been suspended after testing positive for cocaine. His ban expires next month.

Peter Schmeichel, the Denmark and Manchester United goalkeeper, is refusing to rush into a decision about whether £20,000 of fashion outfits to be won with the V&A

The Times, in association with the Victoria and Albert

Museum's Cutting Edge exhibition, offers you the chance top British designers. We have over 30 creations worth a prize from those modelled here and the outfits and acces-

The Cutting Edge exhibition is now on at the Victoria and Albert Museum until July 27. There will be more than 250 outfits and accessories illustrating 50 years of fashion from 1940s Utility clothes to the latest to win a selection of high fashion and accessories from our total of £20,000 to give away as prizes. All you have to do is tell us who is sponsoring the exhibition, and choose your he should try to heal his rift with Ian Wright, the Arsenal striker.

Schmeichel met with Maurice Watkins, the United solictor, yesterday after the Graham Kelly, the FA chief executive, that urged the players to make up. "I have discussed the letter with Peter and we are considering his response," Watkins said.

Kelly decided to act following the Crown Prosecution Services's decision that Schmeichel should not face charges over a complaint that he used racist language against Wright in the game at Old Trafford in November.

Reports in Italy yesterday suggested that Luigi Simoni, the Napoli coach, has agreed to take over Internazionale when Roy Hodgson leaves for Blackburn Rovers at the end of the season.

Forest continue spending spree

By RICHARD HOBSON

NOTTINGHAM Forest completed the £1 million signing of lan Moore from Tranmere Rovers last night, a move that is likely to mean Nigel Clough returning to Manchester City when his three-month loan spell at the City Ground expires next Thursday.

Moore's signing follows closely on that of Pierre van Hooijdonk, from Celtic. "I hope we will be able to get another player in before the transfer deadline, but having signed two strikers the priority now has to be a defender or midfield player." Dave Bassett, the general manager,

Frank Clark, the City man-ager, acknowledged that Clough might well be returning to Maine Road after seeing side lose 2-0 to Birmingham City in a Nationwide League first division match on Tuesday. "He is a very experienced player with a wealth of ability and if he comes back that is certainly no problem." Clark said. "I have managed two clubs where he has been on the staff and he is yet to play a game for me, so it might be quite interesting."

Yesterday, Bassett reiterat-ed that despite the amount of money provided by the club's new owners — £12 million is still available for the battle against relegation - he will not pay above his valuation of a player. City are believed to want close to El million for Clough, 30, who left Forest within weeks of Clark's appointment as manager in the summer of 1993. "I do not think we will be able to agree terms," Bassett admitted.

Moore, 20, rejected an offer from Everton to join Forest and is likely to be a substitute on Saturday when his new club entertain Liverpool. "We must not expect him to turn the world upside down immediately because he is a player for the future, but clearly we would not have bought him if we did not think he could figure to some degree this season." Bassett said.

A bleak day for Tranmere's rospects of reaching the first division promotion play-offs also saw Ged Brannan, who can play in midfield or defence, complete his £750,000 transfer to City after extensive negotiations with Clark over personal terms.

Brannan, 25, would have been out of contract during the summer and, with clubs in France showing an interest in him. Tranmere wanted to avoid losing a player for no fee under the Bosman ruling.

□ David Webb, the Brentford manager, has confirmed his intention to leave the second division leaders. Webb hand-ed in a letter of resignation after the defeat at Preston last Saturday, even though Brent-ford still hold a four-point lead. A club statement yesterday said Webb still "intends to do the best he can to get

IN BRIEF Scotland

bury 5.
EUROPEAN UNDER-21 CHAMPION-EUROPEAN UNDER-21 CHAMPION-SHIP: Qualifying group three: France 1 SHIDERTADORES CUP: Group tive: DEPOTIVO Cell (Col.) 2 Peniard (Uni) 5

WALES threw the home international series bowls tournament into turmoil at Ballymoney yesterday when they defeated Scotland, the British team champions, 120-112 in the opening match. severely denting Scottish hopes of winning the title and the Hilton Trophy - for a suffer surprise

defeat

John Price, of Swansea, defeated Richard Corsie, 21-15, while Jason Greenslade. of Cardiff, edged home 21-19 against Graham Robertson. The greatest surprise was caused when Robert Provan's rink slumped to a 38-10 defeat at the hands of a Welsh rink skipped by Robert Weale. It is believed to be the biggest reverse suffered by a Scottish rink in the series' history. Wales have not won the event since 1981.

record seventh time in

Wiberg victory

Skiing: Pernilla Wiberg, of Sweden, already confirmed as the World Cup overall champion, won the first World Cup downhill race of her eightyear career in Vail, Colorado, yesterday. Wiberg beat Ren-ate Götschl, of Austria, and Katja Seizinger, of Germany, by 0.03sec in a time of lmin 43.28sec on the 2.7 kilometre course. By finishing equal second, Götschl won the World Cup downhill champ-

Lewis delav

Boxing: The purse bid deadline for Lennox Lewis's World Boxing Council heavyweight championship defence against Henry Akinwande, the former unbeaten World Boxing Organisation champi-on, has been changed for a third time. Offers for the all-British fight will now be opened on April 1 in Mexico. The contest is likely to go ahead in Mexico City or Las Vegas on June 21.

Agassi upset

Tennis: Mark Philippoussis, of Australia, inflicted a sur-prise 7-6, 7-6 defeat on Andre Agassi, the No 10 seed, in the first round of the Champions' Cup tournament in Indian Wells, California. Philippoussis, the man with the biggest service in the game, delivered 23 aces, one of which was clocked at 139mph, in beating the American.

Gatting reward

Cricket: Mike Gatting, the Middlesex and former Eng-land captain, has raised £190,000 from his testimonial last year. This sum is dependent on an outstanding £30,000 being collected by his committee. It is £30,000 less than the benefit Gatting received in 1988, the year he lost the England captaincy and gained considerable public

FOOTBALL

AVON INSURANCE COMBINATION: First division: Cranton Artistic 2 Southernpton C. Swindon Town 0 Norwich City 1. SCHOOLS MATCHES: Goodyser Understall Trophy: Ousdale 1 William Parkhurst 2. Other match: Reigste 0 King's, Canter-

vote for marks selectio

Tuesday's late results

COCA-COLA CUP: Semi-timel, ascountleg Winthedon 1 Leicester City 1 (set; 1-1on ago; Leicester win on away goal).

FA CARLING PREMIERSHIP: Blackburn
Rovers 1 Nottingham Forest 1.

NATIONWIDE LEAGUE: First division:
Bernagham City 2 Manchester City 0
Torquey
United 0. Prostpornect Gallengham v Walsall, Find division: Chester City 0 Torquey
United 0. Wigan Athleto 7 Scarborough 1
AUTO WINDSCREENS SHELD: Southarm section: Final, first leg: Peterborough
United 2 Colchester United 0
VALDOHALL CONFERENCE: Bromsgrowe
Rovers 0 Moderninster Harriers 1: Dover Athletic 1 Stevenage Borough 1 (abandonaed at hell-time): Hayes 0 Femborough Town 0; Ketsering 3 Atmincham 1; Working 2
Welling United 1
BELL'S SCOTTISH LEAGUE: Premier
division: Kirramock 2 Celtic 0 First division: Kirramock 2 Celtic 0 First division: Cyde 2 Queen of the South 1.
Third division: Allow Athletic 0 Investmens.
Caledonian Thistie 2 Montrose 0 Ross County 0.

division: Clyde 2 Outen of the Suban 1. Third division: Aloe Artisets 0 Inventes. Caledonian Thistie 2 Montrose 0 Ross. Caledonian Thistie 2 Montrose 0 Ross. Courty 0. UNIBOND LEAGUE: Premier division: Chorley 1 Bernber Bridge 3; Guiseley 0 Bishop Auckland 0; Cancaster 2 Witten-Abon 1; Marine 3 Winsford Und 0. First. division: Leigh 2 Eastwood In 0; Westington In 3 Gretna 1. DR MARTIENS LEAGUE: Premier division: Albertons 0 Chellenham 0; Hastings 0 Wordster Cay 0 Midland division: Albertons 0 Chellenham 0; Hastings 0 Wordster Cay 0 Midland division: Supphed Dynamo 1 Grantfern In 0; Sution Coldisiol In 0 Peget Rangers 0. Southern division: Prest In 0 Newport loW 4. Tonbridge Angels 0 Margate 0; Waterlooville 1 Troubtidge In 4 Cupt. Westfooville 1 Troubtidge In 8 Cupt. Westfooville 1 Troubtidge In 4 Cupt. Westfooville 1 Troubtidge In 4 Cupt. Elizadop's Stortford 0. First division: Clubra Roward Cupt. Section 2 Cupt. Section 1 Troubtidge Insurance Cupt. Semi-limital 1 Membolity 1, Leatherhead 4 Brackmell 1, Tibury 0 Bansted 0 Third division: Capton 2 Cupt. Semi-limital 1 Resistance 2 (Semi-limital 1 Resistance 2 (Semi-limital 1 Cupt. Borner 2 Cannell's Cupt. Semi-limital 1 Cupt. Borner 1 Cupt. Semi-limital 1 Cupt. Borner 1 Cupt. Semi-limital 1 Cupt. Borner 1 Cupt. Semi-limital 1 SCHEMPTO DiffeCT LEAGUE Premier division: Paulion Rowers 0 Ocid Down 0. Cupt. Semi-limital 1 SCHEMPTO DiffeCT LEAGUE Premier division: Paulion Rowers 0 Ocid Down 0.

Lienseritificatd 1.
SCREWFIX DIRECT LEAGUE: Premier division: Paulton Rovers 0 Odd Down 0.
NORTH WEST COUNTIES LEAGUE: Fusi-division: Asheron Col 2 Blackpool R 4; Bootle 0 Newcastle Tn 3: Bursough 1: Betiond Cay 0: Glossop North End 1 Traiford 2: Holser OB 4 Chadderton 4; Mainre Roed 2: Kdsgrove Ah 3.

ped down to 2004

$100aga

O'Sullivan hits ba

SENDICULARY DESIGNATION AS MARINE PROBLEM CASPONE ART 3.

FEDERATION BREWERY MONTHERN LEAGUE: First division: Tow Law Town 1 Bedlington Tenters 3.

WHATONIEAD NENT LEAGUE: First division: Contribing 2 Stade Green 3: Faventham 3 Cray W 2; Hythe 3 Greenwich Bor 0; Turbordge Welle 3 Lordswood 3.

JEWSON WESSEX LEAGUE: First division: Bernarion Heads 1 Wirnborne 0; Thatcham 2 Whitonarch 1.

ESSEC SENTOR LEAGUE: Frember division: Bernarion Heads 1 Wirnborne 0; Thatcham 2 Whitonarch 1.

ESSEC SENTOR LEAGUE: Prember division: Selfron Walden 4 Sevendriquevorth 0.

MINERYA SOUTH MEDLANDS LEAGUE: Prember division: Bernarion division: Bernarion (pharndoned after 45min), SOUTH EAST COUNTIES LEAGUE: Cup: Semi-first Norwich 2 Westlond 0.

NONTHERN COUNTIES EAST LEAGUE: Prember division: Matity MW 1 Thacking 2; North Femiley Und 3 Desett Tin 0.

LPLSPORT UNITED COUNTIES LEAGUE North Peintry UNITED COUNTIES LEA-UNLSPORT UNITED COUNTIES LEA-GUE: Premier division: Standard 3 Spe-ding 2 Weation 2 Long Buckby 2, USWSON EASTERN COUNTIES LEA-GUE: Premier division: Falsenbarn 2 March

Hassand 1. EAPRESS ALLIANCE: Brillian of the Internal of Bridgeorgh 2. Chesetown 0 Boldmann 3: Michaels 0: Hindday 4th 4 Pershare 2. Pelsell Villa 1 Rushell Olympic 1: Rocester 4 Willenhall 3; Sendwell Bor 1 Bloowich 1; Shiffine 0 Krypersley Victoria 0. 94 YOUTH CUP: Pith-round replay: Trainmene 0 Leeds 1. SCHOOLS MATCHES: Under-18 International: England 2 Wales 0 (af Rushden 8.

SCHOOLS MATCHES: Under-18 Inter-national England 2 Wales 0 (a Rushden & Diamonds), Boodle & Dunithome Cup: Pinet: Bolton 1 Lancing 2. FA Premier Legue Under-18 Trophy: Cuarter-timet Devon 0 Bectiondshire 0. GERMAN LEAGUE: 3C Karlsruhe 2 VIL Bochum 3; Werder Bremen 2 St Pauli 1; SV Hamburg 2 Bocusala Mönchengladbech 1; Schalke 04 4 MSV Dutsburg D; Cologne 1 VIB Stuttgart 5. DUTCH CUP: Quarter-linel: PEC Zwole 0 BELGIAN CUP: Quarter-final: Germine Elector 3 Standard Liège 0.

LEGAL & PUBLIC NOTICES

0171-782 7344

catwalk designs. For more information about the exhibition and opening times call 0171-938 8441 or 0171-938 8349. HOW TO ENTER Write your answer on a postcard, with your first, second and third choice of prize with your size and send it to: The Times V&A Women's Fashion Competition, 30 Bouverie St, London EC88 4NG. Or deliver it in person to the V&A Museum, Cromwell Rd. London SW7 2RL to arrive no later than sories appearing every day this week.

Please state clearly on your entry if you do not wish to receive further information from Times Newspapers, the V&A or companies approved by them. Normal TNL competition rules apply.

March 27. Winners will be selected from all correct entries received by the closing date.

Left above: Cream silk wedding dress from a choice of three by Gina Fratini (£1,000) centre: Beige and brown trim hat by Frederick Fox (£200) below: Check blaze and coordinating trousers or skirt from Daks (£380) Right above: Franka Couture black veivet bodice, fuschia satin skirt (£4,000) below: Eding Ronay white handkrifttari jumper (1230)

CHANGING TIMES

PUBLIC NOTICES

about £7.000) KAVANAGH, MARGARET TERESA KAVANAGH SPINSTER late of Birmingham didd at Dedlay, West Bidlands on 5 April 1995 (Estate about £93,000) KURASINEKA nee PAWLOWSKA ZOFIA BARBARA KOLASINEKA AGE PAWLOWSKA WIDOW late of Enling, London W5 died there on 6 Sentrebor 1996 LEGAL, PUBLIC, COMPANY & PARLIAMENTARY NOTICES (TO PLACE NOTICES FOR THIS SECTION PLACE NOTICES FOR THIS SECTION PLEASE TELEPHONE 9171-569 6878 OR FAX: 0171-481 9313

LEGAL NOTICES

LEGAL NOTICES

Criminal Court (Mr Recorder Milford, QC) on conviction of causing

The appellant was convicted of Artillery Row.

هكدا من الاصلي

CRICKET

Vote for Graveney marks change in selection process

By Alan Lee, cricket correspondent

THE appointment of David Gravency as chairman of selectors, which seems certain to be confirmed at a meeting of the England management committee today, could lead to fundamental changes in the way the national team is Gravency, 44, who only retired from playing two sea-sons ago, will become the youngest chairman in many years and it is likely that his panel of selectors this summer will reflect the shift of generations. Graham Gooch could be joined by a second selector still playing the game if the fashion for men whose age inevitably alienates them from the modern game is finally abandoned.

Although the profile of the chairman is being deliberately lowered by the presence and power of the management committee, which will take charge of discipline, his accountability for selection could, paradoxically, increase. It has already been decided that the coach will no longer be a selector and the removal of the captain from the panel

Michael Atherton has long been ambivalent about his selection role but is inclined to support the Australian method, whereby the captain is routinely consulted before teams are named but is not seen to possess a vote.

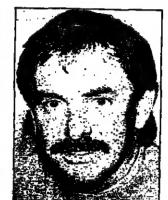

If the captain was relieved of this duty, two additional selectors would be required but it appears unlikely that they will be named today. A county coach, involved full-time in the game and able to see players at close quarters, could be at least equally as useful as an active player.

Mike Gatting, who couched

the England A team under Graveney's management this winter, is sure to come into contention, if the role appeals to him. A panel including Graveney, Gooch and Gatting would invite an adverse reaction, however, for all remain tainted in some eyes by their involvements in the unsanctioned rours to South Africa.

Graveney is well prepared for a backlash on this issue but intends to fight his corner against at least one false assumption. It was widely believed that he recruited players for the ill-fated 1990 trip, led by Gaming, but he

"I was made manager after all the players had been recruited. Until then, I was just another player who had

Stewart stands down

ALEC STEWART has stepped down as captain of Surrey in order to concentrate on his England commitments. He is succeeded by Adam Hollioake, the vice-captain, who enjoyed considerable success as captain of the England A team on tour in Australia this

Surrey have made Stewart honorary club captain. in recognition of his past service. 'I believe that this is in the best interests of both the club return the best results with bat and gloves. I wish Adam all the luck in the world as the new captain," Stewart said.

Stuart Foster has resigned as vice-chairman of Nottinghamshire, in protest at the level of the contribution made by some of his colleagues.

Gloucestershire bave signed Shaun Young, the Tasmania all-rounder, as their overseas player for the coming season.

signed up, something for which I cannot express regret as I did it for the security of my family," he said.

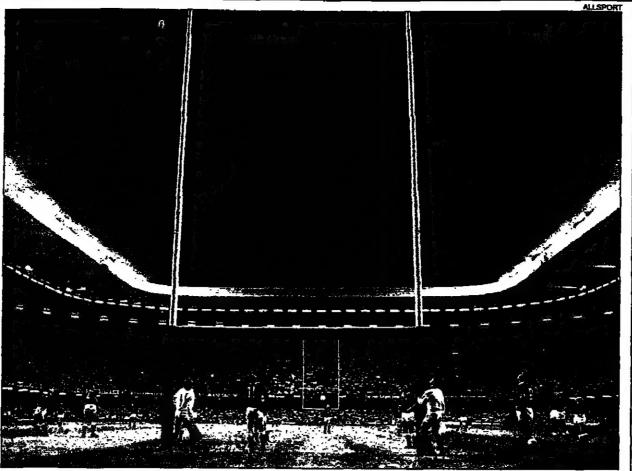

Neither this explanation, nor the fractured relationships that Graveney has already endured, will entirely appease a lobby agitated by the gradual accession to authority of many men involved on those tours. Nor will it spare Graveney from further scepticism over the fact that he was never considered good enough to play official Test cricket.

In itself, however, this is no drawback to being a successful chairman. Laurie Sawle presided over the Australia selectors through years of high achievement, yet he had never played a Test. The substance of the man is what matters and Graveney, a natural communicator, commands respect at all levels of the game.

His day job, as general secretary of the Cricketers' Association, the players' union, is by definition a mark of the esteem in which modern cricketers hold him, and the fact that he has been able to conduct delicate negotiations with some success reflects his standing among the estab-

The son of Ken Graveney, whom he emulated by captaining Gloucestershire, and the nephew of Tom, David is a qualified accountant but recent years have seen him almost fully involved in cricket. He would probably have won a ballot for the chairmanship against Raymond Illingworth last spring, but for being forced to withdraw when his Association identified a conflict of interest. After two years as a selector he was always the favourite to take the vacant chair once the conflict was resolved, with disciplinary matters being handled elsewhere. He has had little opposition, aithough Mark Nicholas, the former captain of Hampshire now working in the media, was also nominated, Graveney, who was formally interviewed for the post last week. will bring to it the accessibility and honesty that have gained him such wide support.

The Arms Park, which evokes so many vivid memories of Welsh exploits, will soon submit to the bulldozers

Fond farewell to the Arms Park

Gerald Davies laments the passing of a about to move in. The bulldozers will soon field of dreams so close to Welsh hearts sprinter, his try to bring down the 1953 All Blacks. In between there was the late Wilf

Wooller's long-striding, high-stepping break that led to

Rees-Jones' try that sank the 1935 tour side. These are who scored a record 19 points on his international debut at full back in 1967, sprinted to score in the northeast corner.

In 1959, Dewi Bebb scored on the same spot on his debut.

Alun Pask would end up in the same place after a long diagonal run as he onemesmerised the Fijians on handedly

dummied and

Keith Jarrett, the schoolboy inflict their first damage. Cardiff Arms Park is coming down. On Saturday Wales will confront England in what will be the final international rugby match to be played on the ground that is presently structured, with its one open end, like an overturned egg-cup. This incompleteness is to be corrected, A Zealand, was denied a try in 1905, which gave Wales their famous 30 victory and superdome is envisaged to welcome the World Cup to Wales in 1999 and so herald the dawn of the 21st century. hatched a controversy that reverberates still. It was Clem Tilted through 90 degrees, the Thomas' cross kick at the direction of play will no longer be from east to west, as other end of the ground which gave Ken Jones, the now, but north to south. This Commonwealth Games

If, over the 113 years that international rugby has been played at the ground, named after a local coaching inn, dramatic changes have taken place, the pitch itself, apart from some minor modifications, has remained changeless - so that the

has nearly caused tears to be shed. There is a strong sentimental attachment to the geographical locations of the game's high points remain. We could take our pilgrimage secure in the knowledge that east was east and west was west and that, immutably, the great moments happened their first tour of Wales, in where they were said to have happened. Men could express their death-bed wishes, leuan Evans, the right as some have done, and have wing, has made such a habit their ashes scattered where of scoring brilliant tries in their heroes had been. that area between the posts It was at the Westgate end and the southeast corper that that Bob Deans, of New he could call the patch his Feeling that the Arms Park, would ensure a large crowd in the way the other national grounds could not in those days, the Barbarians were invited to play a tour team the Australians - in 1948. So it arose that the Arms Park would witness rugby's most cherished and enduring long that touchline and at the southwestem end, Gareth Edwards scored the try that will be seen in years to come and so inspire future generations as long as rugby is played. As indeed it might have done with the Australian, David Campese. For the same club, in 1990, he displayed his incomparable gifts when he scored under the posts against Wales at the Westgate

On the halfway line under the North Stand in 1961, Haydo Mainwaring shoulder-charged the rampaging South Africa captain, Avril Malan, to secure a famous victory against, until then, the unbeaten touring team. J. P. R. Williams, in similar fashion, nudged the Frenchman, Gourdon, into touch in 1976 in the northwest corner. Henceforward these locations will only be revisited on film. "In the future," pondered Clive Rowlands, the former Wales scrum half and captain, "where will we be able to point out where Gareth [Edwards] scored a try against Scotland? In the men's cloakroom under the East Stand, I presume?"

He was referring to the great scrum half's heroic surge of 60 metres to score a try in 1972. He returned rustbrown dirty after sliding into the greyhound track around the perimeter at the time. It confirmed Edwards as an icon of that rugby age. Cardiff Arms Park has always been a homely place. A warm affinity exists between crowd and players. It is companionable and close and not at all distant in the way some national grounds are. The new Cardiff Arms Park must surely attempt to preserve its essential intimate quality.

GOLF

Ballesteros reluctant to back aching hypothesis

FROM MELWEBB

WHERE the pupil has gone to be made whole, the master has followed - allegedly. Severiano Ballesteros was being coy yesterday when asked if he had consulted the same German specialist who had wrought miracles with the lame José Maria Olazábal. First he denied it, then he denied it some more, and finally, with the merest inclination of his head, he allowed that he might have done.

Ballesteros's problem chronic back injury — has an even longer history than Olazabal's troublesome foot. It has been bothering him since he was twentysomething, but, as the years have crept on, the condition has become a permanent, painful part of his

There were suggestions that, after the Dubai Desert Classic, two weeks ago, Ballesteros had gone to the Munich consulting rooms of Hans-Wilhelm Müller-Wohlfahrt. Aside from the fact that he would have had time to get better while the good doctor was still introducing himself, Ballesteros is said to have spent three days with Müller-Wohlfahrt.

The outcome is not known. but whatever was prescribed a programme of exercises is thought to be on the agenda — it will not have to bring about much of an improvement to trigger a better performance by Ballesteros in the Portuguese Open, that starts at Aroeira today, than he produced in Dubai, where he had rounds of 74 and 84 and missed the cut by 13 shots.

Ballesteros had eight birdies in a 68 in the pro-am yesterday and was then curiously unwilling to admit that he had even been to Munich. "This is very private and I don't really need to talk about it," he said. When pressed, he did yield a small nod, however - enough to constitute an admission.

In any case, the cat had already been let out of the bag by Olazabal. "Seve phoned me doctor, and I told him my situation and gave him the facts," Olazábal said. "I think he went for three days."

So why all the mystery? Even ordinary mortals get backaches.

SNOOKER

O'Sullivan hits back

RONNIE O SULLIVAN avenged his defeat by Steve Davis in the final of the Benson and Hedges Masters last month when he overcame the former world champion 5-2 to reach the quarter-finals of the Thailand Open here in Bangkok yesterday (Phil Yates writes). O'Sullivan produced arguably his most accomplished performance of the season so far to earn a meeting with Stephen Lee. It was the type of intense, focused display that made a mockery of O'Sullivan's post-match threat to retire after a 5-) first-round

BADMINTON

BADMINTON

Barming-Hall Yenex All-England champtonships: Men's singles: First round: Ficher (Malayses) bit J Laugesan (Den) 15-11, 15-12; T Soquard (Den) bit Y Kubota (Japan) 15-6, 8-15, 15-10; M L Hansen (Den) bit Rock (Eng) 15-5, 15-13; J Suprianto (Indo) bit J Xinpeng (China) 15-4, 15-10; P Resmussen (Den) bit D Bhallacharpe (Indo) 15-5, 15-8; C Haughton (Eng) bit M Beres (Can) 15-1, 15-5; Ong Ewe Hook, (Malayses) bit F Machido (Japan) 15-4, 15-1; Yong Hook Kin (Malaysis) bit D Rehystra (Holl) 15-8, 15-6; Lin Liven (China) bit PG Christensen (Den) 15-9, 6-15, 18-13; I Wilays (Indo) bit G Levis (Wales) 15-12, 15-4; A Boesen (Den) bit Yang Zhuo (China) bit PG Christensen (Den) 15-9, 6-15, 18-13; I Wilays (Indo) bit G Levis (Wales) 15-10, 16-14, 15-10; PE Hoyer-Levis (Den) 15-4, 15-10; PE Hoyer-Levis (Den) bit G Bouystans (Holl) 15-8, 18-15; J Oleson (Swe) bit S Onta (Japan) 16-7, 15-4; P Knowless (Eng) bit P Jerum (Den) 5-15, 15-6, 15-5; Women's singlest: First round: D Yun (China) bit E Ong (Can) 11-1, 11-5; J Muggandge (Eng) bit M Alexyama (Japan) 11-8, 11-5; K Yanekura (Japan) bit J Maniero (Po) 11-3, 11-5; P Jin-Thyun (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-9; Lin-Thyun (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-9; Lin-Thyun (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-9; Lin-Thyun (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-9; Lin-Thyun (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Glebon (Scot) 11-1, 11-1; Ra Kyung-min (S Kor) bit A Gl reversal against Chris Small in the European Open two

"When I say I'm going to pack it in, it's only because I'm annoyed with myself," O'Sull-ivan said. "You've got to take me with a pinch of salt. It probably won't be the last time come out with something stupid like that."

Stephen Hendry, favourite for the £40,000 first prize, also progressed, with a 5-2 win over Jimmy White, but his display paled against that of O'Sullivan. Hendry now meets Fergal O'Brien, who beat Ken Doherty 5-4.

FOR THE RECORD

BASKETBALL

TENNIS

Juniors get cash boost

ROVER Cars and the Lawn Tennis Association (LTA) are doubling their investment in junior tennis with the an-nouncement of a £2 million sponsorship over the next two vears (Alix Ramsay writes). Rover and the LTA will each provide £500,000 per year for the training of young players and the search for new talent.

The biggest change to the established Rover Junior Initiative is the creation of a new junior club league to provide competition for players of every standard aged 15 years and under.

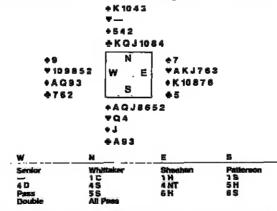

Already. 800 clubs from 43

counties have signed up for the event, which will involve nearly 4,000 players. Starting in April, the competition will move through county and regional finals towards the national finals, to be held in Nottingham in October.

The increased funding will also cover the cost of a series of overseas training camps, similar to the visit of 20 young hopefuls to Florida next week. It will also continue and expand the LTA's search for new players and the clite training provided for those already included in the Rover

By Robert Sheehan, bridge correspondent

Hands on which each side has a fit in two suits often produce big swings. This example is from the Premier League match between Patterson and Armstrong.

SQUASH

EUROLEAGUE: Elimination round: Second legs: Saville 75 Teamsystem Bologna 79 (Bologna win 152-145 on agg), Limoges (Fr) 55 Panathra-kos (Gr) 70 (Panathra-kos 153-127 on agg): Barcelona (Sn) 79 (Bobogne win 132-130 acut, Uniques, 171) 55 Penantimatos (Gr) 70 (Penantimatos (Gr) 70 (Penantimatos (Gr) 70 (Penantimatos win 136-122 on agg); Barcelona (Sp) 72 Alba Berlin (Ger) 82 (Barcelona win 167-139 on agg). First legs: Meccelo Tel Aviv 78 Erse Piesen (Lur) 85; Lubiana (Sp) 79 Villeutosuna (Fr) 77; Olympiatos (Gr) 80 Pentisan Belgrade (Yug) 61; Kindor Bologne (ft) 83 Stetanel Millan (ft) 76 (NATIONAL ASSOCIATION (NBA): Cricago 117 Boston 108, Atlanta 106 Utah 99; Charlotte 88 Vancourer 92; Minnesota 104 Philadelphia 100; Houston 103 San Antonio 79; Dellas 91 New York 83; Milami 108 Milwautee 93; Orlando 95 Denver 91; Foronto 105 Phoens 101; Porfand (Tg) LA Clippers 105; Seattle 93 Detroit 80; Cisveland 88 Socramento 85

BALLYMONEY: Home international in-door championships: Wales 120 Scotland 112 (Wales slops first: J Proce bt R Corsia 21-15; M Aretay lost to R McCulloch 15-23; R Weale bt R Provan 38-10; N Leigh lost to W Wood 11-25; S Rees lost to J Mur 14-20; J Greenatade bt G Robertson 21-19).

CYCLING

PARIS-NICE RACE: Third stage (Bourges to Monthucon, 173kml: 1, T Steets (Bel) 4hr 13mlin 59sec, 2, G M Fegnrar (ft); 3, F Moncesser (Fr); 4, V Elumov (Fuse); 5, J Kirshpur (Est); 6, I Quaranta (ft); 7, A Beth (ft); 8, F J Henry (Fr); 9, F Baldato (ft); 10, E Cassari (ft); 1, M Scandtri (GB) all same time. Overall positions: 1, L. Jeleberl (Fr) 8th 47mm 02sec; 2, Streets all 3sec; 3, A Tohmil (Ukr) al 7; 4, M Meuri (Sp) at 11, 5, Beffi al 15; 6, C Moreau (Fr) at 16, 7, S Heuloi (Fr) at 17; 8, Moncessin same time; 9, Elaimov al 17; 8, Moncessin same time; 9, Elaimov al 17; 9, Chanteur (Fr) same time; 30;

ICE HOCKEY MESH TECHNIQUE SUPERLEAGUE PLAY-OFFS: Group A Cardif 6 Namacastie 4. Group B: Notling HERNIA REPAIR Cardiff 6 Navicastie 4. Group 8: Notling ham 4 Basingstoke 3. PREMIER LEAGUE PLAY-OFF: Slough 4 Performed as a day case under local anaesthetic by Specialist National League (NHL) Florida 3 NY National League (NHL) Florida 3 NY Jelanders 2; New Jersey 6 Edmonton 1: Washington 4 Vancouver 1; Buttato 3 Praladelphia 2 (OT); St Louis 4 San Jose 3 Hernia Repair Surgeons. Fast, effective treatment ensures rapid return to normal. internet: www.whc.com/hemia RUGBY UNION he London Hernia Centre CLUB MATCHES: Lydney 10 Army 54; Northempton 60 RAF 17; Wasps 38 Royal Navy 12. 0171-328 1228

BT GLOBAL CHALLENGE: Fourth leg (Sydney to Cape Town, positions as al 15.52 GMT vesterday, with males to Cape Town): 1. Global Tearmon's 4.526, 2. Toshaba Wave Warrior 4.535; 3, Save The Children 4.542; 4, Group 4 4.544; 5, Commercial Union 4.569; 6, Pause To Remember 4.577; 8. Ocean Rover 4.604; 9, Motorole 4.605; 10. Time & Tide 4.616; 11, Commercial Union 4.569; 13, Nuclear Lorsal 4.688; 12, SCom 4.639, 13, Nuclear Blechic 4.647; 14, Health Insured II 4.681

VAIL, Colorado: Women's World Cup downhill: 1, P Wiberg (Swe) Imm 43,285ec, 2 equal, R Gostachi (Austria) and K sebinger (Gor) 143 31; 4, 1 Kesiner (I) 1,43 61; 5, H Zurhoppen (Switz) 1 43 78 6, R Gerg (Ge) 143 98; 7, K Gutensohn (Ge) 1,43,98; 8, A Meleshritzer (Austria) 1,44 00. 1:43,99; 8, Å Melasnitzer (Austina) 1:44.00, 9, H Linch (US) 1:44.15; 10, S Schuster (Austria) 1:44.28.

SKIING

SNOOKER

BANGKOK: Thalland Open: Second round: S Hendry (Scot) bt J White (Eng) 5-2; F O'Brien (Ire) bt K Dockery (Iro) 5-4: O Hann (Aus) to M Williams (Wales) 5-1, S.Lee (Eng) bt A Hamilton (Eng) 5-1

FIXTURES

FOOTBALL UNIBONO LEAGUE: Premier division: Bishop Auckland v Lancaster (7:30) Cup: Fourth-round replay: Guiseley v Colwyn Bay (7.30)
ICS LEAGUE: Second division: Wivenhoo v
Collier Row and Romford (7.30)
PONTIN'S CENTRAL LEAGUE: Premier
division: Birmingham v Shatfield Wednosday
(at Hednessford Town FC, 7.15)
JEWSON EASTERN COUNTIES LEAGUE:
Premier division: Halstead v Tiptrae (7.30).

RUGBY UNION SCHOOLS TOURNAMENT: Haberdacher Schools Sevens (Haberdachers Ask Hatcham College ground, Numhaad, 2.0) OTHER SPORT

OTHER SPORT

BADMINTON: Yorks All-England Open
Championships (NA, Birmingham)
BASKETBALL: Buchweiser Leegue: Leopards v Hemel and Wattord (7.0), Shelfield v
London Towers (7.45),
BOWLS: Men's home international championships (al Balymoney),
IGE HOCKEY: Superleague play-oftsGroup A. Manchester v Cardit (7.30), Group
B: Bracknoik v Basingsteke (8.0),

SUPER LEAGUE. Etc. Linglacid 0 Durigaven Massleg 3 iR Eyles lost to M Can-ns 6-9, 7-9, 9-2, 10-8 6-9 P Nool lost to P Gragory 2-9, 7-9, 5-9 T Garmer lost to C van der Wath 9-10, 7-9, 6-9, Rowtands Mandi-lester 1 fC, Lonnifers 2 [D Ryan lost to C Walker, 6-9, 9-1, 9-10, 4-9, P Johnson bit D Harris 6-9, 7-9, 9-5, 9-6, 9-8, N Taylor fost to M Chatorier 10-9, 5-9, 4-9, 4-9, Leaguer positioner 7, Duricaven Muserier, 13pts, 2, CL Lionifers 11, 3, Rowtands Mandinerter 10, 4, Etc. Linglackt 10, 5, Suption 10

TENNIS

COPENHAGEN, Men's tournament First round. M Damm (C2) to P Laminosoft (Swe) 62, 6-3. Y Carbonell (Spt) bit E Erich (tol) 6-2, 6-3. Y Carbonell (Spt) bit E Erich (tol) 6-2, 6-3. Y Carbonell (Spt) bit E Erich (tol) 6-2, 6-3. Second round, K Kucha (Slovasia) bit F Santono (Fil) 6-1, 4-6, 6-1, 7 Johansson (Swe) bit A Volkov (Russ) 4-6, 6-3, 6-3. NDIAN WELLS, California, Men's Iournament: First round, 8 Black (Zini) bit A Costa (Sp.) 6-2, 6-2, M Rosser (Swetz) bit M Zobusero (Aug) 6-3, 7-5, 8 Bjostman (Swe) bit A Gaudonat (Rug) 6-3, 7-5, 8 Bjostman (Swe) bit A Gaudonat (Rug) 6-3, 7-5, 8 Bjostman (Swe) bit A Gaudonat (Rug) 6-1, 6-1, 6-1, 5-10 Virsier (C2) bit H Carry (Arg) 4-6, 6-1, 6-0; 3 Novair (C2) bit H Zobuser (Sp.) bit R Reneberg (U5) 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, 5 Douadel (C7) bit P Hashbus (Holl) 6-7, 6-2, 6-1 Second round; M Chang (US) bit S Schaffen (Holl) 6-4, 6-3 M Larston (Swe) bit M Ricc (Chie) 6-3, 5-7, 7-6, G Rugerten (Bit) bit W Funera (SA) 7-6, 6-3, 7 Musier (Austria) bit A Vornea (Rom) 6-2, 6-3

(Rom) 5-2 G J BNDIAN WELLS: Women's tournament. Third round: V Wilkerns (US) bit 1 Majok (Cro) 7-5-36, 7-5 L Exvenport (US) bit 8 Diagnore (Rom) 6-2 6-1 M J Fernandez (US) bit Politis 6-2 6-3, C Maninez (Spi bit C Rubin (US) 6-1, 16, 7-5 Quarter-finet. A Sanchae Vicario (Sp) bt 5 Testud (Fr) 3-6,

POOLS DIVIDENDS

LITTLEWOODS: Treble chance; No client with 23pts. 27ps. 145,803.50. 21pts. 2374.80, 20pts. 1214. 15pts. 17 co. Half-time results: 17pts. mail: 1210.70. Four draws: 220,90. Ten homes, 13 cs. Five. aways: £7.537 VERNONS, Treble chance, 23pts £251,741.00, 22pts £1.313.45, 21pts £279.20 Super shots, £19.80 Premier len

2279.20 Super shots, 519 80 Premier ten 58 05
ZETTERS Theble chance: 7004-545, 435 30, 1201s 1597 85, 21prs, 123 40 20pts 52 70. Eight aways No maintain 23pts winners 72pts 523 30, 21pts 53 15, 20pts 45p Four draws inothing tailed 520 80. Eight homes mothing barred 80p Four aways 5480 40. Super seven 5215 e. A naughty schoolboy

SHEEHAN on BRIDGE

East-West game Dealer North

Senior's bid of Four Diamonds over South's One Spade was a "fit jump". Many tournament players use jumps in competitive situations to show support for partner's suit and strength in the suit in which they jump. It is normal to jump to the level you wish to play at. Thus if Senior considered his hand worth only a raise to Three Hearts, he would have bid Three Diamonds.

Over North's Four Spades I had a tricky tactical problem. My aim was to buy the contract at as low a level as possible, so I tried 4 NT (Five Ace Blackwood). Senior's pass of South's phoney cue-bid of Five Hearts showed one ace. So when I bid Six Hearts over Five Spades I knew I was going one down, but it seemed likely that North-South would make Five Spades.

Over Six Spades, this was Senior's dilemma. If I was bidding Six Hearts because I thought I could make it, to pass would be inviting me to bid on. As he was completely minimum for his bidding so far, his double warned me not to. On the other hand, if I was bidding Six Hearts sacrificially, he should pass - he has already described his hand. Not clear in my view. Had he passed I would have bid Seven Hearts, for 500 to North-

South. As it was, I thought he had a black trick as well as the ace of diamonds. At least the diamond lead held them to twelve ☐ Robert Sheehan writes on bridge Monday to Friday in Sport and in the Weekend section on Saturday.

4.4 WORD-WATCHING

By Philip Howard

DICKENSIANS DATCHERY a. A jolly widow b. A mysterious stranger

STIGGINS a. A police nark b. A little milliner e. A God-botherer CODLIN

a. A travelling showman b. An orphan with expectations c. A mild school usher CORNEY

a. A minor Pickwickian

b. A Cockney prankster c. A cruel matron Answers on page 42

By Raymond Keene CHESS CORRESPONDENT

World leaders

With election fever upon us I introduce today the first in a series of occasional articles covering chess exploits by world leaders, politicians and international diplomats. It is a well attested fact that the Caliphs of ancient Baghdad around 1,000 years ago were enthusiastic chessplayers. Similarly, the biography of Alexius Comnenus, the 11th century Byzantine Emperor, recalls that he was playing chess when surprised by a murderous group of conspirafors. The quick-wined Alexius escaped but had the conspirators executed.

I launch the series today with a game by Napoleon Bonaparte against the Automaton, otherwise known as the Turk. The automaton was an ingenious machine designed by Baron Wolfgang von Kempelen, the Austrian mechanical genius. It was reputed that a human player was concealed inside, but no-one ever conclusively proved this. Several games by the French emperor have come down to us, but the vast majority exhibit a suspiciously high degree of skill by Napoleon. My personal belief is that the game which follows, played at Schoenbrunn Castle in Vienna in 1809, is the only authentic one. White's play is quite feeble, which seems perfectly consistent with the chessplaying ability of a man who had spent most of his life

White: Napoleon Black: The Automaton

Schoenbrunn 1809 King Pawn Opening

Bc4 Ne2 d6 Bg4 Nh5 Bxe2 Nt4 Nd4 Nd4 a3 0-0 Qd3 10 Qe1 12 Kh2 16 d3 Oxg3+ Bd4 Og2+ Oxh1+ Og2+ Ng1

Diagram of final position

White's crude attempt with his second and third moves to play for Scholar's Mate on 17 is brusquely brushed aside. Indeed, the machine could have won more efficiently on move II, either by II ... Qg5 or by II ... Nf3+ 12 gxd3 Qg5+.

abcde fgh

Raymond Keene writes on chess Monday to Friday in Sport and in the Weekend section on Saturday.

WINNING MOVE

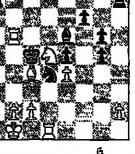

By Raymond Keene

White to play. This position is from the game Kotronias - Velikovic, Greece 1997. There is a maxim in chess that the king is a strong piece and that in the endgame one should try to use it aggressively. This advice is often good, but not always. Today's position is an exception where Black's active king play leads to his downfall. How did White continue?

conquering Europe and had little time to read chess books.

Solution on page 42

46 TO PRESS.

Trust scores top marks for games initiative world it had better get back to school. This week there are encouraging signs that, at last, it might be doing just that Yesterday it was announced that half-a-dozen state secondary schools have been chosen to become the first of a chain of sponsored sports colleges under a scheme promoted by the Youth Sports Trust.

And in a quite separate initiative, Arsenal Football Club is offering £250,000 to a London comprehensive school The spin-off is to create extra places to educate what the club hopes will be its not only on players of the future. the sports field' The Youth Sports

Trust scheme first kicked off last September and is aimed at raising sporting standards by providing top-class facilities and coaching in state schools. The chosen schools will get a mixture of business sponsorship and government money, and the plan is that they will pass on sporting talent to the much heralded Sports Academy — the pet project of John Major that has yet to be established.

Tony Maxwell, the headteacher of one of the chosen schools. Barking Abbey comprehensive in East London, is a former international

f British sport is going to learn a runner and Cambridge Blue, who few lessons in how to take on the has long been convinced of the benefits of sport.

Every one of the 1,600 children in this school, as well as people in the local community, should benefit from the funds coming in to enhance sport," Maxwell said, "and the spinoff is not only on the sports field. Sporting discipline, particularly in a team, develops qualities that are very useful throughout life. Far from getting in the way of their academic work. I see plenty of sportsmen and women going on to do very well in their ca-It is a neighbouring East London comprehensive school that is being targeted by Arsenal. The club hopes to sign a deal that will allow ten 13-year-olds to join

Highams Park School each year. Liam Brady, the former Ireland international, now Arsenal's director of youth development, hopes that the boys, who will have signed schoolboy forms with the club, will be able to transfer from other London schools to Highams Park

There they would take part in the normal school curriculum, but have special coaching sessions during lunch breaks and after school. Such is the reputation of the school, which opted out of council control in 1991 and does well in exam league tables, that Arsenal reckon parents will be tempted to sign them up with the club, knowing that even if they do not make it in professional football they will still have had a good education.

If such schemes work they will be a welcome reversal of a sorry trend that has almost wiped out sport in many of our state schools. For far too long the sporting ethos in schools has been kicked ragged by the selling off of playing fields to raise quick cash to shore up overstretched budgets.

More than 5,000 playing fields have vanished this way in the past dozen years and the very notion of competitive sport has been called into question by "politically correct" voices within the teaching profession. British schools were once the fertile seed-bed of modern sport, with the great ball games of rugby and soccer developed in our schools. In the first half of this century the place of sport in British education was much envied and imitated around the world.

Baron de Coubertin, the French aristocrat whose vision gave birth to the modern Olympic Games, was inspired by a description of our system written by a Frenchman, Hippolyte Taine. "Adolescence in England," he wrote, "is spent in the open air, the boys going free in the fields, waters and woods. In the English schools, athletic games, fives, football, running, rowing and, above all, cricket take up part of every day. " No wonder that the British sportsmen of that era believed they could take on the world - and win.

The tradition of a sporting elite enriching the fabric of a school was not given up so easily by the independent sector. Today such schools as Millfield, in Somerset, Ardingly College, in West Sussex, and Oueenswood, in Hertfordshire, all give awards or sports scholarships to develop young sporting talent.

These schools are often regarded with a mixture of suspicion and envy.

but the Headmasters' Conference, the elite club of fee-paying schools. has even held talks with Jain Sproat. the Minister for Sport, about extending similar schemes to take in hundreds more youngsters from state

The Arsenai plan and the six sports colleges announced yesterday are small, but very welcome steps in the right direction. We need many more. For there was another report about children published yesterday, and it is altogether more alarming.

A group of doctors from St Thomas's Hospital in London, surveying the health of British youth, found that lack of exercise, a diet high in junk food right direction' and a "couch potato" lifestyle are producing a generation of children measurably fatter than any before.

They are small steps in the

If we do not do something about the physical education of our children in schools, these children will grow up into a generation that thinks sport is just for spectators. It is great to see gifted foreign players gracing English football, but it is up to our schools to stop us from becoming a nation that has forgotten how to play its own games.

JOHN BRYANT

Muggeridge unhinged in second round by off-court distractions

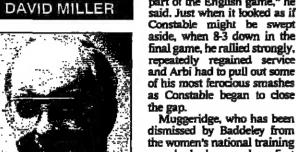

Constable paints picture of hope for England coach

ENGLISH badminton is in the odd position of having recently added to the national coaching team Park Joo Bong, of South Korea, the world's best doubles player, at a time when there is no man in the top 30 singles ranking and only Joanne Muggeridge, at No 29, among the women.

Yesterday Mark Constable, the runner-up in the European junior championships two years ago, may have given Park cause to think that he has material with which to work. In the second round of the Yonex All England Open championships, Constable led Heryanto Arbi, of Indonesia, the world champion of 1995. by a game and 9-3. Arbi then recaptured his form and Constable slowly slipped away, losing 10-15, 15-10, 15-9 in little more than an hour.

With more than £80,000 in prize-money, the All England ranks third in prize-money totals, but is still the blue riband event of the sport outside the Olympic Games, of which badminton became part in 1992. The concourse at the National Indoor Area in Birmingham is as cosmopolitan this week as Heathrow's terminal three.

Constable seemed as though he were about to surprise a sizeable midday crowd, but his aggressive game is not yet sufficiently consistent to maintain the upper hand against someone of Arbi's pedigree. Even when behind. Arbi seldom wasted a movement, whereas Constable, by comparison, was lungstretching and occasionally gasping.

Steve Baddeley, the elite director of the Badminton Association of England (BAE), was much encouraged. "Mark may lack finess at the moment, but he has the heart and the stamina, which is always a part of the English game," he said. Just when it looked as if Constable might be swept aside, when 8-3 down in the final game, he rallied strongly, repeatedly regained service and Arbi had to pull out some of his most feroclous smashes as Constable began to close dismissed by Baddeley from the women's national training squad, had won her first round match, but yesterday was rapidly unseated by Kanako Yonekura, from Japan, who won in 25 minutes. Muggeridge played efficiently for a while, but could not stand the pace of long rallies, thereby possibly substantiat-ing Baddeley's allegation of lack of fitness.

However, it later emerged that a statement on March 3 Geoffrey Snowdon, the chief executive of the BAE, that Muggeridge had broken regulations by going to play a tournament in Germany, and had thereby made herself ineligible, may be inaccurate. Before leaving for Germany, she had already received Baddeley's letter saying that he was withdrawing funding and her squad membership. Muggeridge's solicitors are pondering on that age-old narrow line of disputes in all sports between players and overning bodies - that there is no obligation on governing bodies to select a player to represent their country even when ranked No I, as Muggeridge has been, but do they have the right publicly to announce that a player is not even being considered? Yesterday Muggeridge was, expectedly, bubbling with righteous indignation. "It's a wonder I was able to play at all, considering what's been going on," she said. "I've no one cheering me, none of the team encourage me. I think that's pretty bad, but it's the management, really."

She went on to pay tribute to

she has such good shots," Muggeridge said. "I was trying so hard, but my concentration wasn't there. I wasn't thinking properly about what shots to play, about hitting it

She insisted that there was no query about her fitness by Steve Green, a Lawn Tennis Association trainer with whom she works. "There's no problem." she said. Baddeley had earlier requested that Muggeridge, who in the past has been overweight - and possible still is - should have her fitness monitored by Asger Madsen, one of the national coaches.

Results, page 41

RADIO CHOICE A black mark for justice

Document: Chocolate Soldier from the USA. Radio 4, 7.20pm.

Seventeen out of the 18 black American soldiers charged with rape while stationed in Britain during the last war were hanged. The odd man out was Leroy Henry. He would have mounted the scaffold as well had 33,000 Somerset tolk not petitioned General Eisenhower for well had 33,000 Somerset tolk not pentioned General Eisenhower for mercy. George Pixley's investigation is a shocking indictment of a legal system that permitted commanding officers to charge the alleged rapist and pick both jury and defence and prosecution counsels. In effect, the same legal system that discriminated against a black in the LIS was expected to the LIK where racism was all brid. blacks in the US was exported to the UK where racism was all build in the US was exported to the UK where racism was all build in the UK where racism was all b "the weather was not suited to them".

Thursday Afternoon Play: The Earthquake Girl. Radio 4, 2.00pm. Touching at times, gently humorous and quite unlike any BBC play I have heard for ages, this is Katie Hims's writing debut and I shall be watching her progress up the ladder. Saskia Reeves plays the librarian and would-be novelist who convinces herself that she is a one-women disaster area. Whatever romance and initiative she might harbour manifests itself only though her profiles. might harbour manifests itself only through her writing. Her boss speaks more truth than she realises when she declares that librarians not only categorise their books but are themselves categorised by Peter Davalle

RADIO 1

7.00am Mark Radcliffe, includes Newsbeat 9.00 Simon Mayo 12.00 Jo Whiley, includes at 12.30pm Newsbeat 2.00 Nicky Campbell 4.00 Kavin Greening 6.15 Newsbeat 6.30 Evering Session with Steve Lamacq 8.30 John Pael 10.30 Mary Anne Hobbs 1.00am Dave Pearce 4.00am Clive Warran

RADIO 2

6.00am Alex Lesier 7.30 Sarah Kennedy 9.30 Ken Bruca 11.30 Jimmy Young 1.30pm Debbie Thrower 3.00 Ed Stewart 5.05 John Dunn 7.00 Fm Sorry I Haven't a Cue. With Humphrey Lydalon, Barry Cryer, Graeme Garden, Jeremy Hardy and the late Willie Rushton († 7.30 David Allen 9.00 Paul Jones 10.00 Amazing Grace. Cy Grant presents a history of the Negro spiritual (3/3) 10.30 The Jamesons 12.05am Steve Madden 3.00 Charles Nove

RADIO 5 LIVE

5.00am Morning Reports 6.00 The Bresidast Programme 9.00 The Maga-zine 12.00 Midday with Mair 1.50 The Cheltenham Festival with John Inverdate and Sybil Ruscoe 4.30 Nationwide with Julian Worricker 7.00 News 7.35 On the Line 8.00 Inside Edge with Rob Bonnet 9.00 SportsAmenca with Alton Byrd 9.30 Sportshop with Adrian Goldberg 10.00 News Talk with Paul Reynolds 11.00 News Extra with Valerie Sanderson 12.00 After Hours — Early Call with Vincent Hanna 2.00mm Up All Night

TALK RADIO

5.00am Chris Ashley and Sandy Wart 7.00 Paul Ross 9.00 Scott Chisholm 12.00 Lorraine Kelly 2.00pm Tontriy Boyd 4.00 Peter Daeley 7.00 Moz Dee's Sportszone 10.00 James Whale 1.00em lan Collins

WORLD SERVICE

All times in GMT. News on the hour. 5.30am Europe Today 7.15 Off the Shelf 7.30 Network UK 8.10 Words of Faith 8.15 Composer of the Month 8.45 Health Metiters 9.05 Business 9.15 Sports International 9.45 Sport 10.30 BBC English 10.45 Red Dwarf 11.30 Metidian On Screen 12.05pus Business 12.15 Britain Today 12.30 Assignment 2.05 Outlook 2.30 Multitrack 3.05 Sport 3.30 Network UK 4.15 World Today 4.30 BBC English 4.45 Britain Today 5.30 BBC English 4.45 Britain Today 5.30 BBC English 4.45 Britain Today 5.30 Business 5.45 Sports Roundup 6.30 Assignment 7.010 Unitook 7.25 Words of Faith 7.30 John Peel 9.05 World Business Report 9.15 Britain Today 9.38 Meridian Books 10.30 World Today 10.45 Sports Roundup 11.10 Take Five 11.15 Soundbyle 11.30 World Ranking 12.30am Good Books 12.45 Britain Today 1.30 Outlook 1.55 Words of Faith Today 1.30 Outlook 1.55 Words of Faith Today 1.30 Outlook 1.55 Words of Faith 2.30 A History of the British Theatre 3.15 Sports Roundup 3.30 Focus on Faith

CLASSIC FM

4.00mm Merk Crititins 6.00 Breaktast Show 9.00 Henry Kelly 12.00 Susannah Simons 2.00pm Lunchtime Concerto. Spohr (Clarinet Concerto No 1 in Criminor Co 25) 3.00 Jamie Crick 7.00 Classic Newsnight with John Brunning 7.30 Sonata, Westoli (Oboe Sonata in Criminor) 8.00 Everning Concert, Rawel (Bolero); Mahler (Kindertotenlieder); Sibelius (The Swan of Tuorela Op 22 No 2): Debussy (La Mer); Aaron Copland (Appalachian Spring) 10.00 Michael Mappin 1.00am Sally Peterson

VIRGIN RADIO

Dene 1.00pm Jeremy Clark 4.00 Nicky Home 7.00 Paul Coyle (FM) / Robin Banks (AM) 10.00 Mark Forrest 2.00em Randal Lee Rosa

6.00am On Air, Includes Strauss (Sonetina No 2 for 13 Wind Instruments); Rosetti (Sinfonia in E); Głazunov (Violin Concerto in A minor); Mendelconcert in A minor); Memoessohn (Capriccio in E minor); Purceil (Riejoice in the Lord); Humperdinck (Königskinder) 9.00 Morning Collection. Includes Telemann (Overture-Suite in 8 fat); Bach (Franch Suite No. 4 in E flat, BWV815);

Barber (Capricorn Concerto)
10.00 Musical Encounters, with Chris Wines. Includes Warlock
(Capriol Suite); Garbarek
(Viddane); Nielsen

(Viciorie); (Viciorie); (Springtime on Funen); Walton (Suite Hemiet); Garbarek (Its Name is Secret Road); Ustad Fateh Ali Khan (Raga One); Verdi (Overture; Nabucco); Martinu (Concerto for Two Planos)

12.00 Composers of the Week Campra, Clérambeuit and Montéclair 1.00pm in Repertory. The Times opera critic, Rodney Milnes, talks to Leontyne Price about Verd'e Airis (A/S)

Verdi's Aida (4/5) 2.00 Music for Organ. Thomas Trotter gives a recital of Victorian and Edwardian music on the organ of Eton College Chapel. Includes Stantord (Fantasia and Toccata in D minor, Op 57); Widor (Organ Symphony No 8 in B, mvls two and three); Elgar, air Lemare (Chanson de Matin; Pomp and Circumstance March No 1)

2.40 Smart to be Smart, Chri Symphony Orchestra under Matthias Barnert. With Jean Rigby, mezzo. Brahms (Tragic Overture); Mahler (Kindertoteniseder); Tchalkovsky (Symphony No 6 in B minor) (r) Before Stravinsky, with Anthony Burton. Includes trusic by Deposled, Golfo

music by Pergolesi, Gallo, Bach, Glock and Mozart (1/2) Music Machine. The students of Queen Katharine to put questions to the soprano Emme Kirby In Tune, with Nicola Haywood Thomas Includes Nielsen (Saul and David); Telemann (Concerto in D tor Trumpet and Violin) 7.30 Rites of Spring, Live from the Festival Hall, London. BBC Symphony Orchestre, under Andrew Davis, With Kyoko Takezawa, violin. Stravinsky (Divertimento; Violin Concerto) 8,15 Goein on Stravinsky 8,35 Concert.

Violin Concerto) 8.15 Goehr on Stravinsky 8.35 Concert, part 2. Stravinsky (Variations, Aldous Hutley in Memoriam;
Symphony in E flat)
9.35 First Draft Pleose. The posts
Simon Amitiage and Gilyn, Mexwell continue their journey inom the east coast of Brazil to the Amazon rainforest (4/5) 10.00 Music Restored. Women in Early Music (3/4)
10.45 Night Waves. Partick Wright and guests assess the file and work of Marcel Duchamp 11.30 Composer of the Week
Webern (1)
12.10am Ariel, Who Sees Thee
Now? John Harle talks to Phillip Pickett (3/3)
12.30 Jazz Notes, with Digby
Fairweather
1.00 Thomas are all the set of the search of the sea

1.00 Through the Night, with Donald Macleod

RADIO 4 5.55am Shipping (LW) 6.00 News 6.10 Farming Toda 4.45 Short Story: Andy, by Michael Faber Read by Kerry News 6.10 Farming Today 6.25 Prayer for the Day 6.30 Today, includes Thought for Ireland 5.00 PM 5.50 Shipping Forecast the Day 8.40 Yesterday in Parliament 9.00 News 9.05 The Moral Maze A discussion series chaired by Michael Buerk, With David Cook, Janet Daley, Michael Manaheld, QC, and Dr David Starkey 10.00 News; in the Balance (FM).

The footballing comedy this by Mark Tavener (6/6) 10.00 Daily Service (LW) 10.15 On This Day (LW) 10.30 Woman's Hour, with Jenni Murray 11.30 From Our Own Correspondent. Reports from BBC correspondents around the 12.00 News; You and Yours, with Mark Whittaker

12.25pm Foul Play. Murder invited the world at the crime writers Sarah Dunant and Keeth Miles 12.55 Weather 1.00 The World at One, with Nick Clarks.

1.40 The Archers (r) 1.55 Shipping Forecasi News, Thursday Afternoon Play: The Earthqueke Girl.

3.00 News; The Atternoon Shift.
Max Boyce reports from Carditt Arms Port as the bulldecess prepare to move in and make way for the new stadium 4.00 News 4.05 Kaleidoscope.

Paul Alica sec; the premiere of the Gershwin-Well musical Lady in the Dark and the new Martin Composition. Martin Cremp play Altempt on

5.55 Weather 6.00 Stx O'Clock News 6.30 Jeremy Hardy Speaks to the Nation, with Debbie Isitt and Gordon Kennedy 7.00 News 7.05 The Archers 7.20 Document. See Choics (8/6) 8.00 The Road from Marriage Farm. The story of a Kentish family with words and music by Peter Cork and readings by Tim Pigott-Smith (r)

by Peter Cork and readings by Time Pigoti-Smith (r)

8.45 Stages of Redemantion. The novelist Frances Pytield reflects on enduring themes drawn from the narrative of Christ's suffering (4/6)

9.00 Does He Take Sugar? The programme where the sand by programme made for, and by, people with disabilities. Presented by Frederick Dove 9.30 Kaleidoscope (r) 9.59

Weather 10.00 The World Tonight, with 10.45 Book at Bedtime: The Lonely Londoners, by Sam Selvon. Read by Rudolph Walker (4/5)

11.00 Pet Semetary. A dramatisation for radio of the chiling novel by Stephen King. With John Sharian,

King. With John Sharian, Bhony Glassco and Lee Montague (3/6)

11.30 Close Ups (FMD. Nigel Wilkams talks to the actor Richard Widmark (6/6) (r)

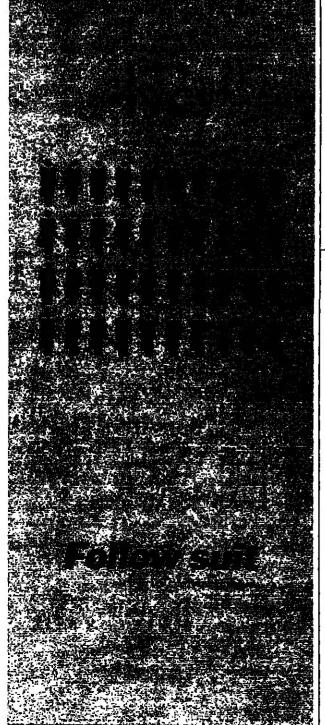

11.30 Todary in Parliament (LW)

12.00 News 12.30am The Late Book: The Hobbit, by J R.R. Tolkien. Read by Michael Hordem (6/15) (r)

12.48 Shipping Forecast

1.00 As World Service

FREQUENCY GUIDE. RADIO 1. FM 97.6-99.8. RADIO 2. FM 88.0-90.2. RADIO 3. FM 90.2-92.4. RADIO 4. FM 92.4-94.6: LW 198; MW 593. 909. WORLD SERVICE MW 649. LW 105.8: MW 197. 1215. TALK RADIO. MW 105.3: 1039. Television and Smith, Susan Thomson, Jane Gregory and John McNamera.

ford, QC) on conviction of cuts are

WORD-WATCHING

Answers from page 4/

DATCHERY

(b) A mysterious stranger with white hair and black eyebrows in The Mystery of Edwin Drood. He appears without explanation in Cloisterham, where he finds lodgings with the Topes. There are strong hints that he may be disguised. STIGGINS (c) A dissenting preacher, the "deputy shepherd" of the Emmanuel Chapel at Dorking. In The Pickwick Papers the second Mrs Weller is a devoted member of his congregation.

(a) Thomas Codlin is a travelling Punch and Judy man, partner of Short in The Old Curiosity Shop. He is a melancholy, devious individual who would have betrayed Little Nell and her Grandfather to the authorities as runaways, had she not suspected and escaped him.

CORNEY

(c) Mrs Corney is the brutal widowed matron of the workhouse where Oliver Twist was born. From the dying pauper who had nursed his mother she learns the secret of his birth, and becomes an accomplice of Monks in his scheme to defraud Oliver of his inheritance. Bumble, having married her, is involved in the plot by his dominating partner.

SOLUTION TO WINNING CHESS MOVE

PRICES NOW INCLUDE PREE UK DELIVERY TO TIMES READERS (REST OF WORLD ADD 11 PER (TEM). STERLING/US DOLLAR CHEQUES ONLY. (11-US$ 1.65, TIMES CROSSWORDS: - Books IDI.11.213 E.99 each. The Times Concise - Book 2 (240 puzzles) E.99. Collins Thesaurus III.49, Crassword Salver's Decisionary III.45 (UK only). Crassword Manual 29,97the First Omnibus Book of the Sundry Times Crosswords. The 2nd Omnibus Brok of The Times Crosswords. The Third Book of The Times Jumbo Crosswords (Cryptic #4.99 each. The Times July) III.45 (UK only). Times Conservation (Cryptic #4.99 each. The Times July) Table 1. Times July 1.

هكدا من الاعليم

sack dimen-Michael ! . 600em Business Erectivity 7.00 BBC Breakfas: New 9 9.00 Breakfast News Ent. 920 Style Challenge 9.45 Kilray 10.30 Can't Cook, War I Care 11.05 The Really Use 11.25 Change That

Steve PHC 50

and mestach

Burss of the Care

music wer.

persuasive a m practise

12.05pm The Alphabet 33-2.00 News 12.30 Going for a Seria 12.55 The Westitle: Shire 1.00 News -1.30 Regional News 1.40 Neighbours 2.05 Quincy 250 As Time Goes E. 3.20 Noble Castles 3.30 Playdays

(12)4411 4.35 (12)4411 5.00 5.10 Grange =

5.35 Neighbours 6.00 News 6.30 Newsroom Scatt East 7.00 Watchdog ... 7.30 EastEnders some fed by it.

Meight 19 B 8.00 CHOKE Wildlife To The Besst? TU p used ou current

8.30 A Perfect State 7

Rath, tide 11 mandant: Till 1 44 9.00 Political Broscus: TO SATUR WALES SIN Broadten : 9.05 News 7 2 2 2

9.35 Chalk E .-- · · 10.05 Men Behaving Bady.

10.35 Question Time by Galactic $\mathbb{C} \cap \mathbb{C}_{0}$ Prote 1 Demograph . Forsity of the conmembers the re-

11.40 The Mrs Merton Show and $g_{\mathcal{O}_{i}(\mathcal{A}_{i})}$ 12.10am He Said, She Sa : Real Prison & State of the Prison of the Pri about the contract of Directed Garage .

(4327.55)

2.00 Westber (12.5) VideoPlan+ and the Video Trust The numbers next to the listing are Victory Distance and Victory Distanc listings of salcline and carrie bapired on Saturday crauncy are the Distant.

SKY NEWS SKY MOVIES

Paradigms of joy, mourning and brutality

The important question to ask family all got their introductions son who wanted the full works with its frantic ding-a-ding benefit Modern Times documenta-("COLIN - as the bride's father". ry last night (BBC2) is this: did it ANDREA - as the best friend"). make you want to be Jewish? The out the music pointedly slithered answer in the majority of cases will to a halt for Steve's grey, ordinary surely be "Oy, you got to ask?" Telling the nuptial story of parents. Ding-a-ding-a-nothing. Bob and Doris they were called Michaela ("She's Jewish") and Steve ("He isn't"), Jewish Wedding and frankly, they never stood a chance. Quietly sitting on grey was fast-paced, visually excessive chairs in a grey room, they needed and irresistibly pulse-quickening only a dirgy refrain from For Those in Peril on the Sea to in obvious reference to the culture it engagingly depicted. Bursts of frenzied Jewish dance complete the picture of utter cultural contrast. music were a bit over-obviously "I would say that we're quieter," persuasive in this "feel-good" department, but on the other hand were useful if we left-out goyim got carried away at home and wanted to practise that impossible Cos-they admitted, softly. "Most of our friends are quieter." They were clearly nice people, but fatally lacking the verve required to become sympathy figures in this film. When asked how they imagined a Jewish wedding to be, Doris said tentatively, with a little laugh,

Well, she was right about that, of course. Interestingly, it was their tall, blond Steve, who had gamely memorised Jewish festivals (Michaela testing him in the bath), and had also submitted goodnaturedly to foreskin removal, now wanted a knees-up to seal his new life. "You are volunteering to be in a minority." his rabbi warned him in a rare serious moment, "That's a tremendous step." But as he whirled and danced at his wonderful wedding, Steve appeared rather to be joining a bloody big gang, and glad of it.

ther documentaries last night required less of the viewer in the way of Cossack dancing, but just as much milk of human kindness. ITV's Dunblane: Remembering Our Children was a quiet, dignified and intelligent film with a precisely chosen title: without any mawkishness, its effect was to remind us that the children killed at

REVIEW

Lynne Truss

Dunblane were real. "We called him our Wee Man," Sandy and Ellen said about their lost boy, John — and you could see why. Photographs showed a five-yearold in a miniature tweed jacket, tie and cloth cap, gorming hilariously for the camera, like a tiny old crofter on market day. "He was cheeky, funny, adorable, and" — Ellen sought for the right word, and smiled as she said it - "fly".

Whether talking about their share, People advise these parents children was good bereavement to "move on", and they are therapy for the parents was curiously beside the point; Dunblane: Remembering Our Children was not interested in begging trite sympathies, and was a million miles from the obnoxious, bleeding-heart piety of Knock, Knock, Knocking on Heaven's Door. This film appeared to be an honest account of how the parents are coping, how they have formed a support group (a group envied and resented by non-members), and how occasionally they have a carefree laugh and a drink, because life goes on, and coping with Dunblane is something there are no existing prescriptions for. Meanwhile the viewer never felt intrusive, which made a pleasant change. The children were shown in treasured video-clips and photos, and the parents themselves judged exactly how much of their grief they were prepared to evidently doing their best. "But move on to where, exactly? they asked. Nobody can tell them the answer to that.

f one were to judge documentaries by their power to shock and distress, by far the most successful of the evening was Channel 4's Countryside Undercover, shown at the same time as Jewish Wedding and Dunblane, so presumably watched by almost nobody. Of the three, however, it was certainly the one that will live longest in the memory. Entitled Bringing Home the Bacon it took hidden cameras to intensive pig farms, and discovered routine cruelties so awful that - well, the harrowing pig-slaughtering pas-sage in Jude the Obscure will now seem like a June picnic by comparison.

"Does it hurt them?" asked our lessness, watching a Yorskshire farmworker docking piglets' tails with a knife (an operation that's supposed to be done by a vet, and only if necessary). "Oh yes," grinned the man, stupidly, "That's why they're screaming." Here was unarguable evidence of cruelty that could never be obtained by legitimate means. Apart from being penned in nightmare conditions of constriction, smell and din, pigs were neglected, beaten, terrified, and slaughtered while inadequately stunned - ie, while conscious. Personally, I spent half an hour afterwards weeping from sheer shock.

What made matters a lot worse was a pointedly contrasting scene shot on an organic farm in Wiltshire, where the little pigs (still destined for the plate, of course) trotted about in lively groups. making happy piggy hoff-hoff noises, and flapping their ears.

CHANNEL 4

6.00am Sesame Street (87394) 7.00 The Big Breakdast (82752) 9.00 The Morning Line.

12.30pm The Devil's Islands The wildlife of

1.00 Ellen Getting engaged causes a problem for Palge: should she wear the ring her flance bought her or one she paid for

1.30 Racing from Chetlenham Brough Scott introduces live coverage of the 2.00, 2.35, 3.15 (Tote Chettenham Gold Cup

5.30 Pet Rescue An update on Duchess the greyhound's progress in her new environment (1) (232)

6.00 Hangin' with Mr Cooper The fourth series of the American comedy about a

8.00 Shop Till You Drop The third in the that goes on in supermarkets at Christmas (T) (3023)

MARIE

6.30 Hollyoaks Teen soap (1) (597)

7.00 Channel 4 News (T) (368329)

7.50 Winners and Losers (319077)

young men who returns home to teach at his old high school (T) (145)

Chase) and 3.55 races (415771)

9.30 Schools (185868)

12.00 House to House (25394)

herself (T) (92139)

4.30 Countdown (1) (752)

5.00 Ricki Lake (T) (4139)

A preview of the last day of the Cheltenham Festival (18058)

the Saltee Islands, off the coast of Ireland

6.00am Business Breakfast (94684) 7.00 BBC Breakfast News (T) (99042) 9.00 Breakfast News Extra (T) (5147042) 9.20 Style Challenge (4574619) 9.45 Kilroy (4174684)

BBC1

sack-dancing thing on the floor.

The sympathies of the filmmaker were made clear with the opening titles, when this music was used to somewhat cruel effect.

Michaela's bustling, colourful

10.30 Can't Cook, Won't Cook (14232) 11.00 News (T) and weather (6190481) 11.05 The Really Useful Show (7702110) 11.35 Change That (8387042) 12.00 News (T) and weather (7244110) 12.05pm The Alphabet Game (5285313) 12.30 Going for a Song (6555481) 12.55 The Weather Show (79799145) 1.00 News (T) and weather (72329) 1.30 Regional News (83489690) 1.40 Neighbours (11690597)

2.05 Quincy (5032597) 2.50 As Time Goes By (5099348) 3.20 Noble Castles The leaning tower at Caerphilly castle (5202987)

3.30 Playdays (5152226) 3.50 Whami Bami Strawberry Jam! (8862333) 4.05 Casper Classics (9900619) 4.10 Rugrats (1224416) 4.35 The Really Wild Show (5262503) 5.00 Newsround (T) (3539706)

5.35 Neighbours (r) (T) (416868) 6.00 News (T) and weather (435) 6.30 Newsroom South East (1) (787)

7.00 Watchdog Consumer issues (T) (1665) 7.30 EastEnders Word of a new face on the Square spreads like wildfire, and while some residents celebrate, others realilite will never be the same again (T) (771) 8.00 Wildlife on One: The Butterfly Beauty or the Beast? Insight into survival strategies used by butterlys (1) (1923): 8.30 A Perfect State The plucky residents of Flatby have their funds axed by Whitehalf

mandarina (T) (2348) 9.00 Political Broadcast by the Labour Party (T) (347226) WALES: 9.00 Political Broadcast by the Welsh Labour Party

9.05 News (T) and weather (467874) 9.35 Chalk Bungling Deputy Head Eric Statt

sidh-former has a baby (T) (429874) 10.05 Men Behaving Badly Gary makes what he thinks is a romantic video to celebrate being reunited with Dorothy (r) (T)

10.35 Question Time Topical debate chaired by David Dimbleby. Former Conservative Prime Minister Sir Edward Heath and

Labour veteran Tony Benn join Liberal Democrat Liz Lynne and author Frederick Forsyth to answer questions posed by members of the public in Birmingham (T) Followed by Remembering Dunblane

11.40 The Mrs Morton Show with Vinnie Jones and Boy George (r) (T) (651329) 12.10am He Said, She Said (1991) with Kevin Bacon and Eizabeth Perkins. Two journalists working on rival papers write about their love affair in their columns. Directed by Ken Kwapis and Marisa Silver

2.00 Weather (8235917).

VideoPlus+ and the Video PlusCodes VideoPlus+ and the Video Plus-Cores
The numbers next to each TV programme listing are Video Plus-Code numbers, which allow you to programme your video recorder nestantly with a VideoPlus+ handset. Tap in the Video Plus-Code for the programme you wish to record. Videoplus+ (), Pluscode () and Video Programmer are trademarks of Gemeter Development Ltd.

THE THE PERSON THE PERSON THE

5.00am Open University (7173042) 5.25 Therapies on Trial (T) (7265077) 6.50 Health and Disease in Zimbabwe (9097706) 7.15 News (T) (7096597) 7.30 The Wacky Races (8857139) 7.55 Blue Peter (f) (T) (3220313) 8.20 Wishing (f) (7782690) 8.35 The Record (5813597) 9.00 The Science Collection (4489597) 9,25 Job Bank (7791313) 9,40 Megamaths (4549665) 10,00 Pleydeys (51394) 10,30 Storytime (7952400) 10,45 The Experimenter (2338348) 11.05 Space Ark (6284874) 11.15 in Living Memory (9243619) 11.35 Landmarks (1) (8467232) 11.56 Techno (9901313) 12-15pm Quinze Minutes Plus (5354597)

12.30 Working Lunch (67868) 1.00 Liteschool (33439351) 1.25 Isabel (47585705) 1.45 Numbertime (83380139) 2.00 Wishing (36912868) 2.10 Everyone's Got One (2237961) 3.00 News (1) 3.05 Westminster (4986416) 3.55 News (1) 4.00 Today's the Day (400) 4.30 Ready Steady, Cook (684) 5.00 Esther (2771)

5.30 Seniors Pot Black Second semi-linal of the inaugural veterans' tournament (936) 6.00 Star Trek: Deep Space Nine (1) 7.30 First Sight: The Promised Land?

Charting the events which led to the hunger strike by asylum-seekers at Rochester Prison which began three months ago (313) WALES: Surely Some Mistake? EAST: Matter of Fact MIDLANDS: Midlands Report NORTH/ NORTH EAST/NORTH WEST/SOUTH WEST Close Up SOUTH: Southern Eye 8.00 Surely Some Mistake? Last in the series arialysing business disasters reports on Benetton, Anita Roddick and Pet Plan (T) (8955) WALES: Out of Time 8.30 Top Gear Michele Newman and Jeremy kson report on the Geneva motor show (T) (3690) 9.00 3rd Rock from the San Harry and Torrony see career opportunities as doctors (T) (653139)

Mike Bowyer, archaeologist (9.25pm)

Horizon: Shipwreck Cam-eras follow marine archaeologists (T) (713226) 10.15 Before I Die Louise Bishop, 21, had a new boylinend and promotion when she discovered she had bone cancer. The film shows how she and her family coped 10.25 Political Broadcast: Labour (557936) 10.30 Newsnight (T) (850348)

11.15 Late Review (185706) 11.55 Skiing Forecast (615787) 12.00 The Midnight Hour (32608)

12.30em Learning Zone: Open University News and the Democratic Agenda 1.00 The Baby's in Your Court 1.30 France in the Viewfinder 2.00 Performing Arts 4.00 Suenos - World Spanish 5.00 The Small Business Programme

CHOICE

Wildlife on One: erfly - Beauty or the Beast? BBC1, 8.00pm

The contention of this impressively-photographed film is that the butterfly copes with the rougher side of nature much more effectively than its delicate body and paperthin wings might suggest. The proposition is tested and supported in footage from Australia, the United States, South America and, closer to home, north Wales, Like most wildlife films, the plot is about mating, breeding and survival but since the butterfly starts as an egg, which becomes a caterpillar and then a chrysalis, the narrative twists are richer than usual. Sir David Attenborough's commentary takes off into unexpected metaphors, as when he likens the process by which the cells of the chrysalis turn into wings, legs and eyes to "dropping bricks on to a sheet of plans and expecting St Paul's Cathedral to materialise".

A Cook on the Wild Side Channel 4, 8.30pm

Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall (crazy name, crazy guy) returns for a second series of the show in which he forsakes the supermarket shelves in favour of food from the wild. He is travelling by canal barge this time, though for most of his sustenance he is forced on to dry land. It is nobody's fault that the first day of spring should look like the depths of winter but F-W is nothing if not cheerful and resourceful. Whether anybody would like to exist on his countryside gleanings is another matter. Perhaps it is enough to be shown how to make wine from the sap of the birch tree, without having to drink it. The freshwater crayfish looks scarcely more appetising and tonight's best dish is hare. We see the hapless animal being netted, throttled and cooked with dumplings seasoned with hedgerow herbs.

Horizon: Skipweck BBC2 9.25pm

You could say that this documentary is more about history and archaeology than the science which is Horizon's normal brief but it is a good enough tale for labels to become irrelevant. The seas around the Channel Islands are such a common site for found a musket and took it to the local museum nobody was interested. But it was a significant wreck indeed, possibly the first Elizabethan warship to be discovered and one that could have been part of Drake's fleet against the Spanish Armada. Enter Dr John Nolan, an American historian of the period. even English. The key piece of evidence is the ship's rudder. Its lifting from the seabed and the subsequent analysis of its size and timber gives the film a stirring climax.

Bright Sparks: Midnight Expresso Channel 4. 9.45pm

It is wrong to pretend that student films are masterpieces when they are not, particularly when they last a mere ten minutes. But there is obvious talent on show in this series and Channel 4 deserves credit for exposing it to a wider audience. Midnight Expresso is a study by Eva Stefani and Idoko Kemeny from the National Film and Television School of the main railway station in Athens. It is a film of incidents, rather arbitrarily linked, and some of the local references need clear, for instance, why a group of young men in a train are shouting abuse at Bulgarians. But there is much careful and amused observation, not least of the human detritus which a station seems to collect as the evening wears on. Peter Waymark

A TOP OF THE STATE
6.00am GMTV (6621058) 9.25 Chain Letters (4479110)

9.55 Regional News (1) (5278597) 10.00 The Time, the Place (51348) 10.30 This Morning (1) (39399526)

12.20pm Regional News (T) (7240394) 12.30 News (T) and weather (6653077) 12.54 HTV Crimestoppers (79612042) 12.55 Shortland Street (6565868) 1.25 Home and Away (T) (47490684) 1.50 Afternoon Live (11778329) 2.20 Vanessa (T)

(56657936) 2.50 Alternoon Live

5084416) 3.20 News (T) (1602923) 3.25 Regional News (T) (2052464)

3.30 The Riddlers (5818413) 3.40 Wizadora (r) (9614226) 3.50 Cartoon Time (6502023) 3.55 Rupert (r) (5140481) 4.20 Mike and Angelo (1142988) 4.45 Reboot (r) (T) (5180955)

5.10 A Country Practice (r) (T) (5328771) 5.40 News (T) and weather (755874) 6.00 Home and Away (r) (1) (426771) 8.25 HTV Weather (302752) 6.30 HTV News (T) (955)

7.00 Emmerdale Pollard realises how desper ate Dee has become (1) (2961)

Gaynor Davenport (7.30pm)

7.30 3-D Julia Somerville reports on Gaynor Davenport, who claims she can communicate with horses (1) (139) 8.00 The Bill: Crying Wolf Monroe is called in to mediate when elderly neighbours accuse a former mental patient of threatening behaviour (T) (5481)

8.30 Michael Barrymore's Strike It Rich Game show (T) (7416) 9.00 Reckless Anna cannot make up her mind between Owen and Richard. Last in series (T) (3110) 10.00 Party Political Broadcast by the Labour

Party (291868)

10,05 News (T) and weather (596666) 10,35 Regional News (T) (151139)

10.45 The West This Week Assessing the chances of the Conservatives winning the next General Election Plus, a look at the security measures being taken to avoid a repeat of the recent violence at this weekend's derby between Bristol City and Bristol Rovers (506400)

11.35 Frieze Frame (181145) 11.50 Alfred Hitchcock Presents (848313) 12.15am Box Office America (9579408 12.40 In Bed with MeDinner (5662917)

1.10 Funny Business (9768733) 1.40 Cyber Cafe (2690714)

2.10 Stand and Deliver (4983882) 3.10 3-D (r) (T) (38564153)

3.35 The Good Sex Guide Late (r) (2221559) 4.35 The Time, the Place (r) (36168578) 5.00 The New Mr and Mrs Show (r) (77356)

CENTRAL

As HTV West except: 12.55pm-1.25 A Country Practice (6565868) 5.10-5.40 Shortland Street (5328771) 6.25 Central News (507890) 6.55-7.00 Lifeline (373400)

10.45 Do ! Not Like That! (500400) 11.45 Bagdad Cafe (171752) 12.15am Beyond Reality (66207) 12.45 Funny Business (3281065)

1.10 Ed's Night Party (3124998) 1.45 Club Nation (819608) 2.45 Shift (4146424)

3.40 Stand and Deliver (8786559) 4.35 Central Jobfinder '97 (2226518) 5.20 Asian Eye (8150443)

WESTCOUNTRY

As HTV West except: 12.55-1.25 Emmerdale (6565868) 5.10-5.40 Home and Away (5328771) 6.00-7.00 Westcountry Live (62313) 10.45 Special Report (182868) 11.15 Tales from the Cider County (172481)

11.45 Traps (541348) MERIDIAR As HTV West except: 5.10-5.40 Home and Awny (5328771)

6.00 Meridian Tonight (503) 6.30-7.00 Gataways (955) 10.35 Meridian News and Weather (893972) 10.55 Film: Gregory's Girl (79999941) 5.00am Freescreen (77356)

ANGLIA As HTV West except 12.55-1.25 A Country Practice (6565668) 5.10-5.40 Shortland Street (5328771)

6.25 Anglia News (507690)

10.34 Anglia Air Watch (420771) 10.45 Cover Story Crime Special (182868) 11.15 Hunter (507313)

12.15am Alfred Hitchcock Pres (9579408)

SIC

Starts: 6.00am Sesame Street (87394) 7.00 The Big Breakfast (82752) 9.00 The Morning Line (18058) 9.30 Ysgolion (185868) 12.00 House to House (25394) 12.30pm Ellen (52936)

1.00 Slot Melthrin (92139) 1.30 Racing from Cheltenham (415771) 4.30 An Inspector Calls (752)

5.00 5 Pump (4139) 5.30 Countdown (232) 6.00 Newyddion (468400) 6.05 Heno (517077)

6.35 Jacpot (319042)

7.00 Pobol y Cwm (610058) 7.25 Pwy 'Di Pwy? (992435) 8.00 Pam Fi Duw? (3023) 8.30 Darfiediad Gwleldyddol: Y Blaid Lafur

8.35 Newyddion (452416) 9.05 The Queen Phenomenon (436145) 10.05 Film: What's Eating Gilbert Grape?

(731145) 12.05am Chelt ham Festival Hlohiliohts (8034004)

12.45 Dispatches (8453284)

Fishing for food (8.30pm)

8.30 A Cook on the Wild Side A new four-part series in which chef Hugh Feamley-Whittingstell goes in earch of food from the wild (T) (5058) 9.00 Dispatches A report on a series of case studies that suggest the NHS is no longer free for everybody (T) (801435) 9.45 Bright Sparks: Midnight Expresso A film set in the centre of Athens's largest railway station

ect

iy-iöt

he fi-

(T) (635B10) 10.00 Close My Eyes (1990) with Clive Owen, Saskia Reeves and Alan Rickman. When a brother and sister who have been apart for most of their lives are reunited their something stronger. Directed by Stephen Pollakoff (T) (54659936 12.05am Racing Highlights of this alternoon's (6033511) 12.35 Dominick and Eugene (1988) with Tom Huice, Ray Liotta and Jamia Lee Curtis.

The story of twin brothers — one dim, the other brilliant Directed by Robert M. Young (97761172)

2.40 One Family The Narsinglppa family from Lukor in southern India (r) (4663578)

3.40 Schools (902172) 5.05 Off Limits (r) (T) (7954085) 5.30 Backdate (r) (T) (51733)

• For more comprehensive listings of satellite and cable channels, see the Directory, published on Saturday

5.00am Morrang Glory (654890) 9.00 Regis and Kathe Liee (64955) 10.00 Another World (23023) 11.00 Days of Our Lives (16787) 12.00 Oprah Wintrey (99435) 1.00pm Geraldo (65905) 2.00 Sally Jessy Raphael (52905) 3.00 Jerny Jones (34049) 4.00 Oprah Wintrey (1425) 5.00 Sar Tiek The Need Generation (4348) 6.00 Real TV (4400) 6.30 Married — with Children (5752) 7.00 The Simpson's (5077) 7.30 M*A*S*H (1936) 8.00 Just Kildding (8597) 8.30 The (1936) and Just Kinding (8597) 8.30 The Namy (8232) 9.00 Seinleid (33810) 9.30 Maid About You (94936) 10.00 Chicago Hope (20329) 11.00 Seina Scott Tonight (15955) 11.30 Star Tzek The Need Genera-tor (12752) 12.30em LAP (

Hit Mix Long Play (1839649) SKY 2 7.00pm Hercules: The Legendary Journeys (585481) 8.00 Siders (6943329) 9.00 Highander (6950665) 10.00 Tek War 3757 11.00 Late Show (6484955)

SKY NEWS Whiteholds news coverage, with bulletins on the hour, 24 hours a day, seven days a week SKY MOVIES

12.00 Hz Max Long Play (9357795)

6.00am The Big Show (1961) (28771) 2.00 The Best Little Cirl in the World (1981) (96435) 10.00 Curse of the Villing (1991) (81416) 12.00 R Harders (1986) (86053) 2.00pm Follow the Sites (1986) (37481) 4.00 Things Change (1988) (3752) 6.00 The Great Outloors (1988) (3608771) 7.40 US Top 19-(427435)-8.00 Trial by Jury (1994 (2989)-10.00 Cobb (1994) (56518416 12-10em Hr Jones (1993) (366153) 2.0 Come Die with Me (1994) (65627) 3.30 No Ordkary Summer (1994) (746191)

THE MOVIE CHANNEL 6.00mm A Girl Blust Line (1939) (1236936) 7.20 The Tall T (1957) (4051665) 2.40 Little Stores Prince Vollent (1995) 61865355) 10.15 Where the Red Feen Commission of the Prince Commission of the Pr

The state of the s (60400) 2.00pm My Brother's Kneper (1994) (39023) 4.00 LR8e Norse Prince Vallent (1995) (4394) 6.00 Family Pray-ers (1991) (22787) 8.00 Bushrancked (1995) (14416) 9.30 The Works Show (83974) 10.00 Jack and Sarah (1995) (725139) 11.50 Anthony's Desive (1993) (441690) 1.25mm The Disappearance of Vorsité (1994) (14906) 3.00 Out of Annie's Past (1994) (118060) 4.35 The Tall T (1957) (5516627) SKY MOVIES GOLD

8.00pm Country Girl (1954) (3656597) 8.00 Ferris Bueller's Day Off (1995) (3651042) 10.00 The Dead Pool (1985) (3786226) 11.35 All the Right Moves (1983) (3819077) 1.15am Redio Days (1987) (3244462) 2.45 Badman's Territo-CARTOON NETWORK/TNT

Continuous camoons from saart to span, then TNT films as tollows.
9.00pm The Good Old Boys (1994) (52952481) 11.00 Escape from Fort Brave (1985) (8291510) 12.45mm Young Cassidy (1985) (67162375) 2.40-5.00 The King's Taled (1985) (38900269) THE DISNEY CHANNEL

Sky Movies Gold taken over at 10pm. 6.00mm Mouse Tracks (3429969) 6.25 Quack Attack (9927954) 6.50 Borkers (353958) 7.15 Lifle Mermaid (1843145) 7.40 Aladdin (2058255) R.85 Goot Those (3189771) 8.30 Timon and Pumbes (2494067) 8.40 Care Bears (1613503) 9.10 Grounding Messh (203260) 9.40 Big Gerage (8135771) 9.58 Lamb Chop (9364139) 10.25 Muppel Babies (5025139) (9964139) 10.25 Muppel Babies (5025139) 19.50 Dumbo's Circus (1958226) 11.20 Mouse Trecks (4596431) 11.50 Pooh Corner (1157416) 72.20pm Timon and Pumbaa (8009077) 12.25 Lette Mermaid (8631058) 1.00 Disney Presents (1710232) 1.50 Aladoin (82763481) 2.10 Darkwing Duck (53182787) 2.35 Bonkers (5848023) 3.00 Orack Alladoi. 17895223 3.25 Timon Duck (5/182/8/) 2.35 Bonkers (5/48/23) 3.00 Queck Altack (7/859/23) 3.25 Timon and Pumbes (4891684) 3.35 Goof Troop (5954/87) 4.00 Timon and Pumbas (4902139) 4.10 Goof Troop (8221042) 4.35 Bonkers (5/637313) 5.00 Aladida (8/44/95) 5.25 Timon and Pumbas (8/32110) 5.35 Danosino Duck (480068) 6.00 Bone Chillers 5.25 Timon and Humbas (8332110) and Darkwing Duck (480058) 6.00 Bone Chilles (7955) 6.30 Boy Mexis World (4435) 7.00 Brothenly Love (8503) 7.30 Fil.M: Savego Santi (54290503) 2.10, Tarzan (635869) 9.30-10.00 Golden Girž (40752)

FOX KIDS NETWORK

6.00mm Three Little Ghosts (5222771) 5.30 Inspector Gadget (7503619) 7.00 Samural Paza Cats (657145) 7.30 Power Rangers (6467042) 8.00 Masked Rider (7465694) 8.30 Crocadoo (7464955) 9.00 Rimbe's Island (5729706) 9.25 Why Why Family (5225705) 9.30 Zooblee Zoo (3822394) 9.55 Why Why Family (5334464) 10.00 Rimbe's Island (3635431) 10.25 Why Why Family (5071313) 10.30 Zooblee Zoo (30705394) 10.65 Why Why Family (5071313) 10.30 Zooblee Zoo (30705394) 11.00 Princess Starta (2916110) 11.30 Princerto (2924139) 12.00 Ethy the Cat (7468771) 12.30pm VR Troopers (2903145) 12.50 Power Rangers (2906481) 1.10 Masked Rider (25677951) 1.20 Acs Venture (825400) 2.00 Casper (4510313) 2.30 Life with Loss (4655464) 6.00mm Three Little Ghosts (5222771) 6.30 (4510313) 2.30 Life with Louis (4 3.00 Eek-Stravaganza (4602348) 3.30 Ace Ventura (6040889) 4.00 Casper (8645176) 4.30 Power Rangers (5201508) 5.00 Masked Rider (4501655) 5.30 Spoterman (5551400) 6.00 Goosebumps (32059:33 8.30-7.00 Sweet Valley High (9500315) SKY SPORTS 1

7.00em Sports Centre (88706) 7.30 Wres-ting (63085) 8.30 Racing News (79706) 9.00 Sports Centre (60068) 9.30 Aerobics 20810) 10.00 Futbol Mundai (4640) 10.30 Golf Portuguisse Open — Lve (8977) 12.30pm World of Super League (79394) 2.30 km World of Super League (79394) 2.30 km World (1855) 3.00 Golf. Portuguese Open — Live (49674) 4.59 Sports Centre (6932936) 5.00 Whesting (5394) 6.00 Sports Centre (2684) 6.30 ers (3936) 7.00 Schoolboy Football: Northern trelend v England — Live (73042) 8.59 Sports Centre (562313) 8.60 Trans World Sport (85226) 10.00 Sports Centre (78023) 10.30 Tight Lines (46874) 11.30 Trans World Sport (67226) 12.30em Sports Centre (61675) 1.00 Golf Portuguese Open (87171) 2.30-3.00 Sports Centre (17172)

8.00pm Tight Lines (4540313) 9.00 Football League Review (4633077) 10.00 Sperish Football (4530936) 11.00 Bobby Charton's Football Scrapbook (8330110) 12 30am-1.00 Second innings (7790398)

SKY SPORTS 3 12.00 for Hockey (97465990) 2.30pm Rugby League Classics (62021955) 4.00 Grass Roots Rugby (63664226) 4.30 Sports Unimed (67777232) 5.30 ki-30 the PGA Tour (63740690) 6.00 Beach Vote; cell

Madonna is one example of Girl Power (MTV all day)

(56563145) 7,00 Sports Cerus (A)638469) 7,30 Goff Persigness Open (91931936) 9,00 Goff Herica Classic (40961138) 11.00-11.30 Scowboard Show - C :59116s

7.30am Motors (9636): 8.30 Figure Skaling US Chartocontines (86416): 10.00 Sung Worder I Townfor Final (63665): 11.00 Sung More I Townfor Final (63665): 12.00 Freezing (6666): 12.00 Freezing (6666): 12.00 Final Chartocologis — the object 2.00 Towns Newstreen Chartocologis (7666): 4.00 Sung Worden in Store II Final Chartocologis (7666) Men's Super G First + 1 to 14/19 8.00 Tenns Newsweet Chambook Cub — 1 ve 132608901 11.30 Materiate (37750) 12.00-12.30cm Start Magazine (385)%

GRANADA PLUS 6.00mm rector Factor (1944/63) 6.30 Once Upon a Time 1954/5577 6.45 Dur Backyord (1583-1524) 7.00 Across 9 100 (456365), 7.15 1004 (1581 L. Lino (5869324) 7.30 Ferran of the Artemot (6601053) 8.00 (18101 Capas) A. (Nee)

(4091145) 8.30 Families (4090416) 9.00 Inc Protestonals (2957708) 10.00 Second Physicist (7023955) 10.30 Two's Company (190752) 11.00 Within These Walls (6810706) 12.00 Classic Coronaron Sileet (4094032) 12.30pm Families (7893752) 1.00 Albon Market (6718394) 1.30 Good Life Guide (7899023) 2.00 Drummonds 20(24684) 3.00 Upstans, Downstans (1999054) 4.00 Doctor Senes (6139416) 4.30 Second Thoughts (6056400) 5.00 The Processmats (6136042) 6.00 Families (801771): 7.00 Doctor Seres (6137771) 7.30 Table Company (6136329) 8.00 (broads from the 6754 (968) 9.00 Classes, Companion Street (1907077) 9.30 Companion (798516) 10.00-11.00 The From 11.00pm-2.00em Men and Motors

er ar 6,00am-9.00 TV High Street From 9 00-12 00 Food and West Fig. 3.00-5.00pm Health and Beauty Fig. 3.00-6.00 Home and Garden THE HISTORY CHANNEL

4.00pm = passy vigtak Ratin 1, 2014 5.00 Februaren (399600) 6.00

GRANADA GOOD LIFE

Four Years of Thunder (641)874) 7,89-8.00 Biography: Natalle Wood (4531665)

The state of the state of

THE SCI-FI CHANNEL 1.00mm Twitight Zone (1077733) 1,30 Tales of the Unexpected (3190443) 2,00 100 Years of Horror (9665707) 2,30 Night Gallery (4615004) 3,00-4,08 Finday the 13th TLC/DISCOVERY

9.00mm Parning (2/18/708) 9.30 Grow with Loe (2822913) 19.00 Country Cooling (4552874) 10.30 Our House (2/17/650) 11.00 Fix k (5511503) 11.30 This Old House (5612232) 12.00 Yen (2099042) 12.30pm Graham Kerr (2906329) 1,00 Today's Gournet (8418348) 1.30 Home Again (2825400) 2.00 Hometime (4375481) 2.30 Furniture (8537348) 3.00 Two's Causery (4457416) 3.30-4.00 This Old House DISSCOVERTY taken over at 4.00em. 9.00mm Parnting (2182706) 9.30 Grow with try (440/416) 3.30-4.00 Ints C40 House DSSCOVERTY takes over at 4.00pm. 4.00pm Fishing Adventures (8498400) 4.30 Breaking the Ice (8494684) 5.00 Treasure Hunters (4462961) 5.30 Beyond 2000 (8489396) 8.00 Wild Things (2314348) 7.00 Beyond 2000 (4386597) 7.30 Wonders of Woodher (8495313) 8.00 The Professionals (3867110) 8.00 Tee Marrines 2.6596198 (287110) 9.00 Top Marques 2 (5535139) 9.30 Deaster (2813625) 10.00 Medical Detectives (290771) 10.30 Science Detec-tives (2189619) 11.00 Classic Wheels (8322597) 12.00 Tomado (2734366) 1.00mm Driving Passions (4404004) 1.50-2.00 The Extremets (8042714)

UK GOLD 7.00cm Tellystack (6745597) 7.25 Neightours (9673077) 8.00 Crossroads (1265752) 8.25 EastEnders (8596884) 9.00 The Bit (2088938) 9.30 Bread (2824771) 10.00 Never the Twein (4554232) 10.30 The 10.00 Never the Intern (453-453) 10.30 Trac Sulhicans (2180348) 11.00 Juliet Bravo (8409690) 12.00 Crossroads (2091400) 12.30pm Neighbours (2908787) 1.00 East-Enders (2485243) 1.35 No Place Uhe Home (3723619) 2.10 Emery (28913416) 2.20 Three Up, Turo Down (7679400) 2.55 Alic 'Alici (6972394) 3.30 The Bit (8488023) ton Game (56516313) 6.05 EastEnders (9783446) 6.40 Are You Beng Sarved? (3793674) 7.20 Russ Abbot (7684232) 7.50 Bullsaye (6010955) 8.20 in Sciences and in Health (5730868) 8.00 The Bit (5537597) 9.30 Fousier (9815058) 10.30 Botto 9.30 Equator (9815058) 10.30 Bottom (9074690) 11.10 Young Ones (8866961) 11.50 Alexe Sayle (3052706) 12.25m Best of TOTP (2514646) 1.05 Pop Profile (2036820) 1.20 Micral Vice (3206608) 2.15 Shopping (52362207)

6.00mm Anne of Green Gables/Fload to Avonies (89508) 7.00 Dennis the Meraca (61874) 7.30 Dennis the Menaca (67481) 8.00 Batman (49431) 8.30 Art Atlack (99972) 9.00 Fash Gordon (28684) 8.30 Bobby's World (35874) 10.00 Romusel the Remdeer (58888) 10.30 Robinson Sucros Remdeer (58988) 10.30 Robinson Sucros (2998) 11.00 Danger Mouse (81936) 11.30 Cargodale High (82685) 12.00 Oscer's Orchestra (19348) 12.30pm Hallwey Across Tie Callany and Turn Left (3998) 1.00 By Way of the Stars (80145) 1.30 Black Beauty (39961) 2.00 Grif from Tomonow (8961) 2.00 Coean Odyssey (2400) 3.00 Art Attack (1959) 3.30 Flash Gordon (7145) 4.00 Betmen (3752) 4.30-5.00 The Big Dish (9988) NICKELODEON

AUGUST | AUGUST |
AUGUST

PARAMOUNT COMEDY 7.00cm E UK (5665) 7.30 Roseenne (6690) 8.00 Roseanne (4313) 8.30 Monty Python (8348) 9.00 Cheers (56226) 9.30 Tax (95232) 10.00 Gerry Shanding (76685) 10.30 Frasier (85313) 11.00 The Doctor Is (85232) 10.00 (serry Shanoing (7685) 16.30 Fasier (85313) 11.00 The Doctor is On (51771) 11.30 Monty Python (40225) 12.00 Nurses (18065) 12.30am Scap (23997) 1.00 Cheers (88733) 1.20 Test (74882) 2.00 E.UK (36207) 2.30 The Doctor

Is On (15714) 3.00 Frasier (55269) 3.30-8.00pm Robocop (3661936) 9.00 Burning

Zone (3674400) 10.00 Tour of Duty (3757787) 11.00 FILM: Turkdsh Delight (6155232) 1.00am Burning Zone (4686284) 2.00 Tour of Duty (9716733) 3.00 FILM: (2830337) 5.00 Ro

UK LIVING

6.00mm Trry Liwng (2308042) 9.00 Glad-rags and Glamour (3127042) 9.15 Gordon Ellott (8298349) 10.05 Jarry Springer (4308374) 11.00 Young and the Restless (8700503) 11.45 Super Presco (44014597) 11.80 Brookside (305941) 12.55pm Why Me? (70347288) 12.55 Tempestt (392571) 1.40 Brookside (3555264) Me? (70347226) 12.55 tempesti ($925771)
1.40 Rolonda ($351684) 2.30 Agony Experience (2543868) 3.30 Live at Three (49935042) 4.05 Jerry Springer (5009435)
5.00 Super Fresco (37557346) 5.05 Lingo
(94681023) 5.30 Lindly Ladders (2547684)
6.00 / Dream of Jeannie (8513685) 6.35
Ready, Steedy, Cook (2201686) 7.05
Brookside (1358961) 7.40 Who's Sorry
Now? (8375961) 8.05 Rolonda (8599706)
9.00 FURIE A Burnny's Thile (8443058)
10.25 Sex Life (3732077) $1.25-12.00 More Sex Life (7402313)

CHALLENGE TV

5,00pm Prcs Irins (8342537) 5.05 Block-busters (1054752) 5.35 Price Time (585077) 5.50 Spelbound (499077) 6.20 Prcs Time (821936) 6.30 Carchphrase (389787) 6.55 Prcs Time (827771) 7.05 Sale of the Century (342655) 7.30 Prcs Time (840042) 7.40 Gives Us a Clue (153868) 8.10 Prize Time (188329) 8.20 All Clued Up (391706) 8.88 Prbs Times (181370) 9.00 Thrumph the 8.56 Prize Time (191329) 9.00 Through the Reyhole (536023) 9.25 Prize Time (558506) 9.35 Busmen's Holiday (421752) 10.00 Prize Time (191874) 10.05 Tressure Hunt (461477) 11.05 Prize Time (517495) 11.20 Love at First Sight (76:1665) 11.45 Prize Time (907:145) 12.00 Sale of the Century (SS240) 12.306 Sale of the Century (SS240) 12.306 Shap fiver The McGregor Saga (12462) 3.30 All Together Now (44240) 4.00-5.00 Fall Guy (65:153) ZEE TV

7.00am Jeagran 7.30 ZEE Moming 8.30 Buaneos 9.00 Hasya Tena Cher Vasya 9.30 Cempus 10.00 Sahii 11.00 Aashana 11.30 Benegi April Baat 12.00 Dastaan 12.30pm Sauda 1,00 FILM 4,00 ZEE Zona 4.10 Top 10 5.10 Vilvam Aur Beetal 6.00 Sorry Meil Lony 6.30 ZEE and You 7.00 Euro Zindegi 7.30 Cinemage 8.00 Nows 6.35 Anda: 9.05 Jaal 9.30 Hesretan 10,00 Commander 10.30 Song Yeatra 11.00 Horror 11.30-12.00 Aap Ki Farmarsh

MTV The 24 hour music channel includes news, reviews, the concert footage, inter-wews and the latest music video charts

IG TO PRESS.

CRICKET 41

Vote for Graveney heralds change in selection process

SP()RT

BADMINTON 42 English unable to come to terms with foreign legion

THURSDAY MARCH 13 1997

Crowds flock to Cheltenham on eve of wide-open Gold Cup said. "If he had the experience

he needs with his club |where

Gareth Rees is the goalkicker] and was successful, then he would be in pole position."

However the reaction of Nigel

Melville, director of rugby at Wasps, was less studied: "I think it's an enormous step back," he said. "I've nothing against Rob but I bet he's as surprised as me. He's been put on the bench to kick goals.

That's the state of English rugby."

It is England's assessment that, were Catt to play and be injured, two players — a stand-off and a goalkicker —

would have to replace him

whereas Andrew offers both qualities in one individual.

they want but we have to have cover for all positions and eventualities," Phil de Glan-

a first cap to the Brive prop,

Didier Casadei, against Scotland in Paris. Casadei plays

instead of the suspended

Christian Califano and at stand-off half David Aucagne

Meanwhile France will give ville, the captain, said.

BUMPER crowds have attended Cheltenham this week and 60,000 are expected today for the most open running of the Tote Gold Cup since 1979, although the final line-up will not be known until shortly before the race (Richard Evans writes). At least three of the declared 15 runners may miss the feature event of the three-day National Hunt Fes-tival because of the unseasonably dry ground, including Coome Hill, who is 11-2 joint favourite with Imperial Call, the winner last year. Walter Dennis, who trains Coome Hill, will walk the course this morning before deciding whether his Hennessy Gold Cup winner will run. "My only concern is for the horse. If it's safe ground, he will "" he said he will run," he said. Addington Boy and Dorans Pride are also doubtful.

About £10 million will be wagered on the Gold Cup exceeded only by betting on the Grand National and the Derby — but bookmakers will be wary of Martin Pipe's two representatives. Cyborgo is 8-i while Challenger Du Luc was cut to 14-1 by the Tote.

Irish fortunes, page 38 Coome Hill poised, page 39

Andrew gets return ticket

FOR the past 18 months England's rugby union man-agement have looked forward; yesterday they looked back when adding Rob Andrew to the squad preparing for the five nations' championship match with Wales in Cardiff on Saturday. That he is only required as cover in case Paul Grayson should withdraw will not lessen the impact for those whose day is yet to come.

Jack Rowell, the coach, took pains to explain the rationale for calling upon a player of from international rugby in September 1995. Yet his argument is undermined by the fact that, earlier this season. he chose to gamble with players lacking regular goal-kicking experience, but who

By DAVID HANDS, RUGBY CORRESPONDENT are deemed to be part of the national development plan for the 1999 World Cup. It may be that Andrew, who joined colleagues old and new at Marlow yesterday to ironic shouts of "Here comes the Messiah", will return to Newcastle, where he is director of rugby, tonight if Gray-son, the Northampton standoff half, comes through his test on a strained pelvic muscle.

If he withdraws, however, Mike Catt will play at stand-off and Andrew, holder of 70 caps and scorer of 396 points for England, will take his seat among the replacements: "He is experienced, he is a No 10 and he is a goalkicker," Rowell said, criteria that apparently played stand-off against Italy. the New Zealand Barbarians and Argentina before Christmas and Alex King was a

The difference, presumably, lies in the fact that a championship and triple crown could yet be won, but it is a retrograde step, brought about because quality English stand-offs are so thin on the ground and quality goal-kickers even thinner. Yet Catt has already shown that he can kick goals in the international arena and King, the primary loser in this merry-go-round, has been doing so for England A, even though neither is a regular kicker for his club.

The England management, anticipating the problem, en-quired after Andrew's availability on Monday night and confirmed that he was needed on Tuesday afternoon, even though they had also added King and Jonathan Callard to the squad. That King, the Wasps stand-off, had the situation explained to him does not lessen the disappointment. particularly when Rowell emphasised how great a part he will play in the build-up to

"I think this will have a positive effect on Alex," Rowell will start an international for the first time, having been capped as a replacement against Wales. He replaces the injured Alain Penaud and will be partnered by Guy Accoce-berry, coming in for Philippe Carbonneau, who has a twisted ankle.

England have finally pared down their sevens squad to the required number to defend the World Cup title they won in 1993. Will Greenwood and Shane Roiser are omitted from the ten-strong squad that includes six survivors from those who won at Murraylield four years ago. They leave for Hong Kong on Sunday and the tournament begins on March 21.

Lemateon (Brive), S Gleo (Bourgori), D'venditi (Brive), D Ausagne (Psu), G Accoeberry (Bégles-Bordeaux); D Casadei (Brive), M Datmano (Agan), F Tourneire (Rorborne), A Benezzi (Agan, captari), O Merie (Montierrand), H Miorin (Toulousin), O Megne (Dest), F Peleous (Das), Replacements: P Bondouy (Neborne), U Micia (Das), P Carbonnesu (Brive), R Castel (Bégen), J-L Jordene (Toulouse), M de Rougement (Toulou). (Toulouse), M ce Housgemons (1900).

ENGLAND SEVENS SOUAD: A Adeboyo (Bath), J Saleghholme (Bath), N Beal (Northempton), M Gatt (Buth), A Healey (Lecaster), D Southy (Walesfield), T Rodber (Northempton), L Deltaglio (Wassassan), C Shreesbyon), N Back (Juliossion), S Shreesbyon), N Back (Juliossion), C Shreesby

England's call to arms

bring the return journey. Yet, having been asked to help the England squad in case Paul Grayson has to withdraw from the game against Wales. I could not help musing how strange it would be if Jonathan Davies and I found ourselves face to face again at Cardiff Arms Park

I was very surprised to get the call from the England management earlier in the week and I must emphasise that it is only to cover the circumstances of this specific match. We will know more today when Paul takes part in the team training and discovhas been affected by his sitting on the replacemen bench in Cardiff, then I will be happy to do so. I did consider declining, because, after all, I made my decision to retire from international rugby nearly two years ago and

Rob Andrew explains his feelings after being recalled for national mind. This is not the start of a comeback, still less a belated service in Cardiff challenge for a place on tour with the British Lions! However, I thought about it carefully for 24 hours. Jack Rowell and the management team found themselves in a situation in which they felt I could help for one game and I am prepared to do that. I am quite happy with my form and we have a league match with Nottingham that day. It did cross my mind, though, that Jonathan, who has said that this will be his last international made his debut for Wales against me in Cardiff in 1985. I ended up with 11 points and he scored seven, including the try that

Newcastle on Sunday because way. They won 24-15, though I had the better of the argument at Twickenham the next year. Neither of us scored in the dire game of 1987.

It is a pretty strange set of circumstances that could bring us together again, one that nobody could have envisaged a couple of days ago. Basically, it is the issue of goalkicking that has done it. which the England establishment will have to address. I do not regard the argument that suggests that Tim Stimpson should be given greater kicking opportunities at Newcastle as relevant.

sport and the fact is that Tim his kicking to take that role at Newcastle. We are working hard to make him a good, allround full back, but we have to serve the best interests of the club. Tim and Mike Catt have each been goalkickers and, given the coaching skills of Dave Alred, it is surprising that England are in this

30

TIIMESTTWO

CROSSWORD

No 1040 in association with

BRITISH MIDLAND

ACROSS

- 6 (Fight) furiously (5.3.4) 7 A sweet dish: a jolly outing
- 8 Call into question (6) 9 Informal note (4)
- 10 Protruding stomach (3.5) 12 Hostile, harmfui (8) 16 Flexible pipe (4)
- 18 Quaker, supporter (6 20 (Eg fin) on the hack (6)
- 21 Man's first disobedience poem (8.4)

- Avid reader: destructive larva (8)
- 2 Imprison: be quiet (4.2)
- 3 Ceremonially oil (6) Break: card game (4)
- 5 Gaelic hero, has Cave (6) 6 Armistice (5)
- 11 Outside (8) 13 Fortinbras its Prince (Ham-
- let) (6) 14 Golfer's assistant (6)
- 15 Climbing frame (6) 17 Shock of explosion (5)

19 Formal test (4)

comes out of the blue esterday came the morning flight from injury.

If I can assist England by has changed my

Andrew muses on his recall by England yesterday. Photograph: Hugh Routledge

3 British Midland The Airline for Europe

PRIZES: THE WINNER will receive a return ticket travelling Economy Class to anywhere on British Midland's domestic or

THE RUNNER-UP will receive a return ticket to anywhere on British Midland's domestic network. British Midland offers an extensive range of destinations throughout the UK as well as Europe. With over 1,400 flights a week to 15 European destinations British Midland is the Airline for Europe.

Post your entry to Times Two Crossword, PO Box 6886, London E2 8SP to arrive by next Monday. The winners' names and solution will appear on Wednesday.

SOLUTION TO NO 1039 ACROSS: 1 Put down 5 Pack 8 Brutus 9 Heaven

All flights are subject to availability

Name/Address .

10 Machismo 12 Bath 13 Presbyter 17 Sale 18 Waterloo 20 Abjure 21 Biceps 23 Hewn 24 Saracen DOWN: 2 Unreal 3 Dot 4 Wasps 5 Play by ear 6 Create 7 Choosy 11 Harlequin 14 Sawyer 15 Babble 16 Toupee 19 Tabla 22 CIA

Bank rejects bid to buy Bournemouth

BOURNEMOUTH edged closer to extinction yesterday when a takeover bid for the struggling Nationwide League second division club was rejected by Lloyds Bank, its biggest creditor (Russell Kempson writes). The attempt was made by a consortium of Bournemouth supporters and local businesses.

Alan Lewis, the club's Re-ceiver, said: "We have had only one offer for the club and it has now been rejected by the hank. There comes a point when you have to wonder if it is worth going on."
Terry Lovell, the commercial manager, painted a simi-larly bleak picture. "If anything, things are getting worse here," he said. "It's not as if we haven't got any money at all. We've got around £! million in a trust fund, in money and pledges, and we're actually running at a profit for the first time in ages.

"People are still very enthusiastic about our cause and sympathetic towards us but we don't seem to be making a lot of headway with the people that matter. It doesn't help, either, when the bank appears to keep changing the goalposts."

Lloyds sent in the Receivers to retrieve £2.1 million owed to them by Bournemouth, which has total debts in excess of £4.4 million. It faces a winding-up order in the High Court next week over £365,000 unpaid taxes. A crowd of only 3,368 watched the 3-0 defeat of Chesterfield, the FA Cup semifinalists, on Tuesday.

Bournemouth's plight will be discussed at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Football League in London today. "We are monitoring their situation on a daily basis." a spokesman said. We are as concerned as anyone."

Agreement reached on Brighton's future between Bill Archer and Greg Stanley, the co-owners of Brighton and Hove Albion, and the prospective buyers of the troubled Nationwide League third division club.

Mediators at the Centre of Dispute Resolution (CEDR), who were appointed by the Football Association to try to resolve the deadlock at the lub, said last night that a fourth round of talks between the parties had gone well but added that details of the deal had been held back for legal consideration.

The latest talks took place in London at the headquarters of the centre, where Archer and Stanley met with Dick Knight, the leader of the consortium that is trying to take over the club, and his colleague, Martin Perry. Brighton remain at the foot of the league despite their recent improvement. A statement released by the

A DEAL has been struck CEDR afterwards said: "After further day of mediation at CEDR's offices, the parties are pleased to report that agreement has been reached between the owners and the consortium led by Dick Knight on the future structure of Brighton and Hove Albion.

"A number of legal points need to be resolved before full details of the deal can be announced. This is expected Archer left the meeting without comment and Stanley would only say he was Brighton must leave the Goldstone Ground after 95 years at the end of this season Before Christmas the club announced controversial proposals to share Gillingham's ground. The majority of Brighton supporters have been pressing for Brighton-born Knight to take total control of the club.

